

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Men's Russia calf oxfords $2.50. At Yeagers.

Rev. Crow, of Hubersburg, was a pleasant caller.

Miss Margaret Burnett, who had been spending part of the winter in Pittsburgh and New York, is again at the Gracie home, on High street.

Miss Grace Beck, of Nitany, who is well and favorably known in Bellefonte and vicinity, has gone to Atlantic City where she will spend the summer.

Joseph Bros. & Co., of Bellefonte, are putting new roofs on their three houses on Curtin street occupied by Miss Collins, J. C. Rowe, and Claude Cook.

William Eckels of Moundsville W. Va., was an arrival in town Saturday for a visit with Mr. Eckels' mother, Mrs. Florence Jacobs. Mrs. Eckels has been here for some time.

The residence of Mrs. Louise Harris, on Allegheny street, is being overhauled outside and inside by the painters and paper hangers. The improvement is a good one.

Recorder William Brown and Morton Smith with their families moved Thursday into the new house just completed by Albert Schrad, on the corner of Lamb and Spring streets.

The time is here to clean from the premises the filth and rubbish over from the winter. Clean-up from cellar to garret, yards and about the stables. Thereby can disease and doctor bills be avoided.

Miss Urilla Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Williams, has been appointed stenographer in the office of Alvin Agee, professor of agriculture at The Pennsylvania State College, and left Thursday morning to begin her work.

Col. H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte, was elected third vice president of the Fifth Regiment Spanish-American War Veterans, associated at their annual meeting held in Huntingdon recently. Indiana was selected as the place of meeting next year.

The Episcopal and Reformed congregations, of Bellefonte, are beautifying the appearance of the exterior of the church properties by putting down sod on the bare places, which, in the past, have looked very uninviting. The improvement is a good one.

Assistant postmaster Wm. Chambers has laid a couple of cement pavements around his residence on Curtin street which he recently purchased from the Curtin heirs. He will have one of the nicest homes in Bellefonte by the time he is through with it.

The will of George C. Thomas, millionaire and former head of the banking firm of Drexel & Co., of Philadelphia, was probated in the Philadelphia courts on Monday and among his many bequests was one of $5,000 to his cousin, Mrs. Evelyn J. Wilkinson, of this place.

Mrs. E. J. Wilkinson and daughter, Miss Minnie accompanied by Miss Powell, attended the funeral of the former's cousin, the late George C. Thomas, which took place in Philadelphia. Before returning home they will be for two weeks with friends at Hadonfield, N. J.

As will be seen in another column John M. Bullock and Hassel Montgomery will continue the mercantile business at the old Montgomery & Co.'s, stand in Crider's Exchange. They are two enterprising young men who should merit the confidence and trust of the people of Bellefonte and vicinity.

Rev. Barry, pastor of the Lutheran church here, left on Monday morning for Springfield, O., as a delegate to the national convention of the Young People's Forward Movement of the Lutheran church, which is in session there May 4-5-6. The Rev. will return on Saturday, and serve his usual appointments on Sunday.

Will Keichline, who some time ago purchased from John Porter Lyon the big Cadillac automobile which had been run until it was considered practically worn out, has rebuilt the machine and will soon have it in shape to put into service. He intends equipping it with extra seats in the tonneau so as to make it a seven passenger car and will then be in shape to accommodate small parties desiring to take a trip.

Mrs. Merriman has given up her flat in the Petriken hall and storing her household goods accompanied her sister, Mrs. Barnard, to her home at Pittsfield, near Rochester, N. Y., where she will remain indefinitely, her daughter, Christine, being with an elder sister, Mrs. Selfridge, in San Francisco. The Straws have rented the apartment vacated by Mrs. Merriman and have moved there from the Brockerhoff House.

Capt. W. H. Fry and wife, of Pine Grove Mills, were in Bellefonte on Saturday calling on their many friends, and the captain didn't fail to call at our sanctum. He is always full of life and in the best of humor, thus his friends are always glad to shake hands with him. Just at this season of the year he is a very busy man, as he is kept on the go from morning until way into the midnight trying to heal diseases of which horses, cows and all other animals are heir to.

Wm. W. Potter, son of John P. Potter, of Millsburg who is an artist of renown and ability, with headquarters in Philadelphia, has scored another point. He had several pictures on exhibition at the New York exhibition where they were viewed by officials of the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh who invited him to exhibit them at that institution at their annual exhibition to be held shortly. Such an invitation is not merely a perfunctory matter as it means the packing and transportation of the pictures in good order to and from the exhibition at the expense of the Carnegie Institute, a matter of from fifty to one hundred dollars. Mr. Potter has opened a temporary studio in Bellefonte and is now finishing several pictures which have been pronounced exceedingly fine by those who have seen them.

Men's gun metal oxfords $3. At Yeagers.

Thomas A. Shoemaker is improving the surroundings of his residence on north Allegheny street.

Calvin Foust and wife, of Altoona, have been pleasant visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Rine, on West High street.

The West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church will be held in the Reformed church of Bellefonte beginning Wednesday, May 19th, and continuing over the following Sunday.

Edward K. Rhoads and his sister, Miss Rebecca, went to Lock Haven Monday where Mr. Rhoads attended a business meeting of the Directors of the Gas Company in which he is interested.

J. B. Lucas, of Curtin, was a pleasant caller; also Henry Rossman, one of Tusseyville's representative citizens; Harvey Bowersox and friend, of State College, also J. A. Swartz, of Hubersburg.

Joseph Ceaders is having the woodwork of his residence, on Allegheny street, touched up with a couple coats of paint. He and Col. J. L. Spangler are building a high board fence in the rear of their properties.

Mrs. Sadie Saterfield has erected a large addition to her residence on Bishop street. By the time the carpenters, painters, and paperhangers get through she will have one of the most delightful homes in the town.

Memorial Day, May 30th, coming on Sunday Gregg Post, No. 5, G. A. R. of Bellefonte, will observe Monday as the time for paying tribute to their dead comrades. The banks have also decided to observe Monday as the legal holiday.

There is an effort being made to reorganize the Centre-Clinton base ball league of which Bellefonte will form an important part. Bellefonte has the stuff if it can be gotten together in the right shape. When the Mountain League was in existence, years ago, Bellefonte made them all get under the cover.

George Bush has been limping around almost on one leg for a few days, the result of tripping and falling on the pavement. Naturally when he went down he struck the flagstones hard. His kneecap was somewhat injured which gave him considerable trouble for a few days. He is all right now and is able to eat that one meal a day.

G. R. Meiss, of Colyer, was in Bellefonte on Wednesday. He says that he has gone into business again at the old stand where he will conduct an up-to-date general store consisting of everything necessary for the people of that community. In addition to this he will keep on hand all kinds of fresh fruit. He will also serve ice cream.

Niceley's stuffed bird 'menagerie' has been enriched by the addition of a large gold eagle. Their show window is getting interesting. A live bird, black, with gold-capped bill, was captured down at Curtin, and has been added to the collection. It is the size of a pigeon, but its feet indicate that it is a shore water bird, long legs but not webfooted for swimming. It is a stranger in these parts.

James Gleason, Esq., of DuBois, Clearfield county's tallest lawyer well known over this way, is rejoicing over the arrival of the first born in his home. It's a boy, and made his appearance Thursday. Telephoning to his assistant, he said: 'I will not be over to the office to day until late; I want to stay home and play with the baby.' He is well known in Bellefonte and his friends here rejoice with him over the happy event.

On Friday evening, the Bellefonte Athletic Club pulled off their monthly boxing stag. The three preliminaries were on the whole quiet, tame and ended uneventfully ties. The main affair of the evening was a six round affair between Kid Pilkington, of Bellefonte, and young Manspeaker, of Altoona. The Kid had the Altoona boy outclassed from the start of the going to the finish. On Monday next, Kid Pilkington fights young Sharking at Williamsport.

John Smith formerly the efficient clerk in Parrish's drugstore, left Monday for Philadelphia where he entered the drugstore of C. F. Farrow on the corner of 26th and Diamond streets. In the fall he will attend lectures. Johnny is a bright young man who will make his mark as a pharmacist if he doesn't let those Quakerites run off with him. Guess there'll be no danger. The mails, no doubt, will be very heavy between Bellefonte and the City of Brotherly Love.

Last week Miss Margaret Garman, youngest daughter of Cornie Garman, of Bellefonte, went to Williamsport to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Maitland. While sitting at the dinner table she had some kind of a spell which has caused her friends much alarm. She was taken to a sanitarium at that place where everything has been done to restore her former health, but up to this time the physicians have been unsuccessful. Although she shows signs of being slightly improved yet her case is still extremely critical and it is difficult to tell what a day may bring forth. However, it is hoped that a turn for the better may come.

On hearing that the Bellefonte school board had contemplated building a new school house Ann Keichline, daughter of Squire John M. Keichline, who is now a student of Cornell University, sent a drawing of a modern school building and asked to submit plans, specifications and an estimate of what a structure of that kind would cost. The prospectus she sent appealed so strongly to the school board that they have requested her to prepare blue prints and submit them to Robert Cole who has the contract for preparing the plans and specifications. The idea is to appropriate some of the excellent suggestions made by the young lady. Miss Keichline stands third at the head of her class of four hundred students.

Fred Chambers returned to Philadelphia, Sunday afternoon, after a visit to his parents.

Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, of Phillipsburg, spent Sunday with her father, C. T. Gerberich, on Thomas street.

On last Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Samuel R. Neave, a minister of the Society of Friends, spoke in the Friends' meeting house. He had a fair congregation and his discourse was entertaining.

Rev. J. Allison Platts left Monday morning for East Liberty, Pa., where he officiated at the wedding of his sister-in-law, Miss Maxon, who formerly made her home in Bellefonte. The wedding took place on Wednesday evening.

Traveling east Sunday evening—Mrs. Ellis L. Orvis, Colonel and Mrs. Jackson L. Spangler, Wallace Gephart, president of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, Dr. Joseph Brockerhoff, Harry Keller, Esq., Lemuel T. Munson and Isaac Underwood.

The ladies of the United Brethren church, of this place, will hold a chicken corn soup supper in the room adjoining the church this Thursday evening. Ice cream and cake will also be served. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

William Chambers, the assistant postmaster of Bellefonte, has sold his Ford automobile to Frank Naginoy. No doubt Billy had enough of the good thing, and so he let the other fellow have some of the fun in keeping up the repair. The machine is just as good as the day it came out of the shop.

Col. E. R. Chambers, of Bellefonte, who has been seriously ill for the last week or ten days, is now able to sit up in his room. He thought he felt strong enough to make the attempt to come up town on Wednesday but his physician put a quietus on that. It is to be hoped that his recovery will be speedy and permanent.

Mrs. Cameron Burnside and Mrs. John N. Lane were pleasant callers at this office Tuesday morning. They feel greatly encouraged over the interest that is being taken in the effort now being made to supply the Bellefonte hospital with an up-to-date ambulance. Some of our merchants and business men have already contributed to the worthy cause.

R. L. Mallory left Saturday evening for Philadelphia for a week's rest and to attend the annual meeting of Professional Photographers Society of Pennsylvania, which was in session three days at that office Tuesday morning. Mr. Mallory's studio has had a very busy season since before the holidays, as he did most of the photographic work for the 1910 Lavis, of State College, in addition to his regular trade.

The Greek, George Cocolin, who last Christmas rented the end room in the Bush Arcade, formerly occupied by McCalmont & Co., as an office, has finally opened up. He was unfortunate to have been taken seriously ill early in the winter and laid up in the hospital and has only just recently recovered. At present he has only a shoe shining place but expects later to put in a hat cleaning machine and keep cigars, fruit, peanuts, etc.

Dr. R. L. Weston, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, who has a long and successful experience both as a general secretary and physical director in Y. M. C. A. work has accepted a call to undertake the work in the Bellefonte Association. His recommendations are very strong both from State Committee and the associations where he has labored. The association has been without a head for some time, and it is to be hoped the new secretary can install new life into the institution.

Warren Rush, of Pittsburg, who had been visiting friends in Bellefonte, left for home on Tuesday. It is unnecessary to say he had a most delightful time. He is a nice, clean gentleman, and while here was with some real nice people. The rumor is that it will not be long until he will return on a very commendable mission which may cause Register Tuten a little inconvenience for a while, but what of that in comparison to the happiness that will come to our friend Rush and others.

Mrs. Belle Doughty, who has been in Bellefonte for several weeks for the purpose of organizing a Hive of the Ladies of the Macabees, is meeting with success. The insurance feature of the organization is meeting with favor among the ladies of the town. A permanent organization will soon be established here. Mrs. Doughty is quite a musical artist with the piano and has given several delightful evening entertainments in some of the homes of the people of the town. Sunday morning she sang a pretty solo in the Presbyterian church.

The friends of Harvey Shaffer, clerk in Olewine's hardware store, and those of the driver, Boyd Sampel, are wondering what mortgage they have on the stork which brought to each of their homes recently a little girl baby. Of course both are tickled to death over their good fortune, but as this is the first heir in the Shaffer family there is general rejoicing, and Harvey wanted to kill the stork with a family, so the child in the Sampel family, so the hardware business must be agreeing with "Pop." No doubt the Stanley Steamer had much to do with Mr. Shaffer's prospects of walking the floor at the midnight hour.

Clement Dale, Esq., transacted legal business in Howard on Wednesday.

Mrs. Harry Jenkins, of Bellefonte, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Lukenbach, at Tyrone.

A little son was born Friday night to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Kerns, of east Howard street. The little fellow is to be named Harry B. Kerns Jr. Both mother and babe doing well.

On last Saturday evening a young lady, while in attendance at the skating rink lost a square brooch with a sardonyx setting. If the finder returns it to this office he will be rewarded.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones, of Tyrone, are visiting friends and relatives in Bellefonte this week. Mr. Jones is Register and Recorder of Blair county, and owner of the Tyrone Herald.

B. J. LaPorte and J. E. Hawkins, the former having been re-elected and the latter a newly elected Justice of Peace of Phillipsburg, were in Bellefonte on Monday to take the oath of office.

Tuesday, at noon, Mrs. Luther Roberts and daughter, Miss Bess, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gilmore since last August, left for Sunbury. After remaining there for a short time they will tour Canada during the coming summer.

Dr. M. J. Locke met with quite a serious accident Monday noon while coming in from Linn street in his automobile. Just as he turned the corner at the Lutheran church, a pin in the gearing apparatus broke, and losing control of the machine, it ran into a tree near Clement Dale's residence, throwing the Doctor out and slightly stunning him. The automobile however was a complete wreck and it was taken to a repair shop to be fixed up.

The Bellefonte Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America held a good sized meeting Monday night and obligated a new member and elected three applicants making a total of eleven this year. The Log Rolling Association for Penna meets at Sunbury this year in August and an effort is being made to get a small delegation from this Camp to attend this meeting. Its low insurance feature is a great drawing card. Geo. T. Bush is the venerable Consul and J. Kennedy Johnson the Clerk.

Tuesday afternoon Donald Gettig and Minot Willard were crossing the railroad on west High street, on a bicycle. Donald was propelling the machine while young Willard was sitting on the handle bars. In some way the latter got his feet tangled in the front wheel which, of course, threw both to ground. Minot was badly bruised about the face and the inner part of his lower lip was cut. He also received a slight wound under the chin. He will be all right again in a few days.

Charles Megginny-Hood, managing editor of the State College Times, was a pleasant caller at this office on Wednesday afternoon. He was here looking over an up-to-date printing office with the view of falling in line with the improved methods of fitting out a newspaper. It is the intention of the managers of the Times to install a large re-minghaler Linotype within the next month, and at the same time they will place in their office a large folder and other machinery. They find that this is necessary in order to keep abreast with the times. Mr. Megginny-Hood is an up-to-date newspaper man and has done much to make the Times a progressive paper.

During the past few days we have had so many inquiries in regard to what we intend doing with the business, that we think it but fair to the public to announce that Montgomery & Co. has been in existence for over seventy years and that if the friends of the firm continue to stick to us, we will undoubtedly be here seventy years to come. We shall be always glad to welcome our friends.
