

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

THAT about the only thing some young men in Bellefonte are laying up for a rainy day are their gum shoes.

THAT a certain young man in Bellefonte can't help but be an infernal jackass because he is the son of his father.

THAT the average girl in Bellefonte is a good bit like wall paper—stuck up, especially those who can least afford it.

THAT when that neighbor on Logan street, Bellefonte, built that spite fence it was an insult that could not be overlooked.

THAT life wouldn't be worth living to some women in Bellefonte if they could have somebody waiting on them almost all the time.

THAT Lawyer Kline Woodring, of Bellefonte, says that a woman with but one dress is probably justified in saying she has no redress.

THAT even if some men in Bellefonte are laying up treasures in Heaven they should not allow their fire insurance policies to lapse.

THAT "Billy" Kelley says that the Pennsylvania railroad pay car is the most welcome special that the company runs into Bellefonte.

THAT if every man in Bellefonte, who could, would contribute $1.00 or $5.00 a year to the Bellefonte hospital, things would boom out on the hill. That's so.

THAT Bellefonte has in it a young lady who takes great delight in telling her friends how her beau asked for her hand in marriage, and how he "pressed" her for an answer.

THAT when Charles Dorworth comes to Bellefonte there will be no more monkey business when it comes down to public patronage. Somebody will have to take just what he gets and be thankful for small favors.

THAT they say Norton S. Ray, of the Brockhoff House, wants to sell his new Franklin car. The reason assigned is he has been studying astronomy and has discovered that some stars travel hundreds of miles a minute.

THAT they say that the reason Charles Brackbill and William Brouse, of Bellefonte, don't stop to admire the hosiery in the window of a millinery store as much as the young ladies, is because there is nothing in them.

THAT it is said there is a man in the South ward of Bellefonte who is doing entirely too much night work in the West ward. He ought to be tied to his wife's apron string, so she could keep track of him. He's a snake in the grass.

THAT it seems very foolish and profitless for women in Bellefonte to do nothing more than act as clothes racks simply to display foolish raiments. Just because a woman may have a little money doesn't make her any better than a poorer neighbor.

THAT when a woman in Bellefonte burns her hand she says "Oh dear!" and then forgets it until her husband comes home, when she shows him the blister. When a man in Bellefonte burns his hand it is different. He says "dammit," and then some.

THAT David Kelley, one of the bosses at the American Lime & Stone Co.'s operations, says they have something down there that you can't hold a candle to. He means dynamite and powder. He doesn't want to get anything off like that again or he will die.

THAT on Thursday evening a young girl in Bellefonte, who holds her head rather lofty, met a traveling man and instead of going over to the Bush House and registering the stranger and the fair damsel took a walk in the direction of Crider's lumber yard.

THAT Jonas Wagner, supervising principal of the Bellefonte schools, is considered one of the most proficient grammarians in this part of the State and yet he never realized how much of a conjunction "but" is until he came in contact with an enterprising goat.

THAT there is a young merchant in Bellefonte who if he wants to be successful, must put away childish things and act like a little man. He does things that are very humiliating to those who want to figure among the best and the most substantial business men in the town.

THAT the merchants of Bellefonte say that the people are wanting entirely too much now for their money. It is said that a gentleman from the country went into one of our stores the other day and purchased a pair of suspenders and he really thought that the merchant ought to throw in a pair of five dollar pants.

THAT there is a young man in Bellefonte who rushes girls one night and the next evening does up society. It seems that he can suit his condition to almost anything. He has a little "blue blood" running through his veins which saves him from many a humiliation. If it was some one else he would be down and out.

THAT when a certain couple in Bellefonte spoon on a piazza the young man should be very careful of his position when he sticks a match to light a cigarette. A little light often reveals some very strange sights, and often times puts a couple just where they belong, whether they are of the four hundred or not.

THAT it is said that there is an old maid in Bellefonte that is cutting some queer capers with young married men. To let them know that she is at home, and ready to receive company, she uses a lamp in the window as a signal that everything is in tip-top shape. When her gentlemen friends are all in, as by magic, the light goes out and that is the end of the first chapter.

THAT when a minister of the gospel in Bellefonte or elsewhere takes sides with a man in his church who is only there to satisfy his avaricious and mercenary desires he had better step down from the pulpit and go into some other business that does not carry with it so much Christian dignity and personal manhood.

The man who helps a thief to abscond with stolen goods is just as indictable as though he had taken them himself. So it is with a minister who aids one of his parishioners to carry out his pernicious and selfish designs.

The man of the cloth who wants to do the most good in the world must absent himself from the fellows who are making Christianity a cloak to put money in his own coffers and advance his own personal business. If he doesn't, his time in a community will be of short duration.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

Mrs. Samuel Rishel, of Johnstown, has been visiting friends in Half Moon valley.

A valuable horse died for W. L. Hosterman, of Coburn, recently. At the present price of horses, this is quite a loss for Mr. Hosterman.

Plans are maturing for a re-union of Centre and Clearfield county people now residents of Cambria county to take place some time in July at Sunset Park, Carrolltown Junction.

Two foreigners, near Scap Level, attacked Mrs. Noah Ream, last Sunday night, and might have committed some heinous crime but for the fidelity of a dog, which drove them off.

Emanuel Musser, of State College, left Thursday for quite an extended visit in the west. Among his stopping places will be Freeport, Ill., points in Nebraska and North Dakota.

A big delegation of students from Lock Haven Normal school held the first picnic for the season at Hecla park Thursday. Christie Smith's orchestra furnished the music for the dancing.

Saturday evening, 28th, a festival will be held by the ladies' aid society of the Buffalo Run Presbyterian church, at the Meyers cemetery. All kinds of refreshments will be served.

S. M. Campbell, of Millheim, as a delegate, represented the Funeral Directors association at the state convention, at Scranton, and says it was the longest and most enthusiastic meeting held for a number of years.

Miss Ada Musser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Musser, arrived in Millheim, to spend the summer at her home. For the past two years she has been living with her aunt in Illinois, and will return to the west in September.

The following committee, on election of officers, for Williams reunion, will meet at O. D. Eberts store, Saturday evening, June 26, at 7:30: O. D. Eberts, R. G. Williams, Jacob S. Williams, John W. Williams, and H. S. Williams.

The engagement of Walter Waple and Miss Lenore Hoop, two of Phillipsburg's well known and highly esteemed young people, was announced at the picnic at Bilger's Arctic Springs on Thursday. The wedding, it is said, will come off some time in August.

Phillipsburg Journal: Ed. Fish has tendered his resignation as manager for Edgar J. Thomas, the wholesale fruit and produce man, and has associated himself with Jacob Swires in the establishing in this city of another wholesale fruit and produce house.

T. B. Motz, of Millheim, left for New York City, from which place in company with others, he will go to the state of Durango, Mexico, to inspect a gold mine in which some of his friends are interested. Mr. Motz is an experienced gold miner and expects to be gone about four weeks.

Robeson H. Allport, of Phillipsburg, who last week graduated from State College, has been elected by the trustees of that institution as an assistant in the mining laboratory. This is quite an honor, and speaks well for the young man, who has the best wishes of his many friends.

I. A. Shawver, proprietor of the National Hotel, at Millheim, holds the palm for catching the largest trout in Elk creek this season. He caught one below the falls of McMullen's mill dam that measured 20 inches in length and weighed 3 pounds. It was of the California variety.

The State Railroad Commission issued its first recommendation for the enforcement of the Sproul anti-spitting law, passed by the last Legislature. The action was taken on the complaint of Herbert M. Bushong, of Reading, against the spitting in the cars of the United Traction Company of that city.

Up to this time we hear no dissenting voice as to the proposed improvements to the present county court house. That the building was not ample for the needs of the county, long ago was evident. Neither was it modern in its appointments or sanitary in its equipment. The contemplated improvements are designed to overcome all these difficulties.

In our opinion, the removal of the scraggy trees in the centre of the court house lawn would much improve the appearance of the front. They are neither useful or ornamental. It not only would improve the view to the front of the building, but increase the ventilation. There always was too much shade there for the health of those occupying the interior offices.

Millheim Fire Company No. 1 will hold a grand celebration and festival at Millheim, Saturday, July 3. A grand industrial parade, base ball game, tub races, foot races, sack race and fat men's race will be interesting features. The Aaronsburg band will furnish music to enliven the occasion. Several visiting fire companies are expected. Elaborate display of fire works and festival in the evening.

At a meeting of the school board of Millheim the following teachers were elected to teach the coming term: Principal of the schools, Clarence E. Toole, of Freeburg, Snyder county, a graduate of Ursinus college; grammar M. C. Haines, of Rebersburg; intermediate, Miss Mabelle Norris, of Fillmore; principal Miss Clara Condo, of Penn Hill. Prof. S. Ward Gramley, who was principal the last winter, was no applicant for the position this year. The school term was fixed at eight months and beginning August 30. The tax levied will be 7 mills school and 3 1/2 building.

The Snow Shoe cornet band will hold a picnic at the Snow Shoe Park on Monday, July 5th. The boys are arranging many interesting and entertaining features for the day, among them being two exciting games of base ball between Karthaus and Snow Shoe—one game at 10:30 a. m. and one at 2:30 p. m. There will be dancing in the large pavilion throughout the day. Refreshments will be served on the ground, and excellent meals can be procured at a reasonable price by those who do not care to bring lunches with them. The band will give concerts throughout the day and evening. A grand display of fire-works will be given in the evening. Nothing will be left undone to make the day one of real pleasure and enjoyment for those who attend.

The M. E. church, at Lemont, will hold a festival on the church lawn, for the benefit of the church. Welcome to all.

Kate Keller, of Ingram; Estie Ocker, of Lewisburg, and the Misses Allahouse, of Greensburg, were in Centre Hall attending the Shaw-Hosterman wedding which took place Saturday.

Henry Mitterling, of Centre Hall, has been traveling on crutches during the past few days. His legs got mixed up with those of a chum on the base ball diamond, and the result was a dislocated ankle.

The new postmaster at Beech Creek is Harry H. Fearon. The appointment of Mr. Fearon meets with general approval. He is well qualified for the position and undoubtedly will conduct the office to the entire satisfaction of the public.

Misses Elois Schuyler and Velma T. Simkins who just completed teaching in the public schools of Cape May, and Philadelphia, respectively have returned to Centre Hall and will remain at the home of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Schuyler for the summer.

It is reported that the application for admission to the State College from new students already exceeds that of last year by nearly a hundred and it is getting to be a question where to put them all, even with all the contemplated new houses to be built and finished this summer.

The Misses Charlotte Shade, of Altoona, and Miriam Bittorf, of Lock Haven, while on a ten days' visit with friends at Livonia, Centre county, caught 48 trout. The young ladies fished in White Deer creek and the largest trout measured 14 inches and the smallest 8 inches.

Mrs. Emma Neese, of Smultron, who has graduated with high honors as a trained nurse from the Auburn City hospital, is at present spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elias Breen, and expects to return to that city in a few days to take up her new work.

Lloyd Brown, west of Old Fort, is having his farmhouse remodeled on the interior and exterior, all of which indicates that farming is more profitable business than it was years ago. When the improvements now under way are completed Mr. Brown will have a very desirable home.

William Musser, of Ladysmith, Wisconsin, accompanied by his daughter, Grace, who had been visiting friends and relatives in Ferguson township, have left for their home. Mr. Musser is a lumberman, and although quite busy, took enough time to see his many former friends in this county.

W. S. Musser, the well known station agent, who was recently transferred by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company from Northumberland to Columbia, recently moved his family to that place, and is now happy in his new home. Mr. Musser, it will be remembered, was for a number of years agent at Spring Mills.

Deputy Sheriff James B. Strohm has moved into his new home at Centre Hall. Mr. Strohm purchased the property about a year ago, and had it remodeled, a hot water heating plant installed, and a bath room fitted up. It is now a very desirable home, and adds much to the appearance of the locality in which it is situated.

The school board of Centre Hall has elected the following teachers for the next term of school: High school, Prof. C. R. Neff, (term not expired); grammar, Orpha Gramley, Spring Mills; intermediate, Katharine Forcey, of Lock Haven; primary, Helen Bartholomew, of Centre Hall. The school term was not shortened from the eight months' term fixed by the previous board. The tax rate is nine mills—seven and two mills for school and building, respectively.

The following is the list of Centre county young men who graduated last week from State College: Walter Benedict, Furst, Bellefonte; Frederick S. Welsh, Orlando C. Bowers, A. A. MacDonald, Paul M. Etters, Thomas R. Hoy, Joseph F. Rodabaugh, of State College; Theodor A. Cook and Robeson H. Allport, of Phillipsburg; Harry P. Burkholder, Spring Mills; David L. Markle, Hubbersburg, James E. Martin, Nittany, and Pearl E. Thomas, Howard, Allport and Welsh were among the first honor men and Markle among the second.

Difficult Words to Spell. Twenty words submitted to a spelling bee in Springfield, Mass., in 1846, were given to the high school class at East Liverpool, O., by Superintendent Raymond and it is reported that no one in the class correctly spelled every word. Only ten had averages of over 90 per cent.

The words submitted were, accidental, accessible, baptism, characteristic, chirography, deceitful, descendant, eccentric, evanescent, ferocious, feignedly, ghastliness, gnawed, helress, inconceivable, imbecility, inconvenience, inefficient, irresistible.

The Masonic Home. Masons of Muncy lodge No. 299 think they are on a fair way to secure the Masonic Home or a site directly across the Susquehanna river from Muncy. The local Masons will donate the site if it will be accepted.

13 Was Bad Luck. Priscilla Auger, a 19-year-old schoolgirl of Pittsfield, Mass., tripped on the thirteenth turn of a jump rope in the Joseph Tucker school yard recently. "Bad luck! bad luck," she cried just as the bell on the school ran to call in the pupils to their desks from recess hour.

Priscilla walked toward the entrance and, as she stepped on the threshold the bell slipped out of its hanging, slid down the roof and fell, striking the girl on the head. Her skull was fractured and she died instantly.

Safe and Sure. Among the medicines that are recommended and endorsed by physicians and nurses is Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure. For many years it has been regarded by doctors as the medicine most likely to cure coughs, and it has a strong hold on the esteem of all well-informed people.

When Kemp's Balsam cannot cure a cough we shall be at a loss to know what will. At druggists' and dealers', 25c.

A Foolish Danville Girl. A small bottle was found by a Sunbury resident Wednesday morning floating in the Susquehanna river and containing a note from a Danville girl. She states that she is willing to take chances on the man who found the bottle, that is if he is willing to have her, and she will do her part of the bargain by taking him.

Snake Stole Whiskey. Four members of the Bloomfield P. bar, while fishing had their lunch basket, containing a bottle of whiskey and a three-foot length of bologna, stolen. On the way home a huge blacksnake was killed and it was noticed that the snake was greatly distended. A post mortem revealed the three-foot length of bologna and the whiskey in the snake's stomach.

Man Refuses to Die. You can't blame a man, for desiring to live and you can't blame a man if he takes Sistine Pills, when he knows they will help him live longer. They are the greatest tonic in the world for both men and women. Price $1 a box, six boxes $5, with money-back guarantee. Advertise or call on C. M. Parrish, druggist, Bellefonte, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

Emporium Firm Gets Contract. The Isthmian canal commission has awarded a contract to the Keystone Powder Manufacturing Company, of Emporium, Pa., for furnishing between nine million and ten million pounds of dynamite, deliveries on the isthmus to begin about September 15. The amount of the contract is $1,017,232.

Something New. White lemonade is a nourishing and delicious drink. Grate the peel from two lemons, always being careful to use the yellow rind only, not any white pith. Add two cups of sugar and the juice of three lemons. Let stand several hours. Add three pints of fresh, boiling milk. Strain through cheese cloth, chill, and serve with cracked ice.

We would never hear of some men if it wasn't for the enemies they make.

An Allison. Jesse Laubach, of Bald Eagle township, Clinton county, has received a postcard from F. Esloe Allison, of Nebraska, Forest county, Pa., with his photograph on it. Although Mr. Allison is 82 years old, by his picture he bids fair to live an additional number of years, and has the honor of being president of the Allison Family Reunion Association. He is the last and only living son of a Revolutionary soldier in Pennsylvania. His brother, Samuel L. Allison, the father of Mrs. Laubach, was in the war of 1812. These men are brothers of Mrs. Mary Ann Blahel, of Clintonville. The late Senator William B. Allison, of Iowa, was a nephew. The Allison family has many connections in Centre county.

What a Woman Will Not Do. There is nothing a woman would not do to regain her lost beauty. She ought to be fully as zealous in preserving her good looks. The herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine or Lane's Tea is the most efficient aid in preserving a beautiful skin, and will do more than anything else to restore the roses to faded cheeks. At all druggists and dealers, 25c.

Do you know it is sometimes difficult to distinguish between opportunity and temptation.

The trouble with some men is that they keep all their enthusiasms bottled up in their hip pockets.

Two Ways of Doing

In days ago, a builder dealt with a dozen different supply houses. He bought his brick and stone here, lumber there, glass elsewhere, and nails and bolts round the corner.

A building that didn't "jibe" was the usual result, but no one person could be blamed for it or held responsible.

In THESE days Mr. Builder does it differently. He makes his plans, orders everything from one complete supply house, and when the material comes, it SUITS.

And you are here now, today, with the B. L. Co.—not yesterday with the dozen.
