

The Centre Democrat.

Circulation Over 5,200—Largest in Centre County.

BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1908.

Vol. 31, No. 48

DECEMBER COURT IN SESSION

What has Transpired of Interest to the Public.

LIST OF CASES ON TRIAL

The Usual Grist of Petty Commonwealth Cases—Verdicts Rendered—Report of the Grand Jury, Etc.

(Reported by S. D. Gettig.)

The regular December term of court convened on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, and the forenoon session was taken up in hearing motions and petitions, noting absentees of jurors, and taking the returns of the constables for the several boroughs and townships of the county. The grand jury was called and sworn and John Meese, merchant of Bellefonte, selected as foreman.

The civil trial lists for the first and second week were gone over and many cases continued. Court convened on Monday afternoon and after hearing motions and petitions, and entering decrees of allotment in partition proceedings, etc., ex-Judge John G. Love, officially, called the attention of the court to the death of the late Col. James P. Coburn, a member of the bar, and moved that a committee on resolutions be appointed. After remarks by Judge Love, D. F. Fortney and Senator Heinele, court adjourned, after the appointment of a committee, who will report later to the court.

Tuesday morning the first case called was Comm. vs. Harry Toner, of Bellefonte, indicted for wantonly pointing fire arms; prosecutor George R. Clark. The commonwealth's allegation is that in Nov. 22, 1908, the defendant was driving a horse up through Patton township and the prosecutor, who is the constable of Patton township, was notified that the horse was being overdriven and not fed; that he met the defendant and ordered the horse fed, whereupon the defendant drew a revolver upon him threatening to do him bodily injury. Defendant's allegation is that he had taken a man up to Patton township at the instance of Mr. Bartley, driving Mr. Bartley's horse, that the horse had been fed before leaving Bellefonte about noon, that he himself had no revolver but after leaving his passenger and returning home discovered a revolver lying upon the seat and after proceeding some distance was met by the prosecutor, who he alleges took hold of his horse, and that he pulled the revolver upon him and told him to get away. That the prosecutor had not told him that he was an officer, and that he did not know who he was; that he returned the horse and rig to the livery stable in Bellefonte, where he was met by the policeman and the revolver taken from him. The revolver was produced in court and had four loads in it. Verdict equally between the prosecutor and the defendant.

Com. vs. C. P. Owens, of Philipsburg, charged with assault and battery; prosecutor James A. Summers, which action grows out of an altercation between the prosecutor and the defendant Nov. 11, 1908, in the restaurant of Milesburg, Howard, and Jacksonville, where Dr. Laurie has been more recently preaching, had a representation present from each of their churches. Quite a number of ministers, members of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, of which Dr. Laurie was also a member, were present. The services at the church were conducted in the reading of the scriptures, by the Rev. John Hewit, pastor of the Episcopal church, prayer by Dr. Platts, followed by an address from Rev. R. M. Campbell of Spruce Creek, and closing with a prayer by the Rev. Joseph C. Kelly, late of Williamsburg. The pall-bearers were, Rev. John Hewit, Wm. P. Humes, Frank McCoy, Charles E. Gilmour, Col. J. L. Spangler, Charles M. McCurdy, James H. Potter, all of Bellefonte, and Robt. H. Sommerville of Winburne, Penn.

The other morning the residence of A. C. P. Krape, at Centrehall, came within an ace of being burned to the ground; Mrs. was away on a visit, and her daughter, Miss Clara, is the night operator in the Bell telephone exchange. Mr. Krape and a little daughter, 3 years of age, were at home. Mr. Krape arose leaving the little girl in her crib, made the fire, and went to the stable to do the feeding; in the meantime the child awoke, climbed out of her crib, and in some manner threw clothing against a stove pipe in passing through the room. The little one went down stairs, and to the house of a neighbor—Lyman L. Smith—and told them "their house was smoky." This led to investigating, and not too soon, for the room was badly damaged, as was also the furniture in other parts of the house. The floor about the stove pipe was burned away for several feet.

The Hecla Hunters. The Hecla hunting club, composed of Shuman Zimmerman, John Zimmerman, William Zimmerman, Samuel Heines, Perry Heins, William Homan and Al. P. Krape, the latter two of Centre Hall, Friday returned from their hunting trip to the Allegheny Mountains along Baker, Cranberry and Rockey Run. They are all skilled hunters, and had the good fortune to see a large number of deer, many of them being beyond rifle range, and not a few dogs protected by the jaw, but they brought with them three large deer, one having six and two each eight prongs, and a bear weighing three hundred pounds; also, a bob cat.

Jersey Shore has an epidemic of counterfeit nickels, and it is believed they are manufactured in the mountains, not far away.

A WORD TO PATRONS.

With the month of December dawning upon us, we are reminded of the fact that the close of the year 1908 is now at hand. That is the time when all business men take account of stock, collect accounts and pay off bills.

Publishing a newspaper is a business proposition and for that reason we announce to our patrons that during the month of December we will go over our five thousand accounts and in every instance where a subscription is past due a statement of the account will be made out and sent to you.

In this every subscriber—rich or poor, high or low, friend or foe—will be treated alike. There will be no discrimination. As the new postal regulations require subscriptions to be paid in advance, we must urge our subscribers to comply with that regulation.

If you are in arrears you will likely receive a statement of account in a week or more. Kindly give the matter the prompt attention it deserves and you will greatly oblige.

THE PUBLISHER.

charge of the court in the case was delivered on Thursday morning after which the case will be submitted to the jury.

Meeting of School Board.

The Bellefonte School Board met Tuesday evening when it was decided to close the schools for the Christmas vacation on Friday, December 18, and open them on Monday, January 4. It was also decided that the schools should make preparation for the proper observance of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Lincoln. In the absence of Miss Fitzgerald Miss Rose Fauble was selected as regular substitute teacher.

The matter of affording better protection to the school children from contagious diseases was discussed and it was decided to regularly fumigate the buildings and use every safeguard possible.

Supt. Meyer in this monthly report submitted some interesting statistics. There are at present 622 pupils enrolled with 94 per cent of attendance for the month. There were only 15 cases of tardiness this month, the lowest number of tardy cases for any month in the history of the schools.

The matter of a new building was also taken up and discussed. The directors were united in their opinion of the necessity of a new building and took some preliminary steps looking to the beginning of work on a new building early next spring.

Dr. Laurie's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Rev. Wm. Laurie, D. D., on Thursday afternoon from the Presbyterian Church, was largely attended. Every Protestant denomination in town was represented by its pastor, and members of their congregations. The Catholic Church was also represented by its pastor, Rev. Father McArdle, with a number of his people. The congregations of Milesburg, Howard, and Jacksonville, where Dr. Laurie has been more recently preaching, had a representation present from each of their churches. Quite a number of ministers, members of the Presbytery of Huntingdon, of which Dr. Laurie was also a member, were present. The services at the church were conducted in the reading of the scriptures, by the Rev. John Hewit, pastor of the Episcopal church, prayer by Dr. Platts, followed by an address from Rev. R. M. Campbell of Spruce Creek, and closing with a prayer by the Rev. Joseph C. Kelly, late of Williamsburg. The pall-bearers were, Rev. John Hewit, Wm. P. Humes, Frank McCoy, Charles E. Gilmour, Col. J. L. Spangler, Charles M. McCurdy, James H. Potter, all of Bellefonte, and Robt. H. Sommerville of Winburne, Penn.

Almost A Blaze.

The other morning the residence of A. C. P. Krape, at Centrehall, came within an ace of being burned to the ground; Mrs. was away on a visit, and her daughter, Miss Clara, is the night operator in the Bell telephone exchange. Mr. Krape and a little daughter, 3 years of age, were at home. Mr. Krape arose leaving the little girl in her crib, made the fire, and went to the stable to do the feeding; in the meantime the child awoke, climbed out of her crib, and in some manner threw clothing against a stove pipe in passing through the room. The little one went down stairs, and to the house of a neighbor—Lyman L. Smith—and told them "their house was smoky." This led to investigating, and not too soon, for the room was badly damaged, as was also the furniture in other parts of the house. The floor about the stove pipe was burned away for several feet.

The Hecla Hunters.

The Hecla hunting club, composed of Shuman Zimmerman, John Zimmerman, William Zimmerman, Samuel Heines, Perry Heins, William Homan and Al. P. Krape, the latter two of Centre Hall, Friday returned from their hunting trip to the Allegheny Mountains along Baker, Cranberry and Rockey Run. They are all skilled hunters, and had the good fortune to see a large number of deer, many of them being beyond rifle range, and not a few dogs protected by the jaw, but they brought with them three large deer, one having six and two each eight prongs, and a bear weighing three hundred pounds; also, a bob cat.

Jersey Shore has an epidemic of counterfeit nickels, and it is believed they are manufactured in the mountains, not far away.

ANOTHER ELECTRIC POWER PLANT

The Old Car Works Dam will be Rebuilt at Once.

ELECTRIC POWER STATION

Was Purchased by the Edison Electric Light Company, of Bellefonte—To Furnish Power and Light.

By July 1st Bellefonte will be numbered with the enterprising towns in the state which will have a day electrical service both for illuminating purposes and motive power. This will be made possible by the Bellefonte Electrical Co. which has recently come into possession of the water power at what is known as the Bellefonte Car Works, now Howard Ling's machine shops. It was purchased for $8000 from Frank McCoy and John Shugert who had the disposing of the same. This is one of the best water powers in the state, and it will be quite an interesting sight to see the old car works dam restored which was first erected in 1873 at the time when car works were built and the town received its greatest boom.

Plans and specifications are now being made which will consist of a dam with high concrete breastwork, together with a concrete building in which will be placed a large dynamo that will assist in furnishing both power and light. The power generated at the dam will be conveyed to the main plant, on west Lamb street, where it will be distributed through the town on the regular wires.

At the plant the company has three large engines, the combined strength of which is 600-horse power. The new plant will give an additional 100-horse power which will make the capacity sufficient for any demands that may be made upon the company in a town the size of Bellefonte. For several years there has been a demand for day power service but it has not been sufficient to warrant the company to start their engines and keep a man there to take care of it, but under the new regime that difficulty has been overcome and the necessary power will be furnished, even if all the engines have to be put in motion.

The dam is 200 feet long and is getting ready to have someone turn the stone. In the matter of borough elections we think the less politics the better for the town. The sole object should be to get the best men. Since our council has taken an advanced step in what they assure us will be a great saving in the Water and Street departments through the purchase of the water power at Milesburg, we believe that the present body, who have gone into this problem and have studied it out, should be asked to remain in office for several terms so that they may be able to work out every detail in the scheme they have started. We advocate this, regardless of politics. Let us retain every member of this council until they have the power plant and equipment in complete working order, even if it takes four or five years to do it. Just at this time it is a mistake to be changing the men who have assumed responsibility for the expenditure of such a large sum of money. Let this council work the whole problem out, and if it becomes the success they have claimed for it, they then will be entitled to all the credit. This is the Centre Democrat's idea of doing such things, in which the thought of politics should be spurned.

It May Be Rev. Fisher.

Rev. Monsignor Nevin F. Fisher, of Philadelphia, is one of the prominent prelates whose name has been submitted to the Pope as successor to bishop O'Connell as rector of the Catholic University of America. Father Fisher was born at Holsburg, this county, and is a brother of Dr. P. S. Fisher of Zion. He was educated at the Theological Seminary at Overbrook and the American College, Rome. Upon his return to this country he became a professor in the Overbrook Seminary. He was named as the first rector of the Catholic High School at Broad and Vine streets, Philadelphia, by Archbishop Ryan when the school was opened in 1890. The title of Monsignor was conferred upon him by Archbishop Ryan in 1906. Father Fisher is fifty-two years of age.

Injured by Falling Tree.

Edward Hill, aged 18 years, of Hynes, Clinton county, was taken to the Lock Haven hospital Thursday evening on the 6 o'clock train. The young man was caught by a falling tree, which had been cut down in the woods, and was jammed against another tree. His leg at the knee was torn open.

Fire at Lock Haven.

Fire was discovered Monday at 9:45 o'clock in the planing mill of the Hippie estate, at Lock Haven, and before extinguished caused a loss of from $15,000 to $20,000, which is fully covered by insurance. While the fire started near the boiler its cause is as yet unknown.

THE HUNTERS AND THEIR LUCK.

Deer hunting season closed Monday, 30th with the average luck. The number of bears killed was something greater than in previous seasons. From 50 to 60 deer were killed in the Centre county mountains, from the 16th of November, when the season opened, to the 30th, when it closed. The hunting camps were quite numerous and the weather favorable for camping and the hunt. The number of bears killed was not as large as the number of deer, and of smaller game of the feathered tribe all hunting camps had a share of good luck. Deer were not scarce, notwithstanding the belief that the vast mountain fires had driven the animals to other parts. The mountain fires burned over perhaps one acre in the ratio of one to every sixty or seventy-five, which left a vast range of unburned forest for deer to live and thrive upon without needing to emigrate to other parts. The mountain territory of Centre county is vast, our area is second largest in the State, hence the new growth over the burned lands, with its fresh crop of grass and abundant foliage on the trees and bushes, afforded all the needed sustenance for deer, and they remained within the bounds of the county, which is proved by the large number killed in all sections of our mountain wilds. An occasional hunter may not have had the luck of shooting a deer, or missed the animal from buck fever or want of knowledge how to send the fatal lead to drop the game. We have known hunters to go in camp every season and return home without killing a deer, although boasting of their knowledge of hunting and just "how to do it," and give silly excuses for their ill luck when others, always having a measure of success, make no blow at all over it. Hunting hath its stories as well as fishing.

KNIGHT TEMPLAR VISITATION

Ten members of Constans Commandery No. 33 Knights Templar, of Bellefonte, Pa., paid a visitation and were guests of Barwin Commandery No. 22, of Williamsport, on Thursday afternoon and evening, and all report a very enjoyable occasion on their return home.

The session began at four o'clock in the afternoon in the Masonic Temple at Williamsport, with the conferring of the Red Cross degree on four applicants, and at six o'clock all sat down to a fine dinner, there being about one hundred and sixty in number. In the number there were many visiting Sir Knights from other commanderies in the central part of the state. In the evening the Temple degree was very impressively conferred on eight candidates, with the accompaniment of the fine musical talent they have among their own members and at eleven o'clock the party sat down to a Dutch lunch and smoker and listened to the delightful music by the Imperial Teteque Band, a band composed of fifty pieces, under the leadership of George Fisk, and all members of the Commandery, which have won fame for themselves, far and wide, over the country, in Masonic circles. Many talks were delivered on Masonry and greatly enjoyed and it was after midnight when all departed well pleased with a well spent evening.

Those who attended from this Commandery were Past Eminent Commanders A. C. Mingle, Geo. T. Bush, J. S. McCarger and Frank Warfield, Generalissimo M. I. Gardner and Sir Knights Robert Cole, William Weber, DeLaune Stewart, George S. Grimm and Dr. Walter Kurtz.

Killed a Cub.

Frank N. Cooper, of Lancaster, formerly of Huntingdon, was in that place Friday morning with a 117-pound black bear cub that he had killed near Clearfield. Cooper had been hunting deer and had come upon some bear tracks. He followed them for some distance and came upon two bears feeding. He aimed at the larger one, but just as he was going to pull the trigger a cub came from behind a ledge of rocks and made a dash for him. Cooper turned his gun and fortunately hit the young animal in the neck before it attacked him. It carried a trap snapped on its right paw.

Slaughter of Deer.

The returns are not all in, but so far 13 does, or female deer have been found in the woods of Tioga county, indicating that some hunters shot before they saw the horns. In these 13 cases reported the hunters evidently dared not claim their game and left the bodies to rot in the woods. How many does were killed and carried away no one will ever be able to find out. A number of cases of doe shooting have been reported in Lycoming county, but not so many as in Tioga county. Centre county hunters do report having seen at least half dozen carcasses of does lying in the woods.

Entire Herd Will be Killed.

The foot and mouth disease has broken out among a herd of cattle on the dairy farm of Charles Winters, on the Long Road road, opposite Newberry Junction. The farm was quarantined Thursday afternoon by state inspectors and the entire herd of cattle, including twenty six cows and two calves, were probably killed. Twelve hogs were also slaughtered. State and federal inspectors and a number of local veterinarians are on the ground and prompt action will be taken to prevent, if possible, the spread of the disease.

Lives With Half a Brain.

Loyal Ralston, the young Allegheny county man, who accidentally shot himself through the head with a shotgun while hunting on Thanksgiving, is still alive, and his case continues to puzzle the medical fraternity. There is a hole extending from under the chin to the top of the head, and half of the brain is said to be gone. The condition of the young man is about the same as the day following the accident, and while his death is expected hourly, it is possible that he may survive for several days.

Misses buckle arctics 95c. At Yeagers.

A WAGON STRUCK BY FAST TRAIN.

One Horse Killed and Spring Wagon Badly Wrecked.

M. LODER SLIGHTLY INJURED

He is a son of William Loder, of Howard—The Accident Took Place at McCalmont's Crossing, near Beech Creek.

A team of horses driven by Frank Fearon, well known farmer, of Beech Creek township, was struck by the New York Central passenger train due at Beech Creek at 4 p. m., Thursday, at the McCalmont crossing one mile east of that place. The road crosses the tracks at an angle of about 30 degrees and the horse nearest the track was torn out of the heavy wagon and ground to pieces. The other horse was practically untouched. The wagon was not much damaged. On the seat with Mr. Fearon was a young man about 18 years old named Loder, of Howard, who was considerably hurt, having several ribs broken and one hand injured. He was brought to the DeHass hotel at Howard and given medical attention. The escape of Mr. Fearon, who is 70 years of age, is miraculous. The approach of the train was not heard by either of the two men because of the rattle of the wagon and their conversation. It was a close call as 10 feet more would have meant instant death. The young man may be hurt internally.

Against Penrose.

Boise Penrose may win out for the United States Senate, but it will not be a bed of roses as he anticipated. There is an alarming opposition against him which may crystallize into something more than ordinary significance. It is now definitely settled that Penrose will not get Huntingdon county's vote in the Republican caucus for renomination and election to the United States Senate at the forthcoming session of the Pennsylvania legislature. Representative Warren B. Simpson, of Huntingdon, has publicly announced his intention to cast his vote against Penrose in the caucus.

I am for Sheatz," said Representative Simpson to the Altoona Tribune correspondent. "He is an excellent man whom I would make a good senator. He was very popular with the members of the house and his nomination for state treasurer was the result in part of the efforts of his colleagues. I expect to go into the Republican caucus of course and will support Mr. Sheatz there unless some stronger anti-Penrose candidate should be presented. I recognize the fact that the sentiment of our county is antagonistic to the reelection of Senator Penrose. Should Mr. Sheatz or any other anti-Penrose man fall of nomination, I will, of course, consider myself bound for the caucus."

An Exciting Runaway.

The other day a team driven by Nicodemus Luse, of Centre Hill, ran away from him. He was returning home from Centre Hall station with a laddered wagon, to which were four horses hitched, and on reaching the brow of a hill he went to the rear of his wagon to draw the brake. When the team reached the flat the wagon was unlocked, and Mr. Luse mounted the wagon at the rear. In walking forward over the boards forming the bottom of the side of the ladders one of them gave way, the breaking causing a sharp report. This caused the horses to take fright and they at once began running. The driver, in his efforts to reach terra firma, became impaled in one of a number of pins on the ladder, and it was with difficulty that he managed to extricate himself, but finally succeeded. A short distance farther on the wagon and a telephone pole met, causing the wagon to part with the tongue. The horses galloped on until they reached the Centre Hill corner, and on passing the Strohm farm, Mrs. William Sweeney captured the runaways. No danger was done the animals, and they were shot at all needed. Mr. Luse was slightly injured, but his predicament for a time was very serious.

The Discrimination Suit.

The Chestnut Hill Coal Co. (not Beulah Coal Co. as first given out), composed of W. R. and James H. Minds, whose operations are located near Ramey, yesterday at Clearfield obtained a verdict of $13,937.68 damages against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for not placing a siding at its mines during the anthracite strike several years ago. The company sued for $100,000 damages, alleging discrimination on the part of the railroad in not supplying a siding during a period of time covering two years, during which period the railroad was furnishing sidings to other mines in the same territory.

They alleged that they suffered great loss because they could not mine and market their coal when the price per ton reached as high as $5.50.

It is Coming.

This week we are going over our mailing list and are sending statements to all of our patrons who happen not to have this little matter of their subscription paid in advance. If you don't get one this week it may be because the number is so large that we did not get time to hope that no one will take offense in case he or she is overlooked as we do not wish to slight anyone with these little invitations to pay us a friendly call or send their kind regards by mail.

A Busy Man.

Taxidermist Eldon, of Williamsport, has a busy season ahead of him, having to date the heads of 118 deer to mount and fifty bear skins to dress, with a prospect of more of each kind.

Special lot of mens' 14-inch high cut mouse hide shoes $3.75. At Yeagers.

FACT, FUN AND FANCY.

Bright, Sparkling Paragraphs—Selected and Original.

To have his memory green a man must be true blue.

Many a fellow is alright in his way but it is the wrong way.

The fellow who is always forming new resolutions needs reforming.

Fools and children tell the truth and generally at the wrong time.

If a fellow doesn't get the better of himself some other fellow will.

The wise doctor always prescribes a nerve tonic when he sends his bill.

It is when a man has plenty of sense that dollars take care of themselves.

Did you ever notice that most men who go to rest cures are married men.

When a man has nothing else to worry him he thinks of getting married.

Anybody can find out how to make money merely by paying a visit to the Mint.

When the world owes a man a living he can at least get it in the penitentiary.

When a man puts his troubles in pawn he is never in a hurry to redeem them.

Things naturally look run down in a neighborhood that is infected with automobiles.

There ought to be enough for everybody these good times. Even the plow has its share.

Strangely enough, it's when a man comes right to the point that he is considered blunt.

If you can't get turkey for Christmas try chicken; and be thankful that you are living to eat it.

The botanist can tell the different kinds of trees by the bark, but he isn't so successful with dogs.

The lazy man need not be frightened—there are no game laws governing the sport of killing time.

Some fellows are so quarrelsome that they would even go into a poker game with a chip on the shoulder.

GARDEN REPARTEE.

"My eyes!" exclaimed the potato, "but this is poor soil for a garden."

"That's right," said the onion, "I don't get along worth a scent, and I'm losing strength every day."

"I'm going to leave," said the cabbage. "I'll never get a head here."

"This spot isn't fit for a berrying ground," said the strawberry. "But here comes the sun, and we'll have to dry up."

"It is about used up," replied her husband. Then, handing her $10, he added, "The next time you go to town get a new one; one that will last."

HE GUESSED RIGHT.

A crowd of small boys were gathered round the entrance of a circus tent in one of the small cities in New Hampshire one day, trying to get a glimpse of the interior. A man standing near watched them for a few moments, then walking up to the ticket taker he said:

"Let all these boys in and count them as they pass." The man did as requested, and when the last one had gone he returned and said: "Twenty-eight."

"Good!" said the man, "I guessed just right," and walked off.

HE GOT THE RECEIPT.

Pat was arrested for being intoxicated. The judge promptly fined him $5 and cost. Pat paid the fine and asked for a receipt. The judge said, "This court doesn't give receipts for fines." Pat insisted on getting a receipt. So the judge finally asked him what he wanted a receipt for, when Pat replied: "When die and go to heaven, St. Peter will ask me if all my debts are paid. I says, 'Yes.' He will ask me if I got my receipts. So you see, if you give me a receipt, it will save me the trouble of going to hell and haunting you to get that receipt."

THE WHOLE BUSINESS.

A story is told of a certain young man of our city who is much infatuated with a young lady, also of this city, and naturally desired a lock of her hair to look at when lonesome. Not being able to get the lock, he drafted the young lady's little brother into service. He promised the little fellow a quarter if he would furnish him with a lock of his sister's hair. The next time the young man came down he was met by the youngster, who said: "Say, I found out where Sis hangs her hair nights, and I took the whole works."

Liquor Licenses.

From an advertisement in another part of this issue you will find the names of those who are applying to the court for liquor license this year. The list contains 37 names and consists of all those who have held license during the past year, and but one new one, that of E. E. Beales, of Julian, against which there will be a strong remonstrance filed by citizens in that section. Not in many years has there been a liquor license at Julian, or in fact anywhere along the Baldeagle valley between Milesburg and Tyrone, with the exception of a licensed hotel at Port Matilda some years ago. The applications for license will be presented to the court on Saturday, December 19th. Up to this time no remonstrances have been filed as there will be ample time for that between this and the time of presenting the applications. Quite a bit of sentiment has been stirred up over at Centre Hall by some citizens who are opposed to the granting of that license, a place that has had license for over a half century.

Misses and childrens high cut school shoes. At Yeagers.