

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "Chat" Column

OVER THE COUNTY.

THAT in order to be stylish some people in Bellefonte are putting up an awful bluff. THAT it is a good thing for a certain woman in Bellefonte that dead men can't tell tales.

THAT Charles Gilmore says that Moses slept five in a bed when he slept with his forefathers.

THAT if you set a beggar on horseback he will ride a gallop. Bellefonte has several cases of this character.

THAT the idea of charity that some women in Bellefonte have is to tie a red or pink ribbon around a sick dog's neck.

THAT men may come and men may go, but for going and coming the servant girl, in Bellefonte, has a record that is hard to beat.

THAT we were asked the other evening what fruit a newly married couple in Bellefonte resembled. Well, they could be compared favorably with a green pair (pear).

THAT it is said that Bellefonte has in it a couple who have been lovers for twenty-five years and they are now thinking of getting married. What's the use?

THAT Shuman Zimmerman, of Hecla Park, wants to know why a chicken will walk across the road in the mud? It might be possible that she had a date with the rooster.

THAT it is said that the young ladies of Bellefonte are about to form a matrimonial club. Well, some of them had better be doing something along that line or it will be all day with them.

THAT Jennie —, of Bellefonte, claims to have many lovers who would die for her, but we notice that every time she goes to Garman's opera house she buys her own ticket.

THAT to restore a normal action of his liver Edmund Joseph, of Bellefonte, should take a dose or so of Dr. A. Roberts' remedies. What he needs is a good cleaning out, and he'll feel better.

THAT a learned doctor in Bellefonte has given his opinion that tight corset lacing is a public benefit, inasmuch as it kills off all the foolish girls, and leaves the wise ones to grow into womanhood.

THAT a certain young married man of the West ward, of Bellefonte, says that after the honeymoon the kiss and its thrills are soon parted. What's the matter? Something must have soured on him.

THAT it is said that a certain gentleman in Bellefonte was seen Friday morning, about 7 o'clock, coming from the home of his lady friend. When a love affair gets that far gone its time to look up.

THAT there are a number of pretty sleek women in Bellefonte who make it a point to draw the wool over their husband's eyes. Well, you can't blame them very much because that's what Eve did to Adam, thus they came by the trait homestly.

THAT it is amusing to see several old maids in Bellefonte walking the streets with dresses on, the length of which are only becoming girls of sweet sixteen. They are doomed to die about the way they were born, and what is the use of their fighting against fate.

THAT the "That Column" may make some strong statements with reference to some things that are going on in Bellefonte behind closed doors but an earthquake would reveal such a loathsome odor to that decent people would be compelled to use smelling salt.

THAT our friend "Pete" Meek has another guess coming when he said last week that the "blind tiger" was not in evidence on election day. If he had gone up to the Court House Wednesday morning he would have found a large number of hides and scalps in the water closet.

THAT manager Mallieu, of the Bell Telephone Exchange in Bellefonte, says the telegraph and telephone may be great inventions but a tell-a-woman beats them both. He hasn't of course, gotten to know this from any recent experiences. He secured that information long before he was married.

THAT the women in Bellefonte do their hair up tight, wear tight shoes and lace so tight that sometimes it is difficult to get their breath. The men of the town do neither, but when it comes to getting tight they lay the women so far in the shade that you couldn't see the shadow of the court house at noon on a clear day.

THAT it is wonderful how "Society" in Bellefonte will "slobber" over those who are known to have money. A deplorable feature about it is that the character of the individual isn't often considered. There are several persons here whose place should be in a reformatory where the principles of decency and sobriety are taught. However, it is a difficult task to make a rose bloom on a thorn bush even in a reformatory.

THAT there is a married man in Spring township who is getting entirely too dip with a young girl. It is said that he has been making advances to her that are far beyond that of a gentleman. If he runs up against the real thing one of these nights he will have nobody to blame but himself. His place is at home with his family, and he will learn this from sad experience if he continues in the way he has been going.

THAT the Bible declares that no man can enter the Kingdom of Heaven until he squares up with the man whom he has wronged. There are some fellows in Bellefonte who had better begin to square up accounts, or the devil will get them no matter what nice, complimentary harangues are said over their casket by the minister. Those fellows have been smart enough to beat and swindle their neighbors but they can't fool the Almighty.

THAT it is said that J. N. Sherer, Vice President of the company operating the Bellefonte and Nittany furnaces, is about to become one of our enthusiastic automobilists. He will soon come in possession of the Ford, now run by W. A. Moore, the president of the same company. This machine has a speed equal to greased lightning, and when Mr. Sherer begins his initiative operations, and runs out toward Pleasant Gap, we advise him to put on a bathing suit and supply himself with life preservers, as the creek runs parallel with the pike, and at Axe Mann there is a deep spring; thus our timely suggestion might save him from a watery grave.

J. W. Kepler, of near Pine Grove Mills, is receiving congratulations over the arrival of a nice baby boy.

The professors, J. C. Bright and R. N. Decker, of Hublersburg, spent Sunday at A. C. McClintock's at Nittany.

On Monday night of last week Harry Douly's sawmill, east of Rebersburg, was destroyed by fire.

Fred Gummo is laid up with attack of pneumonia at the home of A. F. Lauck, near Pine Grove Mills.

Merchant John Wieland, of Pine Grove Mills, purchased the old home farm for $6,500. James Snyder will be the tenant.

C. H. Breen & Co., of Millheim, have purchased from J. Spigelmyer his entire stock of Edison photographs and records.

Miss M. Megninney-Hood, of State College, has left for Philadelphia, where she entered the T. of P., for a special medical course.

Mrs. H. Terresta Stover has sold to Jerome Spigelmyer the dwelling house and store building in Millheim which she lately purchased from the J. W. Stover estate. Consideration $2300.

George Ripka, who went west fifty-six years ago, and of late, paid a six weeks' visit to his native valley and county, left last week for his adopted home at Laurel, Sully county, South Dakota.

Mrs. Catharine Horner sold her dwelling house in Centre Hall to Frank P. Geary, the barber, for $3000, or thereabout. This property was purchased by Mrs. Horner from Mrs. M. B. Richard, about two years ago, for $550.

Pennsylvania has more than 50,000 grangers in 677 granges. Tioga is the banner grange county of the State with 400 active members in good standing. The Mitchell Mills Grange is the largest grange in the county. It was organized January 31, 1890, and now has more than 400 members.

The foundation for the dwelling to be erected by Lyman L. Smith, near the station, at Centre Hall, has been staked off. The lumber is being worked at the Centre Hall foundry, and as soon as the weather settles, work will begin in real earnest.

Among the visitors in Bellefonte Monday was Constable George W. Loder, of Stormstown. About six weeks ago he was so ill that it kept him busy to get well. If you had seen him eat turkey at Gregg Post rooms you would have come to the conclusion he hadn't lost his appetite. He is a pretty good man, yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster D. Walker, of Philadelphia, are at the home of Charles Weaver, at Linden Hall, and expect to remain for some time. Mr. Walker is a machinist, but the firm for which he was working closed their shops, and the time for reopening has not been set. He is another victim of the Taft boom that didn't boom.

D. Ross Gregory, of near Petersburg, while on a business trip to Oak Hill, Centre county on January 27, became very suddenly ill, from eating mince pie. He had to remain there until the next day under care of Dr. L. E. Kidder. He was then brought to his home and since then has been seriously ill, ptomaine poisoning resulting.

Wm. Auman, Sr., who is 90 1/2 years of age, and resides with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Blauser, of Potter's Mills, is quite feeble and needs much care, but has quite a retentive memory. He was formerly a successful farmer in Gregg township and raised a large and indigent family. His wife, nee Amanda Osman, died some years ago.

Charles E. McClellan has sold his property in Millheim, and purchased the lot from Jerome Spigelmyer, adjoining Dr. F. E. Gutelius on the east, which is in the burnt district in Millheim. The price paid was $1000. Mr. McClellan will at once begin the erection of a store building, and hopes to have it completed for occupancy by the first of May or thereabouts.

A. A. Frank has become owner of the Musser House lot in Millheim and will erect his store house on it instead of building on the site of his former store. Mr. Frank will occupy the whole of the lot with his building. He will erect a modern two-story building consisting of two store rooms and warehouses on the first floor, and the second story will be divided into lodge rooms and offices.

The venerable Michael Shaffer, years ago of Nittany valley, but of late years having his home with his son near Centre Hall, was taken seriously ill from hemorrhages last week. Mr. Shaffer was a man of robust health all his life and is now up in the eighties, and only a few days ago made one of his usual calls on our sanctum and in his best of health apparently. Hope he may be restored, which is the wish of his host or friends.

The citizens of greater State College are sorely disappointed over the fact that the order promulgated by the P. O. department establishing free postal delivery in that borough on March 1, has been rescinded on account of the appropriation becoming exhausted. Congress has failed to pass an additional appropriation for the establishment of the service at new offices, which the department has urgently requested. The service will, therefore, not go into operation until next July.

Size Him Up. When you hear a man sneering at the local newspaper because it is not big, cheap and newsy as the city papers, you can safely bet he does not squander any of his wealth in assisting to make it better, and that generally the paper has done more good for him than he has for it. The man who cannot see benefits arising from the local newspaper, is about as much value to a town as a delinquent tax list.

A Big Bond Issue. Directors of the Southern Pacific company, which controls and operates the Southern Pacific railroad, Monday authorized an issue of $2,000,000 twenty-year four per cent. bonds, which are convertible into common stock at $130 per share. At the same time the directors increased the common stock of the Southern Pacific company by $100,000,000, to provide for the conversion of the bonds.

Kansas Drug Stores Suffer.

Do you want to buy a drug store at your own price? If so come to Kansas and take your pick of more than 2,000 which are on the market. Nearly every country paper these days has from one to a dozen advertisements reading "For Sale—Cheap, a drug store; owner desires to retire from business." The secret of the sudden determination of so many druggists to retire is that the legislature is about to pass a law cutting them out of their chief source of revenue—the liquor trade. The senate bill, already passed, stops the sale of liquor by the drug stores for any purpose whatever. It is the most drastic law enacted in any state on the prohibition question. It not only provides for absolute prohibition but also restores the inquisition and gives immunity to people who testify in "joint" cases. Legislators say the bill is bound to become a law. Kansas druggists seem to think so, too.

THE WATER FAMINE ENDED.

The water famine, not only in this county but all over the state, has ended gradually within the past few weeks, until now streams and cisterns are full to old time measures. The drought just ended was perhaps the most serious on record for this state and the country in general, yet there was no suffering such that many farmers for weeks were obliged to haul water for their stock a distance of from one to five miles. Many streams had gone dry, and the large creeks and rivers were low to the fordable low-water mark. The growing fall crops were not suffered to any great extent and with favorable season until end of May, all will be well. Providence, undoubtedly, had some wise purpose in sending few rains and bringing about this drought, which is unfathomable, and no misery is left behind and brightness for the future is in store.

Left for Jerusalem.

Gen. George B. Taylor, of near Reedsville, who has friends in Centre county, left the other evening on a long trip to Jerusalem. He took with him a small bag of corn which he says is a premium from the Holy Land. He also has a small bag full of dimes which he says are for the beggars. Many people think that the trip the General is making is somewhat hazardous, owing to the change of water, air and food, and more especially at his advanced age beyond 80 years. However, the old pilgrim says one might as well die at one place as at another and much better in the land that has been made holy. This is the second trip he has taken.

On the Right Track.

The state of Kansas is about to enact a law making it a felony for a married woman to run away with a man other than her husband, or for a married man to run away with a woman other than his wife. The same law is to send to the penitentiary of the county jail any man who deserts a child under the age of 14. The mother who deserts her children is to receive the same punishment. The man who neglects to support his wife or child may be punished by a jail sentence.

The Wrong Accent.

A few days ago as a Reading train was slowing down for the stop at White Deer station, a dapper young brakeman threw open the door of the day coach and shouted, "Why Dear." A young lady from Milton, of the "disizy blonde" type, seated near the entrance to the car, grew very much excited, and it was with difficulty the passengers were able to restrain her from inflicting bodily injury on the young man, whom she characterized as being "too darn fresh."

The Ox Not Extinct.

The proverbial strong and patient ox is not entirely extinct in Pennsylvania. J. D. and Edward Nicholas, of Watsonstown, are owners of an immense yoke of oxen. The smaller one, a Durham, weighs about 1600 pounds, and the large one, a Holstein and Jersey, the very personification of strength, weighs over 1500 pounds. They are four years old, and, of course, not done growing yet.

—Did you read Buffalo E.'s story last week.

A REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIER.

The subject of this article is worthy of this brief sketch, although it has been many years since the venerable patriot passed to his long home. He was honored for his having served in the war of Independence, and was credited as being one of the most upright citizens in Centre county in his day. The senior editor of the CENTRE DEMOCRAT had an intimate acquaintance and knew him well. Adam Sunday had a good record as a soldier in the war of Independence, and was widely known throughout Centre county. He was an ardent democrat, and Judge James Burnside often requested Mr. Sunday to attend democratic mass meetings where he was placed upon the speakers' stand and during the meeting he was introduced to the audience, when he made a fine speech. The Sunday connection in the county was quite large. A. C. Ripka, of Centre Hill, is a descendant of Adam Sunday, and to Mr. Ripka the CENTRE DEMOCRAT is indebted for the following data: J. Adam Sunday lived a few miles south east of Spring Mills, where he owned quite a large acreage of land. He entered the Revolutionary army and served until the end of the war, under General Wayne. He was born July 5, 1764, and died April 21, 1855, and was buried in the Heckman cemetery. His age was 92 years, 10 months and 18 days. He had only one child, Hannah, who became the second wife of Philip Zerby, hence she was Mr. Ripka's grandmother, on his mother's side, and he was his great grandfather. Mr. Ripka says he has a record of nearly all his deceased relatives, and can assure the correctness of the above, and could relate much more concerning him. Mr. Ripka was named after him, and often saw him. He was eight and a half years old when he died, and Mr. Ripka still possesses presents he gave him. He was blind when he died.

J. Adam Sunday was Gen. Wayne's hostler until he became big enough to be crowded into the army. Apparently he was not more than 17 or 18 years old when the war closed. For, being born July 5, 1764, he was only about 12 years old when the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed. But he was a great old boy to tell war stories. His grave is near the south gate of the Heckman cemetery, and his slab, or grave marker, has a drum cut on it. His homestead farm is nearly a mile due south of the Beaver dam school house in Gregg township and two miles south east of Spring Mills. His wife, Maria Sunday, died November 24, 1859, aged 83 years and 5 days, and their only child, Hannah S. Sunday, (my grandmother), died Aug. 1, 1865, aged 62 years, 11 months and 3 days. My mother was Adam Sunday's oldest daughter, and she became the wife of Charles Ripka, who died July 21, 1856, and Mr. Ripka is her third son.

There were three Sunday girls in Pennsylvania, intermarried as follows: Christiana, the wife of John Metzler, Sr., of Colyer; one the wife of Jacob Breen, of Cooperstown, now a part of Spring Mills, who was the great "pop-over" man and the other one was the wife of Peter Breen, Sr., who lived in Georges valley, and hence she was Mr. Ripka's first wife's grandmother, but it is not likely that the above Sunday girls were closely related to J. Adam Sunday.

Two of J. Adam Sunday's grandchildren still live, viz: Mrs. Peter A. Confer, nee Hannah Zerby, of Millheim, Pa., and William Zerby, of Spring Mills, (of Georges valley). They are at least seventy odd years old.

Fell From Scaffold and Injured his Back. Thirty years ago James C. Lee of 1100 9th St., S. E., Washington, D. C., fell from a scaffold and seriously injured his back. In telling about it he says: "My suffering was terrible; from the small of my back all around my stomach was just as if I had been beaten with a club. I tried all kinds of plasters, belladonna, caprine and porous, without getting relief, and bought so-called electric belts, but none of them did me any good."

One day, while working near my daughter's house, my back pained me so badly that I had to quit. I went into the house and lay down for ease. My daughter had a bottle of Sloan's Liniment in the house and she rubbed my back well with it and gave me some to take home. I used six and a half bottles of Sloan's 25c Liniment and can do as much work now as any man in the shop, although I am sixty-seven years old. I would not be without Sloan's Liniment for any consideration and recommend it to anyone suffering pain."

Pricked a Pimple and Died. Mabel, the 16-year old daughter of Grant Showers, of Philipsburg, died recently from the effects of blood poison. About two weeks ago she pricked a pimple on her forehead with a needle and blood poison resulted.
