

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

-Vogels popular minstrels at the opera house Wednesday evening, Oct. 21st.

-Mrs. Kilpatrick, wife of Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick, with her children, are on a visit to her parents and relatives in Philadelphia.

-Mrs. Frank Cole and children, of Williamsport, have been guests in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gentzel.

-Rev. Hower, of this place, and wife, left on Tuesday afternoon, to attend the State Sabbath School Convention at Shamokin, and will be absent one week.

-Miss Lucy Steinknecht and Miss Eva Mosebarger returned to their homes in Drifting Monday after a pleasant visit with Miss Mary Mosebarger in this place.

-Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns and child, of Johnstown, Pa., have been visiting Mrs. Burns mother and other relatives in Bellefonte. Mrs. Burns was formerly Elizabeth Taylor.

-This being the 15th of October, a large portion of game comes in season, such as rabbits and turkeys. This means that Bellefonte nomads took early to the woods and some killing is predicted.

-W. L. Steele is seriously ill at his home on Pine street with tuberculosis. His condition has been such that nobody is allowed to see him. It is to be hoped that a turn may soon come for the better.

-The scenery and stage setting used in John W. Vogel's Big City Minstrels, which comes to the Opera House, on Wednesday, Oct. 21st, is said to be the most elaborate and expensive ever used for a similar purpose.

-Benjamin Shaffer, wife and adopted daughter, of Huntingdon, are visiting in Bellefonte at the home of Mrs. Mary Taylor, on East Howard street. Mr. Shaffer is at the head of the tinning department of the Huntingdon Reformatory.

-Leathers Bros., who are opening up an addition to State College by parceling the Hamilton Farm into desirable building lots, have an important announcement in this issue that should interest investors. State College is on the boom.

-This week John Rishel, of Benner township, placed on exhibition in Olewine's store several ears of corn that measured from ten to twelve inches long. The grains were proportionate in size which showed that the corn crop on the Rishel farm this year was far above the average.

-Paul Willard, who is in the employ of the Union Switch & Signal Co., of New York City, is spending his vacation in Bellefonte as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Willard. His brother Roger, who was formerly a clerk in the Willard Way, near New York working for the same company.

-Rev. J. F. Collins, the new pastor of the Free Methodist church, was called at this office on Monday. We found him to be a very pleasant, sociable gentleman, just the kind of a man to make converts. He will discover, after he is here a short time, that there is plenty of work to do in his chosen line of work.

-E. H. Harder, of Williamsport has been sent to Bellefonte by the Singer Sewing Machine Company to succeed Thomas Wagner as agent and manager of their store. Mr. Harder has already assumed charge of his duties and expects to move his family here in a few days. He is a very pleasant young man and no doubt will be successful in carrying on the company's business.

-Sunday evening W. B. Rankin, M. L. Altenderfer, James R. Hughes and James H. Potter were installed into the holy office of Elders of the Presbyterian church. Homer Crissman was also installed as one of the Deacons of the church. The ceremony was very impressive throughout and was witnessed by a large congregation. During the evening Dr. Platts explained, in a clear and concise way, the duties of those who were chosen to this high and sacred office.

-The new steam plant, which was recently installed in the Y. M. C. A., was put in operation on Monday. This is hardly the right kind of weather to test its efficiency to keep the place warm when the thermometer stands at zero, but the indications are that it will do the work. A car load of coal has been placed in the cellar so they are now ready for the cold blasts of winter which will not be long in coming. The offices of W. Harrison Walker, Esq., and Dr. J. E. Ward are being heated from this plant, where either of the gentlemen can now be consulted.

-On Sunday Rev. James B. Stein, pastor of the Methodist congregation, took ten probationers into the church. It will be remembered that a class of twenty was admitted in July so that the work has been prospering under his care and supervision. In the morning sermon Dr. Stein tried to instill into the minds of his hearers that the man or woman in the church who wants to do good in the world and finally reach the inheritance of the saints must be separate and distinct from the man of the world. Too often it is a difficult task to distinguish the christian from those who make no profession.

-Captain Heathers, who for the last eleven months had charge of the Bellefonte Salvation Army, has received orders from headquarters to leave this place, and on next Sunday evening he and his faithful wife will bid farewell to the little band of followers here. Captain Heathers and his wife, while in this community, tried to be faithful to their calling, and thus have succeeded in doing much for the uplifting of humanity. The Captain has nightly stood on the street corners and heralded the glad tidings of salvation to a lost world in a way that none could mistake their duty to themselves and Him in whom they live, more and have their being. In a quiet way the Captain and his wife have been clothing the poor and giving bread unto those who were hungry, and in this way they were fulfilling the great mission of the Army. It is to be regretted that such self-sacrificing people have to leave when they have inaugurated such a good work, but when the command comes to go they must forsake everything and go in a strange land; up until this time they have not been notified where their next field of labor will be.

-George Harpster, of this town, helped to open the game season by shooting four squirrels.

-Friday Mrs. Anna Grassmire was taken to Danville and placed in the state institution for the mentally infirm.

-Mrs. Elizabeth Callaway is in Pittsburg, expecting to be there for two weeks, the guest of the Mrs. Cadwallader.

-F. W. Crider has broken ground for a double house on Lamb street, just east of Zimmerman's property.

-Carpenter Isaac Miller is busy making the necessary alterations and repairs about the Pruner Orphanage buildings, so as to be in readiness for the reception of orphan children.

-W. T. Dillen, of Julian, gave us a business call, and as a surprise for his brother Ellis, of Ehrenfeld, Pa., subscribed for the Centre Democrat to be sent to his address.

-Confirmation services will be held in St. John's Catholic church on Sunday, October 15th. Bishop Garvey, of Altoona, will be present and administer the rites of confirmation to the class, which is a large one.

-Miss Eva Meyer, who with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Meyer, have been spending the summer in Aaronsburg, and at the home of her uncle, J. C. Meyer, Esq., in Bellefonte, left this week for her home in Philadelphia.

-W. I. Fleming has purchased from Henry C. Quigley the lot on east Linn street, adjoining the residence now occupied by Elmer E. Davis. It is reported that he will soon commence the erection of a neat and comfortable home.

-Mrs. Mary Davling, of St. Benedict, Pa., who had been the guest of Mrs. Frank Warfield, for a week, left Friday for New York, where she will spend the next six months in the city offices of the Peale, Peacock & Kerr Coal company.

-M. B. Garman has just completed a handsome brick stable on his property on east Curtin street. He has also painted the exterior of the house so that he will now have a pretty home. In addition to this he has laid a substantial flag stone pavement in front of the house.

-Friday evening we had a pleasant call from Fred Smith, whom the voters of Centre county are seriously thinking of electing sheriff. He was accompanied by his excellent wife, who would make an ideal mistress of the county bastille, and Mrs. Homer Sankey, one of Phillipsburg's most estimable ladies.

-Mrs. Thomas Jennings has shipped her household goods to Clarksburg, W. Va., for which place she left to make her future home. They will go to house-keeping immediately but for the present will be located at 227 Webster street; though it is their intention to go into a house of their own just as soon as they can secure a suitable location.

-Wednesday of last week, Miss Mary Ulrich, of Penn Hall, came to Bellefonte to attend the fair. She was only here a short time when she became suddenly ill. On Thursday she was admitted to the Bellefonte hospital where an examination revealed the fact that she was suffering from appendicitis. That evening she submitted to an operation which proved a success.

-Albert Schad has completed the concrete walk around his property on the corner of Spring and Lamb streets. This is one of the best improvements that has been made in that locality of the town for a long time. In addition to the building of the two double houses on the corner, Mr. Schad proposes to raise the two double houses, on Lamb street, about eight or ten feet. This will put them above the level of the street which will make them much more desirable places to live than they are at present.

-Jake Lyon is just recovering from an injury caused by coming in contact with a ferocious steer which he attempted to kill. In the combat Jake had the thumb of his right hand caught in a chain and the flesh slit to the bone. He tied it up, as butchers generally do, and thought no more about it. In several days afterwards blood poison set in and Jake began to see visions of the happy land that is far, far away. Fortunately a turn came for the better and the probabilities are that for the next fifty years, or less, his smiling countenance will be seen behind the counter in Lyon's butcher shop.

-To meet the requirements of the times G. M. Gamble, a member of the milling firm of Gamble, Green & Co., has purchased a runabout manufactured by the Carter Car Co. This is a new type of a machine in this community but it is a good one. He and his family are having a pleasant time gliding over these hills at the rate of forty miles an hour, more or less. Then too, C. T. Gerberick has the automobile fever, and next summer "Brack" can devote part of the time to hauling his friends to and from the old camping place on Fishing Creek. They disposed of their horse to Dick Barlett, the drayman.

-The engagement of Miss Nancy C. McClain, youngest daughter of Col. James A. McClain, of Spangler, to Mr. Harry J. Hinterleitner, of Pottsville, was announced Thursday afternoon, the wedding to take place the latter part of October. Miss McClain has been in Bellefonte with her grandmother, Mrs. Nora McClain, the most of the summer but this week went to Patton to stay with her sister, Mrs. Harvey D. Lingle, until the date of her marriage. Mr. Hinterleitner is a mining engineer and for some time past has been located at Spangler where the young couple will likely make their home, for a time at least.

-On Friday Dr. M. A. Kirk, of Bellefonte, received from the American Vacuum Carpet Cleaner Co., of Newark, N. J., one of their hand carpet cleaners. It is made on the same principle as one of the larger machines that is found in large cities, and kept in motion by a gasoline engine. The mechanism is so simple that even a small girl can operate it. With this machine a carpet can be thoroughly cleaned on the floor without making a particle of dust. The other day a lady in Bellefonte swept several carpets with a broom until she thought she had the dust and dirt out of them. This cleaner was then used and over a lot of dust was taken from it. It can be used on bed clothes and clothing of all kinds. This week Harold Kirk is demonstrating the machine in our hotels and some of our private homes, and everybody is delighted with its work.

RECENT DEATHS.

WILLIAM I. HAAGEN—One of the prominent residents in the vicinity of Beech Creek, died Saturday morning, October 3, after a brief illness, aged 69 years. He died in the house in which he was born and where he had lived all his life. He was a farmer by occupation and one of the most successful in lower Bald Eagle valley. For many years he was an elder in the Disciple church at Blancher, of which he was a member, and was a man of the highest integrity and uprightness. Surviving him are his wife, one son, Harry, and four daughters, Misses Mary, Mabel, Nettie and Elsie. Funeral services Monday afternoon, interment being made in the Disciple cemetery at Blancher.

COLONEL EDWARD A. IRVIN—of Curwensville, Clearfield county, died at Atlantic City suddenly on Tuesday. He was born at Curwensville, Pa., on January 13, 1838. In 1857 he became associated with his father in the lumber, merchandise and real estate business, becoming sole head of that business three years later. In April, 1864, he temporarily left his business in his father's hands and recruited Company K, of the original Bucktail Regiment, and was chosen captain. He was in active service with his company on the Peninsula, and was captured and imprisoned at Richmond. Subsequently he participated in engagements at South Mountain and Fredericksburg, and sustained dangerous wounds on both occasions. He was elected to the state senate from this district in 1904 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator E. A. Patton.

JOHN H. AUMAN—died on Sunday morning, Oct. 3rd. He was one of the oldest citizens of Millheim. Mr. Auman had been sick for a long time, but was able to be up and about until two days prior to his death when he took to his bed from which he never arose. He was born in Miles township and was a son of Peter and Julia Auman, and the only surviving member of that family is Jonathan Auman, of Wolfs Store. He was married to Miss Amelia Tobias. He leaves to survive a widow and the following children: L. P. Auman, Mrs. Josephine Hardenbergh and N. A. Auman, of Millheim. His age was 76 years, 2 months and 25 days. Mr. Auman was a member of the Reformed church all his life, was well known in the community in which he lived and was an honest, upright citizen. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning.

MRS. CATHERINE J. HUMES—widow of the late William H. Humes, Sr., died Friday night about 12 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Gilmore from a complication of diseases. For the last five weeks she had been confined to her room. At times she was called upon to suffer excruciating pain, yet she endured it with christian fortitude. Her maiden name was Miss Catherine Jones, of Lewisburg, and about 65 years ago she was married to W. H. Humes, who was then in business at Stormtown where he took his bride. There remained for about one year when they came to Bellefonte and occupied the stone house on Allegheny street in which Willard Hall has his place of business. Here they raised a large family. Mrs. Humes remaining there until the death of her husband, which occurred on the 24th of January, 1888. Sometime after that Mrs. Humes broke up housekeeping and lived around her children, being mostly in the family of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Gilmore. Although she deceased was 80 years old last April, she took a trip across the continent a couple of years ago to Pasadena, Cal., where she visited her daughter Mrs. Luther Roberts. She without doubt the trip remarkably well for a lady of her age. Early in life Mrs. Humes joined the Presbyterian church, to which she was devoted as she was to her family. In the church she was closely identified with every movement, the object of which was for the uplifting of the kind around her. She was kind and generous to those who needed friendly assistance. She was a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and was a most zealous and active worker in temperance cause. She has therefore left behind her the memory of a fine life, and death is only the beginning of a greater and sweeter life. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Luther Roberts, of Pasadena; Mrs. Charles Gilmore, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Humes, LaTrobe; Edward Humes, of Logan, West Virginia; Mrs. Archibald Allison, of Bellefonte. The funeral service was held by Dr. J. Allison Platts Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gilmore. Interment, which was private, took place in Union cemetery.

DR. GEORGE A. FAIRLAMB—One of Bellefonte's oldest and most highly esteemed medical practitioners, died at his apartments at the Bush House on Monday morning at 1 o'clock from infirmities of old age. George Ashbridge Fairlamb was born in Chester county, June 24, 1826, being aged over 82 years at the time of his demise. His ancestors both in the paternal and maternal lines were early English settlers and members of the Society of Friends. When a lad ten years of age Dr. Fairlamb came to Bellefonte to reside with his aunt Lydia Valentine, wife of Bond Valentine, in which family he was reared as a son. After completing a course in the Bellefonte Academy he entered the University of Pennsylvania, and in 1848 received his degree in medicine from that institution. He returned to Bellefonte and practiced medicine until 1862 when his patriotic spirit led him to enlist in the Civil War in defence of the flag. He raised Co. B, 145 P. V. I., and entering as captain was promoted later to the rank of major, and after the battle of Wilderness became a lieutenant colonel. He was wounded at the battle of Chancellorsville and twice at Spottsylvania in the charge made early in the morning of the 12th by the Second Corps when he was the first to rush into the fight at the "Bloody Angle," his right elbow being shattered by a ball, necessitating a resection of the joint. He was taken captive and spent the summer of 1864 amid the horrors of Libby prison. He was paroled September 12, 1864, at Annapolis, Md., and on February 1865 was discharged from service on a surgeon's certificate of disability from wounds received in battle. After the war was over Col. Fairlamb was surgeon at the Lazaretto below Philadelphia for two years, being appointed by Gov. Curtin. He was a member of Gregg Post, No. 95 of Bellefonte and also of the Loyal Legion. During the years of his residence and practice in Bellefonte he won the friendship and esteem of everyone. He is survived by one sister, Deborah Fairlamb, of Coatesville. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of Dr. George F. Harris.

DAVID FIEDLER—An aged and highly respected citizen of Penn township, died of paralysis on Wednesday, September 30, at his home west of Coburn, aged 82 years. He leaves to survive a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Emanuel Neese, of Gregg township. Funeral services were held Friday. Interment was made in the Heckman cemetery.

Mrs. JOHANNA H. QUINN—died at 7:05 o'clock Monday evening of hypostatic congestion of the lungs, at the residence of C. E. Thompson, at Altoona, after an illness of over a year. Mrs. Quinn was born in Bellefonte, December 8, 1824, her maiden name being Johanna Beale, but she had resided in Altoona since early childhood. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. M. F. Weiss; one half-brother, Henry Benner, and several nephews, all of Altoona. She was a member of the Methodist church and of Endora lodge No. 87. Daughters of Rebecca. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Thompson home. Interment was made at the Fairview cemetery in Altoona.

EDMUND PLATTS, son of Rev. J. Allison Platts, has been going around on crutches as the result of playing football. In a scuffle on Linn street one of the boys fell on his right leg, badly spraining it and tearing the ligaments. He is getting along very nicely.

RALLY DAY services will be held in St. John's Reformed church and Sunday School next Sunday. At 9:45 special services will be held in the Sunday school with a few brief addresses by visiting brethren. It is hoped to have Rev. Thos. L. Bickel, a former pastor, present at these services.

On Saturday night Prof. Jacob Cassella, the aeronaut, who made the balloon ascension and parachute drops at the fair last week, left Bellefonte for Pennington Gap, Va., where he has an engagement for this week. The fair association was so well pleased with the performance he made here that they have already spoken to him about an engagement next year.

Captain Cress, of Lock Haven, D. L. Sanders, of Renovo and T. W. Myton, of Huntingdon, were among those from a distance who attended the funeral of the late Dr. Fairlamb. Mr. Myton, who is well known in Bellefonte, lost his arm and had his nose partly shot off at the battle of Chancellorsville. He is still a pretty hearty man notwithstanding the bodily infirmities he carries from the war.

Don't forget that on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Bellefonte Academy and the Williamsport High School football teams will play at Meadow Brook Park. The team from the Lumber City has been playing fast ball this season and thus a good even game may be expected. If it is in the wood the Academy boys are going to win. It is to be hoped that there will be a large turnout so that the expenses of the game can be properly met.

While in Philadelphia last week, Harry Hutchison and William Waddie fortunately fell into the hands of William P. Humes, who escorted them through the magnificent palace of the Union League, of which Mr. Humes has been a member for twenty-two years. It was one of the times "Billy" and "Hutch" felt like multi-millionaires, which is a good mood to be in occasionally. Mr. Waddie returned to Bellefonte Saturday evening, while Mr. Hutchison continued his little outing to Erie, where he spent a short time with Charles Hues and family. He returned home Tuesday morning.

The readers of the Bellefonte Daily News must certainly be well versed on geese culture, and how the poor things suffer from being crammed with doughnuts, ham sandwiches, dough dumplings and buck wheat. The women have read that strenuous article on the first page entitled "Pate De Foie Gras," so often that some of them are on the ragged edge of nervous prostration, and if the plate isn't removed within the next ten days Editor Tuten might be called upon to face a fearful calamity. For a change from geese let the Editor tell his readers something about his efforts to raise "peepies" along the northern end of Half Moon Hill.

D. F. Fortney, Esq., spent Sunday in Phillipsburg and in the evening made a masterly address on local option in the Methodist church. He was greeted by a large congregation who were much pleased with the eloquent way he handled the subject. He remained over Monday and inspected the work of some of the grades of the public schools, especially of the High school where he appealed to the students to allow nothing to interfere with their taking every advantage of the opportunity offered. He also made a strong plea in which he asked the pupils to avoid drink and cigarettes and to live clean and upright lives. His entire talk was inspiring and was applauded vigorously by the pupils.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed church, at Jacksonville, will hold a chicken and waffle supper at the home of Harry Strunk, Saturday evening, Oct. 17. Ice cream and cake will also be served. The ladies are worthy of your patronage, so come one and all.
