

FRANCIS SPEER'S Breezy "That" Column

OVER THE COUNTY.

THAT the stork is still the municipal bird in Bellefonte.

THAT no young man in Bellefonte can love a young lady tenderly if she is tough.

THAT the cork screw has led many a straight young man in Bellefonte to be crooked.

THAT a dozen men may make a success of a Bellefonte club, but only one woman can make a home.

THAT when some young ladies in Bellefonte attempt to make a piano talk, the language is simply fierce.

THAT there are a number of girls in Bellefonte who have weak voices but who use pretty strong language.

THAT the man in Bellefonte who has gone through the mill will tell you that marriage isn't always a bed of roses.

THAT it is said that the young lady in Bellefonte who wears red garters will always have money. Try your luck, girls.

THAT it takes all kinds of people to make a world. That is probably why some people in Bellefonte are permitted to live.

THAT a sign in "Billy" Keichline's garage reads "No Smoking Allowed." Why should a man wish to smoke aloud?

THAT the single girl in Bellefonte, who every now and then burns her bread will get married some day and live a happy life.

THAT it is said that it is lucky for a baby to be born in a hotel. If this is true the next thing it will be Congressman Philip Ray.

THAT there is no use in any man in Bellefonte dreaming of being a successful politician if he is too proud to beg and too honest to steal.

THAT Thanksgiving is approaching and many a turkey in Bellefonte lives to regret that it hadn't been hard boiled before it was born.

THAT some people in Bellefonte couldn't break into society with a burglar kit no matter how much money they have been able to accumulate.

THAT the girl in Bellefonte who imagines that she will have nothing to do when she gets married but nurse the babies will be terribly disappointed.

THAT you had better look out for the man in Bellefonte who comes to you and shakes your hand vigorously. He may be the man who some day will want to pull your leg.

THAT some wives in Bellefonte are not as dumb as they are dumb-looking and one of these days their husbands will have to give a good account of themselves or there'll be trouble.

THAT it is rumored that Bellefonte has a young man in it who is a dandy porch climber. He goes up over it like a squirrel and lands in a room where he is not an unexpected visitor. "Nuff Ced."

THAT some girls in Bellefonte may imitate the new woman to the extent that they ride a horse like a man, but they do not know anything about shooting the chickens out of the garden without an apron.

THAT the minds of some people in Bellefonte remind you of cold storage vaults, from the fact that every chance they get they pass chilling remarks. In other words, they take a great delight in injuring the feelings of others.

THAT several married men in Bellefonte have been taking their wives over more than usual of late, thus giving them a little better time than they did in former days. Wonder what caused them to become so affectionate, all at once.

THAT the other day an agent came to Bellefonte selling a new and right up-to-date Bible. When questioned as to what he meant by a right up-to-date, he said: "Besides having a page for births, deaths and marriages it has three pages for divorces."

THAT there is a man in Bellefonte who seems to think that he is destined to set the world on fire. Well, we don't think that Harry Fenlon, W. B. Rankin, Oscar Gray or D. W. Woodring, our local insurance agents, are very much worried over it.

THAT it is a great mistake to judge the beauty of some girls in Bellefonte by their general make-up. You can't tell how much "Story Cotton" is used for the purpose of catching the eyes of the young men. They may be nothing but base deceivers.

THAT there is a woman in Bellefonte who brags to her neighbors what a nice husband she has, who in private treats him like a dog. This woman is a saint in church, an angel on the street, a devil in the house, an owl at the front window and a magpie at the door.

THAT the Episcopal congregation of Bellefonte will soon have a beautiful temple in which to worship. All that is now necessary for a successful campaign against sin is for the members to make a decided effort to keep the devil out of those clean varnished pews.

THAT a young clerk on Allegheny street, Bellefonte, drove out to Pleasant Gap the other evening to call on a young lady and she gave him the cold shoulder. To be more emphatic, he met with a frost. Country girls know a little more than the town boys give them credit for.

THAT the friends of Charley Moran would like to know who that pretty girl is whom he occasionally meets on the corner, near Bezers meat market. They generally pass this given spot about 8 o'clock in the morning, which probably means they are running on schedule time.

THAT there are some people in Bellefonte who are so dry that you might soak them for a month in a joke and it would not penetrate their hides. If you have any doubt about the truth of this go to Garman's opera house when the joker is holding forth. He often feels like getting an axe.

THAT a married woman in Bellefonte was walking along Allegheny street the other day and in passing a very handsome young man she dropped her kid gloves. It was rather a peculiar situation but the interpretation thereof was that her husband was out of town, and if he called she would make it very pleasant for him. The young man didn't go because he wasn't going to run into the same kind of a trap twice if he could help it. It takes money to run such chances.

Mrs. M. A. Dale, of Lemont, departed for North Carolina, where she will stay for a few months and then go to Nevada for the rest of the winter.

The county commissioners appointed Adam C. Ripka triennial assessor in Potter township to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George W. Spangler.

L. L. Brown, former superintendent of the Sandy Ridge fire brick works, has moved his family to Huntingdon, and Lot Callahan has moved into the house vacated by Mr. Brown.

Mrs. Sarah Stover and daughter, Anna, of Centre Hall, the latter part of last week returned from Altoona, where they had gone to see the new baby that came into the family of Alvin Meyer.

Mrs. John Kreamer, of Centre Hall, was taken to the Bellefonte hospital Monday, of last week by Dr. P. H. Dale, and Tuesday a delicate operation was performed. Her condition is very favorable.

The Methodist congregation of Warriorsmark last week celebrated the first anniversary of the re-opening of their church. Rev. James B. Stein, of Bellefonte, preached the sermon Friday evening.

The State College bunch of nimrods have pitched their tent on Sand Knob this year. They are D. B. Thomas, Ira Hess, Phil Foster, Ed Moore, Clyde Thomas, John Gilliland, cook; J. M. Homan, I. C. Hollins and Harry Miller.

While driving from State College to Centre Hall on Tuesday, of last week, in company with her husband, Mrs. Charles Decker lost her gold watch somewhere on the way. She will, of course, be very grateful to any one who reports its finding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kreamer moved from the Bible farm, east of Centre Hall, to the Stiver property, near the school house. Mr. Kreamer is employed by Chas. D. Bartholomew, and the change of residence will make it much more convenient for him.

Miss Laura Rumberger, who had been to Philadelphia helping nurse her brother, Harry, who has just recovered from a very serious attack of typhoid fever, returned Thursday morning to her home at Unionville, accompanied by the latter, who spent a few days at the parental home.

Thieves made an attempt to gain entrance to the granary of William M. Sweeney, tenant on the farm of ex-Commissioner James B. Strohm, at Centre Hill, by filing up the lock. Mr. Sweeney's dog kept up such a howl that it is thought the thieves became alarmed. A shot gun is now awaiting the return of the thief.

Jefferson Deeter, of Warriorsmark, valley, who is well known in the upper end of Centre and in Huntingdon county as the champion hunter of that section, has this season caught twenty coons. He has also to his credit a mountain lion, three wild turkeys, a lot of rabbits and a big string of squirrels. Mrs. Deeter also shot a wild turkey this season.

One day recently Irvin, the fourteen-years-old son of William F. Thomas, of Farwell, formerly of Centre Hall, while attempting to get on a westbound freight near North Bend, fell under the train and had his leg near the hip terribly crushed. The lad was taken to the Emergency hospital at Renovo, where Mrs. Fullmer at Renovo gave him surgical attention. Later the injuries proved fatal. Interment was made Sunday.

William Fye, of Marsh Creek, was accidentally shot in the right forearm one day recently. He was on his way to work at the Hayes Run fire brick works and as his custom during hunting season had his gun with him. He had set the gun down and as he went to take it up the hammer caught on some object and the weapon was discharged, the load entering his arm and inflicting an ugly wound. He was taken to the Lock Haven hospital for treatment.

The administrators of the estate of Jacob Neidigh, late of Haines township, deceased, sold the following real estate: Tract No. 1, being the old homestead farm, to Jacob B. Stover, of Millheim, for $72 25 per acre. Tract No. 2, timber land, passing with the farm, Tract No. 3, being 70 acres of timberland, was sold to Motz & Stover for $1255. Tract No. 4, consisting of 20 acres of timberland, was bought by I. W. Vonada, for $100. Tract No. 5, also timberland, was sold to Samuel Kreamer for $455.

Two more properties in Centre Hall were sold a short time ago. The one was that of Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, consisting of house and lot and vacant lot, to John G. Dauberman. This place is located near Mr. Dauberman's slaughter house, and is also more convenient to his meat market. Consideration about $600. Mrs. Jacobs, after disposing of her home, purchased the house and lot occupied for some years by J. A. Reesman, from E. G. VanPelt, of Ithaca, N. Y., and will move into it next spring.

The other day while engaged in a game of basket ball at the gymnasium of the Lower Merion Y. M. C. A., young William Wolf slipped, his head coming in contact with the floor, and he was rendered unconscious. Dr. H. A. Arnold was called and the young man was carried into the Y. M. C. A. dormitory, where surgeons gave him medical treatment. It is feared that he suffered concussion of the brain and may not recover. Young Wolf's home is in Ardmore, and he is a son of Witter Wolf, formerly of Centre Hall. He is about twenty years of age.

One afternoon recently Christ Alexander, who lives on his farm about one mile west of Millheim, met with what might have been a serious accident. He had taken a two horse wagon to Aaronsburg for repairs and was returning home riding one of the horses. A short distance west of Aaronsburg an automobile followed and passed him and shortly after it had passed the horses became frightened and began to run. Mr. Alexander could not hold them and the horse he was riding ran against a wire fence throwing Mr. Alexander over the fence into a field. Mr. Alexander was rendered unconscious by the fall and was found in that condition by Ab. Ackerman who took him to Millheim. He is around again as usual.

Mrs. Jacob Bottorf, of Lemont, visited her daughter, Miss Ruth Bottorf, at Bucknell institute, in Lewisburg, on Friday.

Charles E. Maunder, a former well known resident of Phillipsburg, who for a couple of years has been a teller in the First National Bank at Fairbury, Ill., has just been elected cashier of the institution.

Roy Lambert, of Unionville, who was a graduate with Edgar Buzzell from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, has accepted a position as prescription clerk in Brown's Old Corner Drug Store. Mr. Lambert is a very pleasant young man, and was most heartily welcomed to Phillipsburg.

Ellis Dixon, a well known resident of Belsena Mills, with relatives all through Burnside township, was found dead along the road leading from his home to Madera, on Monday evening, of last week. At first it was thought he had been foully dealt with, but there were no marks about his body indicating such a thing. He was aged 60 years. His funeral took place Wednesday at Belsena Mills.

We notice some very fine wheat fields in the different valleys of our county, notwithstanding the dry spell. Then there are fields which are backward and show spots whether the spots are caused by the fly or from the drought we can't venture to say—no doubt the recent drought and warm sun were fly breeders, which latter's attack upon the young wheat plant always causes spots in those fields.

James Lowry, who lived in the Dietrick house at Dunkle's Crossing, which was burned one night last week, had $500 insurance on his household goods in a company represented by Mr. Gray as agent in Bellefonte, and Mr. Dietrick, owner of the property, as stated by us last week, had $2500 insurance on the house in the Farmers' Mutual of Centre county. It is a total loss for both parties and full insurance will be paid as in such cases.

Contractor B. Frank Morgan has just about completed the handsome new brick school house at North Phillipsburg which has been in course of construction for some time. The dedication will take place on Wednesday, November 25, with exercises during the day and at night. An interesting program is being arranged for the occasion. Among the speakers will be Hon. D. F. Fortney, of Bellefonte, who is so intensely interested in the public schools of our county.

On Friday the Leathers Bros., of Howard, closed negotiations for the Foster farm, at State College. The heirs were W. L. Foster, C. H. Foster and Mary Foster. The plot contains ninety-four of the choicest lots to be found in that community. This, with the Hamilton farm, makes the Leathers Bros. heavy real estate owners at the College, and places them in a position to give purchasers about what they want in the line of lots for building purposes or for future speculation. It is stated that within the next year over one hundred houses will be erected at the College, many of which will be on lots sold by the Messrs. Leathers. They are pushing young men and are disposing of this property very rapidly, so if you are thinking about making an investment with them the quicker it is done the better.

About a week ago Michael Myers, an aged man, died at his home in Flemington and a few days later interment was made in the cemetery at that place. During the time of the brief funeral services at the house, "Brave," a pet dog owned by the deceased, and between whom there existed a great friendship, lay on the porch, because the relatives would not let him in the house, which was filled with mourners. When the remains were taken from the house the faithful animal followed under the hearse to the church, where a sermon was delivered. Here also he was denied admission and when the funeral cortege solemnly wended its way to the cemetery the dog followed. Every day since the dog lies continually on the grave, with the exception of when hunger and thirst drive him to seek food and water. He then returns and his vigil never ceases day or night. From all outward appearances the dog actually mourns for his master and refuses to be comforted. How long such actions are to continue is problematical, but are being watched by many persons.

The animal is of the species known as a fox hound and is considered an intelligent beast. During the lifetime of the master, and especially while he lay for months confined to his room, the dog was always near him.

Hunters Take Notice. The fact, November 15 falls on Sunday this year, will add one day's lease of life to the lot of some of the deer that roam the forests. The deer season should open on November 15, but the next day will mark the season's opening and the slaying of deer may then continue to December 1, with the exceptions of November 22 and 29 which dates fall on Sunday. Each hunter is limited to kill one male deer with horns in a season. December 1 marks the end of the season for deer, grouse, pheasant, rabbits, quail, wild turkeys, woodcock, squirrel and plover.

Origin of the Word "Bogus."

The word "bogus" is said by Dr. Ogilvie to be derived from Boghese, the name of a notorious American swindler who about the year 1835 flooded the western and southwestern states with counterfeit bills, sham mortgages, etc. Counterfeit bills, sham mortgages, etc. connects the word with "bogus," a scarcrow or goblin, and so applied to anything fictitious or chimerical.

Lowell in the "Biglow Papers" says: "I more than suspect the word to be a corruption of the French bogasse." This bogasse was the sugar cane as delivered in its dry, crushed state from the mill, also called can trash and fit only for burning, being synonymous with useless rubbish.

Again, according to Brewer, there is in French argot or thieves' slang a word "bogue," which signifies the rind of a green chestnut or the case of a watch, and this also brings us to the idea of an outward seeming without any solid or reputable foundation.—Kansas City Journal.

The Queerest Salad. A gourmet as he mixed a salad of chicory said: "The world's queerest salad, and possibly its most delicious one, is eaten by the Inuits of northwest Greenland. It is a salad of undigested moss from the stomach of a fresh killed reindeer, a bitter, sharp, stimulating salad, as good for the digestion as an electrical massage. The Inuits live almost exclusively on fish; hence salads are a favorite dish with them. But no salad in their minds compares with that which they wrest from the slaughtered reindeer. They say this salad is crispier, tenderer and more appetizing than any other, and they say it wards off indigestion. They fight for it, they spend their last penny on it, quite as the Indians do with firewater."—Exchange.

Too Much For Him. Smithson used to labor under the impression that he was a born humorist, but he has given up trying to be funny now.

He called one day on an old school friend and was shown into a room where his chum's sister was busy arranging a quantity of dried grass which she had collected.

"What a quantity of dried grass you have collected, Miss Ritchie!" he said. Then his humor burst forth. "Nice room for a donkey to get into!"

"Make yourself at home, Mr. Smithson," said the girl pleasantly.

When he arrived home all the humor was crushed out of him forever.—London Scraps.

Exclusive to the Last.

An instance of exclusiveness maintained under difficulties is reported from the ladies' cabin of an Atlantic liner. All were sick except one lady and a cat, which wandered unobtrusively about. The lady ventured to stroke the cat, remarking, "Poor pussy." The cat was inclined to respond and elevated its tail in token of good will, when from a neighboring berth came in choking tones the words, "Excuse me, that is a private cat!"—Argonaut.

That Family Skeleton.

Mrs. Whistler—Tell me, Mary, why it is that you always cry so when papa sends you to bed in the dark when you are naughty? There's no such things as ghosts, and the dark doesn't hurt you, does it? Little Mary—No, mamma, but I'm afraid of that skeleton Mrs. Jones says we got in our closet.—Baltimore American.

Deceitful.

"I admire patience an' self control," said Uncle Eben, "but when I see a man dat kin keep on smilin' after he done bruise his thumb with a hammer I can't help bein' spiteful of his carcenary foh deceit."—Washington Star.

Motion Denied.

A man arrested for murder was assigned a counsel whose crude appearance caused the unfortunate prisoner to ask the judge:

"Is this my lawyer?" "Yes," replied the judge. "Is he going to defend me?" "Yes." "If he should die, could I have another?" "Yes." "Can I see him alone in the back room for a few minutes?"—Pick-Me-Up.

Does the Baby Thrive

If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs Scott's Emulsion. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture, but it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought can be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies and restores the blood, thereby curing pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it will apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.
