SPRING MILLS.

On a Saturday night, not long ago, a few new stunts were inaugurated at a taffy party in Spring Mills. The guests constituted "the cream of the town," or in other words "the 400," so it is taken for granted that all hen-parties in the future are to be of a similar nature. The chief amusement of the evening was the playing of a new game in which handsome prizes were awarded to the winners. It is understood that this is a game for the ladies in elite society only because the winning of prizes depends entirely on the "Fluffy Ruffles" abilities of the participants. "OUR BOY"

The box social at the home of Mrs. J. L. DeHass for the benefit of the Catholic church, was successful both socially and financially. More than fifty friends were present and some sixteen dollars was left in the treasury. Father O'Hanlon came down from Bellefonte to grace the occasion with his presence. Jackson Kline started on Friday morning for a little vacation in Boston. Our town should be improving in morality and Christian living under the plentitude of the preached word. On last Sabbath no less than five sermons were preached in the several churches: Pastor R. S. Taylor preached in the Methodist church in the evening; Rev. W. M. Long, of Clarksburg, West Virginia, preached in the Christian Chapel in the evening; Father O'Hanlon preached in the Catholic church in the morning; Rev. H. I. Crow, of Jacksonville, preached to his Reformed membership in the Evangelical church in the evening; while Pastor W. W. Rhoads preached to his regular congregation in the same church in the morning. This takes no account of the several Sunday schools, christian endeavers and various leagues all of which held their regular meetings,
