

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

THAT the man in Bellefonte who is contented with a little in life is much happier than the man who wants the entire world.

THAT Eddie Keichline, of Bellefonte, says that when love sets the task the laborer never thinks of demanding shorter hours.

THAT Snyder Tate, the Coleville ice dealer, says that ice is a poor thing to rest upon, yet a number of skaters often fall back on it.

THAT procrastination is often a feminine failing in Bellefonte; it doesn't do a girl any good to scream after the kissing has taken place.

THAT if druggist "Buzzy" Parrish, of Bellefonte, isn't given a harp and golden crown when he dies, he will be satisfied with something just as good.

THAT when a man in Bellefonte opens his mouth to emit a stream of profanity he pollutes his lips without pleasure to his hearers or profit to himself.

THAT it is very annoying to have people talk behind your back, especially while in Garman's opera house when there is a first class show on the stage.

THAT there is a woman on Linn street, Bellefonte, who thinks her husband is a jewel. She has another thing coming, because he is nothing more than a rhinestone.

THAT when a young lady in Bellefonte spells her name M-A-Y-M-E we would not be surprised on hearing she was going to change her dog's name to P-H-Y-D-O-U-G-H.

THAT Manager MacAvoy, of the Bellefonte Electric light station, says if an electrician has to drink he should stick to the light beverages such as current wine.

THAT he who reads can tell which is the Commercial and which is the Bell telephone when he goes into Olewine's hardware store. Too much talk, you know makes a man mad and weary.

THAT it is said that there is a man in Bellefonte who was recently operated upon for appendicitis, but he says that he cannot tell whether it was a real case of appendicitis or simply professional curiosity.

THAT the way a certain young man in Bellefonte is spending money on his best lady friend he will have a mighty little left to get married on. The young lady shows very little judgment in not trying to curtail expenses.

THAT in the near future Bellefonte is to have several weddings one of which will be the beginning of anything but a happy and prosperous life. The young lady is taking the young man much like a sport would take a Louisiana lottery ticket.

THAT it is said that a few weeks ago a young gentleman in Bellefonte visited Atlantic City. One night while there he was chased by a sea serpent, and the only thing he could do was to get up and light the gas. No, it isn't whom you are thinking about.

THAT it is said that Brit Steele, of Bellefonte, was asked the other day whether whistling disturbed him. "Oh not at all," said Brit. "I am used to hearing men whistle; I have been collecting for the Steam Heat and Gas Co. for a great many years."

THAT they say that a certain man in the North ward of Bellefonte has a hankering after the flesh pots of Egypt in the West ward. He is said to be making his trips quite frequently, and under the cover of darkness. What might his business be is what is puzzling the neighbors.

THAT it is stated there is a woman in Bellefonte who talks entirely too much about her pastor. Before saying too much she should sit down and consider from whence she came. A woman with a big mouth, who don't know how to control it, is worse than a poisonous reptile that lurks in the grass.

THAT one way a large number of young ladies in Bellefonte are keeping soft and pretty hands is by letting their mothers do all the work at home while they are on the street fooling their time away with worthless boys who do nothing but smoke and wear good clothes, often at the expense of the tailor.

THAT the other day a gentleman in Bellefonte went to shave and found his wife had been paring her corns and bunions with the keep-edged instrument. He had a perfect right to give vent to his feelings in language that made his wife quake with fear. This would be enough for a judge to grant any man a divorce.

THAT it is said that a certain married man in Bellefonte is giving a young lady a much better time than he is giving his wife. While the latter is sitting at home attending to the duties of the household he is out skylarking with a girl of very loose morals. A man of this character should be tarred and feathered.

THAT the most profitable way some people in Bellefonte could use a chaing-dish would be to punch a hole in the bottom of it, paint it green, and plant flowers in it. Often drunksards have come from homes where a dish of this kind is used simply to keep up with style and society. There are places in Bellefonte where it should be cut out.

THAT there is a young lady in Bellefonte who has been going with mighty bad company of late. She often seesaws with some of the best people in town but once in a while she slips a cog and gets into company that can't help making her friends feel that there is a nigger in the woodpile. The young lady who goes with a fellow of a shady character can't escape being put in his class.

THAT there is a widow in Bellefonte who has more brains in her feet than she has in her head, and who now has to live almost from hand to mouth to keep up the pace with the society in which she has been traveling. The other evening she was overheard saying to a friend: "He doesn't travel in our society." This was casting a slur on a young man who has more money, and brains than this poor, miserable wretch who imagines that society is the correct test of a gentleman or lady. This woman should size up her own situation in life, and calculate what benefit society has been to her, especially in these last days when she has to go almost begging for assistance. The chickens are bound to come home to roost some day, is an old truth and tried maxim.

OVER THE COUNTY.

George Sharer, son of Jacob Sharer, of Centre Hall, has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia.

W. Scott Bailey, the popular village blacksmith at State College, went to the Wills Eye hospital in Philadelphia to have his eyes treated.

Mrs. Frank Gardner with her sister, Miss Bella Goheen, closed their house in Tyrone and will spend the summer months at the Gardner home at Rock Spring.

A marriage license was granted recently in Hollidaysburg to Harry S. Corl, of Trafford City, Westmorland county, and Miss Nettie Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, this county.

The ladies of Black Oak U. B. church, of near Port Matilda, will hold a social at the home of Geo. Gates, on Saturday eve, May 29th. Everybody invited to attend.

Milton Johnson the marble man at Bellefonte erected a beautiful tombstone over the last resting place of Miss Grace Dunlap in the old cemetery at Pine Grove Mills.

Miss Ruth C. Hackman and Thomas D. Adams, both of Miles township, were married in Pittsburg, last week. The bride is the daughter of William Hackman, of Rebersburg.

The barn on the James A. Keller farm, east of Centre Hall, is being given an overhauling by carpenter John D. Lucas and assistants. The building will be resided and re-roofed.

While assisting in the house-cleaning a few days ago grandmother Hannley, one of Ferguson township's oldest women, fell from a stepladder and badly injured her hip, as well as sustaining a number of bad bruises.

At a recent meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' association in Altoona undertaker S. M. Campbell, of Millheim, was elected a delegate to the state convention which will be held in Scranton June 8th to 11th.

Miss Sara Brungart, of Centre Hall, who had been in Youngwood for a year or more during which time she was assistant postmistress in the Youngwood post office, returned home, and for the present will remain there. She was accompanied by John Getchall, a railroad man.

Plans have almost been completed for the dedication of the Methodist church site and Pennington burying grounds, east of Centre Hall, some time during the latter part of June. Services will be held that will be of more than ordinary interest to the people of Penns Valley.

The total valuation of the city of Williamsport for the year 1909, after correction and changes made by the board of revisions and appeals, as figured and proved by H. Russell Hill, city treasurer, is $14,131,272. This is an increase over 1908 of $86,750. The total number of assessed males is 9,025, an increase over 1908 of 495.

W. Speer Breen, of Penn township, in company with his brother Charles and wife, of Millheim, and his sister, Mrs. N. S. Weaver, of Philadelphia, started for Penn Hall the other day to visit his brother, Wallace. On the way he was seized with an attack of pleurisy and was taken back to his home where later developments showed that his sickness was typhoid pneumonia.

Miss Lillian Reece, who has for several years been a faithful member of the Phillipsburg school faculty, and unquestionably one of the best primary teachers ever employed in the school over there, has been appointed teacher of the beginning First Grade of the Ashland Heights school, West Manayunk, five miles from Fifty Second street, Philadelphia, for the next term, at a salary of $700.

The other evening between eight and nine o'clock, the dinky engine house at the American Limestone Company's quarries on the Humes farm up Buffalo Run, caught fire from a spark and was totally destroyed, while the engine contained therein was seriously damaged, so much so in fact that it will have to be rebuilt. In the meantime the engine at the Armor Gap quarries will be placed in commission. The loss will amount to about $2,500.

The Fort Wayne (Ind.) News published quite an extensive account of a proposed interurban trolley road from that city to Bryan, Ohio, and in the article we notice that R. T. Bastress, of Harlan, Ind., is one of the promoters and is taking a prominent part in pushing the project. While Mr. Bastress is not a native of Centre county he less than a year ago married a Centre county woman in the person of Mrs. Elizabeth Corl, of Pennsylvania Furnace, and the fact alone entitles him to the interest of all Centre countians for success in his undertaking.

The Millheim Banking company has purchased the D. J. Nieman lot on the northwest corner of the diamond and will erect on the same a fine two-story solid brick building. The lower story will contain a store room on the corner and a banking room; the second story will be built into a flat for residences. The banking company had contemplated building on the Eisenhuth lot, but the plan has been changed. Architect Cole, of Bellefonte, will make a plan of the new building and the work will begin as soon as possible so that the bank can take possession of its new quarters early in the fall.

Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, State College, of which the Rev. J. I. Stonocypher is the pastor, was dedicated recently with impressive services. Six of the beautiful windows are in memory of J. C. and Christina Krumrine, presented by their son and daughters; W. B. Kemmerer, by Mrs. Annie Beaver; M. D. and Sarah J. Snyder, by their son and daughter; Mrs. Nancy Craig, by Mrs. Clark Herman; Emanuel C. Fye, by Adaline Fye. The large window on the College avenue side was presented by the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the synod of Central Pennsylvania. The cost of the building, including the lot, was $14,017.23. The church is of pleasing design, both exterior and interior, and is considered by some to be one of the best in Centre county as far as interior finish and arrangement is concerned.

Stopping Liquor on Husband.

In the advertising columns of the Milton Standard a woman citizen gives notice to dealers and to the public generally not to sell or furnish liquor to her husband. Commenting on this, the Standard editorially says: Liquor dealers understand that where such notice is given they throw themselves liable to punishment if they ignore it. But men of known intemperate habits do not as a rule obtain liquor over the bars, but get others to buy it for them. Those who furnish liquor to men who cannot buy it themselves should understand that they are guilty of a serious offense and when it is shown in court they usually get a much severer sentence than if they were regular dealers and negligently or intentionally violated the law. In one case we recall, the judge gave the defendant three months in jail and fined him one hundred dollars and costs. He held that he had committed a graver offense than if he had been engaged in the business, and the fact that he turned it to a man, who would not purchase it himself was evident that he knew the man ought not to have it. It is a common thing for men to buy liquor for inebriates and minors, and one of these days some of those who do it will find themselves up against a pretty bad proposition. Both of the friends of those who get the liquor, and the dealers who must bear the odium of having sold it, are interested in having the practice broken up.

A Sure Remedy for Horse Colic.

Colic in horses is a very common disorder. More valuable horses die every year from colic than from any other complaint, simply because they have not been treated properly. Sloan's Sure Colic Cure is a safe and sure remedy for colic or typanitis. It acts instantly on the stomach and bowels and gives immediate relief. Mr. J. Albert Pahlman, Pocomoke City, Md., writes: "Last November your Fever Remedy saved my Percheron Stallion Jumbo. He took sick on the cars the first day out; and on May 31st Sloan's Sure Colic Cure saved a fine work mare, but it took five hours to do it. It was a very bad case. I have used it on a great many horses for others and it always brings the results." Dr. J. E. Neal of Plymouth, N. C., writes: "A gentleman brought me his horse last Thursday night. He had the colic proper. I gave him Sloan's Sure Colic Cure and in three hours he was all right."

Send for Dr. Sloan's free book on horses, cattle, hogs and poultry. Address: Dr. Earl S. Sloan, 615 Albany St., Boston, Mass., Station A.

Iron Bridge Span Damaged.

The 180-foot span of iron bridge across Marsh creek at the farm of the S. H. Kunes estate, about four miles above Blanchard, lies with one end in the creek, and badly twisted because the abutment on the south end of the bridge was undermined and collapsed during the flood a week ago. It was one of the finest bridges in Liberty township and many citizens are criticising the township officials because a cribbing had not been built to protect the abutment, as it has been plainly evident for some years past that the creek was washing against the bank above in such a way as to cause serious results. It will take much time and money to replace the abutment and get the bridge back in place. Some persons who have seen it venture the opinion that the bridge is hopelessly damaged.

We Recommend Sexine Pills.

It makes no difference what is the cause of one's weakness. If it be a tonic that is needed, Sexine Pills will do more than any other tonic. They are the one tonic that strikes at the bottom of all weakness, the nerve centers. They send new vitality bounding through the body, producing a glow of youth. Sexine Pills begin by bringing quiet repose to fluttering nerves, and inducing restful and refreshing sleep. Price $1 a box; six boxes $5, with full guarantee. Address or call on C. M. Parrish, druggist, Bellefonte, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

State Aid For Townships.

The Jones fifty per cent. rebate township road bill, enacted by the Legislature and approved by Gov. Edwin S. Stuart in the sum of $200,000 and at the same time the companion fifteen per cent. bill was disapproved. The fifteen per cent. bill fell because it was useless in the light of the fifty per cent. bill. The fifty per cent. bill provides that the States shall reimburse townships which have abolished the work tax on dirt roads in the sum of fifty per cent. of the amount thus lost in labor. The original appropriation was $1,000,000, but this was halved by the Governor, with the axe which nicked practically every appropriation.

Many a Day is Spoiled.

By a cough which cannot be broken by ordinary remedies. But why not try a medicine that will cure any that any medicine can cure? That is Kemp's Balsam. It is recommended by doctors and nurses, and it costs only 25 cents at any druggist's or dealer's. Keep a bottle always in the house and you will always be prepared to treat a cold or cough before it causes any suffering at all.

Special Train.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will run an educational special train from Lemont to Lewisburg on Monday, May 31st, 1909. It will make several stops along the way and will reach Lewisburg about supper time. On the train will be seven of the professors from State College who will give short talks on various subjects and by special arrangement the largest meeting of the day will be held in Lewisburg.

An Excellent Record.

Olive Jury, a member of the senior class of the Shamokin high school, which will be graduated in June, has established an attendance record which is almost without precedent. For six years, extending from the time of her entrance into the seventh grade she has not missed a day's recitation, nor has she been tardy in her arrival at school.

It Didn't Come Off.

Clearfield county's sheriff and his deputies prevented a boxing contest in Clearfield after all arrangements had been made to pull off the bout, the other night. The people there call them prize fights and not boxing matches.

When The Trolley Comes.

When the trolley line is constructed to Bellefonte picnics in the Seven Mountains will become fashionable. So says the Lewistown Sentinel. The Centre Democrat thinks so too, and "when" that trolley line is built from Lewis-town to Bellefonte, its route will be as follows: From Lewistown to where Laurel Run crosses the pike; thence up the run, an easy grade, to near Pat Garry's; thence to Potters Mills—thus avoiding the big mountain; thence to State College and from that point to Bellefonte. This would be the most direct route, and with easy grades. The distance from Bellefonte to Lewistown, by rail via Tyrone, is 90 miles; by pike, via Potters Mills, 33 miles; by trolley, via State College, 36 miles. From Lewistown over the Seven Mountains to State College the scenery, especially in the summer, is romantic, making the trip a delightful one. Then, the saving in distance will be quite an item.

Two Ways of Doing In days ago, a builder dealt with a dozen different supply houses. He bought his brick and stone here, lumber there, glass elsewhere, and nails and bolts round the corner. A building that didn't "jibe" was the usual result, but no one person could be blamed for it or held responsible. IN THESE days Mr. Builder does it differently. He makes his plans, orders everything from one complete supply house, and when the material comes, IT SUITS. And you are here now, today, with the B. L. Co.—not yesterday with the dozen. Bellefonte Lumber Co.
