

FRANCIS SPEER'S Breezy "Chat" Column

THAT there is a physician in Bellefonte who should feel the public pulse before he goes into politics.
THAT all men may be born free, but no man is as independent as most of the hired girls in Bellefonte.

THAT in too many cases in Bellefonte where the barroom is the poor man's club, it proves his wife's hell.
THAT they say that the reason Frank Doll, of Bellefonte, doesn't carry his head higher is, his legs are too short.

THAT they say that Duke Wian, the harness maker, built that new house on Logan street by practicing a skin game.
THAT there are some young men in Bellefonte so measly slow that they couldn't even get next in a barber shop.

THAT Ralph Moerschbarger of Bellefonte, says that even light beer has been known to put a brown taste in your mouth.
THAT the mania to make an appearance beyond their means is causing some people in Bellefonte considerable trouble and inconvenience.

THAT Edward Shields, of Bellefonte, says the summer resort, which he opened on the way up to Point McCoy, is closed for the season.
THAT just because a woman in Bellefonte thinks she has the best husband on the earth is no sign that he is going to meet her in Heaven.

THAT Samuel Rumberger, of Bellefonte, says every one to his trade; a hen cannot lay the dust any more than a water cart can lay an egg.
THAT when certain young ladies in Bellefonte find that a young man is generous to a fault they don't do a thing to him, often they make more of a fool of him than anything else.

THAT the merchant in Bellefonte who sends out of town for his printing is the business man who should kick when people send to Philadelphia for the same kind of goods he handles.
THAT talking about inventions Edward P. Irvin, the Racket man, says he has a little machine in his place of business that would make him a million dollars if he could keep it going all the time. It's a cash register.

THAT they say that the jeweler doesn't know as much about baseball as the ball player about diamonds. This can't be said of Claud Moore, of Howard, because he is an expert jeweler and a crank on baseball.
THAT they say Bert Taylor, of Bellefonte, is kissing the babies in Centre county. That settles the politics of this community. He is going to be elected, like the old woman who kept tavern out in Missouri.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Kate Kelley, of Philadelphia, is visiting friends in Bellefonte and Snow Shoe.
Last week a meeting of the Centre Baptist Association was held in Altoona.

Saturday evening's rain amounted to half an inch—served to replenish cisterns and keep the surface in order to aid the wheat sown, but does not affect springs or streams.

The State College Water company, which supplies the borough with aqua pura gathered at Shingletown Gap, has applied to the State department for an increase of capital stock from $11,000 to $22,000.

Mrs. Henry Sowers, of State College, tumbled down the cellar stairs the other day and was severely bruised.

Frank Sassermon, of Bellefonte, with two assistants, will open a barber shop in the Stephens building, on Allen street.

Archa Mullin, of Coburn, is 81 years of age and a veteran of the civil war. He entered the services at Embden, Maine, and was in a number of battles. He is hale and hearty and bids fair to reach the century mark.

H. F. McManaway, of Millheim, who for the past few years has been traveling salesman for the Capewell Horse Nail company, resigned his position on October 1, to accept a more remunerative one with some other company.

Rheumatism has been accountable for having housed up D. W. Bradford, of Centre Hall, for several months, but now he has so far recovered that he has thrown away his crutches and can walk by using an ordinary walking stick.

John W. Beck, of Marion, the nominee on the Democratic ticket for Auditor, is sometimes confused with John H. Beck merchant, of Nitany, who formerly served terms as auditor. They are different parties and the present nominee is not seeking a third term, as some might suppose.

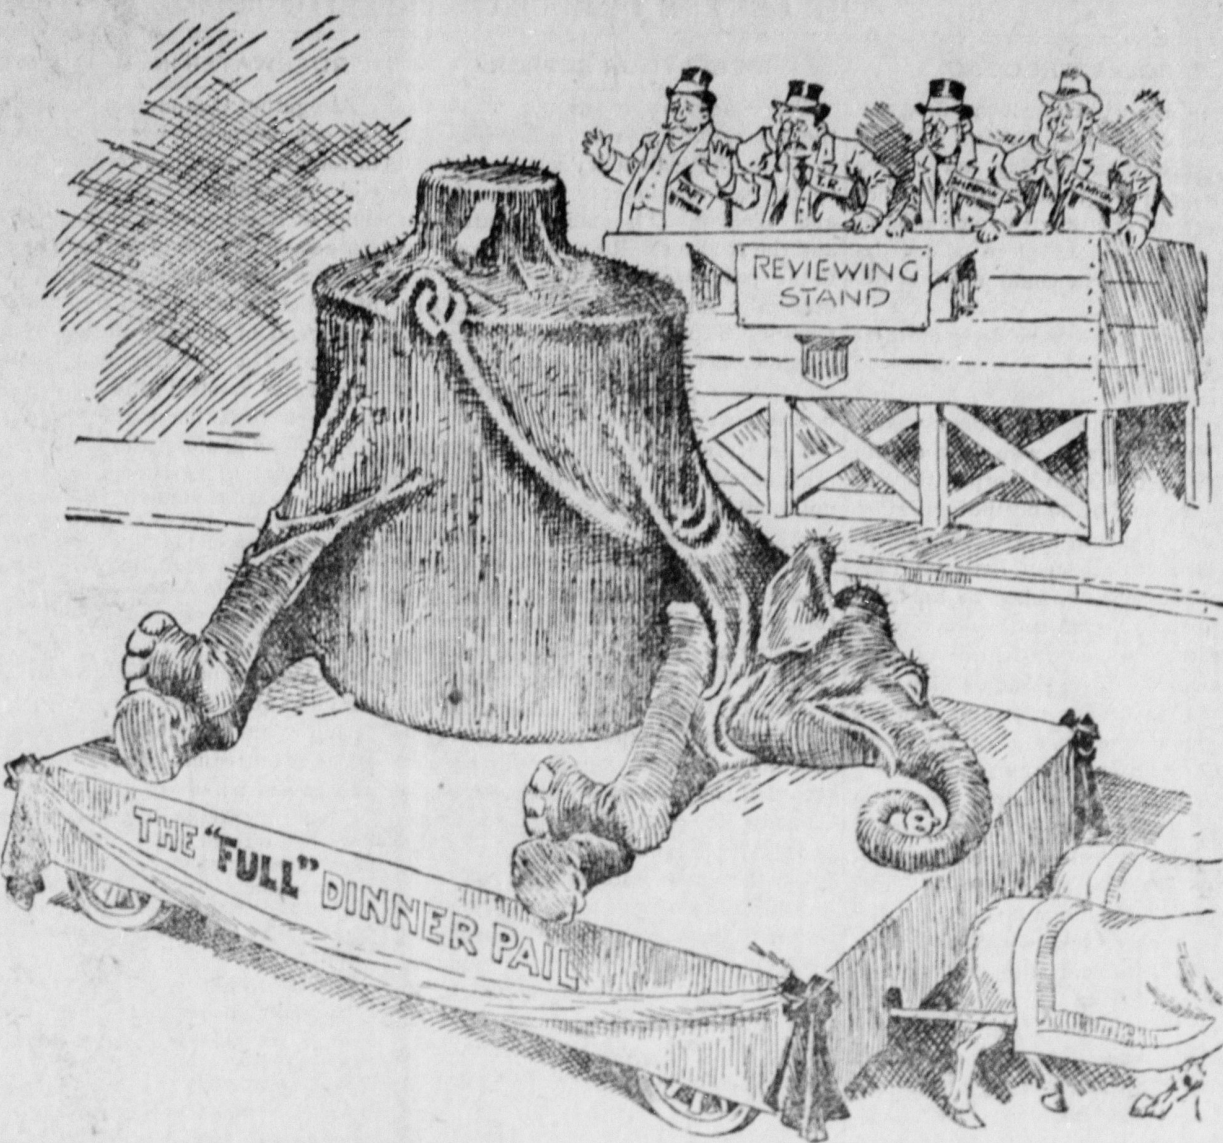

Stephen Cohoon, of North Rose, New York, is assisting at the Centre Hall and Coburn evaporating plants to take care of the products of the firm.

L. L. Miller, of Phillipsburg, who, the journal says, knows something about farming is probably the champion corn raiser of that section.

The overseers of the poor of Spring township have purchased the farm of the late Christian Dale near Pleasant Gap and will turn it into a poor farm, where all those dependent upon the township for support will be kept.

Luther H. Dale, who now occupies the farm, will have to vacate it next spring when the township will take charge.
Harry Rumberger, one of the staunchest Democrats in Phillipsburg, is speedily recovering from an illness, six weeks with typhoid fever.

The Harter Brothers, formerly of Coburn, but who are now extensively engaged in the lumber business at Harter, West Virginia, draw their laborers largely from Millheim and surrounding country, and among the latest acquisitions are R. E. Hinds, of Fiedler; Wm. Fultz, of Woodward; Fred Confer, of Pine Creek; John Reish, W. A. Throssel, of Millheim, and Allen Gusewite, of Haines township.

A FOUNDERED WEAKLING FLOAT.

words. The dog was killed. It is to be hoped that no serious results will follow the attack.
Rev. Haney is a man worthy of special mention for the fact that he is one of the men in Centre county who is exceptionally ambitious and industrious.

John W. Beck, of Marion, the nominee on the Democratic ticket for Auditor, is sometimes confused with John H. Beck merchant, of Nitany, who formerly served terms as auditor.

"TAFT'S THE FRIEND NOT BRYAN."
The more nearly the campaign approaches the end the greater become the apprehensions of the Republican leaders that the wage-winners of the country, organized in labor unions and unorganized, are going to cast their votes against Taft.

Luther H. Dale, who now occupies the farm, will have to vacate it next spring when the township will take charge.
Harry Rumberger, one of the staunchest Democrats in Phillipsburg, is speedily recovering from an illness, six weeks with typhoid fever.

Frederick Limbert, of Aaronsburg, has in his possession an armchair that is more than two hundred years old.

The exercises connected with the dedication of the woman's building at the Pennsylvania State College will be held to-morrow.

The other day while Helen, aged 13, and Jesse, aged nine, children of Jesse Klinger, who resides on the main road leading from State College to Lemont, were on their way to school a bull dog belonging to John W. Shuey attacked them.

How Mr. Roosevelt Replied.
Judge Parker repeats the charge that the Standard Oil was asked for $250,000 and did contribute $100,000 to the Roosevelt campaign fund in 1904.

EXTRAVAGANCE GALORE.

A Change Needed to get an Economical Administration.

The federal administration last year spent fifty-four million dollars more than it spent in the 1898 war. At the recent Bankers' convention, Lawrence S. Gillespie, president of the Equitable Trust Company of New York, discussing the administration, said:
"As in our private life so in our national finances, the year 1907 seems to have been one of exceeding cost and expenditure."

"The government disbursement was $59,552,124, being in excess of the revenues in any years except 1906 and 1907, and $54,000,000 more than was spent in the year when we conducted the war against Spain and paid the expense of landing armies in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands."

MUCH NOISE LITTLE WOOL.

There has been a tremendous amount of noise in administration circles in the last few years, about trust busting, but how exceedingly little has been accomplished in that direction any one can see who undertakes to supply answers to the question propounded to Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte by Hon. Josephus Daniels. These questions are:
1. How many of the 287 Trusts, giving the names, doing business in the United States, have been prosecuted by the present Administration?

Suicide at Penfield.
Penfield, Clearfield county, had another suicide; on Friday Grant Williams, who lives with his family on the Corle property, blew his brains out with a shotgun, about 4 o'clock.

A False Friend of Labor.
To the Editor of the "World":
Was there ever such an arrant, non-sensical and hypocritical cry as this "Protection to American labor" that we have heard so much about in every Presidential campaign, from Garfield to Taft, from the Republican spellbinders?

Can be Trusted.
"A good question to put to Democratic candidates for office is this: Whether, if elected or defeated, they would be dishonorable enough to at some future time try to influence voters against voting for a Democratic nominee?"

Where the Curfew is a Curfew.
"Three girls aged about thirteen years, were arrested under the new curfew ordinance, on Wednesday night and were given a hearing before Burgess Beaton. The father of one of the girls paid her fine."

Many a fellow buys a watch on tick.

Lattwerk Koche.

The apple crop in this county, being a large one and the fruit fine, our farmers are busy making cider and boiling apple butter, lattwerk koche, as the German calls it—which was near a lost art from the scantiness of the apple crop in some of the latter years. Back, beyond a quarter of a century ago, apple butter boilings and "snitzings" in the fall of the year, were occasions for nightly frolics in about every family, looked forward to by the lads and lassies with great expectations for the enjoyments afforded.

STORE NEWS.
Prunes
The prune crop is abundant this season and the quality is fine; we have them at 5, 8, 10, 12, 15 and 20 cents per pound.
Mackerel
We have a fine late caught Mackerel that will weigh about one pound, at 15 cents a piece. Our trimmed and boned mackerel are strictly fancy fish—medium size at 25c per pound, and extra large size at 30c per pound.

the kettle were genuine apple butter, and most delicious of spreads, and much in demand on the table when sausage time and butchering came on. City folks know little of the real pleasure that country cousins were enjoying through the fall of the year.

The butcher may not ride in his automobile, but he often takes a hack. It isn't because he is tender-hearted that a man hates to beat the carpet.

Cures Woman's Weakness.
We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.
Dr. John Fyfe, one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator... makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system."
Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:
"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all cases of hemorrhage, menorrhagia, dysmenorrhagia, and general enfeeblement, it is useful."
Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:
"Of great value in general debility, in all debilitated states."
Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:
"Valuable in general hemorrhage, menorrhagia, dysmenorrhagia, and congestive dysmenorrhagia (painful menstruation)."
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.
