HOWARD.

On next Sabbath, June 13, there will be preaching in the several churches in our town and at the appointments which centre here as follows:

Christian Chapel—Rev. W. H. Patterson, (Disciple), will preach at 7:30 in the evening.

Methodist Episcopal—Children's Day, at all the appointments on the charges: Beech Creek at 10:30; Hunter's Run at 2:30; Howard at 7:30; Curtis's at 7:30. Pastor R. H. Taylor will attend and take part in the first three named.

Reformed—Rev. H. I. Crow will preach at Jacksonville at 10:00; Marsh Creek at 2:30 and at 7:30 Children's day service will be held in Howard with Mr. Crow in attendance.

Church of Christ—Elder J. H. D. Tomson will be at Snow Shoe all day.

The gentle, softly falling and copious rains and comparatively high temperature of the past week made ideal growing weather, and the promise of full crops in garden, orchard and field is large and bright.

The time of train No. 51, at this station, is 8:45 instead of 8:55, as the types made us say last week.

Friday afternoon, June 4, at 4:30 o'clock the Angel of Death entered the home of Dr. Walter J. Kurtz and bore the form of the beloved Mrs. Dr. Hensyl across the dark river into the brightness beyond. For three years Mrs. Hensyl has suffered a series of complications of physical ills such as few mortals are called upon to bear and few frames could so long endure, and she has borne them with a fortitude that none but the true Christian can exercise.

The inevitable messenger could come to her only as the welcome bearer of a happy release. Sarah Elizabeth was the only child of Mrs. and Rev. William Heim, a minister of the Evangelical church, was born in Lebanon, Pa., Oct. 15, 1849, and from her early childhood was a consistent, faithful, always active member of the church of her father. On May 26, 1868, she was married at Harrisburg, by Rev. J. P. Leib, to Dr. Lot R. Hensyl, then a young physician beginning practice in Howard, and came with him directly to the town, lived all the rest of her life here, one of the most loved and honored of its women, and died here, regretted and mourned by all who knew her. She was a filial daughter, a faithful, prudent wife, a splendid mother, the kindest of neighbors, an intelligent and helpful citizen, and in her Christian work as constant, earnest and capable a worker and assistant in the church of her choice as ever pastor had. She has gone to her reward, and her place in the community will long remain vacant. Dr. Hensyl died Jan. 1, 1909, and in Mrs. Hensyl's widowhood and the sorrows of her later life she has enjoyed the faithful love and tender care of her five children, all of whom survive her: Mrs. William Weber and Mrs. W. J. Kurtz, of Howard; Louise Hensyl, of New York; Dr. William C. Hensyl, of Berwick, Pa.; and Dr. George S. Hensyl, of Philadelphia. Funeral services were held in the Evangelical church conducted by the close friend of Mrs. Hensyl, Rev. J. W. Messinger, of Lewisburg, assisted by Rev. Bear, a former pastor of the church here, and interment was made by the side of her husband in the family vault in the Schenck cemetery.

Mrs. J. R. Sechrist, of Bellwood, wife of a former pastor of the Evangelical church here, with her niece, Elsie Sechrist, of Red Lion, stopped between trains on Friday for a short time upon her daughter, Mrs. George L. Williams. Dairyman Joseph Dunkle and wife were county seat visitors last Wednesday.

The gradual improvement of his father's health pleased Dean Bension from anxiety in that direction and he returned to his work at Pittsburg last week.

Miss Henderson was detailed to Avis for a few days last week to organize the telephone exchange work at that place.

Dr. Kurtz made a hurried trip to Philadelphia last Friday, riding all night for two nights in succession, and Dr. Wm. Hensyl looked after his patients during his absence.

That with the regarding and reseeding of his lawn, at the hands of Charles Leathers, and the fine coat of paint Charles Conter has just put on his house, C. W. Smith has improved his home as much as any one in town.

Mrs. Altrisham Weber, under the escort of her son Balser, started on Monday last for an extended trip to several of the Western states and the Pacific coast. Their outward journey will be via the Northern Pacific and the return via the Southern Pacific. They will visit friends in Chicago, Missouri, Spokane and other cities, study the Yukon exposition, enjoy the climate and wonderful vegetation of Los Angeles, inspect Yellowstone Park, and, we hope, have a most enjoyable time throughout.

Three sisters, Mrs. Anne Hicks, of Ostello, Mrs. George D. Robb, of Altoona, with her little son Eugene, and Nellie Kline of Northumberland, were a very welcome week end party at the home of their parents, Squire and Mrs. Samuel Kline.

Mrs. Bower Hoiter was a Sunday visitor at the home of Capt. H. C. Hoiter.

Mrs. T. J. McCallion spent Sunday with her daughters in Lock Haven. Ed. McMurtrie took himself off for a Sunday and Monday visit at his old Tyrone home.

It is always a pleasure to note the successes of our Howard boys, many of whom, in all parts of the state and country, and in all the varied walks of life, are representing their native town with great credit. The latest one to achieve honor for himself and his home is George S. Hensyl who, after acquiring a thorough academic training, matriculated at the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, and was last week graduated an honor man of his class, having been chosen, a year before, to be its president during the senior year. Just before his graduation he was appointed assistant resident at the State Hospital for Injured Persons in the anthracite regions, at Fountain Springs, near Ashland, and will take up his work there in a few weeks. Dr. J. C. Biddle, Surgeon-in-Chief and Superintendent of this institution, is one of the first surgeons of the state, and under his guidance, with all the opportunities for surgery which the mining regions unfortunately furnish,

Dr. Hensyl's natural taste and aptitude for this branch of the physician's work will be developed, and his distinguished future may be confidently hoped for.

Harry Jenkins left for some Eastern points on No. 52, Monday.

Former sheriff, Berj. Shaffer, of Nittany Hall, was seen on our streets last Tuesday morning, looking fresh and hearty as ever, and carrying his almost four score years with neither a stoop nor the aid of a cane.

Large numbers of handsome flowering plants are shipped at this point almost daily from the green-house of Furst Crider.

Mrs. J. A. Commerford spent Monday and Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Commerford.

Archie Condo had his Saturday visitors, his friends, "Pat" Rollins, of Chambersburg, and Carl Sleppy, of Allegheny.

Mrs. Nancy Confer, of Bellefonte, was a last week's guest of Mrs. Mary Glosner.

Capt. and Mrs. Heim, of Sunbury, Mrs. S. E. Spangler and Mrs. C. M. Shaffer, of Berwick, Mrs. White and Miss Kane of Lock Haven, and Henry Holtz, of Bellefonte, were out of town attending Mrs. Hensyl's funeral.

A badly bealed finger is keeping Wm. A. Wagner from work.

Prof. Geo. M. Robb, principal of the Altoona schools, spent Tuesday in town.

W. E. Jenkins, of Milton, and in company with F. A. Wheeler, of Philadelphia, were business visitors last Monday.

About ten thousand specially fine tomato plants were shipped to Altoona, Centre Hall and other towns, on No. 51, Tuesday morning from the greenhouses of Mrs. W. Johnson, and she has great numbers yet on hand.

On Tuesday No. 50 carried Mrs. Shuman Pletcher to Beech Creek for a visit with some friends, and Mrs. and Miss McIntyre to Lock Haven on a shopping trip.

Last Monday evening was regular council meeting time and all the members were present. The street committee reported that they had made no move in the matter of the proposed crossing on South Walnut street, because they thought it advisable to wait until a question of repairs to that street was decided, as these might somewhat modify the present grade. The street improvement was discussed at some length and a special meeting called for its further consideration next Friday night, June 11, at which definite action will probably be taken.

The nuisance committee reported complaints as to live stock running large. The opinion that this should be prevented was practically unanimous, the only doubt being as to whether ordinances relating to the matter already existed, and as to the special form of ordinance best adapted to the accomplishment of the purpose to prevent damage to public and private property by uncontrolled and unattended stock. The discussion included the detail of leading or driving stock when on the road to or from pasture, and the whole matter was referred to the nuisance committee for the formulation of a proper ordinance. Water collector T. A. Pletcher asked for the establishment of rates for certain manufacturing consumers of water, and rates for Charles Lucas' ice cream manufacturing and heating plant, and for the mattress company were by unanimous vote, fixed at $3 per year each. Bills for the costs in the case of the Borough vs. Burdine Butler, amounting to $120.69, were presented and referred to Mr. Thompson for investigation and consultation with the borough attorney. Current bills amounting to $11.98 were presented, and orders for them were directed to be drawn. Adjourned to meet on Friday night.

Paper and paint within, and porch and paper without, make up a renovation of Frank Butler's cottage in the East end which is a decided improvement.

Phil Hoiter and Billy Shay, two of our star base ball performers, played Wednesday with the Bellefonte team, against the Jersey Shore boys, and may play during the season with Bellefonte.

Remember the free lecture in the Methodist church, tomorrow, Friday evening.

MOSHANNON

Laura William, of Lock Haven, spent Sunday with her mother.

Lottie Miller, of Clearfield, has been visiting friends here, and at Pine Glen.

"Babe" Barr made a business trip to Winburne, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Cramer, who has been visiting her friend, Mrs. T. D. Weaver, returned to her home in Williamsport.

Elizabeth Conway, of Pine Glen, visited her sister, Mrs. Barr.

John Quick, of Milesburg, while visiting relatives here, had quite an exciting time with a band of gypsies, from South Africa.

Rita Lucas, who has been visiting at Altoona for some time, returned home.

William Williamson made a business trip to Ebensburg on Monday.

GREGG TWP.

On account of inclement weather the Union Sunday school postponed their picnic and festival until Saturday, June 19.

The scribe witnessed a scene the other day—two girls boxing in front of a box on a post. A man stepped up and said, "Now, I want this stopped." I stepped up and said, "Don't you see that the words 'letter box' are printed on that box?"

One day last week Clarence Musser killed a large black snake over 6 feet long.

A heavy thunder storm passed through here and played havoc with the telephones.

FAIRVIEW.

Amelia Lucas Sundayed at Summit Hill.

Lucy Confer is suffering from a sore throat.

Albert Butler, employed at Medix Run, and Sara Baylets, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday at the latter's home here.

It seems like home to see Nancy Kelley and Chatty Confer home again. They have been attending school.

Lizzie Kelley spent Sunday at Pleasant valley.

There will be a festival at this place July 3. Everybody come, we will not disappoint you.

Mrs. Sara Watson, who has been quite ill for some time is improving.

It isn't so much what a man does as what he doesn't do that brings him happiness.

GREENBURR.

While on our way to Sunday school and church on Sunday morning we found, by looking over our company, that it consisted of nothing but Kahls, nine in number. We spent a very pleasant and also profitable hour in the Bible school, being such an important lesson. W. H. Strohecker suggested that the pastor teach the whole school except the primary class, which he did, in his usual style. He presented the importance of controlling that unruly member, "the tongue," in such a forcible manner, that I am a little bit afraid of saying too much. After listening to an excellent sermon, by Rev. F. Wetzel, and greeting many old friends and acquaintances we went out our way home, feeling that it was good to have been there.

A. N. Kahl and family, Lee Snyder and family, Newton Walizer and family were visitors at Z. A. and J. M. Kahl's on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Hann is on the sick list.

Mrs. Gertrude Kahl is an inmate of the Lock Haven hospital.

It is rumored that our band will have a festival on the 26th of this month.

J. A. Shreckengast intends to still more beautify his home, by treating it to a coat of paint.

Prof. J. M. Kahl, supervisor of music in the public schools, of Lewistown, for the last two years, moved his family into the mountains south of Greenburr to enjoy the beautiful scenery, inhale the pure air and drink the pure spring water, hoping thereby to regain his lost strength.

FARMERS MILLS.

John Hagan and his men are at home over Sunday. They were working at Millheim on A. A. Frank's store house, and left for Centre Hall on Monday to build a large house for Simon Smith.

H. C. Schreckengast left on Monday for Hecla to work for Pete Hockman.

Decorations day was well observed at Farmers Mills. As the old boys are disappearing fast it is the citizens' duty to honor the brave that are laid to rest.

The U. E. Sunday school will hold Children's Day services next Sunday at 7:30 p. m. All are invited. The school was organized in May and is prospering.

An electric storm passed over this place on Saturday evening. It was something like a cloud burst. Everything was covered with water. Some cellars flooded that never had been flooded before.

John White's garden was totally destroyed by the rain.

Some corn fields are badly washed out. A half mile east of Farmers Mills about two car loads of dirt and stones are washed onto the road from Glenn's field.

BENNER TWP.

Last week gave us many hard showers which make the crops look very promising.

We are getting our roads fixed up in fine shape this summer with Mr. Hartle as supervisor.

Runkle Frazier and lady friend, Mollie Crope, spent Sunday here.

Through all the hard storm and rain a good, jolly crowd of boys and girls, of Bellefonte, started for the old homestead of Wm. Hoy's, at Houserville for a dance, but owing to the hard rain they put up with their friends at Ira Benner's at Rock for the rest of the night; as they stopped at a jolly good place, they just turned the dance into a party. At 10 o'clock a delightful supper was prepared by Mrs. Ira Benner and her girl friends. The evening was spent with music and plays.

Wm. Seanson and family, of State College, passed through here on Sunday with his new automobile.

Alice Miller, Mame Flack, Della Clark and Ernie Brown and their gentlemen friends, of Bellefonte, Sandayed with Ira Benner's.

Irena Walters has returned home from Axemann, where she was spending a few days with her brother Clayton.

RUNVILLE.

Mrs. George Heaton and little daughter Josephine, who have been visiting friends in our village for the past few days, departed for their home in Altoona, Monday.

George Johnston, a very interesting young man, of Wallacetown, who has been the guest of his grandfather, Chas. Lucas, left for his home Friday.

Prof. James P. Miller and pupils will give an entertainment in the school house, Friday evening, June 18, at 8 p. m. Admission to and 15 cents. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. The play of the evening will be "The Hickory Hollow School." Recitations, music, etc., will be had.

Mrs. Matthew Allison and two interesting children, of Altoona, were visiting friends in the village.

Oran Poorman has made quite an improvement on the Jeddings farm since having taken possession. Everything is looking neat and trim.

Mabel Flick, of Bellwood, is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Freil.

MARTHA.

Last Wednesday evening a jolly crowd of our young people gathered at the home of George Steele and spent it very enjoyably in playing games, and after they were through they served ice cream and cake, which was furnished by the boys of the party. Those present were: Chester Cronister, our head man; Virgie Heaton, Clara and Floyd Fink, Clark Steele, Dorcy Cronister, Farmer Joe, Lawrence Hutchison, Paul Clancey, Robert and Ralph Hartsock, George Plick, Chester Williams, Gordon Hughley, Miles Moore and Clara Devine, Misses Bethel Eberts, Connie Gingery, Nannie Turner, Pearl Fink, Mrs. Confer, Bessie Williams, Marj Myers, Rhoda Cronister, Alice Devine, Isabella Steer. All returned home reporting a fine time.

Nannie McHevly, of Bellefonte, attended Decoration day services here.

Some of our young men took their lady friends to Nancy Gates' last Saturday evening and had a pretty fine time.

Our Martha scribe has been off on a vacation for a week.

BLUE BALL.

Mrs. Sallie Maurice and Mrs. Frank Markle, of here, have been elected delegates to the district Epworth League convention which meets at Altoona, June 10 and 11.

Howard Campbell and daughter, of Richmond, Ind., Mrs. Annie Rich, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Doll Kephart, of Unionville, were visitors at Mrs. Frank Markle's.

WOODWARD.

The rains we had last week were very refreshing to the crops and to the girls, as our town was well supplied on Sunday.

Sunday was a very busy and lively day, there being services in both churches in the forenoon and practice for Children's day services in the afternoon, and young people's meeting in the evening.

The Sunday visitors are too numerous to mention, so we will just give a few names: Nora and Lottie Motz, Lida Winklebeck and Bessie Orndorf, at merchant L. D. Orndorf's; Lodie Wolf and Mary Snyder, of Woodpeckers' Point or Bunker Hill, as you wish to call it, at—too many to mention.

While out fishing one day last week, one of our leading fishermen met with no fatal but with a refreshing accident. In the act of walking on a log which lay across the stream, by some reason, he lost his balance and tumbled into the water.

C. E. Kreamer, one of our most prominent men, is working for J. W. Winklebeck this week. Mr. Winklebeck, wife and daughter Lida, left on Monday for Lancaster, to attend commencement at the F. and M. college, where their son Boyd is a student and will graduate this week.

O. P. Smith and family and their cook, Miss Wolfe, spent Saturday night in town.

Those who attended the Children's day services at Coburn on Sunday night were Stewart Orndorf and Edward Sheasley, with their lady friends, Nora and Bessie, L. D. Orndorf and wife, Harry Wolfe, John and Blaine Hosterman, C. E. Kreamer, Ray Orndorf and Ammon Mingle.

D. A. Snyder, who is employed at C. J. Stover's, spent Sunday under the parental roof at High valley.

Bertha Mowery and Katie Benner, who had been working for Uncle Mich for the last few months, left last week. Lizzie Arney is working for Mich at present.

Thomas Wolf and family visited friends in Sugar valley on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. C. W. Vonada, who had been ill with mumps, is able to be around again.

The Evangelical and U. Evangelical Sunday schools will hold their Children's day services the 20th and 27th. Everybody is invited.

C. J. Stover, one of our up-to-date farmers, transacted business at Aaronsburg on Saturday.

Blaine Hosterman is the best corn planter in this vicinity, having planted 63 acres this spring.

COBURN.

The carpenters are building a poultry house for Mrs. Amanda Everett.

The Children's Day service last Sunday evening rendered to an overcrowded house was a success. The children are to be congratulated for the able manner in which they recited and sang their pretty songs.

E. J. Burd and wife spent Tuesday afternoon at Aaronsburg.

Lula Baker and Harry Shively, of Union county, visited at H. G. Hartline's.

Lizzie Edmunds, of Hazelton, visited at C. A. Weaver's recently.

UNIONVILLE.

Roy Lambert, after having been married a month or more, brought his pretty bride home a few days ago, but the attempt to give them a calithumpian serenade proved a fizzle.

Howard Campbell and his accomplished daughter Fannie, of Richmond, Ind., are visiting friends in this section and were the guests of J. T. Barton.

Rev. James Pratt preached an interesting sermon in the Presbyterian church on last Sunday morning.

Mrs. John Bumgardner and Mrs. Kline, of State College, were Sunday visitors at the home of Frank Holderman.

Arthur Hanson, one of Mr. McDonnell's track hands, has been quite ill for the past week. Of course the balance of the crew had to work an extra hour each day to make up for the loss.

Leonard Watson and wife left on Saturday morning for Centre Hall to attend the funeral of Mrs. Watson's father, Mr. Weaver, who died very suddenly, at or near that place.

Mrs. Dora Fisher had four fine sheep killed and two badly lacerated by some wicked dogs, on Saturday night. Harold "plunked" one of them, and on Tuesday morning John Rowan sent another one to the "happy hunting grounds."

Children's Day or Flag Day will be observed in the M. E. church on next Sunday morning at 10:30. Great preparations are being made and those who do not attend will miss a most delightful entertainment.

Bids will be received until June 20th for furnishing barrels and kegs for the purpose of salting down cels and cat fish for shipment. All bids must be addressed to David R. Pratt, president, or George R. Griest, secretary of Unionville Fishing Club.

Andy Rowan is on the sick list. About a week ago, a pair of French Collie pups, about three months old, were shipped to this station, but should have gone to Uniontown, Fayette county. Of course, Billie, the agent, in the kindness of his heart, provided bed and board for the cute little waifs until he could learn what disposition to make of them. They looked somewhat like bear cubs and their playful antics were very amusing. They come from the far west and were valued at $40. Miss Jennie almost shed tears when she parted with them.

WANTED BUTTONS.

Three doctors were operating on a man for appendicitis. After the operation, one of the doctors missed a small sponge. The patient was reopened, the sponge found inside and the wound was sewed up again. Immediately another doctor missed a needle. Again the patient was opened and closed. Then the third surgeon missed a pair of scissors. "Gentlemen," said the patient, as they were about to open him again, "for heaven's sake, if you are going to keep this up, put buttons on me."

TONGUE-TWISTERS.

"Your hair wants cutting badly, sir," a barber said to a customer. "No, it doesn't," replied the man in the chair. "It wants cutting nicely. You cut it badly last time."

—Slippers for the baby 35c. At Yae-gers.

FOWLER.

Mrs. Elmer Henderson and children, of Trafford City, are the guests of her parents, Pious Richard's.

William Nearhoof and wife, of Ramey, were the guests of his mother and brothers.

Mrs. Wait, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Roarer, of Altoona, Sundayed at the home of W. W. Laird.

Ruth Lego spent a day with her friend, Nora Geyer, at Port Matilda.

Mrs. Miller Arhart and family are the guests of her parents, John Henderson's.

Geo. Burrs and wife, of Marengo, Sundayed with friends here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Geyer and daughter and Mrs. Wm. Lego and son, visited friends, at Bellefonte, Peru and Rock; report having a very pleasant time.

Hattie and Mary Fowler visited their grandpa at Warriors Mark, recently.

Mrs. Marie Burns and friend, of Unionville, Sundayed with her aunt, Mrs. Samuel Nearhoof.

Anna Muffley, of Howard, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Harriet McGrady entertained her daughter Bella a few days.

Mrs. Henry Neuman entertained her mother from Bald Eagle.

Mrs. Christena Beckwith, who has been a life-long resident here moved to Tyrone; her kind hospitality will be missed by all.

Children's day at Mt. Pleasant was attended by a large audience, the program was fine. All did their part well.

Mrs. Thomas Forshey, of Altoona, was taken to Philadelphia, recently to some institution for those who are failing in mind as well as having bodily ailments. Since the birth of her child in February her health has been poor and that caused despondency. She is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stamm, of Altoona, whose former home was in Boalsburg. That she may be restored to health and reason is the wish of her many friends in this community.

OF ALL THE GOOD CLOTHES you'll see worn this summer, none will be better in looks and style than the ones as shown by this store.

At the city, seashore--any place--you'll see no clothes that give the wearer that much-sought-for good appearance as the clothes we are now showing. There are no better clothes to be had any where, at any price.

If you are particular enough about your appearance--and every man should be--this showing will greatly interest you.

Clothes that are classy, that are the embodiment of good taste--cleverly tailored. The sort that custom tailors promise you at twice our prices and seldom deliver. You can see such clothes here on our racks in the choicest new fabrics of the season--in half a dozen different models.

Prices no higher than the usual sort without this extra good looks and tailoring.

Let us show you.
