

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Ladies' patent colt strap pumps $3. At Yeagers.

Failure of last winter's ice crop, has necessitated Bezer Brothers to order, by car lots, artificial ice from Du-Bols.

Mrs. George Grimm has returned home from a four weeks visit to friends and relatives in the western part of the state.

John A. Daley, of Marsh Creek, was in town, still wearing a large plaster on one side of his face, where he had an injury caused in the war.

Mrs. Cyrus Labe and little daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Labe's mother, Mrs. George Lose, left Thursday morning for the former's home in Altoona.

L. R. Robb, of Altoona, gave us a pleasant call, while on a visit to his widowed mother and sisters, here, and wears all the appearance of good health.

John P. Ishler, a former esteemed resident of Benner township, has become a citizen of Bellefonte, and occupies a cozy home at 121 east High street.

A freight wreck occurred on the Bald Eagle valley Railroad Thursday morning, which six cars were derailed. As a result passenger traffic was delayed one hour.

Misses Sarah and Jane Miller are at Bald Eagle where they will spend a month or more with their brother, Wm. Miller, who is not enjoying good health at present.

Jacob Knisely purchased the blacksmith shop of George Doll and immediately assumed charge of the same. He has rented one of McClure's houses on East Bishop street.

Illegal fishing has been reported to the Democrat, on Logan Branch at night recently, with nets. "Look a leedle out"—names are withheld for the present—thinks our informant.

Bellefonte now is said to have 44 automobiles, representing an investment of about sixty thousand dollars. Most of the new machines. What town of like population can come even near to that?

Lewisburg Chronicle says that Wm. A. Lyon, of Bellefonte, purchased one of the finest all purpose horses of F. E. Brown last week, that ever went up the pike. While Mr. Lyon paid a "long" price, he got something to show for it.

Mrs. John Sommerville was the guest of Miss Mary Hunter Linn several days recently. Mr. and Mrs. Sommerville moved the 1st of April from Wintburn to Roberstale, Huntingdon county, where he has opened up new coal operations.

Kid Pilkington, and his class of pupils in physical culture, took a six mile run on the Bald Eagle road, to the station at Milesburg and back. The time it took was 46 minutes. He is getting the boys ready for the coming race this summer; another run was made on Friday night.

Any of the readers of this paper desiring information in regard to the enemies and diseases of fruit trees, or other plants of the garden and farm, should write at once to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, Harrisburg, Pa., who takes pleasure in answering questions on such matters.

David Washburn, chemist for the Bellefonte Furnace Co. for the past two years, until the furnace closed down recently, left for his home at White Haven last week. He expects to spend a few days with his parents, and then leave for Cheyenne, Wyoming, to visit his sister. From there he returns to Pittsburg where he has secured a position.

Landlord H. S. Ray, of the Brockerhoff house, has leased the lot in the rear of the Benner residence and is having the same leveled and sodded to be used as a park and playground for his children, Sarah and Phil. A tent will be erected and swing and other amusements installed on the ground so as to make it quite an attractive place for the little ones.

Among the survivors of the late Mrs. Emanuel Noll is John W. Thomas, of Valejo, Cal. While Mr. Thomas in reality was only a cousin he was taken into the Thomas family when a small child and raised up and was regarded by Mrs. Noll as a brother and a cousin. He was here and attended the funeral. This was his first visit here in eighteen years.

Col. Hugh S. Taylor perhaps thinks that there are too many students in at the Bellefonte Academy so the best way to get rid of them is to run them down with an automobile. Monday afternoon, while coming down the hill between the Soldier's monument and the Trust Company's building, he came near catching three of them. If it hadn't been for Mrs. Taylor's screaming it is hard to tell what catastrophe might have happened. When an auto comes down off that hill there is always something doing. If you don't believe us just ask "Cap," Mingle or "Bob," Cole.

Willard Hall, of Bellefonte, has purchased the interests of the late William R. Jenkins, of Bellefonte, and John Jenkins, of Milton, in the Jenkins-Hall automobile which has been flying around here at the rate of forty miles an hour. Mr. Hall is anxious to manufacture them, and if he cannot get a stock company formed in Bellefonte he will accept one of the several offers made to him elsewhere. The proposition is a good one, all it needs is for some energetic company to take hold of it and make 'er go. Naturally Mr. Hall has great confidence in his car and hopes some day to make a little fortune out of it. We hope that day may speedily come when he will give Rockefeller and Morgan a race for their money.

George Bezer's big car has been in great demand since he brought it to Bellefonte. On Sunday it went to State College twice with the seats filled up each time. Twelve to fifteen persons can ride in it comfortably. On Sunday the driver was Newton Dunlap who, although comparatively new at the business, is getting the running of the car down fine. He has made a careful study of the automobile and uses sense and judgment in getting it over the ground. Parties who want a little amusement along this line should find the Bezer car all right, and you will get a square deal every time. It is probable the car will take a party to Lewistown on Sunday, should the weather be favorable.

Ladies' dull leather oxfords $3. At Yeagers.

J. J. Fiedler, of Millheim, favored us with a call, serving as a grand juror this week.

Misses Julia and Marde McDermott departed Sunday evening for a visit to friends in Lock Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrison, of State College, are enjoying a visit among their Bellefonte friends this week.

Mrs. Emma Lebkicher, of Johnstown, arrived in Bellefonte Friday and will spend a month or more visiting friends here and at Snow Shoe.

Mrs. LeRoy Fox and little daughter, of Lock Haven, arrived in Bellefonte Friday to spend several days with her mother, Mrs. Henry Haupt, on South Allegheny street.

Ralph L. Mallory returned recently from a ten days sojourn in the Queen City, during which time he attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Photographer's association.

Charles C. Livingston and wife moved to Sunbury on Saturday, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Livingston's father, T. A. Rishel, expects to break up his home and will hereafter board in Bellefonte.

William McClellan, of this place, lost a nice colt recently, the cause being kidney trouble. "Billy" was going to make a racer out of the animal with the prospects of beating anything that came down the pike. Thus he is greatly disappointed.

The two youngest children of Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Hickok, of Harrisburg, are now visiting in Bellefonte at the residence of their grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Hastings. They will remain here until the oldest daughter of Mr. Hickok recovers from a slight attack of scarlet fever.

During the recent warm days Col. E. R. Chambers lay on a cot on the porch of his residence on Linn street. He is still very weak and is unable to walk around even in the house. His improvement is not as rapid as he and his family would like, but he is doing about as well as might be expected.

Last week among the strangers in Bellefonte was Lewis Wetzel, of Toledo, Ohio. While here he was the guest of father-in-law, C. T. Gerberich, on Thomas street. Monday night he spent with his brother-in-law, C. U. Hoffer, at Philipsburg. He came east on a business trip for the firm he represents.

Mrs. Robert S. Burns, who, with her children, have been for several months with her mother, Mrs. Hugh Taylor, on East Howard street, with her two youngest children—the twins—and accompanied by her sister, Bernice Taylor, left recently for her home in Washington, Pa. Her little son will remain with his grandmother for an indefinite time.

Mrs. A. Katz, of Bellefonte, is now living with bright anticipation of taking a trip across the continent with her son, Joe, of Lewistown, who will attend the big conclave of Elks which meets at Los Angeles, Cal., in July. Mrs. Katz has been closely confined to the store for several years and she is deserving of what cannot help but be a very enjoyable trip.

Fred Maize, of Millheim, who was employed for the last nine months as assistant in Harry Ruhl's barber shop at the First National Bank, resigned his position recently and has gone on the vaudeville stage as a comedian. He filled his first engagement in Cleveland, Ohio, and from reports he is doing many stunts that are causing him to become quite popular.

Next Saturday morning the curb market will open in front of the Soldiers Monument in Bellefonte. Instead of having but two days there will be three, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. This market is well patronized by our people there is no doubt but what the market will be the best in years. A large number of farmers have fresh vegetables already which they will bring to town and still at reasonable prices.

On Saturday May 29, A. A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, will deliver the annual Memorial address at Rebersburg. The decoration services will take place at 2 o'clock, and it is hoped that there will be a large turnout. Mr. Dale will give the people of that community the best he has in the house, and that means they can expect a literary treat. Several years ago he made the Memorial address in Bellefonte and received flattering comments.

About fifty-five members of the Bellefonte Castle of the Golden Eagle attended divine services in the Reformed church on Sunday morning. The temple of worship was nicely decorated for the occasion. The singing was excellent and the sermon, as preached by the pastor, was highly appreciated by every member of the order present. He gave the gentlemen some very good advice which if followed will make them good and faithful men.

On Wednesday, June 30th, Frank Fisher, of Boisborough, who is now located in Altoona, will become a benedict. The pretty bride will be Miss Bertha M. Witherow, daughter of W. M. Witherow, circulation manager of the Altoona Tribune. It will be a church affair and one of the most stylish weddings that has taken place in that city for some time. Among the ushers will be William Bottorf and Bert Robb, of Bellefonte, who have already commenced to get in trim for the nuptial event. The bride has visited in Bellefonte several times and made a very favorable impression on all who she met. The groom is so well known here that further comments are unnecessary at this time.

James Summers, who keeps a restaurant under Crider's Exchange, has introduced something in Bellefonte that is rather unique, and it looks as if he might make money out of the scheme. He has rigged up a conveyance which carries like a milk wagon, but instead of carrying milk he is serving the people of the town with ice cream. That is, if you desire a saucer or a cone of the cooling delicacy he will serve it to you right from the wagon. In reality it is a traveling ice cream parlor, and the people of Coleville and Milesburg will be served as well as those in Bellefonte. If he wanted to he could travel all through the country serving ice cream to the man behind the plow in the field or the lady at the barn, milking the cows.

Ladies' tan swede oxfords $3.50. At Yeagers.

Edward Murray has decided to retire from the restaurant business.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smead are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy.

Charles Koonks' opening day on Saturday proved a financial success. He took in about $15; what's the matter with that?

Mrs. Wilkinson, her daughter Miss Minnie and Miss Powell are home from a three weeks, visit in Philadelphia and Hammonton, N. J.

Some kind of a disease has attacked the Italian colony which is located in Armore's gap. Some of them have died while others have been taken to the Bellefonte hospital for treatment.

The Col. D. M. Jones Post, of Tyrone, has arranged to celebrate Memorial Day on Monday, May 31st. They have secured ex-Governor James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte, to make the address on this occasion.

We are sorry to announce that Margaret Garman, daughter of C. B. Garman, who was taken ill suddenly some time ago, is getting no better. Her case is causing considerable alarm among her relatives and friends.

The Altoona Tribune says that B. B. Greene, of the Edison Electric Light company, has returned from a tour in the west, where he was inspecting electric plants. Mr. Greene is the son of the late Peebles Greene, of Bellefonte. He went to Altoona several years ago where he has become one of the prominent citizens of the railroad city.

The first cross country run was participated in by quite a number of young men Monday night under the directions of Dr. Weston. The runners started from the Y. M. C. A. and ran up Allegheny street to the fair grounds and returned by the pike a distance of about two miles. The next run will be Friday night a distance of 4 miles.

Sunday morning the members of Gregg Post No. 75, G. A. R., marched to the Lutheran church where they met with a cordial welcome. The edifice was nicely decorated for the occasion, and Rev. Barry, the pastor, preached a sermon that was very appropriate. He is a pleasant speaker and the old veterans are highly delighted with his discourse.

William Roberts, brother of Al Roberts, of Bellefonte, celebrated his 71st birthday recently at his home in Washington, D. C., where he has held a position with the United States government for years. He is a printer and for fifty years has held a card in the Typographical Union. He is still an employe of Uncle Sam and is getting along nicely.

The month of brides is rapidly approaching and Register Earle Tuten is wreathed with smiles over the new Act of Assembly which raises the marriage fee from fifty cents to one dollar. Here is where he gets square with the fellow who was holding back to a more opportune time. However, when a girl steals a young man's heart he loses his head and is willing to put up any old price only so he gets tied up. The prospects, therefore, are there will be as many marriages as usual in June.

This week the members of the Bellefonte Catholic church are having a Rose Fete, something that is attracting a good deal of attention. In their hall, on Bishop street, there is a large tree which is hanging full of artificial roses. The purchaser of one of these is entitled to a pair of some of the very valuable. Articles of gold and silver have been drawn, and you may stand a chance of drawing a rug or furniture for a comparatively small amount of money. The proceeds will be devoted to purchasing books for the children.

Within the last week frequent inquiries have been made as to when the Bellefonte and Nittany furnaces will start. The only answer to this question is that these works will be put in motion when the price of iron reaches where the managers can see some kind of a profit. W. A. Moore, the president of the company, and his worthy assistants Messrs. Waddle and Sherer, are not here for their health, although it has looked a little that way for something over a year. These industries therefore will be started just as soon as the iron market warrant it.

The Tyrone Times says that Rev. Benjamin H. Mosser, superintendent of the Juniata district, Central Pennsylvania conference, Methodist Episcopal church, is suffering from nervous prostration and is compelled to relinquish all travel through the district for the present. Rev. Joseph Vernon Adams, of Newport, Perry county, has been appointed by him to hold several quarterly conferences. Rev. Adams is in every way capable to undertake this responsibility. Rev. Mosser has friends in Bellefonte who will be sorry to hear of his illness.

Among the visitors in Bellefonte last week was William F. Bible, son of Frank Bible. He is a graduate of the Bellefonte High School and from one of the colleges in the west. He has not been here for eight years, and a portion of that time he spent in Philadelphia where he is getting things in shape to return to that far-off country where he expects to make his future home. He looks well and says he has no reason to complain about his lot in life.

The State College Orchestra, numbering about 30, under the leadership of Roberson Allport gave an entertainment in the court house on Friday evening which delighted and surprised their friends. The work was all high class and the leadership would have done credit to a professional. One unfortunate feature about it was the audience was exceedingly small, the proceeds falling far below the actual expenses. This was due to the fact that Bellefonte had too many entertainments coming all in one bunch. Should the orchestra return at some future time it will be greeted by a large audience.

Landlord Daggett is making extending repairs to the office, writing room and wash room. They are all being repapered and painted in the most modern and artistic style. Back of the counter, in the office, he has made a cozy little place for Louis Daggett who has become quite a lightning operator on the typewriter. The machine was in the writing room and when Louis ran it it made it so uncomfortable for the guests who were writing there that it was thought best to place the machine in the office until at least, after this hot weather. When Mr. Daggett gets things fixed the way he wants them will not be a finer hotel office outside of the larger cities.

Ladies' gun metal pumps leather bows $3. At Yeagers.

William Doll, of Bellefonte, is working hard to get his ice plant in operation. However, if it keeps winter he will not need it.

Rev. Dr. Criley, a prominent Lutheran divine, known to many readers of the Democrat, was in town yesterday and avowed our sanctum with a call.

The religious work committee will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night at 6 o'clock for lunch and talk over the religious work for the summer; some good meeting are being planned for.

Any pupil seeking admission into the High School next September or wishing to enter the grades may arrange to do so with Supt. Jonas Wagner on Tuesday morning May 25, 1909, at the High School building.

Dr. George Klump, of Williamsport, was in Bellefonte Wednesday consulting in a case in which some of our physicians are interested. The Doctor says he can make Bellefonte his home without much study or forethought. He thinks it one of the prettiest towns in the state.

The Philipsburg Ledger says that Charles E. Pyle, of Atlantic City, an expert painter, paperhanger and decorator, is a new arrival in town, and is in the employ of Jones & Stover. Mr. Pyle has been living in Atlantic City for 20 years, but is a former Centre countyman, at one time a resident of Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mac Curtin, of Pittsburg, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little son at their home on Monday. Their friends in Bellefonte will be glad to hear that both mother and babe are getting along nicely. The boy has been named Andrew Gregg Curtin, after the great war governor of Pennsylvania, and grand-father of Mrs. Curtin. It is to be hoped that the babe may acquire the same distinction as his namesake.

The Hughes athletic field was dedicated Saturday afternoon under the most favorable circumstances. Prof. James Potter Hughes, after whom it has been called, feels extremely proud of the honor thus conferred on him. The main speech of the afternoon was made by Col. Hugh S. Taylor which was responded to by Rev. Hughes. This was followed by the Academy defeating the Indiana Normal by a score of 5 to 4.

Since Claude Cook has taken charge of the Yeager Swing Co., as a receiver, he has been making things fly. The factory has been running full time, and then some, in order to get out their orders. This week he shipped another car load of swings which means they have been hustling. This is the time to make the swing business pay and Mr. Cook is leaving nothing undone in order to get out of it everything there is in it.

It is said that the marriageable young men, in Centre county, are going to mob Register Earle Tuten for raising the marriage license from fifty cents to one dollar. Why, Mr. Tuten would never think of crushing the hearts of these young men in that way but the young man of Astorbury makes him the money. There is no way getting out of it, so the young man who wants to take the marriage vow must come up with the big round dollar.

Some time ago John Samsel, of Pleasant Gap, purchased an automobile of William Keichline, of Bellefonte. He ran it around over the country and had the same experience that the majority of autoists have had, that of fun and expense, but more of expense than fun. He finally decided to dispose of the machine, and the other day traded it to John Sarson, of State College, for a motor bicycle and $25.00. It is hard to tell who got it in the neck in this deal.

Dr. Weston, the new Y. M. C. A. secretary, is now trying to instill new life into the local Association. He is a good man and all that is needed is for our christian people to stand by him, and one of the grandest works for young men can be accomplished. He is an expert athlete and will work for the physical development of the young man as well as instilling in him the principles of a thorough christian man. There are hundreds of young men in Bellefonte who need such care and protection from the snares of the world.

On Tuesday Mrs. Edward Long and Mrs. Mrs. Haag, of Bellefonte, went out to make a short visit with Henry Noll who resides up in McBride's Gap. While there they took a notion they would like to fish, so they went to the stream, running through the gap, and began angling for the speckled beauties. It was not long until a "blind fish" took hold of Mrs. Long's line and out it came. It was a nice one measuring about eight inches long. Both the ladies were highly delighted with the catch, and they will go out there some time, again and try their luck.

Tuesday E. B. O'Reilly, W. S. Harris, Ed. Knecht, Sedgewick Kistler, Geo. Kramer, Stewart Lowry, J. A. Simon and James Krom, of Lock Haven, arrived in Bellefonte in two large automobiles, when they took dinner with landlord Horton S. Ray of the Brockerhoff House. They represented the Elk Lodge, of that place, which has bought the Scott building on Main street, in that city, and propose to remodel it to suit their purpose. They were here inspecting the Masonic Temple with a view of securing some pointers as how to proceed in transforming an old-fashioned house into a modern Elk building. While here they were well taken care of by their Elk brothers.

Monday evening Brint Mongon and James Bayard were placed in the lock-up. During the night they made an effort to get out and battered up the lock so that it required considerable time to repair it. Not succeeding in perfecting their escape they tackled the water pipe and finally tore off the spigot. The water poured in on them like a young Niagara, and for awhile it looked as if they would be compelled to stand in cold spring water up to their waists. However, they stood in water up to their ankles, the greater part of Tuesday. They applied to the authorities to have the pipe plugged up, but they paid no attention to their appeals until near evening when the Policemen Dukeman and Justice went there and turned off the water and built a fire to dry the prison pen out. The water would have rose up to the middle of their bodies had they not succeeded in opening up a hole which left a greater portion of it escape. It is not likely that they will try the same thing over again. For awhile they looked like two muskrats.

Ladies' strap pumps leather bows $3. At Yeagers.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Henry Gill recently bought the flouring mill of G. E. Corl, at Pine Hall.

Joseph Wade, accompanied by his wife and several other Snow Shoe ladies, visited in Philipsburg on Saturday, greeting their relatives and friends.

Centre County Pomona Grange will meet in hall of Logan Grange, Thursday, May 27, 9:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. All 4th degree members are cordially invited to attend. D. M. Campbell, Secretary.

H. A. Mark has received notice of his appointment as carrier on Route No. 1, Rural Free Delivery, to be established in Philipsburg on June 1st. His son, David P. has been appointed sub-carrier.

David Lingle, of Spring Mills, was a pleasant caller at this office on Monday. After transacting some business here he took the afternoon train for Lock Haven and Renovo where he spent several days visiting friends.

Rev. J. S. Shultz, of Pine Grove Mills, will preach the Memorial sermon Sunday, May 30th, at 10:30 a. m., in the new Grace Lutheran church at State College. All old soldiers as well as the general public are cordially invited to be present.

Chief Engineer Bosler, who has had his corps of surveyors at work during last week running the lines for the new state road between Philipsburg and Blue Ball, got through with the preliminary surveys on Saturday. The contractors are expected to begin work at any time.

Daniel C. Grove, of Zion, who has been a great sufferer from gangrene on the leg, is getting along very nicely, although he is far from being well. During his affliction he has been very patient always looking on the bright side of life. He is a pleasing gentleman to meet, thus his many friends call quite frequently to see him.

At the little village of Pine Glenn, E. A. Meredith, pastor of the Snow Shoe church, on the Messiah circuit, held a two weeks' revival meeting. The prayer of the people was for the conversion of twenty-five souls. God gave them almost forty. The revival has been witnessed in that place for many a year.

The Philipsburg Journal says that W. D. Crosby, Esq., and son Harold returned Thursday evening from a trip of two or three days to State College and Williamsport, going to the former place to look up matters with a view of the latter's entering the college there in the fall and to Williamsport with the thought of taking a business course this summer at the Commercial College.

Miss Gretchen Sechrist, daughter of Rev. Sechrist, of Centre Hall, a professional nurse, was injured by a fall while at Rebersburg, where she was caring for a patient, and was compelled to go to her home on account of her injuries. Miss Sechrist is a graduate of the Lock Haven hospital and one of the ladies whose name appears in Hiltor & Heffner's professional nurse directory.

It is said that Harry Breon, of Axemann, is now walking the floor at the midnight hours with both arms full. His wife presented him with a boy and a girl recently and now he is one of the happiest men in Spring township. Then Wm. Nighthart tried to beat him but he had to take water, as the stork only left him a little daughter. That's good enough, because there are a large number of men in the world who would not have a pet dog in the house if they were able to persuade the stork to bring them the real thing.

To Prevent Damage From Moth.

As a preventive of moth in cases containing clothing, there is nothing like making the cases in which they are packed so tight that the moth cannot enter to lay her eggs, from which eggs the larvae come. I prefer naphthalene balls to camphor, but if the garments are wrapped in newspapers and put into a protected case and this sealed with strips of paper pasted over the cracks at every possible point of entry, to keep out the moths, there will be no danger of the moths developing. From destruction by moth is to keep them in a vessel where the little winged moth cannot enter to lay her eggs. After the clothing is attacked destroy the pests at once by fumigating with bisulfide of carbon. The State Zoologist of Pennsylvania recommends one pound of this liquid to each 100 cubic feet of space, either sprinkled on cloth or poured into shallow vessels placed on it.
