To this end they have given up their apartments over Cedar's bakery, and store their furniture for the time being. Mrs. Blackford and daughter, Grace, have gone to their own home with Clyde Blackford and wife, while Mrs. Linn Blackford and children have gone to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gartboff, where she will remain until her husband gets permanently located in a good position.
-A suggestion has been made which certainly would meet with the approval of every old soldier who will take part in the Memorial services on Monday afternoon in Bellefonte, and that is that those who own automobiles should be liberal enough to have their machines at the Post rooms in the afternoon at 2 o'clock ready to take the old scarred veterans out in the parade. Some of them are pretty old and a little treat like this would certainly be appreciated. The suggestion is a timely one and ought to receive some consideration at the hands of the Bellefonte automobile club.

-Luther Stover, one of Aaronsburg's useful citizens, favored our sanctum with a call.
-George W. Zeigler Esq., of Philipsburg, was in attendance at Court Monday.

-William Dorworth was an arrival in Bellefonte Friday morning from Philadelphia for a short visit to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Dorworth.
-George Bush just received on Saturday a consignment of thirty thousand local view cards many of them new subjects. They came direct from Dresden, Germany, only landing in New York on the 11th.
-Blaine McCormick, of Altoona, an ex-councilman, was a caller in our sanctum. He has the distinction of having lived in the same house in Altoona for forty-five years, back when Altoona was yet a baby.
-One of the finest show windows in this section of the State is that found in the store of Sim the Clothier. Almost every time you look into it you are sure to see something neat and tidy, be it a suit, a straw hat or a white vest.
-Hiram Lutz, of near Zion, is thinking of moving to Bellefonte one of these days and he wants a good boy to live with him. We told him if we could come to terms about the salary the writer would be glad to take the job. He, however, would have to shell out.
-It is a pleasure to note that the many strangers who visit Bellefonte are pleased with the town, its people, the surrounding scenery, its absolutely pure and superabundance of water, and the uniform healthfulness of the town and surrounding territory.
-On Monday morning Dr. J. E. Ward brought the remains of his brother, James Allen Ward, to Pine Grove Mills, and on Tuesday, at 10 o'clock, the funeral took place. It will be remembered that the deceased died suddenly in Salina, Kansas, on Tuesday evening of last week.
-To-morrow, Friday, William Doll, the baker, will start his ice machine which, for awhile, will be a novelty in Bellefonte. Its capacity is two tons every twenty four hours, but as he has a cream freezer that requires half the power of the machine he will only freeze one ton of ice in a day.
-Dr. David S. Monroe, a former pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church was circulating among his friends here on Monday. He came from Altoona where he assisted in the anniversary and dedication of the First Methodist church. He preached both morning and evening with his old time vigor.
-Henry Linn, of the China Hall, has placed neat oak floors in his show windows. They are all polished up, making a decided change in the general appearance of not only the windows but the entire store. Henry is fixing up so he will be ready for the Taft boom which the people have been waiting for during almost two years.
-Dr. George F. Harris and wife, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday in Pittsburg as guests of their daughter, Mrs. New-Curtain. They went to see their new grandson which has been named after Andrew Gregg Curtin, the famous war governor. They were pleased with the little fellow, and the Doctor says if he lives long he will be as large as the Governor.
-On Monday the first game of ball in the Central Pennsylvania League will be played in Bellefonte between Renovo and the Bellefonte. The game will be called at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, but just before that time a parade will take place. As Bellefonte has been honored with the first game in the league the town ought to be as sporty enough to make the receipts big.
-On Sunday morning Rev. R. Leighton Gerhart, D. D., pastor of the Reformed church at Lewisburg, filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian church. He introduced some new thoughts as to the Christian religion and what man will do after he has passed from life into the great beyond from which no traveler has returned to tell him or any other creature what is or will take place in the great eternity.
-Robert Cole, the Bellefonte architect, has his Stanley steamer again in trim and left Wednesday for Millheim and Rebersburg. He says he will be careful hereafter not to get his left hand foot on the reverse lever. The car is now in excellent shape and with a new wheel and new front axle he will be able to enjoy himself until he runs against the next snag. What he really needs is a chauffeur at about one hundred dollars a month and he will be fixed.
-DeLaune Stewart Thos. Hazel, W. Harrison Walker, M. I. Gardner and George Bush, of Bellefonte, and Dr. Walter Kurtz and William Weber, members of Constants Commanders, departed on Sunday to attend the Conclave at Philadelphia. George Bush participated in the parade on Tuesday morning as member of the staff of the Grand Generalissimo and on his return stopped over in Williamsport to attend the election of the officers of the Consistory Masons 32 degrees on Thursday night.
-Last week we forgot to mention the fact that Harry T. Hutchinson, the efficient ticket agent at the P. R. R. depot, Bellefonte, attended the annual banquet given by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to those having served twenty-one years and over in some capacity with that company, was held the other day in Williamsport. About four hundred veteran railroad men attended. When he returned he looked as if he had gotten his share of turkey and spring chicken. He had been one of the old faithfuls and is deserving of a good treatment at the hands of the company. If he lives long enough he, some day, will be able to fold his arms and laugh at the other fellows asking tickets and answering the questions: "When does the 2 o'clock train go to State College?" "The other gentlemen from Centre county who attended the banquet were W. Frank Bradford, sent; James Smeltzer, track foreman, Centre Hall; J. H. Weibly, track foreman, Inden Hall.

-The contest for the W. S. Furst prizes of $6.00 and $5.00 will take place at the Academy on Friday afternoon of this week at 2:30 o'clock.
-Wednesday morning, about 7 o'clock Cole's circus arrived in Bellefonte and as usual there was a big crowd of men, women and children at the depot to welcome the aggregation.
-Mac McClintic, of Lewistown, spent a short time this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelleher. At one time he was stationed in Bellefonte in the employ of the Bell Telephone Co.
-After attending the funeral of Dr. A. M. Fisher which occurred at McAllisterville on Tuesday Mrs. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, went to Harrisburg to spend a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Nelson Robb.
-Cole's big show was in town yesterday. Teddy should have been here to shoot wild animals—they could not have got at him like in Africa. What a big people could be made of the elephant if killed—enough to feed half dozen football audiences.
-On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warfield, with their little daughter, Mary, returned from Philadelphia where the latter, on Thursday, underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils which has brought a great deal of comfort to the young lady.
-On Friday morning Mrs. Jane Russell, of Abeline, Kan., arrived in Bellefonte for an extended visit at the home of her brother, Abram V. Miller, on east Linn street. Mrs. Russell was born and raised in this place and has many friends here who will welcome her back home. Mrs. Russell went West in 1877 and this is the first time she has returned to Pennsylvania.
-Amos Cole, brother of Mrs. Earl Tuten and Miss Minnie Cole, of Bellefonte, who is employed at Lewistown, has been very ill with pneumonia. On Monday his chances for recovery was anything but hopeful. Miss Minnie Cole left Monday afternoon for his bedside with the hope that something could be done that would relieve him. Since then his condition has not been quite so alarming, and the probabilities are that he will recover.
-Monday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, fire destroyed the house occupied by Frank Meese located up Spring Creek, near what is known as the "Willows." Originated from one of the children playing with matches. Everything on the second floor consisting of beds, bedsteads and other furniture went up in the flames. A number of articles on the first floor were gotten out; this house was one of the landmarks in that vicinity, and for that reason much regret has been expressed that it has been blotted out. Several years ago it came into the possession of W. G. Runkle, Esq., of Bellefonte, who recently had a new roof put on it and other improvements made. There was $500 insurance but that will not near cover the loss. Mr. Meese had no insurance.
-Monday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock the parade of the old soldiers of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R. will form in the diamond. A number of civic organizations have been asked to take part in the ceremony connected with honoring the dead soldiers. After parading the streets the old soldiers and their friends will go to the Union cemetery where beautiful and fragrant flowers will be placed on the graves of the men who fought so bravely for the preservation of the Union. As usual the beautiful floral emblem to the memory of the late Gov. A. G. Curtin, will arrive here from the Pennsylvania Reserve Association of Philadelphia, and be placed on his grave. During the afternoon special services will be held at his tomb. After the decoration of the graves the parade will return to the court house where Rev. John Hewitt will deliver the annual memorial address. As Rev. Hewitt is specially adapted to make a speech of this kind, those who go to hear him will be disappointed. The old soldiers desire that the public contribute as many flowers as possible for Decoration day and bring bouquets, wreaths or anything in the way of flowers. Let every one feel it a duty to help decorate the graves of the old comrades.
JULIAN.
-Benj. Richards and his brother Roland, of Jersey Shore, were here on last Sunday in their auto. They both enjoy a visit to their old home once in a while. Geo. M. Gill has just finished a fine large barn on his farm just west of town; it is a fine building and was built by the Richards brothers.
-Rev. Bailey will preach a memorial sermon in the U. B. church on next Sunday morning at 10:30. The old soldiers are specially invited to these services.
-Postmaster J. H. Turner transacted business in Bellefonte this week.
-Lena Swisher granddaughter of A. W. and Rebecca Swisher, died on Friday evening with diphtheria, aged about 10 years. She was only sick a few days. Interment early the next morning at the Julian cemetery; funeral private.
-The U. B. church will hold an ice cream and candy festival on next Friday and Saturday evening, May 28 and 29th. All invited to attend.
-Decoration services will be held at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning. Hope there be a good turnout.
-There should be more persons take an interest in our cemetery; it is in very bad shape and needs the attention of every one that has friends buried there. It is a shame how it is growing up in and around the grounds.
Henry Rodgers Dead.
-Henry H. Rodgers, the Standard Oil millionaire and builder of the Virginia Railway, died suddenly Wednesday of last week at his home in New York City. Mr. Rodgers was the real executive head of the Standard Oil company. He was born 66 years ago and began his living as a newsboy. He began to learn the sperm oil business and at the age of 21 was worth $50,000. Western Pennsylvania oil development made him wealthy and when the Standard Oil Company was organized he was made its vice president. He was twice married and is survived by his second wife and four children.
Wheat Still Going Up.
-Wheat prices advanced sensationally on the board of trade to $1.34 1/2 a bushel gains ranging from 1/4 to 1/2 c. in July 20 to 25 c. in September. May was the medium of the Patton operations, and the other active options.
-The highest price for cash wheat in the history of the St. Louis grain market was reached when No. 2, red was quoted at $1.58 a bushel on Monday.

RECENT DEATHS.
WILBUR W. DAVIS—died at the home of his brother-in-law, L. L. Miller, in Rush township, of Bright's disease. He was a son of the late E. A. Davis, of Philipsburg, and was born in that town a little over thirty-seven years ago. He was a jeweler. In 1893 he married Miss Clara Southard, of Philipsburg, who survives with one daughter, Lucile. He also leaves his mother and two brothers.
JOHN MCKELVY—a veteran of the civil war died at his home in Pennsylvania Furnace Saturday at noon while sitting at the dinner table. He had been perfectly well in the morning and his death was due to paralytic stroke. He was born at Burnt Cabin and was aged 66 years and 4 months. During the civil war he served in Co. M, 11th Pennsylvania Cavalry. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Belle Davis and three children. The funeral took place this Tuesday afternoon from his late home. Interment at Meek's cemetery.
RUTH A. LANNEN—daughter of Mrs. John Lannen, died Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her home, at what is known as the Buffalo Run Lime quarries. She would have been 16 years of age had she lived until the 4th of July. She had been an invalid all her life, but her death was the result of pneumonia, from which she had been a sufferer for a couple of weeks. The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the officiating minister being Rev. N. S. Bailey. The pallbearers were four of her young lady friends, interment was made in Myer's cemetery.
MARY RAE SMITH—after suffering for a year or more from tuberculosis, died at Potter Mills, Saturday afternoon, May 15, at about four o'clock. Her age was twenty-three years. Interment took place at Tusseyville. The deceased was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Smith, of Potter Mills, at which home she died. She was a member of the Lutheran church, and a patient sufferer. For some months she knew there was no hope for her to regain her health, and she consequently prepared for the inevitable. She made all the arrangements for her funeral, even to the selecting of the hymns. Besides the parents, two brothers and a sister survive, namely, Earl, Nona and Boyd.
JOHN W. MERSINGER—after an illness extending over a period of several months, died at his home near Tusseyville. Mr. Mersinger was aged seventy-four years. The deceased was one of the older citizens in the community in which he lived, and was a resident there for many years. His wife, nee Caroline Decker, died about two years ago, but four children survive, namely, John H., Bow Bells, North Dakota; P. Edward, Centre Hill; Mrs. Alfred Osman, Altoona; Mrs. Wm. Hess, of near Pittsburg. Mr. Mersinger lived a quiet, unassuming life, but he was highly thought of by his neighbors and acquaintances. One brother, who went west many years ago, and whose address is not known, may survive.
Eloquent Addresses.
An effort is now being made to put the Y. M. C. A., of Bellefonte, on its feet again and make it worthy of the trust and confidence of our people. To this end a social was held in the building Saturday evening when short addresses were delivered by Clement Dale, Esq., John A. Ebej, State Secretary of religious work, Edward Buckalew, State Secretary, and Dr. J. Allison Platts. The addresses were full of interest; light refreshments were afterwards served. These socials will be kept up every Saturday evening to which every man in the town is cordially invited.
Sunday afternoon a men's mass meeting was held in the court house presided over by General James A. Beaver who made a short but timely address. The music was in charge of Dr. Platts assisted by Christy Smith's orchestra. The main speaker was Mr. Ebej, one of the most brilliant and logical speakers of the day. He is a profound thinker and clothes his sentences in most eloquent language. Before the meeting closed a number of young men expressed themselves as desirous to lead a better life.
In the evening the Presbyterians and Methodists joined in a union service in the Methodist church. Mr. Buckalew first addressed the meeting and spoke on the value of the Y. M. C. A., he then introduced Mr. Weston who spoke very briefly thanking the people of Bellefonte for the sympathy and generosity in responding so liberally toward the support of the local Y. M. C. A. Mr. J. A. Ebej then gave a strong gospel talk which appealed to every man and woman in the audience. Mr. Ebej left on the early train Monday morning, while Mr. Buckalew remained to talk over the situation with the board of directors, as to putting the work here in a good condition.
-Callers: Daniel Long, of Nittany; John Mechtly a court-house official, and a friend; George Harpster, of Warriors Mark; M. P. Duch, of Grambsburg; Irvin Eber, of Zion; J. I. and Mrs. Wagner, of Howard; J. G. Stine, of Warriors Mark.

Forging to the Front.
George P. Runkle, formerly of Bellefonte, and brother of Joseph and Maurice Runkle, is forging rapidly to the front. About twenty years ago he left Bellefonte for Philadelphia where he went aboard the Schoophil Saratogo. He commenced at the bottom, all the time paying strict attention to the business. Sometime ago Capt. C. N. Attwater resigned as captain of the Schoophil Adams, and it was naturally supposed his successor would be a graduate of Annapolis, but in looking for a man to efficiently fill the place the directors of the Pennsylvania Nautical school, chose Mr. Runkle. His commission was granted him on Saturday, and it was a recognition of efficiency which he and his friends can feel justly proud.
