

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

THAT the following are some of the New Year resolutions that will be formed by some of the gentlemen residing in Bellefonte and throughout the county:

THAT Edmund Joseph, of Bellefonte, has resolved to abridge his strong tendency toward the feminine sex until he is dry behind the ears.

THAT the Bellefonte Council had better resolve to fix up or repair some of the crossings in the town that have actually become a nuisance.

THAT N. B. Spangler, Esq., has resolved to do more for his country this year than he has done in the past. That is, if it is in the wood.

THAT the physicians in Bellefonte have resolved to be more magnanimous. They are going to give hope to their patients even if there is no money in sight.

THAT A. C. Mingle and Harry Yeager, the Bellefonte shoe dealers, have resolved to devote more time to the mending of their own souls, than the soles of others.

THAT "Reddy" Lane, Paul McGarvey have resolved to cut a whole lot of things out, good things, of course. You know young men often get too much of a good thing.

THAT W. W. Moore, president of the Nittany Furnace Company, has resolved to break all automobile records in this community even if he has to bust the machine to do it.

THAT Marrie Jackson has resolved that before the year 1919 closes he will bid farewell to bachelorhood. He is going to make 'er, even if he has to get on his knees to do it.

THAT a certain very efficient lawyer in Bellefonte has resolved to capture the hand and heart of a certain young lady on Howard street, if it takes fighting along certain lines all summer.

THAT there are a number of young fellows in Bellefonte who have resolved to get on Bert Taylor's water wagon, but the great trouble will be when they pass a beer wagon on the street they might get an ugly fall.

THAT John Olewine and James Potter, the Bellefonte hardware dealers, have resolved to hand in their certificates of membership to their respective churches if they find that selling skates is not legitimate.

THAT John J. Bower has resolved to be the next Burgess of Bellefonte if he has to bust his suspenders to get there. "Jim" Furst says that he is not going to wear suspenders and thus he will not be put to that extra expense.

THAT Boyd Sampson, of Bellefonte, has resolved to get his share of those apples and cherries, and not leave somebody else carry them away before his very eyes. He is going to do it, even if he has to fight. That's the stuff.

THAT John D. Sourbeck, of Bellefonte, has resolved that when he attends the meeting of the Business Men's Association he will eat his breakfast and dinner before he goes. When he is hollered inside it takes too much to fill him out.

THAT Montgomery & Co., A. C. Smith, James Sticker and George Sunday, the Bellefonte tailors, have resolved to convince the fellows around here, who are walking around with their suits on, that a check or the cash would be very acceptable.

THAT W. H. Macker, of Bellefonte, has resolved that within the next year he will burn up all the ashes in Centre county with his patent ash burner. He wants to be mighty careful or he will set the world on fire and burn it up before the millennium comes.

THAT speaking of fires Tom Beaver, of Bellefonte, has resolved that should he find himself on the nineteenth story of a hotel in time of fire, with every avenue of escape cut off, he would jump to his room, grab a cake of soap and come down the ladder.

THAT it would be well if some of the married men in Bellefonte resolved to cut out the club life and make it a point to remain with their families a little longer than at meal time. It is none of our business but there is no harm in throwing out the suggestion.

THAT "Phip" Waddle has resolved that by next Christmas he will have a Christmas tree in his home and there will be more than himself to enjoy the little trinkets that hang from its spruce boughs. It is to be hoped that his visions of the future may end in a reality.

THAT Robert Walker, Francis Thomas and "Jerry" Altenderfer, of Bellefonte, have resolved to pay more attention to the young ladies this year than last, because they have just graduated from knee britches to long pantaloons, making them look more manly. The next thing they will be cultivating mustaches.

THAT Frank Nagney, of Bellefonte, has resolved to get another "dorg", just about the size of the one that was torn up by the bull dogs several months ago. Although Frank thought the other one was the only pebble on the beach, yet he ought to change his luck and get a cat or an angora goat.

THAT "Billy" Runkle, our efficient District Attorney, has resolved that it will be milliner or nothing. This is a good resolution and it is to be hoped that his fondest hopes and aspirations may be realized. The quicker he can make such a contract the better, for his friends have a great desire to see every designer and constructor of the Merry Widow hat put out of business.

THAT there are women in Bellefonte who should resolve to lead a good clean life, doing nothing behind closed doors that they couldn't ask the world to look upon. The great trouble is that Bellefonte has a number of women in it who were born degenerates and they can't force pure blood through their veins. Often you find such putting on the most style in order to make a show for a blind.

THAT "Billy Bottorf, of Bellefonte, has resolved that when it comes down to popping the question he needs more sand, and he is going to secure the required amount if he has to walk up to Scotia and get it from Will Burnside's sand bank. Mr. Burnside will then be probably prompted to take some of his own medicine. They are both old enough, but we wouldn't for the world, say this to any of our fair damsels for it might prompt them to hesitate.

THAT Frank Steele, of Bellefonte, had better resolve to stick like bee's wax to one girl or he will be left in the soup.

THAT a certain man in Bellefonte with thirteen children has resolved to make it fourteen this year, believing that he will have better luck. Don't know about that.

THAT Drs. Tate, Kilpatrick, Ward, Musser, Kochler and Hafer have resolved to be more merciful to their patients and not act as if life was given only to be sacrificed up on the dental chair.

THAT "Shorty" Nisely has resolved that hereafter the house will not be stuck for any more games than can be helped. The man who does it must get up in the morning.

THAT Deacon Harris, of Bellefonte, has resolved that if those coal lands pan out as he thinks they will, Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like he will be when he has a million dollars in his credit in the Bellefonte Trust Company.

THAT George Bush, of Bellefonte, resolved that instead of eating one meal a day, commencing at 7 a. m. and ending at 11 p. m., he is going to divide the time into three periods, taking a half hour's rest after each of them. He is beginning to feel that one meal isn't enough to keep up his vitality.

THAT Earl C. Tuten has resolved to move from Thomas street to the Penn street hill. If he thinks that because he is high up he is going to get to heaven any quicker than those living on the flat he's going to get fooled. There are some awful good people living up on that hill but none of them have sprouting wings.

THAT there is a young man in Bellefonte who, during the coming year, should resolve to pay for his beer he drinks and not go to a certain private home and make a bar room out of the place. He was raised better in his own home and he should have a little respect for the homes he visits. Be a gentleman—that's what we mean.

THAT Mathias Dooley, of Bellefonte, has resolved to go to Baltimore one of these days and bring back with him one of the prettiest little damsels you ever laid your eyes on. They say she is a brunette with dark wavy hair falling down her back. It isn't the one he fell head over heels in love with several years ago. It's another one. Keep your eye on his movements.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Mrs. Mazie A. Tyler has sold her residence in Millheim, to Mrs. Caroline Swartz, of Madisonburg, consideration $400.

Miss Ella Graham, of Blanchard, who had a serious attack of tonsillitis during Christmas week, is so far recovered as to be able to attend to her household duties again.

Saturday, December 19th, Harry Getzler's barn at Sober was destroyed by fire. How the fire originated is a mystery but the supposition is that it was of incendiary origin.

A. R. Moon, of Blanchard, met with a serious accident recently from the explosion of gasolene, which affected his lower limbs so, that he was confined to his bed unable to walk.

One morning recently W. W. Bower, of Aaronburg, while leaving the house on his way to the barn, slipped on the ice and fell, breaking two of his ribs. He is steadily improving.

Rev. Shultz, of Johnstown, who recently accepted the call to the pastorate of the Lutheran charge at Pine Grove Mills, has moved his family there and he held his first service on Sunday.

After April 1st, 1909, Clyde Fishburn will be H. M. McCracken's tenant/farmer, in Ferguson township. James Gray is quitting and moving to the Lumber city. George Kossman will be his successor.

The Frank Arney property, in Centre Hall, consisting of a house, stable and about three fourths acre of ground, was sold by William Greiner to D. A. Boozer. Consideration $700. Frank Arney is the present tenant, and will remain there during the coming year.

Wm. Eckert, former proprietor of the hotels at Coburn and Rebersburg, but who has lately been conducting a hotel at Moorsburg, Pa., has gone to Danville and is keeping a hotel at that place. He has a fine, large, three-story stone and brick building on Mill street.

Mrs. Joseph Marshall, who resides at Buffalo Run, was eighty years old recently and despite her advanced age she is in the best of health, going around her daily duties as if she was but in the prime of life. She is the mother of Mrs. Charles F. Cooke, of Bellefonte, who with the Cook family spent her birthday anniversary with her.

John Bower, a retired farmer and Aaronburg's oldest inhabitant, is confined to his rocker, afflicted mostly with partial blindness and deafness. He spent the most of his years on the farm of his father, John Adam Bower, about a mile south of Aaronburg. For one of his advanced age 91 years his physical condition is fair.

While William Harpster and John Shirey, of Lewistown, were engaged on Thursday morning, sawing a heavy limb of a tree with a crosscut saw, the saw became fast. Seizing an ax Harpster began chopping at the limb to release the saw when it suddenly flew out and the sharp teeth struck Harpster's left leg and tore a gash ten inches long, in the calf stripping the flesh to the bone. It is feared amputation may become necessary.

Wm. Colyer, a Centre Hall huckster, met with quite a serious accident the other day. He drove from his home in Centre Hall to the Haystack farm a short distance west of the town to get some produce. When he was ready to start home his horse frightened at something and started to run. Mr. Colyer held onto the lines, was thrown from the wagon and dragged some distance before he got the horse stopped. His left ear was torn almost completely off while he was otherwise cut and bruised about the head and face. He was taken to his home at Centre Hall where a physician sewed on the almost severed member and dressed his other injuries, and at last accounts he was getting along as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Tobias, of Snow Shoe, recently underwent an operation in the Lock Haven Hospital.

Henry Miller an old and esteemed resident of Union township, Huntingdon county, died at his home near Mapleton Depot, last Saturday in his 75th year. Senile gangrene resulted from an injury received on the great toe last winter by wearing a boot that was too short.

The Sprucevorn congregation of the Methodist church presented their pastor, Rev. J. Max Lantz, with a purse of ten dollars, and the organist, Mrs. Michael Smith, and organist of the Sunday school Miss Bessie Breen, each with hymnals having the names of the recipients on them.

Twenty-five years ago Samuel Lohr left Centre county for Iowa where he located at Marble Rock. Several weeks ago he sold his property there, and with his wife and two daughters they came east visiting friends in Centre county. This is the first time Mrs. Lohr and her daughters ever saw a mountain and valleys, such as are found here, and thus they appreciate the change very much. However, Mrs. Lohr clings to the western country and the family will still continue to make that their abiding place.

Poems of Joe W. Furey.

The Lock Haven Democrat says that Joe W. Furey, the veteran editor, who has been an invalid for many years, Friday passed another year post in life, and is now in his 71st year—one more than the proverbial time allotted man on this mundane sphere. Although shut in Mr. Furey has been passing his declining years in comfort at the home of his son-in-law, E. B. O'Reilly. He has been devoting many hours to reading and writing, among the latter being a goodly number of poems. During the past few months Mr. Furey has not been so well, but his friends hope he will be spared to enjoy many more birthday anniversaries.

Mr. Furey was agreeably surprised on Christmas to receive as a gift from his daughter, Mrs. E. B. O'Reilly and her husband, a printed volume of 179 pages, comprising the poems, that were written by Mr. Furey from the time he essayed to write verse in 1856 until the present time. At one time Mr. Furey acted as the associate editor of the Watchman, and often made its columns bright and spicy.

Woodland Murder Trial.

Advices from Clearfield state that the Woodland murder trial, which started on Saturday, the 29th inst., was concluded, the jury bringing out a verdict of manslaughter. The Judge sentenced the prisoner, Mike Balent, to twelve years in the Western Penitentiary. The crime for which this man is to be punished occurred at Woodland on Sunday evening November 1st, 1908, and was the outcome of a drunken brawl between a party of Italians and some Slavs in which one Charles Getto, an Italian, was killed by means of a shot gun in the hands of the said Balent. The affair assumed almost an international attitude.

The Italian colony at Clearfield called in the aid of their Ambassador at Washington, D. C., who caused the District Attorney of Clearfield county to have the body of Getto exhumed and an autopsy held nearly one month after burial. Balent is said to have a wife and family at Steelton.

From Scotland, S. D.

Dear Editor:—It is now over two years since we left the Keystone state, and about four years since we left old Centre county.

During our two years experience in South Dakota we have had no cause to regret the step we have taken in coming here. Pennsylvania has its charm and there is not a grander state in the Union; nevertheless South Dakota has many opportunities in the way of money-making on the farm, which Pennsylvania cannot afford. The corn crop in this part of South Dakota was, without question, a most excellent one. The farmers in this part of the state received bountiful compensation for their labor in the cultivation of America's greatest crop. The Centre Democrat has always been a welcome visitor at our home, and hope it shall continue to be a regular weekly arrival.

Yours Truly, R. E. MUSSER.

Killed 2,368 Animals.

Data issued Thursday by the state live stock sanitary board shows that during the recent epidemic of apthous fever the state lost 2,368 animals which became infected and had to be killed.

Beginning with November 9, when the outbreak was first discovered, infection was found in 92 herds. The animals infected included 1,173 cattle, 1,118 swine, 53 sheep, and 4 goats.

The following table shows the number of cattle and swine killed in adjoining counties:

Table with 4 columns: County, No. of Herds, Cattle, Swine. Rows include Clinton, Juniata, Lycoming, Northumberland, Snyder, and Union.

In addition, twenty-five sheep were killed in Clinton county.

McIlveen and Cree Will Coach.

McIlveen and Cree will be Penn State's base ball coaches during the coming season. McIlveen captained the White and Blue nine in '06, while Cree led the team last year, and the fact that both are signed to play the outfield for the New York Americans next summer, indicates that this pair knows enough baseball to teach State's diamond aggregation. In about four weeks Captain Hirschman will call out his candidates for winter indoor practice in the Armory. Each week one practice will be held and both Cree and McIlveen will be on hand for the early work.

Fired Out.

Missouri has taken the Standard bill by the horns. The Supreme court handed down a decision barring the Standard Oil company from doing business in the state of Missouri. This action follows the prosecution of Attorney General Hadley, now governor elect of the state. The Republic Oil company is also ousted and fined $50,000 along with the Standard. The Waters Pierce Oil company was ordered dissolved and fined $50,000.

—The state law now requires the use of the 1909 automobile tags on, and unless the white and black signs are displayed the operator of an automobile will be subject to arrest.

F. Thompson, laborer, State College; Homer Treasurer, laborer, Penn; G. W. Wolf, farmer, Haines; Clyde Welland, laborer, Harris; Howard Ziegler, laborer, Potter.

- THAT there are a few foolish girls of Bellefonte who have managed to get husbands by going out of town which was about the only thing that kept them from wearing curls and having a cat as their only companion. It is laughable and ridiculous to see how airy they become on coming back to Bellefonte, just as if the people here didn't know their social rating and standing.

Another Dispensary.

The State Department of Health's Phillipsburg dispensary for tuberculosis, which was opened December 1st at Potter Arcade will play an important part in stamping out consumption in our district.

The Dispensary which is open Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2 to 3 p. m. is in charge of Dr. C. E. McGirk, who has been tireless in his work to get the Dispensary under way.

The Dispensary furnishes free medical treatment and advice to the victims of tuberculosis among the poor of Centre county. There necessary indigent patients are supplied with fresh eggs and milk daily. The Dispensary officials however will guard themselves against being imposed upon to furnish provisions to other members of the family. Patients are also supplied with paper sputum cups and tissue paper napkins.

This dispensary which is the second to be opened in Centre county, will provide for the needs of those patients in the southern and western part of the county who may be unable to avail themselves of the help of the dispensary already in successful operation under the care of County Medical Inspector, Dr. G. F. Harris, Bellefonte, Pa.

Objects to Roads.

The Commissioners of York county call attention to a defect in the good roads law which should be corrected by the next Legislature. It is reported that the contract price for building a piece of road less than a mile long was more than $10,000, but that extras to the amount of more than three thousand dollars were added, of which sum the county had to pay its proportion. The Commissioners will object to any more road building in the county unless they can so control the contracts that there will be no additions for extras. "Extras" always come extra high, and oft are an "extra" ordinary graft.

Eggs as a Side Line.

Agustus Miller, a farmer of Logan township, west of Tylersville, who frequently attends the curb market in Lock Haven, who keeps chickens in varied numbers as most farmers do, has this last year kept an accurate account of the eggs gathered and sold and reports that for the entire year, 1908, his hens produced 1,313 dozen eggs, which he marketed at an average price of 23 1/2 cents per dozen of $311.84.

The first two weeks of this month, that is from December 1 to 15 inclusive,

BACKACHE, Sideache, Headache, and a Worn-out Feeling May all come from Constipation. Lane's Family Medicine (called also Lane's Tea) is a herb Tonic-Laxative and will cure constipation and the ills that come from it. It is a great blood medicine and one of the best for all stomach, kidney and bowel complaints. All druggists, 25 and 50 cts.

58 dozens were produced and marked at 35 cents per dozen or a total of $20.31.

Mr. Miller doesn't make a speciality of chickens, but just exercises ordinary care and carries the hen industry along with his other farm duties. If any of Mr. Miller's Sugar valley farm neighbors has done better than this Mr. Miller would be glad to hear from them by letter or through the newspapers.

Murderer Wants Dainty Food.

Stanny Marcavage, convicted of the murder of Charles Yeshlous, a Springfield cobbler, was allowed to go back to his cell Tuesday, in the Sunbury jail, after being confined in the dungeon since Sunday night. His fellow prisoners had been informing him that as he was a condemned man he ought to receive best food obtainable. He believed them, and when a keeper served him the usual bill of fare, he raised such a violent disturbance that he was rushed to the dungeon, being released after promising to be content with the usual bill of fare.
