Blown up by Dynamite. While asleep in a bunk car near Shamokin on Sunday, Salvatore Before, a section hand on the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, was blown to pieces by dynamite. The explosive had been placed directly beneath the place where he was sleeping, by supposed members of the Black Hand, who escaped after lighting the fuse. Two other Italians who were also asleep in the car were blown some distance from the wrecked car by the force of the explosion.

Is it True. Monday a telegram was received in Bellefonte stating that Harry Toner, son of the late Patrick Toner, had been struck by the flyer at Johnstown and his leg and arm had been cut off. The telegram was signed by John Smith, but no definite news has been heard since that time his friends are inclined to think there must have been a mistake somewhere.

Orevs which had been held over from the regular license court: George Parker, Orrin Vail and James Black, of Philipsburg; John Boyce, of Clarence, and Lawrence Nugent, of Munson. TO TEST COW HERDS.

On March 8 about 10 of the progressive farmers, in the vicinity of State College gathered in the Dairy building of the Pennsylvania State College and organized what shall hereafter be known as the Centre county Pioneer Cow Testing association says The Times. The object of this association is to promote the dairy interests among its members and especially to study each individual cow in their herds and thereby determine which are the best producers. This will then enable the owners, if they so desire, to weed out the cows which are not paying them a profit over and above the cost of their food.

To do this work periodically the association will hire a competent man, whose business it shall be to visit each farm one day each month; while there he will weigh the milk, test the same and also weigh the feed each cow gets. From this it is possible to estimate the yield for the month, also the cost.

President, W. H. Thompson; vice president, B. F. Homan, Oak Hall; treasurer and secretary, C. L. Goodling. The board of directors consists of W. K. Corl, J. C. Meyers, J. J. Markie, W. H. Thompson, B. F. Homan, C. M. Dale, W. E. Ralston, J. W. Stuart and C. L. Goodling.

Petty Thieves in State College.

Grocers have been robbed of vegetables, fruit and oysters, sometimes a 10 gallon bucket disappearing. A few weeks ago Harrison's restaurant was entered and robbed of cigars, cigarettes and candies, amounting to $60. Early last Friday morning Graham's barber shop and cigar stand was broken into, the thieves gaining an entrance by forcing open the transom over the front door.

The thieves were rather fastidious in their taste, for only the most expensive pipes in the case were taken. The looters garnered quite a harvest of cigars, cigarettes, meerscham pipes and choice candies, totaling about $100. A portion of the stolen booty was recovered on the fifth floor of the main building, hidden under the flooring.—Times.

Interesting Report. At the M. E. Conference at Harrisburg this week the report of District Superintendent B. C. Conner, of the Altoona District, of which Bellefonte is a party, proved to be full of interest to the Conference. Among other items it showed that a bequest of $1,000 had been made to the church at Houtzdale, the interest of which was to be applied to the support of the pastor and of the church. During the year there have been in the district 3,500 conversions. More than $5,000 were contributed to the cause of missions. A glowing report was presented of the progress of the Italian work within the district.

One Armed Men's Banquet. Ex-Sheriff J. Harris Mussina gave a banquet at the Irvin House, Lock Haven the other evening, at which the guests were limited by fate to an unfortunate circumstance in the life of each of their number. In other words, a qualification was necessary to be one of the party around the festive board, which no man would voluntarily be a party to, and that he must have only one arm or hand. Through an accident several years ago Mr. Mussina lost his right arm, and he conceived the novel idea of having all the one-armed men in the city as his guests for an evening.

Harrison Walker, attorney, will sell at public sale on Friday and Saturday, April 2nd and 3rd, the stock of merchandise in the store, fixtures, wagons, etc., of W. J. No More Booze.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company meant what it said when an order was issued recently, prohibiting persons visibly under the influence of liquor from getting on board trains, was fully demonstrated at this place Saturday night, when several of the company's special patrolmen were located at the Millin station. More than a dozen persons from Lewistown and other points were denied the right to board the train on account of their condition. Some of these spent the night on the commons and in the tie yard, while others more fortunate secured lodging in the county jail. The company have adopted this policy for two reasons: First, it does not want to be bothered or have patrons annoyed with persons under the influence of liquor and, second it does not want to encourage the traffic of booze from wet into dry territory.

More Honor for J. C. Meyers.

The bill introduced by Representative J. C. Meyer extending the time one month for the payment of taxes so as to get the 5 per cent off passed the house finally, Thursday morning, unanimously, and the strange co-incidence lies in the fact that Representative Meyer happened to be in the chair at the time as speaker pro-tem at the instance and request of Speaker Cox. This is a compliment to Mr. Meyer and Centre county which all appreciate. Ever since Mr. Meyer went to Harrisburg he has been recognized by Speaker Cox as one of the ablest and leading members of the House of Representatives. Although in politics they differ materially yet socially they are firm friends, Centre county can therefore be proud of the man who represents them at the State Capital.

GET A WIRELESS.

State College being up-to-date in educational lines, and in some, as the Centre Democrat thinks, in advance, should erect a wireless apparatus which would put it in the lead of any other college and add to its wide reputation. The electrical department of State is fully competent for this greatest of inventions. A wireless at State would serve many purposes for central Pennsylvania and even outside. We even, of late, read of young men, of electrical tastes having successfully put up a wireless. It would only need the order for a wireless to go out from Dr. Sparks, president of the College, and the electrical part of the faculty be delighted to obey. Yes, go ahead, and let's have a wireless at State.

Quarantine Lift.

After months of inconvenience in the selling, moving and handling of cattle in Clinton and other counties in the state, due to the outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease, the long-established quarantine has been fully removed in Clinton county and all other sections of the state, with the exception of Lancaster and Delaware counties, by direction of the State Livestock Sanitary board in conjunction with the Federal authorities.

FACT, FUN AND FANCY

Bright, Sparkling Paragraphs—Selected and Original.

APRIL 1, 1909.
My Ma called me as I arose
This morning from my bed;
She wanted me to hurry
And see a bird she said.
She said she never saw the like
As fast as I could run;
And I might never have a chance
To see it anymore.
I jumped into my trousers
As fast as I could get.
A curiosity to see;
No time to loose you bet.
I hurried to the window
As fast as I could run;
And thus, I was an April fool
Which she thought lots of fun.
(Vincent Harbridge, Julian. Pa.)

A son was born recently to Rev. and Mrs. Charles S. Keen, in China. Mrs. Keen, before marriage was Miss Marion Fischer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Fischer, now of Shamokin. Thinks He's Charley Ross. Wm. Grant Eyster, of McKee's Rocks, a suburb, formerly a coal miner at Shamokin, now a brakeman on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, believes he is the Charles Ross kidnaped from Germantown, Pa., thirty-five years ago, and never recovered. He said he learned early in life that he was not the child of his supposed parents and that many things they did led him to believe he was Charles Ross. He said he tallies in every respect with the description of Charlie, even to moles on his body. Memories of his early life, he said agree with descriptions of the Ross home. His foster parents, who lived at Shamokin, are dead and he has no evidence of his identity and is not making any effort to prove his connection with the famous case, dreading the notoriety it would give him.

A Challenge

During my interest in last week's Centre Democrat I noticed my challenge was accepted on certain conditions by some person by the name of Domino, of Unionville, whom I do not know. Now I am willing to put up sufficient guarantee to cover funeral expenses if he will be satisfied, and also to take on all those he referred me to: Doc Neff, Bob Gilliland, John Kelly, Jim Ussle and others all in one day, in a twelve-foot ring, if they will give me fifteen minutes intermission between each bout and put up a sufficient guarantee to cover my doctor bill. I refer him to Battling Nelson.
