

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

—Miss Mary Connelly attended a dance given at Snow Shoe New Years eve.

—Mr. and Mrs. Norman Thompson, of Ohio, are visiting friends in Bellefonte.

—Friday, January 15th, the great play "3 of Us" Cohn Coleman & Co. production. 25c to 75c.

—Mrs. Emil Joseph left Thursday for New York City where she expects to make an extended visit.

—Roy Fleck, of Bellefonte, has gone to Renovo where he has accepted a position in the Y. M. C. A.

—Joe Katz, who is fast becoming one of the wealthy old bachelors in Lewis town, was a recent visitor in Bellefonte.

—After spending a week or more in Pittsburg Miss Della Heckman arrived home accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Spicher.

—After spending a week in Lock Haven and Beech Creek visiting friends and relatives Misses Emma and Minnie Bachman returned home on Monday.

—E. R. Chambers, Esq., who had been seriously ill with pneumonia at his home on Linn street, is improving, and if nothing unforeseen takes place he will recover.

—Charles McClure, a rising young lawyer in Philadelphia, spent a short time recently in Bellefonte as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James I. McClure.

—Walter Rankin, who holds a responsible position in Harrisburg, was a recent visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin in this place.

—Mrs. H. A. McKee, of Wilkensburg, accompanied by her little grandson, was an arrival in Bellefonte, Thursday, to spend New Years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Stitzer.

—The well known and popular Carroll Comedy Co. will be here all of next week. It comes here after a stay of eight weeks at Cumberland, Md. Popular prices 10c, 20c, and 30c.

—At midnight on Thursday the new year bid a noisy adieu to 1908 with the crashing of cymbals, beating of drums, ringing of church bells and firing of guns 1909 was welcomed.

—Miss Nancy Collins, of Philadelphia, is now in Bellefonte, called here by the illness of her father, Peter Collins, who is growing weaker every day so that his recovery is beyond the expectation of his friends.

—Mrs. Frank P. Blair, of Bellefonte, was called to Philadelphia recently on account of the serious illness of her mother. Word has been received here this week bearing the encouraging intelligence that she is much improved.

—For the past several weeks Melvin Locke, youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Locke, has been seriously ill with acute Bright's disease, and at times his life has been hanging, as it were, by a single thread. Everything is being done to extend the young life and, if possible, restore him to good health. The young man is now getting along as well as can be expected.

—Monday evening Dr. James Dobbins, although 86 years of age, saw something that, to him, was entirely new. He visited the Scenic and looked for the first time upon the moving pictures one of the marvels of the 20th century. The doctor was much impressed and hereafter the probabilities are that he will join the crowd and be a regular patron of the moving picture shows. It seems that a man never gets too old to learn.

—Mr and Mrs. Shem Spigelmyer, of AntisFort were recent visitors in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble, on Linn street. Mr. Spigelmyer has business interests here which links him to our town. He is as full of business as a dog is of fleas, and that's the kind of men we take pride in claiming as part of our citizenship. Then Mrs. Spigelmyer was quite a stranger in Bellefonte and her friends were glad to see her.

—On New Year C. E. Royer, of Bellefonte, entertained about thirty-two of his friends and relatives, most of them hereafter from Bellefonte and Madisonburg. When the guests were invited to the table they found it heavily laden with choice viands, among which was a large well-looking turkey. It is unnecessary to state that all did justice to what had been served before them and the fowl soon had the appearance of a family skeleton. The day was spent very pleasantly.

—On Thursday evening one of the best entertainments ever given in Bellefonte, was rendered at the Salvation Army hall. The songs, recitations, dialogues and tableaux were of the most excellent character. Much of the success of the entertainment was due to Captain Agnes Van Brockhoven, who worked very hard in training those who took part. Quite a large crowd gathered there to enjoy the evening, and everyone pronounced it a success. The Army has the reputation of giving good entertainments and certainly deserve much credit. It will be repeated on Friday evening.

—On New Years afternoon the fire alarm brought to the streets of Bellefonte hundreds of people. The fire was located on the third floor of the wholesale department of the Potter-Hoy hardware store. The timely discovery was made by Scott Weiland, one of the employes, who with the aid of the working force there, were able to keep the flames from doing any serious damage. Although the timbers in the roof were somewhat charred, and a few articles were destroyed. The fire department responded promptly but their services were not needed. It is probable the fire originated from spontaneous combustion. The insurance covered the loss.

—Thursday evening Evangelist B. P. Campbell closed his engagement in Bellefonte and went to York where he commenced a series of meetings in the Epworth League Methodist church. Rev. Campbell is a strong man but he struck Bellefonte on rather an inopportune time. His first appearance was the beginning of the holiday season and then came the Teachers' Institute, both of which detracted, more or less, from the meeting. While this is true his preaching was not in vain, as there were a number of conversions, and the town is better for his being here. The meetings are being continued by Rev. Howe, the Evangelical minister.

—Mrs. Edward Hill, who had been visiting her parents in Bellefonte, left for her home at Lewisburg.

—Harry Crissman, of Pittsburg, who had been visiting his sister, Mrs. Harry Garbick, at Coleville, has left for his home.

—Mrs. Jennie R. Hastings and her daughter, Miss Sarah, spent New Years in Harrisburg, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hickok.

—Miss Della Heckman, of Bellefonte, spent several days very pleasantly in Wilkensburg as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Spicher.

—Thursday Arthur Dale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Dale, left for Springfield, Ohio, to assume his studies at Wittenburg College.

—Charles Trippe, of Philadelphia, who manages to get to Bellefonte once in a while, spent his holiday vacation in Bellefonte as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Harry C. Yeager.

—Cornelius Martin, who several months ago was taken to the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia, has returned home much improved. He was totally blind when he left but now he is able to see out of one eye.

—Thursday Miss Lois Calderwood, superintendent of the Bellefonte Hospital, left for Spangler where she spent a short time as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McClain. She also attended the opening of the new hospital at that place.

—Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Noll and Miss Onmacht, of Bellefonte, attended the house-warming of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. York which took place in Detroit, Michigan, on New Years. This was practically the opening of their elegant new home in that city.

—E. H. Meyers, a former teacher in the Bellefonte Academy but now of McKeesport, and Francis E. Pray, a former teacher in the Bellefonte public schools but now of Kane, were in Bellefonte, last week visiting friends and attending teachers' institute.

—Samuel McClure, a student in the Theological Seminary at Princeton University, has been spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James I. McClure, in Bellefonte. He is studying for the Presbyterian ministry and now has charge of one of the missions in that city.

—The week before Christmas an old bureau, made of cherry, was shipped from Oak Hall to Los Angeles, Cal. as a Christmas present for Miss Ella Rhone, formerly of Bellefonte. It was in possession of the well known Spahr family for over two hundred years, hence it is a relic much to be prized.

—Mary Chambers, the pretty and attractive little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chambers, has been ill with diphtheria. The disease developed on Sunday afternoon when the home was quarantined. The little girl has a strong constitution, and with the use of antitoxin she is coming around all right.

—After being closed down for the three weeks during which time the big stack at the Bellefonte furnace was straightened and reined and other repairs made, the fires were lighted and the engines started at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, the blast being turned on the furnace shortly afterwards.

—The annual installation of officers elect of Post 95, G. A. R. will be held in the post room, Saturday evening, Jan 9th. All comrades are expected to be present on this occasion. Refreshments will be served by the committee after the ceremony of installation, and a general good time is anticipated. By order of H. B. Pontius, commander; Emanuel Noll, Adjutant.

—This week being the week of prayer evangelistic services are being held in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, Rev. J. Allison Piatts, the pastor, will be ably assisted by Rev. Samuel Boston, who needs no introduction to the congregation here. He stands as a peer among those who herald the glad tidings of salvation, and those who attend these meetings will be amply repaid.

—Thursday evening the Brotherhood in the Bellefonte Methodist church held an interesting sociable which was largely attended. After having a delightful time socially the affair, at 10 o'clock, was turned into a watch meeting service which continued until the old year had died away. Several persons presented themselves at the altar which was an inspiration to Rev. James Stein to commence his revival, which is now going on with unabating success.

—Mrs. Jennie Canfield, with her son, Albert, and daughter, Miss Caroline, expect in the near future to open up the old Orvis property on East Linn street, and reside there instead of boarding at the Bush House. Mrs. Canfield and son left recently for Philadelphia, their former home, to prepare their household goods for shipment. This is one of the most desirable places to live in Bellefonte and will make a comfortable home.

—On Tuesday the board of managers of the E. J. Pruner Home held a meeting in Bellefonte. The event was made notable by the admission of the first inmate to the institution, it being Bertha Haverstine, of Tyrone, a little eight-year old girl. This will be followed by one or two other little ones from the same place. The members of the board found everything in an orderly and satisfactory condition and are pleased with what has been accomplished thus far. This home is open for the admission of homeless children of Bellefonte, Tyrone and Altoona.

—Mr. and Mrs. Phelps-Stokes will speak in the court house Wednesday, January 13, at 8 o'clock. Subject: "The Problem of Poverty." Mr. Phelps-Stokes is a graduate of the Sheffield Scientific school. He received the degree of Ph. B. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia, 1896-7. In 1905 he married Rose Pastor, who has been connected with college settlement work and other charitable institutions in New York City. In 1906 he and Mrs. Phelps-Stokes joined the Socialist party and since that time have been active in its propaganda work. They have been careful students of social questions in this country and abroad and are well fitted to speak on the subject of poverty. Admission free. A collection will be taken for the benefit of the New York Evening Call.

—"Quincy Adams Sawyer" at the opera house Friday eve; it is a good attraction.

—Mrs. W. C. Cassidy spent New Years with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, of Philadelphia.

—Read Buffalo Bill's first article in this issue. It is the opening chapter of the "True tales of the plains."

—Ex-sheriff Wharton Cronister, of Martha, spent New Years very pleasantly among his Bellefonte friends.

—Ralph Lininger, of New York City, is in Bellefonte examining titles to unseated land in the Treasurer's office.

—The Keystone Gazette came out on New Year in a new dress that is attractive—we hope some new resolutions accompany the same.

—Misses Louise Hoffer and Frances Wythe, of Philipsburg, were recent guests in Bellefonte at the home of C. T. Gerberick, on Thomas street.

—Samuel Wetzel, of Bellefonte, spent his Christmas with his brother, Harvey W. Wetzel, of Warren, N. Y. Sam has some coal interests down there which some day may put him on easy street.

—Wm. J. Singer, formerly District Attorney of Centre county, but now of New York City, is in Bellefonte looking up claims to unseated land. He looks as if he would be dealing gently with him.

—Two young ladies and gentlemen, of Bellefonte, went to Winburn on New Years and desirous of pocket books. If you are desirous of knowing something more about the incident just ask Harry Kreamer.

—Reports from C. N. Meserve, the Y. M. C. A. secretary, who is at Mt. Alto, are that he is being benefitted by the treatment there for tuberculosis, and it is thought he will return in a short time entirely cured.

—Prof. A. Reist Rutt, supervising principal of the public schools in Bryn Mawr, Pa., was a recent visitor in Bellefonte. He is among the applicants to succeed Prof. John D. Meyers as superintendent of the Bellefonte public schools.

—Thursday Hon. H. R. Curtin and son John went to Philadelphia where they consulted a specialist with reference to the former's recent illness. They returned on Saturday and their friends will be glad to know that the result of the consultation was encouraging.

—On Christmas, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bartley, there was a home gathering of children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, and naturally a royal repast was served. The following were present: H. M. and family, of Lock Haven; A. W. of Altoona.

—Horton S. Ray has placed an order for a model G. Franklin runabout, with a double rumble seat, to be delivered April 1st. The machine is eighteen horse power, painted red and finished very much like Col. Reynolds' six cylinder runabout. They say when a man gets the auto fever it sticks to him, Ray seems not to be able to shake it off.

—A. C. Heverly, connected with the A. C. Mingle shoe store in Bellefonte, has invented an improved clip for fastening on the heel of a shoe for use on icy pavements. It is quite simple, made of spring steel wire and retails for 25 cents. He now is having them manufactured in Buffalo and large orders are coming in daily. It looks as though it will prove a winner.

—While in a fit of despondency Michael Croty, janitor at the Bellefonte Hospital, attempted suicide at that institution the other evening. He first drank a lot of washing soda which did not have the desired effect and he attempted to cut his throat. He was unsuccessful in his attempt and although he was in a serious condition he is recovering. He is about 45 years of age.

—The American Express company now delivers the merchandise entrusted to them for carriage in their own delivery wagon, both wagon and horse having been sent here about a week before Christmas their business now being large enough to justify keeping the wagon in service. Samuel Rumberger performs the triple duty of messenger on the train, agent in this place and driver of the wagon.

—At the present rate of growth of attentiveness at the Scenic, manager Clayton Brown will have to knock out the rear of Petrikin Hall to accommodate the people. Miss Walker is doing the singing and you can depend upon it that the music is up-to-date. The moving pictures are especially fine this week, calling for the admiration of every visitor at the theatre. If you haven't been there get in line and follow the crowd.

—On Sunday morning the Bellefonte Presbyterian congregation voted to return to the free pew system for church maintenance, and raising funds for benevolent purposes. This means that hereafter no pew rental will be charged and each member will be expected to contribute as the Lord hath prospered him. It also means that the pews are perfectly free to the public, and that strangers will be cordially welcomed. The idea is according to scriptural teachings, and will work like a charm if the members unwrap the strings of their pocket books and give conscientiously.

—Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard, passed through Bellefonte Monday on his way to State College where, for the last few weeks, he has been taking special interest in the Farmers Institute that were held there. Mr. Woodward is not only interested in the future of State College, of which he has been a progressive member of the board of trustees for years, but he is working to give the farmer of Pennsylvania an exalted place in the business world. He has made this a life study and has been doing much to improve the condition of the man behind the plow. He has not only a local reputation but is known throughout the United States for the good he has done along this line.

—That well known New England play, "Quincy Adams Sawyer", will appear at Garmans opera house, in Bellefonte, Friday evening. This will be its second appearance in Bellefonte and the theatre-goers who enjoyed it before will be glad to welcome it back. The story, the characters, scenes and situations of the drama are so familiar now as to need no further description. Those who did not see the play when presented here before have at least heard all about it from those who did. Since "Quincy Adams Sawyer" was last given here it has had its famous run at the academy of Music in New York city, where it packed the theatre to its utmost capacity. It has also returned to the Boston Theatre in Boston and played to the "standing room only" record every night.

—A bouncing baby boy arrived at the home of Christy Smith on Allegheny street, Sunday morning. Mrs. Smith and the baby are getting along finely. His name shall be Anthony.

—The callers in our sanctum over the holidays numbered several hundred and space will not permit of personal notice. We were pleased to see and have a handshake with all, and extend to each and all a sincere New Years greeting.

—John Raymond, of Bellefonte, left Thursday afternoon for Lock Haven where in the evening he attended the annual dance of the Good Will Hose Co. He was formerly a member of this company and still takes a great interest in all its social affairs.

—On Christmas eve Horton S. Ray, proprietor of the Brockerhoff House, entertained twenty-five of his gentleman friends at a stag banquet. Everything was up to snuff, and as the banquet partook of the delicious viands, Christy Smith's orchestra played sweet lullabies which soothed their cares and made the night glide swiftly away with many pleasant memories of the host's hospitality.

—On Monday the Grange Insurance Co. of Centre county held a meeting in Bellefonte which was largely attended. The following officers were elected: president, I. S. Frazz; vice president, Mr. Erb; treasurer, George Goodhart, and secretary, David Keller. The company's affairs were found to be in excellent condition, although an effort will be made to change some things that will be for the betterment of all concerned.

—Milton Johnston, the Bellefonte marble dealer, has joined the automobile gang in Bellefonte and someday, like all the rest, will strike a time when he will wish he had never been born. Tuesday of last week he went to Williamsport where he purchased a Cadillac. After riding a half a square with a tutor Mr. Johnston took the machine and brought it to Bellefonte without an accident. Talk about having your nerve with you—he had it.

—If you desire to enjoy one round of pleasure all that is necessary is to drop in up at the Electrical Theatre and witness the excellent entertainment given there each evening for a nickel, five cents. You will find the opera house full of cheerful and beaming faces listening to the singing by Henry Brown who has a voice that commands the attention of every musical ear. Then the pictures are always first class and thus are found to please and make you forget your trouble.

TICE—SCHENK

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Schenck at Howard their accomplished daughter, Miss Sussie M. Schenck and Mr. Elery Tice were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Rev. R. S. Taylor, of the Howard M. E. church. The wedding was solemnized at high noon on Dec. 23, 1908, after which a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. About 30 guests were present; L. F. Hopper, best man and E. A. Schenck, bride's maid. The happy couple left on the 4:17 p. m. train P. R. R. for Norwalk, Ohio, amid showers of rice and confetti and congratulations of a host of sincere, admiring friends for their honeymoon trip. They received many pretty, costly and appropriate presents. Mr. Tice is an expert farmer and is well known to everybody about Howard.

ACHESON—SHAUGHENSEY

A pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of St. John's Catholic church, at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning, of last week, when Miss Agnes T. Shaughensy became the bride of Ray M. Acheson, of Niagara Falls. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaughensy. She is a graduate of the Bellefonte High school and of late was a stenographer in the law office of James A. B. Miller and is an estimable young lady. The bridegroom, a worthy young man is quite well known in Bellefonte having taken a three years course in the Bellefonte Academy. Just now he holds an excellent position under his father in the Union Carbide plant at Niagara Falls, where the young couple will make their future home.

REESE—SHARER

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Reese, on Thursday, December 24, at four o'clock. The bride was their beautiful and accomplished daughter, Maud, and the groom was Daniel Sharer, son of Christ Sharer. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bierley with Mary Sharer as bridesmaid, and Randall Matters as best man. Mayme Laird had the honor of dressing the bride, who was beautifully attired in white silk. After a sumptuous feast had been partaken of, the bride, dressed in a traveling suit, drove to the home of the groom to spend the evening, returning to the bride's home to spend the night. They have the best wishes of their many friends for their future wedded life.

GERMAN—PETERS

A very pretty home wedding took place in Bellefonte at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Peters, on the day before Christmas. The contracting parties were their daughter Miss Edith Peters, and Howard German. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. James B. Stine, pastor of the Methodist church, in the presence of only the immediate members of both families. A wedding breakfast was served after which they left on the noon train for Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Baltimore. Following their wedding tour they will be at home at Linchburg, Va. The bride is a pretty and attractive young lady, who will be a jewel in the new home. The groom is a graduate from the engineering department of Pennsylvania State College, and now holds a responsible position as mining engineer in the copper fields of the South. He is an energetic young man and has all the advantages to get along successfully in the world.

BOWER—KREAMER

Charles D. Bower, of Rauchtown, and Miss Loda M. Kreamer, of Logantown, were married December 24 at Logantown by Rev. J. B. Guiney.

SHARER—REESE

On Thursday, Dec. 24, 1908, at 3:30 p. m. at the home of O. P. Reese were united in marriage, Daniel H. Sharer and Maud Reese, by Rev. E. S. Bierly.

HAWK—STOVER

Peter F. Hawk, of Lock Haven, and Electa May Stover, of Aaronsburg, were united in marriage on Dec 26 at the parsonage of St Luke's church in Lock Haven.

WEAVER—PARSONS

On the 25th of Dec., at the M. E. Parsonage, Stormstown, Walter C. Parsons and Anna K. Weaver, were united in marriage by Rev. A. L. Frank. Their many friends wish them a happy future. The groom is employed by the Bellefonte Furnace Co.

STROHM—GROSSMAN

Mr. William Grossman of Centre Hall, and Miss Susan Strohm of Zion, were united in marriage on Jan. 5, 1909, at the Lutheran parsonage, Snydertown, by the pastor Rev. L. N. Fleck.

HOY—M'COY

On Tuesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Estell May McCoy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, of Bellefonte, and Ray J. Hoy, of Lemont, went to the Catholic parsonage and were married by Father McArdle. They were accompanied to the altar by Miss Kathryn Cecelia McCoy, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Harry N. Musser, of Lemont, as groomsmen. The bride and bridesmaid were prettily attired in becoming gowns. They went direct from the parsonage to the 8.20 train for a wedding tour to Harrisburg, Philadelphia and New York, after which they will make their home in Bellefonte. The bride is a most estimable young lady and for a couple of years had been head clerk in Gilliam's Bazaar, in Crider's Exchange. She is kind and courteous and will be missed there. The groom has two trades, being a machinist and carpenter, so that if one fails he can fall back on the other. He is a sober, industrious young man and will make a most excellent husband.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Table listing marriage licenses with names of couples and locations. Includes Albert R. Zimmerman - Mingoville, Martha J. Peters - Lock Haven, Peter F. Hawk - Aaronsburg, etc.

In October 1885 the first marriage license was recorded in the Register's office. Since then to Jan. 1st, 1909, there were issued 7884 licenses of an average of 340 per year. During the year 1908 there were only 294 licenses issued which indicates that during the panic the matrimonial market was materially affected, there being a shortage of 46 licenses.
