

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

—'Graustark' at the opera house on Monday evening.

—George Moran and friend Chet Morrison of Unionville, were Bellefonte visitors, Sunday.

—John Munson has recovered from his recent injury and illness so as to be able to be out and around.

—Another sign of summer is the removal of the storm doors in front of the entrance to the Bush House.

—Miss Mary Zahner, of Unionville, a most charming young lady, spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte.

—Miss Esther McElhatten, left Bellefonte, Monday for state college where she is visiting friends this week.

—Next Sabbath, Easter-day, Rev. Barry will administer the Lord's Supper in the Lutheran church, morning and evening.

—J. Calvin Vonada, who just moved to the Foreman farm, at the Red Mill, which he purchased, intends turning his attention to dairying.

—Miss Mable Maxon, of Pittsburg, is a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Allison Platts, at the Presbyterian manse on Spring street.

—The property of the late S. McMurtrie, at Coleville, was sold at executor's sale to William Sprankle of the same place, the consideration being $75.

—Boys' and girls' save your money. I will give a bank and start you with bank account free with each pair of boys' and girls' shoes. Yeagers shoe store.

—The Women's Guild of the Episcopal church will hold an exchange in Sheffer's grocery store on Saturday, April 10th. Remember, it will be the day before Easter.

—Mrs. D. H. Hastings, who had been spending the winter at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ross A. Hickok in Harrisburg, has returned to her home in Bellefonte.

—Sim, the Clothier has built in his store a cozy little office which will add greatly to the convenience of this place of business. His bookkeeper and cashier is Miss Lizzie McGowan.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, of Wellsville, N. Y., have been visiting in Bellefonte for a week at the home of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Showers, on Bishop street.

—Miss Daisy Potter, who has been for the greater part of the winter with Mrs. Henry Stetson, at Ashbourne, and who has been for a short visit with her parents in Bellefonte, has returned to Ashbourne.

—James Kelley, who has been a resident of Bellefonte the past forty-three years, shook the dust of the town off his feet and left for Philadelphia for the purpose of spending his declining years with his nephews, the Loughrey boys.

—Mrs. George Elliott, who has been for the winter with her son in Texas and on her way north, spent some time in Baltimore and Washington, is in Bellefonte and at present is making her home with Miss Natt, on Curtin street.

—Mr. and Mrs. U. H. Reamer have returned home from a month's visit with relatives and friends in Birmingham, Alabama. The friends of Mr. Reamer will be gratified to know that the trip has proved very beneficial to his health.

—Sim Baum, who was sick for several weeks, has been able to be about and manages to be at his store at short intervals. He is looking quite well again, considering the extended illness, something he was not accustomed to endure.

—Miss Mame Ceder has so far recovered from her recent serious illness that she is able to be around again. It is to be hoped that she is on a permanent road to recovery. As soon as the balmy days of May come she will improve faster.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Olewine arrived home on Friday evening from Asheville, North Carolina, where they spent the past two months. Mr. Olewine grew fat and lusty on his brief vacation, indicating that the southern clime agreed with him.

—Burgess Robt. Gilliland, of Snow Shoe, was a pleasant caller from the "Mountain City." He reports everything peaceable in his bailiwick at present, even though they have an occasional bout conducted in full compliance with his "tatute."

—F. G. Ingram, formerly a resident of Bellefonte, but who for the past nine years has resided at Derry Station, has decided to return to Centre county, and consequently has moved on a farm near Julian, which he expects to cultivate for the coming year at least.

—E. R. Chambers, who has been under the weather, and in bed during part of the winter, is out again, but reduced in avoidpudence. He says he has to go to bed at 7 o'clock each evening in order to get enough strength to put him through the day. It is to be hoped that he will gain his former good health.

—George H. Knisely has purchased the interests of his brother, John L. Knisely, in the cigar factory and pool room which were conducted for the past six years by these brothers under the firm name of Knisely Brothers. John Knisely will confine his time to contracting for building all kinds of stone and concrete work.

—Miss Mattern, who all his life was one of the most progressive citizens of Buffalo Run valley, Centre county, has moved to Pleasant Hollow, near Warriors Mark, Huntingdon county, on what is known as the Locus Grove farm. His friends were sorry to see him go and trust that he may reap much profit and enjoyment from the change.

—Last week when the appointments were made at the Central Pennsylvania Methodist Conference, held in Harrisburg, everybody in Bellefonte was highly delighted that Dr. James B. Stein had been returned to this charge. Circumstances, however, have changed things materially since last week, and Dr. Stine has been changed from Bellefonte to Tyrone, and Rev. S. T. Wilcox has been elected to fill the Methodist pulpit here for the next year. He came from Williamsport where he has just finished serving a term as Presiding Elder of the Williamsport district. The exchange of pulpits will take place next Sabbath. Dr. Stine has worked hard during the last year to get the Bellefonte congregation out of debt and he should have been left here for a year more, at least to enjoy the fruits of his labor.

—Ladies you can see Comfort written all over Fitzzy shoes. At Yeagers.

—Frank Clemson, of Halfmoon township, greeted his friends in Bellefonte on Saturday.

—Mrs. W. M. Echolds, nee Blanche Jacobs, of Moundsville, W. Va., is visiting her mother in Bellefonte.

—"Graustark" at the opera house on Monday evening. A carload of scenery. This is considered a fine production.

—Mrs. Sarah Fulton, of Bellefonte, accompanied her mother, Mrs. Rishel, to Altoona on Monday where the latter will make her home.

—Mrs. Morris J. Tucker and little son arrived in town Thursday night and is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donachy.

—Miss Lizzie Longwell is having a very pretty display of Easter flowers at Spiegelmyer's china store. If you are in need of any of these call on her.

—Lieutenant Richard Taylor, of Bellefonte, has been appointed military instructor at the Pennsylvania Industrial Reformatory, at Huntingdon.

—James Henderson and family, who have been residing on Lamb street, Bellefonte, have moved to Philadelphia where they will make their future home.

—H. H. Montgomery has improved his property by the addition of two coats of paint which suggests, that other property owners should follow his example.

—Hon. P. Gray Meek, who has been ill for a month or more, is able to be down stairs, and with proper precaution he will soon be able to greet his many friends on the street and in his office.

—Mrs. Wm. L. Kurtz, of Berlin, Pa., and daughters Annabelle and Emily, and sons, Wilfred a student at State and Jack a student at Gettysburg, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kurtz.

—Had a fine spring thunder gust on Tuesday afternoon—the thunder sounded old-fashion, and the lightning kept winking as of old,—of course, it will put life into the grain and grass fields. Come again.

—Chas. Saylor, son of our old and well-known townsman, Harlam Saylor, has arrived with his wall paper cleaning apparatus, and will be pleased to do any work that you may have in that line, and it will be done satisfactorily.

—G. H. Sunday, who left Bellefonte thirty-five years ago and located in Portland and recently in Ashland, Oregon, has recently been visiting friends here and throughout Centre county. He reports everything in fine condition in the west.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richard, who are at present stopping at the Hotel Travmore, Atlantic City, will on April 12th sail for Italy, where they will spend two months touring that country, returning to their home in this place about June 21st.

—The lecture of Father O'Hanlon on Hamlet, in Petrick hall on Tuesday evening, April 6th, will be well worth hearing. The reverent is a very interesting talker and has no trouble entertaining his audience. The price of admission will be fifty cents.

—S. D. Gettig, Esq., of Bellefonte, has not been going through the world, of late, on flowery beds of ease. On Friday he buried his mother and on Monday he took his wife to the hospital, where on Monday she underwent quite a serious operation. She is getting along as well as can be expected.

—Mrs. Chas. D. Casebeer, of Bellefonte, is now in Perryopolis, Fayette county, where she is engaged in instructing a class in elocution for the annual county oratorical contest. Mrs. Casebeer is a graduate of the Fulton Trueblood School of Oratory of Kansas City, Kan., and has achieved quite a reputation in this line of work.

—Earl C. Taten is making some excellent improvements in and around his residence, on Penn street. The inside has been painted and papered in a way that entirely changes the appearance. When the exterior gets several coats of paint he will have one of the coziest homes in the town. It is a little difficult to get there but when you do, it's about all right.

—Miss Mary Ray, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Ray, of Bellefonte, was operated on in the hospital Monday for appendicitis. The disease had gone so far that the operation was a delicate and serious one. She is doing very well now, and if peritonitis does not set in her chance of recovery are good. She is a member of the Bellefonte High school graduating class and was looking forward to that with great expectancy. Her many friends hope for her speedy recovery.

—Next Sabbath morning communion services will be held in the Bellefonte Presbyterian church. In the evening the regular Easter song service will take place when the choir will render some beautiful music. The public is cordially invited to be present. In connection with the above communion service home meetings were held this week at the residence of Edward Gross, on Valentine street, and George Hollibaugh, at Coleville. Meetings are also being held in the chapel.

—Peter Mendis, the fellow who had the enterprise to purchase a brand-new, up-to-date carpet cleaning machine, had a bit of bad luck. Last week he was about to start out with the big machine, but after trying his engine he discovered that the machine had been shipped with water in the cooling apartments, about the engine. A cold wave came and as a result the radiators were split open in a number of places. At once he shipped the part back by express, so as to be in shape as soon as possible. Mr. Mendis has a good equipment and will be doing good work for our people.

—Last week we made a brief mention of Clifton F. Thomas, formerly of Bellefonte, had moved over on a farm in Pennsvalley but gave no details. The farm purchased was the Slack homestead, a short distance west of Potters Mills, which is one of the best in the county. Samuel Slack, who has lived there for the last forty years, has moved to Potters Mills where he will make his future home. Mr. Thomas has secured Frank Pennington, of Lewistown, to conduct the farming and otherwise help him. It is said Mr. Thomas will devote much of his time this summer in improving the appearance of the buildings.

OVER THE COUNTY.

There is no drawback to the comfort of Fitzzy shoes. It is absolute only at Yeagers.

E. B. Roan has moved from Benner township to the Emanuel Fye farm about a mile west of State College.

Space taken up the mercantile apperment requires us to cut down correspondence and other matter somewhat.

James W. Fulmer, of Milesburg, has returned from a six months' visit to a daughter, at Gettysburg, where he had a pleasant time.

Aunt Katy Durst, of Centre Hall, aged 91 years, borne down by her great age, is reported by Dr. Allison as very low and sinking with the messenger of death hovering near.

Rev. Eli Slifer, of Chicago, formerly of Lewisburg, is spending a month in Woodward for his health. Mr. Slifer is not only a capable preacher but is among the foremost temperance lecturers in the country and is available for such work.

Two prisoners at the Huntingdon industrial reformatory, while working outside, Friday, made their escape. They were George Buchanan and Andrew Smith. The alarm was sent out and later they were recaptured in the ridges, about four miles from the reformatory.

A. C. Grove, who resides on a farm near Bellefonte, this week received a fine Morgan stallion from the West, which will be kept by him for breeding purposes, something that will be appreciated by stock raisers in this section. Farmers know that it pays to breed only from the best stock.

With a business house now being erected on the burms premises where the Musser hotel stood, in Millheim, there will likely be only one hotel in that town hereafter. The Musser house was an old landmark, which, with other business places in that town, was totally destroyed by the recent big fire, and the corner be changed for a mercantile house.

The following persons have changed their places of residence in Harris township: Mrs. Emma Stamm returned to her former home; Geo. Hettinger moved into the new home on her farm; Geo. Fortney to the old Fortney homestead, recently purchased by him; David Bohn from a farm near Penn Hall to the farm of Mrs. James Wert, near Walnut Grove; John Wright from Linden Hall to Bloomsburg; Elmer Houtz from the Houtz farm to Bloomsburg; John Hanna from the Fortney farm to Oak Hall; J. F. Kimpfort from Bloomsburg to his farm at Walnut Grove; Edward Tyson from College township to the Dr. Kidder farm, near Bloomsburg; Walker Shutt from the Kidder farm to his own home, near Tussey mountain; Edward Isenburt to Bloomsburg into the Allen house; Robert Corl and daughters from Bloomsburg to Pleasant Gap; John Darter to his own home on Church street; Samuel Stover to the lumber camp, near Linden Hall to their country home purchased from Wm. Myers; Edward Houser from the J. F. Kimpfort farm to the Daniel Grove farm, near Lemont; Mr. and Mrs. Adam Zeigler commenced housekeeping in Boalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Willie Martz, of Altoona, have gone to housekeeping at Shingletown, and Dr. Samuel Woods and family of South Sharon, are now occupying their new home at Lemont.

Charles Koonitz, of Bellefonte, who was stricken blind several years ago, is now contemplating the erection of a street booth for the purpose of selling ice cream, candies and ice cream cones. Mr. Koonitz, although devoid of his sight, is anxious to make an honest living, and he should meet with encouragement from our people.

Mrs. Annie Allsott, of Williamsburg, Pa., has been stopping at the Hotel Haag, called there by the serious condition of her brother, Harry Coble, who is at the hospital. Mrs. Allsott is quite an extensive traveler; she has visited most of places of interest in foreign lands.

Charles Koonitz, of Bellefonte, who was stricken blind several years ago, is now contemplating the erection of a street booth for the purpose of selling ice cream, candies and ice cream cones. Mr. Koonitz, although devoid of his sight, is anxious to make an honest living, and he should meet with encouragement from our people.

H. G. Payne, of Boston, is in Bellefonte in the interest of the Municipal electrical plant which will soon be located at Milesburg. He is a civil engineer, and is now getting things in readiness to advertise and let the work. He is a pleasant gentleman and seems to be thoroughly conversant with all the details of the work.

H. H. White, of Boston, was here this week looking over the proposed plan of the Bellefonte Electric Light Company for establishing an all day current service in Bellefonte. Just as soon as possible workmen will commence rebuilding the old Car Works dam where the new station will be located. The sooner it comes the better.

Charles Lukenbach, who has been laid up with rheumatism the past three weeks, has been taken from the Brockershoff house to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lukenbach, on Willowbank street. The disease has affected his knees so as to render his limbs practically useless. During the past week he has been getting better.

Harry Fitzgerald, of Columbus, Ohio, was called to Bellefonte recently on account of the illness of his father, William Fitzgerald, who underwent a serious operation in the Bellefonte hospital on Friday. His daughter, Miss Sallie Fitzgerald, who had been taking lessons in music in New York City, is also at home. Mr. Fitzgerald is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. J. C. Derr, of this place, the hustling janitor of the opera house, knows how to raise chickens, as well as post bills. Aside from his other duties he has become quite an expert chicken fancier, having on hand as good a laying strain of Rhode Island Reds as can be found in Centre county—bar none. Mr. Derr has disposed of quite a number of eggs from this breed for hatching.

Miss Annabelle and Mary Bickel, spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. E. B. Robb.

Mrs. Harry Rodman and children returned Saturday to Slate Run, and from there will sojourn for their new home in Binghamton.
