

FRANCIS SPEER'S
Breezy "That" Column

THAT about the only secret the women of Bellefonte care to keep is their own age.

THAT the new woman has come in Bellefonte but the d—only knows where she goes.

THAT two-thirds of the married men in Bellefonte are henpecked, but they don't all know it.

THAT Robert Cole, the Bellefonte architect, would make a great actor because he is fine at drawing large houses.

THAT marriage is certainly a failure to a certain woman on Lamb street, Bellefonte, who wants to get married but can't.

THAT many a fellow in Bellefonte gets broken up over a girl, but some girls can break a fellow up quicker than any other method.

THAT when a steam roller passes over some people in Bellefonte, they don't seem to realize that they have been flattened out.

THAT it is said if you put on an article of dress inside out it will change your luck. Wonder if this would help our friend Lansay?

THAT whatever else you may say about Jim Derr, the bill poster, he always sticks up for Ed. Garman, manager of the opera house.

THAT they say there is a prominent man in Bellefonte who is cheating the barber by letting his wife cut his hair. It looks a little kinky.

THAT Ralph Spigelmeyer, of Bellefonte, says that if the tariff on gloves is increased the country can fall back on the mittens like mother used to make.

THAT they say that a widower at Pleasant Gap has his eagle eye fixed on one of Bellefonte's finest and most popular young ladies. We hope he'll win out.

THAT they say that Bellefonte has in it a young lady who can hold up a train just whenever she pleases, except when she is attired in her one-piece undergarment.

THAT the other evening a woman on High street, Bellefonte, made a strong plea for her husband to purchase a new hat. It is easily seen what she had up her sleeve.

THAT Dr. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, will tell you if you desire to make your money go a long ways you should contribute to foreign missions.

THAT Harris Olewine, of Bellefonte, is said to be studying medicine with a physician over in the West ward. At least he is making a good many visits over in that direction.

THAT the young lady in Bellefonte who has been eating onions should take a ride in George Bezer's automobile when he is on a good stretch of road. He would take her breath away, all right.

THAT a young lady in Bellefonte, asked her friend the other day if she thought the young men would like her new clinging gowns. That depends entirely on what the gowns are clinging to.

THAT some young ladies in Bellefonte, have been a double trouble to their parents. First they had to find husbands for them, and then they were compelled to skirmish around and find a job for them.

THAT there is a class of young men in Bellefonte who take pleasure in blackening the character of girls just because they have resented their insults. The fellow who follows out these tactics is nothing more than a brute.

THAT the friends of John Rankin, of Bellefonte, are afraid he will get knocked if he doesn't stop traveling up and down Quaker Hill so often. Any physician would charge him five dollars for this advice but we give it free of charge.

THAT they say that a very pretty and nice young lady in Bellefonte, with a piece of pipe up her sleeve was after Frank Roe the other night. It is said if she had caught him she would have given him a roll and it wouldn't have been a baker's roll, either.

THAT it looks very much as though Charles Keichline, of Bellefonte, was getting ready to give Register Tuten fifty cents and some minister a ten spot. The indications are that the little ceremony will come off in the near future. It is certainly a happy couple.

THAT they say a lady in Bellefonte went into Sechler & Co.'s grocery store the other evening and asked whether those eggs on the counter were fresh. "Yes'm," said Roy Landis, one of the clerks. "I laid 'em there myself less than a half hour ago." That settled it.

THAT the papa in Bellefonte who has a daughter who likes beautiful and costly hats, shoes and clothes heartily consents when a young fellow comes along and wants to take the job off his hands. As the young man turns away with delight the old man heaves a sigh of relief.

THAT there was a little umbrella fight in Bellefonte the other evening between two prominent young ladies. It was the result of two fair damsels becoming infatuated over a young married man of the town. Didn't you hear it? It was as good as Wesley Jarret's show when he was on the road.

THAT everything points in the direction that the employees at the P. K. R. freight station will soon have to shell out for a wedding present. Davy Barrett, Jr., is cutting a swift matrimonial pace. Everything seems to be coming his way along that line. Sam Cherry doesn't need to laugh because he is in the same boat.

THAT now is the time of the year when the wives, of Bellefonte, put their arms around their dear husband's necks, kiss them and then coax them to go out in the backyard and beat carpets, whereupon hubby slips out the back-way and goes up town and puts one or two under his belt to help him bear the burden.

THAT it is said that the other night, between 8 and 9 o'clock a single man in Bellefonte was seen crawling up over a certain back porch. He carried his shoes in his coat pocket which looked a little suspicious. The neighbors, who saw it, say that he was an expert climber as he went up the side post as rapidly as a cat would go up a tree, and that's going some. Did you ask what was after?

OVER THE COUNTY.

H. C. Strouse, of Zion, has moved on the David Long farm near Salona. Mich. Condo, formerly of Centre Hall, on April 1st, moves from Darrah, Pa., to some other town.

Prof. H. C. Rothrock, of Boalsburg, announces the opening of the Normal and Preparatory school on April 12.

Merchant W. H. Noll, who had been seriously ill with pneumonia for over a week, is reported to be improving which is good news for his many friends.

John Myers has bought the general store of W. F. Smull, at Smulton, and will take possession in the near future. He will move his family to that place April 1st.

The little infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boal, of Penn Cove, died on Saturday evening at 9 o'clock. It apparently had not been well from birth, aged one week; burial at Tusseyville.

A. P. Maize, Millheim's inventive genius, has applied for a patent on a new device for holding cards and packages. It is a very handy thing and will no doubt be in great demand when put upon the market.

The eighth annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the West Susquehanna classis of Reformed church, will be held in the Mt. Bethel Reformed church, Nittany valley, Tuesday, May 18-19.

E. I. Musser, of near Millheim, bought a fine team of bay horses from W. L. Hosterman, of Coburns. He also purchased a new Conklin wagon from the hardware firm of Hosterman & Stover. Ed. is now fixed to start farming this spring.

There will be but two county offices to fill in Centre county at the fall election and these are of minor consequence. The terms of Jury Commissioners Adam Hazel, of Spring, and Clement Gramley, of Miles, will expire and their successor will be elected.

Pleasant Gap, within the past dozen years, has fully deserved the prefix "pleasant,"—the improvement of the homes, within that period, having made it one of the most pleasant villages of the county, with its citizens noted for intelligence, hospitality and good morals.

At a meeting of citizens of Gregg township held the other night it was decided to secure Rev. S. H. Ditzell, of Maytown, to teach the spring term of Spring Mills Academy, with the understanding that the school board offers him the position of principal of the Gregg Township High School for the 1909-1910 term. Rev. Ditzell has accepted.

The civic committee of the Woman's Literary Club opened a reading room for boys in the Holmes block at State Col. The firemen have donated the use of their room for the purpose and the electric light company will furnish light free of charge. The committee feels grateful for the kindness shown and certainly appreciate the favors. The rooms will be opened on Monday, Tuesday and Friday nights from 6:30 to 7:45 o'clock.

D. J. Nieman has entered into partnership with Joseph Mamolin, of Benton and will conduct stores at Millheim and Jersey Shore. Mr. Nieman will have charge of the store at Millheim and Mr. Mamolin at Jersey Shore. They have purchased the store building in Millheim now occupied by A. Kessler's clothing store and G. L. Springer's barber shop. They expect to remove the entire building and erect a modern one on the site. This will remove another fire nest. The consideration paid was $2300.

Bessie, aged four years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benner Walker, west of Centre Hall, met with a mishap recently that proved serious. The little girl was at the barn with her father, and fell a distance of two or three feet. Little was thought of the affair, until a few days later, when it was observed that she was weak in the back, and finally became unable to walk, the lower portion of her body appearing as though paralyzed. To add to the distress, inflammation of the bowels set in.

A buck deer was caught at Jerry Cornman's sawmill back of Woodward the other afternoon. The deer was driven from the mountain by dogs and lay down at the sawmill entirely exhausted. It was covered with ice showing that it had been in the water. The deer did not struggle when caught and it was put into J. L. Kremer's barn for safe keeping. No one knows whose dogs were after it although some persons saw them but do not know the owners. The game warden for that district was at once notified who will dispose of the deer.

Trout Fry.

Last week 87 cans of fingerling trout from the state hatchery near Bellefonte were received by Milton sportsmen. They were promptly taken in charge of a delegation of members of the local Rod and Gun club and were taken over to Spruce Run, Rapid Run, White Deer and Fourth Gap, where they were placed in the waters of those mountain streams. The fish were in fine condition. Another lot of 53 cans containing 53,000 trout fry were received at Bloomsburg Monday and taken up the creek to be planted in the headwaters of the Fishing Creek. The consignment was in charge of D. W. Houser and came from the Bellefonte hatcheries. This makes 110,000 small fish that have been planted in this creek during the past two weeks, and assures good fishing in about three or four years.

Granted Leave of Absence.

The executive committee of State College has granted a 16 months' leave of absence to Prof. H. P. Baker from July 1, and a year's leave to Prof. F. L. Pattee. Prof. Baker will sail with his family some time in June, for Germany. He will spend the summer in the Hartz mountains and in the fall will take up special work in the University of Munich. During his absence abroad he will visit India, Java, Austria, the Philippines and Hawaiian islands. Prof. Pattee will sail from Montreal on June 26, and take in England, Germany and Italy on his itinerary. The Professor will also specialize, devoting part of his time to study.

If a man would only labor as hard over his daily task as he does over the things he doesn't have to do, work would be easy.

FROM INDIA.

The following interesting letter was sent us for publication by D. W. Miller, of Pine Grove Mills. It is from the Captain of Co. G, 148 Reg. Pa. Vol. during the Rebellion, and one who is known to many of our older readers. After the war Captain Harpster took up the ministry and became a Lutheran Missionary to India. This letter was not intended for publication, as it was only a personal note to Mr. Miller, but will be of interest to others, to wit:

RAJAHMUNDRY, MADRAS PRESIDENCY, INDIA, FEB. 11th, 1909.

DEAR COMRADE MILLER: Yours of the 18 Dec. came promptly to hand. Really, it was very much like a message from another world. Of course, I know it was not from another world for it dealt with things of this world too much; things of the dim past, it is true, but still very real, for all that. The names of Thompson, Ishler, Koon, Wortz, Joe Harpster, Brice Brisbin, Anthony Knopf, John Stuart, what memories they recall. God bless the old boys; may the years have dealt kindly with them. God willing, I shall be up in old Centre county in a year or so again, and I mean to take my time to it and have a look at the old grey headed chicken thieves. There are no men in America I would sooner take by the hand and have a talk with.

In regard to the sword presented to Col. McFarland: When the Col. was promoted to the Lieut. Colonelcy, Co. G, was as natural, had a touch of the big head and felt that it ought to do something worthy of the occasion. I think it was Captain Patterson that proposed the presentation of the sword. The boys subscribed cheerfully and generously, and the sword was an uncommonly fine one. It was quite too fine for ordinary use, and I think the Colonel buckled it on state occasions. It was purchased at Harrisburg, taken along to Cocksbyville and presented a few days after our arrival there; that is, a few days before the different companies were posted up and down along the railroad. The regiment was paraded, Col. Beaver was interested and prominent, and, to the best of my recollection, both in presenting and receiving the sword, two very poor speeches were made; for it would have been a gross exaggeration to say that either of the speakers were orators. But anyhow they got through with their parts, and whether the sentiments of Company G were expressed illy or well, I am sure the feeling in the heart of every member of the company was that we had done a decent thing and paid a just tribute to a man who, though, perhaps, not as brilliant as some others, was a good soldier, and, at the heart of him, a kindly and generous man. Peace to his ashes.

As I have intimated above, I expect to return to America soon. We sail from Colombo about the middle of April by way of the Pacific. It will be my second trip around the globe and, I hope my last one. It is 37 years since I first came to India. On the whole, the years have dealt kindly enough with me, and I bear my 66 years quite cheerily, yet it is useless to deny that the old body of this tabernacle is considerably the worse for wear. When I get home I want to come to Centre county and look at the old stamping ground at my leisure. Indeed, I sometimes think of going into permanent winter quarters at Centre Hall, where I was born. My life has been spent very far away from it, but my heart has always gone to the old home.

Good bye, old comrade. When you see any of the old boys say a kind word to them for me. Give them this from me for a countersign: "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, love mercy and walk humbly with thy God." Yours sincerely, J. H. HARPSTER.

No Need of a Veterinary.

"We run a Livery, Feed and Sale Stable, have a city transfer and handle hard and soft coal and consequently we need a good many horses," say Bedell Bros. of Mount Carmel, Ill. We have used Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies for years and find they give perfect satisfaction. As long as Sloan's remedies are in our barn we do not need a veterinary surgeon. We are never without them and conscientiously recommend them to all horsemen." Colby Bros. of the Mineral City Livery, Fort Dodge, Ia., write:—"I have used Sloan's Colic Cure, Liniment and Fever and Distemper Remedy for the past ten years, and since I have been using them, I have never had a veterinary in my barn, and have not lost a horse from either colic or distemper, and will say that any man with a horse or horses who keeps Sloan's Liniment and Veterinary Remedies in his barn will never have occasion to call a veterinary." Sloan's Treatise on the Horse, sent free to any horseman. Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass.

Government Preparing for Stamp Tax.

Unusual activity at the bureau of engraving and printing in the installation of machines for the printing of stamps and the working overtime of the entire stamp printing force gives color to the belief that the new tariff bill will contain clauses re-enacting the stamp taxes that were levied during the Spanish-American war period. For about 10 days the bureau has been busy printing millions of stamps, and it is believed that the bureau officials anticipate, or have been advised by the treasury department, that the task will fall on the bureau to produce adhesive stamps for use on proprietary medicines, perfumery, chewing gum, checks, notes and other commercial paper, light wines, etc. Mechanics have been installing stamp printing machines, and a force has been kept busy for the entire 24 hours for several days.

Against Reduction.

A convention of ironworkers of the eastern district was held at Reading on Sunday afternoon and it was unanimously decided to reject the proposed reduction in wages submitted by the Reading Iron company. The scale which is scheduled to go into effect on March 29, reduces the wages of puddlers from $4.50 to $3.75 a ton. The reduction would affect 3,000 employees. National Secretary T. H. of Pittsburg, addressed the men and installed the men to stick to their old schedule of prices.

He Forgot The Trap.

Troubled by chicken thieves, David Chilcote, a farmer near Huntingdon, set a shot gun trap. He forgot the trap and Monday morning upon entering the hen coop received the charge in the hip. The wound is serious.

Overruled President Judge.

The Philadelphia Press says editorially in Saturday's issue: "President Judge Evans, of Columbia county, refused to grant a license to sell liquor to a man who a month ago was convicted of violation of the liquor laws and sentenced to pay a fine and be imprisoned in the county jail. The two associate judges were not so scrupulous, however. They were in favor of granting the license, and were able to outvote the president judge. Such episodes as this have created a strong sentiment throughout the counties where associate judges still exist for the abolition of the office. It is of small consequence anywhere in these days, and frequently causes embarrassment and grotesque results."

What a Woman Will Not Do.

There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine or Lane's Tea is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks. At all druggists and dealers, 25c.

Get a Move On.

One of the conditions for a permanent Free Rural Delivery is that the roads be kept in first class condition. If this neglected there is danger of the route being discontinued. There has been a rumor that the roads in Boggs and Curtin townships are not in the best shape, and should an inspector come round there might be some danger of the rural route, from Howard being discontinued. There is no monkeying with Uncle Sam so those who do not desire to see such a dire calamity come to that community should hustle for better roads.

Discrimination Charged.

The Harrisburg Patriot says that the Nittany Lime & Stone Company, of Bellefonte, filed a complaint with the State Railroad Commission Saturday alleging that the Central Railroad Company of Pennsylvania makes a discrimination in freight rates in favor of the Bellefonte Lime Company, a competitor of the Nittany Company.

This is the first charge of discrimination preferred before the commission. Additional seriousness is given the charge by an averment in the complaint that the Nittany company expects to be able to prove to the commission that the general freight agent of the railroad company is a stockholder in the Bellefonte Lime Company.

The Central Railroad Company operates a line between Bellefonte, Centre county, and Mill Hall, Clinton county, and both the petitioning company and the Bellefonte company ship their product over it. In addition to charging that the Bellefonte company obtains a cheaper rate for the same class of stuff the Nittany company claims that the rate it is charged is in itself excessive.
