

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Lee Larimer, of Jersey Shore, is a Bellefonte visitor this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richards, of Bellefonte, are now enjoying themselves at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Connor, of Jersey Shore, are visiting at the Bauer home on east Bishop street.

A Mergenthaler Standard Linotype two-letter machine was purchased recently for this office, and will be installed in a few weeks.

Fred Larimer, who was operated on for appendicitis in the Bellefonte hospital, is at liberty again looking as well as he ever did in his life.

Rev. C. W. Finkbinder, wife and youngest daughter, Miriam, of Lock Haven, spent Thursday of last week with his brother, J. L. Finkbinder and family, on Pine street.

Hon. P. Gray Meek, editor of the Watchman, has been confined to his bed this week with a severe cold. His condition is not alarming, and the prospects of his being around soon again are encouraging.

There was a slight fire at Coleville on Tuesday morning. John Davis's house located near the Bellefonte Central shops caught fire and the roof was partly destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Recent word received from Ashville, gives the pleasing news that Mr. Olewine is improving and in good spirits. Mrs. Olewine and brother, also at the same health resort, are happy over the favorable conditions.

Roger T. Bayard, the energetic local editor of the Tyrone Herald, attended the inspection of Company B, of which he is a member, at the armory Tuesday evening. Tyrone air agrees with Roger, as he says he weighs 225 lbs.

John Munson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Munson, is at his parents, home this week suffering with a slight nervous collapse as the result of too close confinement to business. It is not thought, however, that his condition is at all serious.

Robert R. Foster, better known to his many friends in Bellefonte as "Bob," came into our office Tuesday in rather a poetical turn of mind. When asked from whence he came he replied, "From the classical shade of old P. S. C." How about that for real, genuine, clever wit?

The base ball season in Bellefonte will open on Saturday, April 3, with a game between a strong nine from State College and the Academy team. The local boys will have a championship team this year. Go and root for them in their opening game. They need and desire your encouragement.

A. A. Dale, Esq., was doing a little out door work near Coburn on Tuesday, and he visited the tree from which Peter Kider shot young Auman, killing him. He says there is still craps to be seen on the tree, marking the place from where the boy fell. This famous tree is still visited by hosts of people.

Tuesday evening among the visitors in Bellefonte was Charles McCafferty, Jr., of Bradford, who brought his wife here for burial. Among those who accompanied the remains were his son Charles, and his brothers: George, of Bradford, and Lewis, of Wilkes-Barre. They returned Tuesday to their homes.

Chas. McCafferty, formerly of Bellefonte, but now in Philadelphia, gave our sanctuary a call Wednesday. Charley, as he is familiarly called, is so well known to our people that he needs no introduction; was here simply on a brief visit, and looks the picture of health which is really within him at the age of over the allotted time, fourscore and one. He left for the city by yesterday noon's train.

Sunday Register Earl C. Tuten was kept away from church by Echo, his dog, having come in contact with an automobile which fixed his clock for the next ten weeks. The canine, perhaps, thought it could stop the machine and the result was a broken leg. She being a family pet the leg was put in a plaster Paris jacket and it is believed that she will come around all right. It will be around on crutches before long.

On Tuesday the following young men from Potter township were in town on their way to Simmertown, Illinois, where they will secure employment during the summer at farm work: Wither Lingle, Harry Wagner and Frank Bible. With them was D. R. Sweetwood, a former Centre county, who has been in Illinois for some years, but spent the past winter in Pennsylvania, putting in the most of his time taking orders for optical supplies.

Reserved seats for The Susquehanna University Glee Club Concert, under the auspices of the Lutheran church, will be opened at the Court House on Friday morning, March 26th, 1909 at 10 o'clock. Remember the date of the Concert, Tuesday, March 30th. Persons holding reserved seat tickets will remember that they must be marked by the ticket agent at the Court House on Friday morning of this week, if a selection of seats is desired.

On Tuesday S. H. Williams, of Bellefonte, moved from the West ward into the South ward, and is now occupying Mrs. Sadie Saterfield's house on Bishop street, recently vacated by Mrs. Rebekah Cruse and family. Mr. Williams lived in the West ward so long that it is really a shame for those ladies to take him into the bloody South ward where he will be like a ship without a rudder. Mr. Williams, himself, says that he can't think of any grievous crime he has committed that would warrant such a severe punishment. Who says there is nothing in moral suasion?

As soon as the room now occupied by the Racket store is vacated, and that will be by about the first of April, the front of the store will be removed and an entirely different window will be erected for the display of stock. The parties who have rented the rooms will carry a full line of clothing and gents furnishings and will do business under the firm name of "The Underselling Clothing Co.," of which M. Hurwitz, formerly of Lock Haven, will be the manager. This week he moved his family here from Lock Haven and are now occupying one of F. W. Crider's new houses on Lamb street. The store will be opened as soon as alterations can be made.

M. T. Zubler and daughter, Mrs. C. H. Ungard, of Gregg, were pleasant callers.

Mrs. Chas. Fulton left Saturday for Atlantic City where she will visit friends.

Thomas Burton, of Pittsburg, has been visiting friends in the vicinity of Bellefonte and Roopsburg.

Mrs. Wm. Hill, of Bellefonte, was called to Clearfield Saturday by the serious illness of her father, Mr. Bowes.

One of Stoke's famous water colored pictures free to each lady purchaser Saturday, March 27th. At Yeager's shoe store.

James Kelley, who has been spending the winter in Philadelphia, has returned to his home in this place. He didn't like the city.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lucas left Friday evening for their home in Pittsburg after a pleasant visit at the home of Sam Thomas, on Half Moon Hill.

Mr. Israel Kaufman, of this place, has two patches of oats, which were put out three weeks ago, and now it is up and not less than four inches in length. That looks like "prosperity."

Chas. Hosterman, the genial landlord of the hotel at Woodward, was in Bellefonte Saturday morning between trains while on his way to Johnstown where he has business to transact.

After spending several weeks in Harrisburg with her husband, Mrs. Charles Dorworth has returned to Bellefonte, and will remain here until after the adjournment of the legislature in April.

Miss Virginia McCurdy and Mrs. J. B. Scott, sisters of Charles M. McCurdy, president of the Bellefonte First National Bank, have returned from Florida and Cuba where they spent the winter in an enjoyable manner.

Peter Mendis, of Bellefonte, was in New York recently, where he purchased a twenty-horse power vacuum cleaner. Now, if you want your carpets cleaned without taking them off the floor, Peter will do it.

Claude W. Smith, formerly manager of the branch store of Montgomery & Co., at State College, is now the proprietor of the same. The transfer was made last week. Mr. Smith is an up-to-date business young man, and he ought to make 'em go.

Last week in giving the obituary of the late Joe W. Furey, of Lock Haven, we forgot to mention the fact that Mrs. Furey's name was Bettie McCulley, sister of the late James McCulley, of Bellefonte, and his only surviving sister is Mrs. Dale, wife of Cornelius Dale, of near Lemont.

John Lingle, son of Hon. W. C. Lingle, of Bellefonte, is the inventor and patentee of a horseshoe which can be fastened to the hoof without the use of nails and can be removed and replaced in a few minutes. It has not been given a thorough test as to practicability but it is believed by those who have seen it to be a good thing.

Philip Beizer, the meat man, has placed in his meat market a large refrigerator of an improved and modern style. It has been built so as to enable them to take the meat off the wagon on the street and railroad it right through into the refrigerator without further handling. Mr. Beizer is one of our most progressive business men who wants everything about right.

The Chrystal Spring Rebeccas of Bellefonte I. O. O. F. will hold an oyster supper in the lodge room in Crider's stone building on Friday evening, April 2. The price will be 25 cents. Ice cream and cake will be extra. The ladies at the head of the supper are splendid cooks, and you will not have to hunt around in the soup for one lone oyster. They will give you all you can eat. Give them a trial.

Cameron McGarvey, of Bellefonte, has developed into quite an expert in colored pastel drawings. He has been confining himself to making sketches of local scenes in and around Bellefonte. Among them is the Mason's camp located near Curtins, which has been admired by people who have a taste for that kind of work. He is a natural born painter and some day will make more than his mark—money.

Rev. C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte, preached an interesting sermon at Colyer on Thursday evening. He had a large congregation and his sermon was both inspiring and productive of good results. We shouldn't be surprised to hear some day that Mr. Shuey has decided to abandon the grocery business and devote his entire time to preaching the Gospel. He would no sooner preach than eat.

Within the last several weeks the lime business in Bellefonte has been picking up considerably. In fact the orders received by the American Lime and Stone Company are sufficient to compel them to start ten additional kilns, which naturally necessitates the employment of quite a number more men than they have been doing. In reality their plants hereabouts are now being operated stronger than they have at any time within eighteen months and the indication is a further picking up in the business.

The session of the Pennsylvania Odd Fellows' anniversary association will be held at Danville on Tuesday, April 27. There will be a parade in which all Odd Fellows are requested to participate, either with their own organization or join with some other. There will be present a number of grand officers, and other prominent Odd Fellows. The anniversary address will be delivered by Past Grand Master B. H. Hart and other speaking and exercises will be on the program. Quite a number from the Bellefonte Lodge will be present.

Henry Kline opened his new shoe store on Saturday and naturally there was a big throng there all day. The parties were kept busy from early morning until late at night. The room was fixed up in a neat and tidy way by proprietor Kline and his worthy assistant, James Corl, which made it an attractive place. They say a new broom sweeps clean, which was the case in this instance. Mr. Kline is a young and enterprising gentleman and his friends want to see this venture prove a howling success. He was assisted in the opening by his sons, and E. E. Davis and Fred Reese.

Boys' all-solid dress shoes $1.25. At Yeagers.

Miss Eva Carson, of Bush's Addition, who had been ill for some time, is much better.

Miss Lizzie Cunningham returned Sunday from Spangler where she had been visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Irvin are now occupying the flat over Henry Klines's shoe store, on High street.

Mrs. T. Clayton Brown, who had been ill part of last week, is again found in the ticket box at the scenic.

Charles T. Noll will move into the Jacob Marks property on Bishop street, now occupied by Morton Smith.

Mrs. A. M. Kirk, of Bellefonte, left Thursday for Aaronsburg where she attended the funeral of the late Michael Musser.

A young lady on Spring street, Bellefonte, wants to keep a tight grip on her beau or another young lady will kidnap him.

Sigmund Joseph, Mrs. Herman Holtz and Harry Holtz have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Friedman in New York.

Mrs. Ambrose Sloteman, of Lock Haven, was called to Bellefonte Sunday afternoon by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Perry Cole of Coleville.

Father O'Hanlon will deliver a lecture on "Hamlet" in Petrikin Hall on Tuesday evening, April 13th, for the benefit of St. John's Catholic church.

Rev. J. Victor Royer, of Bakerton, Pa., captain of the 5th Regiment, N. G. P., attended the inspection of Regiment officers at this place Tuesday night.

Mrs. Henry Quigley and two little daughters, Henrietta and Mary, left Thursday for Williamsport where they will visit Mrs. Quigley's mother at the Park Hotel.

Fred Fishburn, of Pittsburg, and Oscar Fishburn, of Indiana, Pa., spent Sunday and Monday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fishburn, on Willowbank street.

On Thursday evening there was a party given in the honor of Mrs. William Cox, of Coleville, as it was her 53rd birthday and twenty-five or thirty guests assembled. Refreshments were served.

James Stott, of Phillipsburg, accompanied by Charles Meyers, of the same place, and Harry Reese, of Port Matilda, have gone to Twin Falls, Idaho, where Mr. Stott is the owner of several large farms.

Mr. George Beezer, of Bellefonte, has purchased from the Tyrone Motor Car Company a twelve-passenger Kapok car. Mr. Beezer will use this car in carrying people to State College and Hecla Park.

The Misses Pearl, the dressmakers, have decided to leave Petrikin Hall and move in with Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston, on Linn Street. Mrs. Johnston, who has been in Beaver Falls the past winter, will be home soon.

Mrs. H. A. McKee left for Wilkesburg Tuesday morning after having been at the home of Mr. H. Y. Stitzer, for the last four weeks in attendance, on account of the operation, which is healing up successfully.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larimer, with their little daughter, are in Bellefonte at the home of Mrs. Larimer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Schofield. Mr. Larimer has given up his position in Indiana, thus their stay here will be indefinite.

Buds made their appearance last week on some of the maples opposite this office in front of the Gov. Curtin mansion, and in other parts of town. Some folks, too have been lured into digging gardens, and the dandelion seeder is on his travels. Three sure signs of spring.

The Vaudeville entertainments at the opera house are proving a wonderful success. The managers are securing some of the finest entertainments on the road, and thus it astonishes most folks when they go there and see what good stunts are given from the stage. Remember that with the vaudeville goes those films of pictures and an illustrated song. The program changes each night.

Scott Lose left Thursday for Williamsport where he has secured a position in Ulman's tailoring establishment. We would not be surprised, however, if this was the minor reason for his going to the Lumber city and that the next thing we'll hear he will be blowing a horn in the Reppaz band. And it might be mentioned right here that Mr. Lose is as good at blowing a horn as he is expert in plying the needle.

Robert Cole, of Bellefonte, has purchased Curt Wagner's Stanley steamer. "Bob" has made an assignment of all his religious proclivities to his wife and now he has the right to use whatever language he pleases when he gets stuck about ten miles from home and has to pay either George Beezer or William Keichline $15 to bring the d— machine home. N. B. Spangler and Harvey Shaffer will keep him company when the swearing time comes.

If you desire to see something new in the moving picture line the place to go is the scenic. Mr. Brown pays for first class pictures and thus none of them are repeated. He has made arrangement with the picture Trust to get the very latest in the market, and he gets them. The singing this week is by young men of ability, who cannot help but please the audience. This week's pictures have been extra fine, and are giving the very best of satisfaction.

Mr. and Mrs. William Achenbach, of Glenn Falls, N. Y., who had been guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Daggett, at the Bush House, for a week, left on Monday afternoon. While here they were royally entertained by their hosts. Fourteen years ago Mr. Achenbach had a jewelry store in the room now occupied by Beck, the tonsorial artist. His clerk at that time was Councilman Paul D. Sheffer who has since been married and gathered a little family around him. As to the latter, Paul has his old employer beaten to a finish.

Our sanctum was favored with calls from Mrs. S. A. Hoover of Fleming; Ira F. Cooper, of Yarnell; J. H. Lee, of Zionsville; E. M. Hayett, who expects to end his lumber operation of seven years, at Snyderstown, in about a year; Wm. G. Frer of Centre Hall; W. H. Kauldwell, of College; Chas. V. Smith, of State College; Rube Wert, of Gregg; C. W. Smith, State College; J. W. Courtwright, of Curtin; S. A. Hoover, Fleming; A. M. Griffith, Axemann; Alex. McCoy, Potter; A. G. Noll, Pleasant Gap.

Boys' dress shoes 98c. At Yeagers.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Crissman, of Bellefonte, were recent visitors among friends at Sunbury.

Mrs. Ida Long, of Altoona, attended the funeral of Miss Ella Swiler at this place on Tuesday.

Mrs. Leonard Betz, of Canton, Ohio, is visiting at the home of her brother, W. C. Cassidy, on east Bishop street.

One of Stoke's famous water colored pictures free to each lady purchaser Saturday, March 27th. At Yeager's shoe store.

James Burrows, of Tyrone, a passenger brakeman on the Tyrone division, and a member of Company B, attended the inspection here on Tuesday night.

Rev. C. T. Aikens, president of Susquehanna University at Selingsgrove, was a Bellefonte visitor between trains on Wednesday while on his way to Pine Grove Mills.

Christ Beezer moved from the McQuiston house, on west High street, to one of the Josephs houses on south Spring street; Samuel Ryan moved into one of the Speer properties, on south Water street.

Wm. H. Gates, of Tyrone, one of the efficient brakemen on the Tyrone division, was a Bellefonte visitor Tuesday night. His sister, Miss Gates, of Mt. Eagle, was also in town to attend the inspection.

Our postmaster and editor of the Keystone Gazette, Thomas H. Harter, attended the Penrose banquet in Philadelphia, on last Saturday evening. No one doubts but that he was regularly invited, but for this occasion he was the fortunate bride.

At the time of going to press we heard of the marriage of Dr. John Keichline, son of Justice of the Peace John Keichline, of Bellefonte, who is practicing in Petersburg, Huntingdon county. We did not hear who was the fortunate bride.

George Portney took a load of jolly Rebecas out to State College lodge last week one evening. All report a grand time.

COBURN. An effort is being made by some progressive citizens of the community to establish a national bank at this place. Application has been made to the government for a charter. We believe Coburn would be the proper place for a national bank should one be established in this community for it is the railroad point for a population of about 4000, about 25 merchants receive their supply of merchandise at this station and several hundred farmers bring their products here for shipment and a bank here would be a convenience for the majority of business men and farmers and profitable to its stockholders. Some men in Millheim are also trying to establish one at that place since they discovered that the movement here looks like business.

W. C. Corman and family, of Scalp Level, visited relatives here and at Spring Mills this week.

Rev. E. I. Confer, of Union county, spent part of this week in this community.

Frank Benner moved from Woodward to Chas. Harter's on Tuesday, where he will remain this summer.

Mrs. Emma Grant, of Williamsport, is visiting at the home of C. A. Weaver.

Last Wednesday at Tower Hill, Ill., Anderson B. only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Condo, who formerly resided in Pennsylvania, was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Eaton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Eaton, of Illinois. The above couple arrived here on Monday, being on a honeymoon trip, spending about one month in this state and New Jersey, after which they will be at home in Tower Hill, Ill.

Rev. F. D. Hartsock, of Scranton, visited his parents, J. C. Hartsock's last week.

B. F. Harris ordered a new threshing outfit which he expects to operate in this valley, this season.

T. C. Hartsock has purchased a new house cleaning vacuum outfit; any one having anything to do give him a call.

Those who purchase some fine shafts at Reuben Crust's sale were: George Kelley three, W. J. Stine two and John Stine ten.

There will be no preaching services on next Sunday; our minister, Rev. Frank, will be at conference.

Miles Mattern, who is having a large sale on March 27th, will move to Dunbar where he will continue farming.

John Q. Miles, of Martha, was a visitor in our valley last week; he is the same old John Q.

Our farmers have commenced their plowing.

The grain in this section is not very promising of a good crop.

Chaires Sellers purchased a fine herford bull last week; it is a beauty.

BOGGS TWP. FAIRVIEW. Johnie Miller, of Summit Hill, was circulating among his many friends, Saturday.

Miles Lucas spent Sunday at Romola with his sister, Mrs. Andy Boone who has been ill for some time.

Charley Catey and brother Clark, of Canada, spent Sunday at the home of Miles Lucas.

Carrie Bennet spent Sunday with Rosa Sayers.

Mrs. A. J. Lucas, and mother, Martha Miller, spent Sunday at the home of Wash Tipton, of Swabtown.

Quite a number of our young people are attending meeting at Pleasant valley, which is held by Rev. Hamilton.

Alfred Shawley and Miles Lucas were kept busy last week hauling stone for Kia Walker, of Yarnell.

Ladies' dress shoes $1.25. At Yeager's.

Children's dress shoes 98c. At Yeagers.
