

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

THAT if ice was beer in Bellefonte just now it would be darn long time between drinks.

THAT there are fellows in Bellefonte who are bad eggs, yet they get entirely too fresh at times.

THAT the woman in Bellefonte behind the washboard is often superior to the one in front of the piano.

THAT the young fellow in Bellefonte who wastes his time here may have time to burn in the hereafter.

THAT the glove counter, in Gilliam's Bazaar, is the place to get your hands in if you don't mind being "kidded."

THAT even the statements of a dying man are often misleading. Not every fellow who says he is going to Heaven gets there.

THAT there has been too much of the meat-axe method of doing some of Bellefonte's public business. It is time the gavel took the place of the cleaver.

THAT the man in Bellefonte who swears and tells his wife that he will be if he will put up the stovepipe during house cleaning, must go down into his socks and pay the "Piper."

THAT they say a woman the other day went into Meese's grocery store, Bellefonte, and told "Bully" Conley that she wanted to buy an empty barrel of flour to make a hen coop for her dog.

THAT one ounce of keep your mouth shut is worth a pound of try-to-square-yourself. This motto has been adopted in one of our Bellefonte institutions to the credit of those connected with it.

THAT it doesn't matter how much gold a dentist puts into the mouths of some young ladies in Bellefonte it doesn't increase their face value one red cent. It, however, helps to twist up their noses a little bit, but who cares for that?

THAT the reason so many women in Bellefonte never get used to wearing their set of false teeth is that they either carry them around in their dress pocket or leave them lay around any old place in the day time and under the pillow at night.

THAT they say that there is a young lady in Bellefonte who ate a little dynamite the other day to clear her complexion and she will not let her beau hug her for the next ten days. It is needless to say that he isn't very anxious for the job.

THAT Lewis Daggett, one of the genteel clerks at the Bush House, Bellefonte, says that when he wants to flatter an old maid, and make her think the world and all of him, he assigns her to the room No. 16. Sweet sixteen, you know, strikes 'em all.

THAT it is said that a girl's shoe comes open entirely too often while walking on the street with a certain young man. That kind of monkey business should be done in the parlor and not on the streets. The policemen ought to be put next. The officers, of course, know what we mean.

THAT they say Mathias Dooley, of Bellefonte, is not at the point where he can get on his feet, "this is my wife." He has covered up his tracks pretty well, but the cat is out of the bag, and his friends can now congratulate him, wishing him much luck for many years to come.

THAT you can't blame some men in Bellefonte for being absent-minded when you ask them how they accumulated some of their wealth. The poor devil who has been swindled could tell you, and some of them could give you an interesting story as to how some of the people here came to dine on the fat of the land.

THAT when a man in Bellefonte becomes avaricious and penurious you can come to the conclusion that he has few good qualities which commend themselves to the public. These are weeds that grow on barren soil, and do nobody any good. We don't need to point them out, you know who they are.

THAT if every person in Bellefonte would live within their income we would have more honest and happy homes. The man who can't pay his debts because he lives too high is not the most trustworthy citizen in the town, and any criticism he might make on the action of others should be taken with little credence.

THAT they say a young married man in Bellefonte is thinking very seriously of starting a boot and shoe store on South Valentine street. The people on the hill are over-enthusiastic at the prospect that is being made. The next time the young man goes up there to look at the location he should take his wife along and see what she thinks of matters as they have been progressing.

THAT it is said that a tramp appeared at the door of a certain preacher's house the other day, and asked for a handout. The minister desiring to inform himself of the tramp's downfall asked the "Weary Willie" if it wasn't caused by drink. "Yes," was the reply, "I took a drink of water once that had microbes in it and I ain't been a well man since."

THAT when you go into one of the Bellefonte churches and hear a most earnest and affecting appeal from the minister for money to spread the gospel throughout the world and then look around and see enough waste material on the ladies' sleeves to clothe half of the natives of either India or Africa you are apt to think of Ezekiel, 13th chapter and 18th verse where it says: "Woe to the women who sew pillows in their arms."

THAT we have a man in Bellefonte who went directly back on his friends. They were people who have stuck to him through thick and thin, but like Judas Iscariot he sold them out for thirty pieces of silver, and afterwards tried to wash his hands from the treacherous, mean and dirty work. The man who refuses to stand up for a friend against the vile persecutions of degenerates and falsifiers is a little lower than the beasts of the field which, from mere instinct, are mindful of their own.

THAT the man in Bellefonte who goes to a friend and, in confidence, gets his sentiments on a certain subject and then goes and betrays them is a dirty-son-of-a-sea-cook, and then something more. He doesn't deserve fair and honest treatment from the people in the community where he resides. Such a man would take a graft whenever it was offered him; thus he is to be carefully watched. We have them in Bellefonte, and some of them want to be leaders. A Benedict Arnold has always been despised wherever he is found.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Miss Jessie Kerstetter, who is a nurse, in the Bellefonte hospital, is at her home, in Millheim, on a two weeks' vacation.

Miss Mae Musser, of Millheim, left for Selinsgrove, where she will take a six weeks' course in music at the university.

Miss Lizzie Booser, of Centre Hall, who just graduated from the Central State Normal, at Lock Haven, was elected as one of the teachers of the Aaronsburg schools.

Don't forget the festival at Fairview on Saturday evening, July 3rd. Every one who goes there will be treated on the square; go help the good cause along.

The other night somebody with a sweet tooth visited the premises of William S. Brooks, west of Centre Hall and stole about forty pounds of honey from the various bee hives. Mr. Brooks thinks he knows where it went.

A tabernacle meeting is in progress at Milesburg, meeting every night. An all-day meeting will be held there on Sunday, July 4th. Love feast at 9:30. Children's meeting at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Bring your basket and stay all day.

This week Mrs. Rebecca Glossner and daughter Margaret, Mrs. Matilda Bechdel and Mrs. Annie Ridge, of Blanchard, are attending the State convention of the Local Temperance Legion which is being held at Gettysburg. Of course they will be taken over the old historic battlefield.

To-day an automobile line will be started between Rebersburg, Millheim and Coburn. Two automobiles, to carry 16 passengers each, will be put on the line and make two trips a day. An automobile line may be all right in the summer, but have they arranged for flying machines in winter?

The venerable Michael Shaffer who had been seriously ill during the winter and spring, his legion of friends will be pleased to learn, has recovered his accustomed health and vigor and was able to attend the Shaffer-Hazel reunion at Grange Park last Thursday, lively and none the worse in appearance from his siege of illness.

On Saturday evening the churches of Pine Grove Mills will hold a festival in the Odd Fellows' hall. The proceeds will go toward defraying the expense of putting up and painting the new fence around the old burying ground. As this is a matter of public interest the festival should be well attended by the people of that vicinity and surrounding country.

One of the leading sports in Boalsburg among the boys and men is pitching quoits. Monday evening John Durner and Edward Isenberg pitched against John Allen and John Charles, the former winning five games out of six. Master Edward threw two ringers at once. He is the champion of Boalsburg, and challenges any one who will come against him.

Simon R. King, of Millheim, met with a severe accident recently. While assisting his brother, A. King, in unloading a wagon load of large stones, one of the stones fell on his left hand, breaking one of the bones in the hand and severely bruised the fingers. The wound is very painful and incapacitates King from making his regular trips with the bus to the station at Coburn.

A fire of mysterious origin recently destroyed the barns of Henry Grimm and W. W. Smith at State College. The fire started in the Grimm barn, occupied by Shealy, Gentzle, and 15 minutes prior to its outbreak, their driver, Thomas Decker had put the horse in the stable and did not detect any signs of fire or anything of a suspicious nature, yet within 20 minutes the barn was a seething mass of flames from top to bottom.

Centre Countians Picnic

Fleeing the stifling air of the city's streets, nearly 1000 women and children, and not a few men, journeyed out to Fairmont Park, Philadelphia, Saturday afternoon to revel in the pleasure of an old-fashioned basket picnic at Belmont Mansion. The affair, which was the sixth annual event of the kind, was given under the auspices of the Centre County Association, and shortly after noon the invasion of seekers after a shady spot began. By 2 the Mansion was uncomfortably crowded, and, while some remained to enjoy the cool verandas and music, by far the majority preferred to stretch out on the grass in the comforting shade of the trees. After "lunch" a very entertaining musical and vocal program was given in the auditorium of the Mansion. The former officers were re-elected.

Fire at Penna Furnace

On Thursday noon a serious fire occurred at Samuel Musser's farm, near Pennsylvania Furnace. The large frame dwelling house caught fire and burned to the ground. John Stiver was the tenant farmer who lost almost all his household furniture, 30 bushels of clover seed, 50 gallons of apple butter and all his meat. The loss falls very hard on Mr. Stiver as he carried no insurance. The owner of the farm had $5000 insurance on the house. The family have taken up temporary quarters in an outbuilding, formerly used as a washhouse until the house is rebuilt which will be done at once. The fire caught from a spark from the chimney lighting on the shingle roof.

Wins With The News

The Philadelphia Record, now entering upon the fortieth year of its acquaintanceship with the world, seems to have won its great prestige by a stubborn refusal to be dragged away from the simplest principle of journalism. Strange as it may seem in these days of vari-colored emanations from the printing press, the Record has never been able to disabuse itself of the notion that the main duty of a newspaper is to print the news. From its famous first page, which is patterned after by newspapers throughout the land, to the last line of its last page, the Record is always check full of news—just simply news.

THE NEW FISH CODE.

From a copy of the new fish code we make the following summing up in so far as it interests fishermen from this county:

The following are classified as game fish: Brook trout, and all other species of trout, blue pike, pike perch, or Susquehanna Salmon, or wall-eyed pike, pickerel, western pike, muscalonge, small-mouth bass or black bass, large-mouth bass and all other kinds of bass, except striped bass, or rock fish, and fall fish.

The following are classified as bait fish, viz: All forms of minnows, all forms of killifishes, and stone catfish. All other species or variety of fish, in the waters of this commonwealth, are classified as food fish.

Legal methods for catching fish: For game fish, with rods and lines, or hand line, and pickerel and yellow perch, also with tip-up, and for sucker, through the ice, with pole and burr hook; for bait fish, in any manner or at any time, except by use of poison or explosives; for food fish, with rods and lines and hand line at any time of the year; outline, otherwise called set line; dip net, eel pot, or a fyke net, each without wings, a seine, or a fish basket: No device except a single rod and line shall be used in waters inhabited by trout, except that in such waters suckers may be taken with pole and burr hook. In streams not inhabited by trout, eels, carp, suckers and mullets, may be taken by the use of a gig or spear during the months of July, August, September and October.

No person shall use, when fishing for pickerel or yellow perch, more than eight tip-ups, provided that rods and lines or hand lines shall not have attached to it more than three hooks, and that one burr of three hooks shall be considered as one hook. The landing net may be used to assist in landing fish already caught by lawful devices. Penalty for violating any of the above provisions, twenty dollars.

It shall be unlawful to fish for or have in possession, the same being killed, brook trout, or any species of trout, except lake trout, from the first day of August to the fourteenth day of April, both inclusive, pike, perch or wall-eyed pike or Susquehanna salmon, and pickerel, and yellow perch from the first of January to the fourteenth of June, both dates inclusive, or any other game fish, from the first day of December to the fourteenth day of June, both inclusive.

It shall be unlawful to catch and kill, or have in possession, the same being killed, any white bass, rock bass, crappie, strawberry, or calico bass, or any yellow perch, brook trout, except lake trout, less than six inches in length; any black bass or smooth-mouth bass, otherwise called Oswego, or yellow bass; striped bass, otherwise called rock fish, lake or salmon trout, less than eight inches in length; or any blue pike, pike perch, otherwise called wall-eyed pike, or Susquehanna salmon, or any pickerel, less than twelve inches in length.

It shall be unlawful to have in possession more than forty brook trout; more than twelve small- or large-mouth bass; or more than twenty-five rock bass, white bass, calico bass, crappie, pike, blue pike, or pike perch; or more than two muscalonge in one day. Penalty for violation, ten dollars for each and every fish. Provided, however that no penalty shall exceed one hundred dollars in the aggregate.

It shall be unlawful to use fyke nets, eel pots, and dip nets from the first day of June to the thirtieth day of June, inclusive, except as provided in section five of this act; and it shall be unlawful to use such nets from the first day of July until thirty-first day of May of the next ensuing year, both dates inclusive, excepting for the capture of eels, catfish, suckers, mullets, and carp; provided, that dip nets shall have meshes not less than two and one-half inches stretched measure, while being fished, or one and one-quarter inches from knot to knot, and that no fyke net, commonly called set net or any eel pot, shall have any wings attached to either of them, or be set or fastened to any wingwall, or within ten feet of any wing-wall, or be set within ten feet of each other, and the space between each net shall be free from all obstructions for the free passage of fish; or for any fyke net or eel pot to have an entrance into the funnel thereof of more than six inches, or with an outside diameter of the mouth or more than thirty inches, horizontal measurement; nor shall such nets be used in any streams inhabited by trout, at any time of the year; nor shall any such nets be set, fastened, or used from Saturday noon until Monday morning at six o'clock, of the week next ensuing; provided further, that each fyke net or eel pot must have fastened thereon a metallic tag bearing the name and residence of the owner thereof. Penalty for violation of the above, twenty dollars.

Outlines lawful from first day of June to thirteenth day of November for carp, suckers, mullets, catfish and eels only, must be sunk to the bottom, with cut or dead bait only; no person to use more than one hundred snoods to each line, and to be set from five o'clock in the evening until next morning at seven, and snoods and bait removed; owner must be present or have a metallic tag attached with his name; game fish caught on such lines must be set free; lines not to be set in waters inhabited by trout. Penalty twenty dollars. No rods and lines shall be used for fishing within one hundred feet of the upper or lower end of any fish way. Penalty fifty dollars. No fish baskets in trout streams. No wing walls of any two baskets shall be within twenty feet of each other; or reach from main shore to main shore. That it shall be unlawful to fish for fish of any kind in the waters of this Commonwealth, with outlines, commonly called set lines, or lines fastened or anchored at both ends, from the first day of December until the first day of June in the year next ensuing, both dates inclusive. It shall be lawful for any person to use and operate such outlines, as described in this section, from the first day of June to the thirtieth day of November next ensuing, both dates inclusive, for the capture of carp, suckers, mullets, catfish, and eels only; provided that said outlines be sunk to the bottom, and be so weighted that the hooks shall rest upon the bottom, and that cut or dead bait only shall be used; provided further, that no one person shall use or attach to said outlines, in the aggregate, more than one hundred snoods, with not more than one hook attached to each; and provided, that during the season or period when it shall be lawful to operate outlines, for the capture of the fishes aforesaid, it may only be done from five o'clock in the evening until seven o'clock in the morning next ensuing, when said outlines must either be removed entirely from the water or the snoods or bait be detached and removed, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the court that it was a physical impossibility to comply with this provision; and provided further, that the owner or operator of such outlines must either be present and exercise supervision over them or have attached to each line thereof a metallic tag bearing the name and address of the owner. Provided further, that any fish other than those named in this section, when caught on such lines, shall be immediately removed therefrom and set free into the waters from which they were taken. Penalty for violation of above section, twenty dollars.

Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

In an address to the girl graduates of St. Joseph's college and academy, Cardinal Gibbons, who presented the diplomas, declared against woman suffrage, saying in part: "I am entirely opposed to woman suffrage, not because I hate the women, but I love them and want them to fulfill the mission for which God intended them. If you play in the arena of politics you will be covered with its dust. If you grasp too much you will lose everything. No where is woman so honored as in the United States. This is largely due to the chivalry and courtesy of the men, and if you are protected by the male sex what more do you want? I want to remind you that woman has a great mission in life. You should therefore have a deep sense of your responsibility in the domestic walks of life. You cannot hope to preach in the church, but you can preach in your homes and reach those with whom you come in contact in your daily lives. Preach to your fathers and brothers."

Back to the Farm.

That the average college graduate is useless and will find the farm better suited to his capabilities than the city, was the opinion expressed by Joaquin Miller in an address before the graduating class of California College in Oakland, Cal.

"Make the college graduate work with his hands as well as with his brain," the poet of the Sierras said. "I've seen so many worthless college men that I am not greatly disposed to congratulate one who has done nothing but graduate. The prisons are filled with idlers. The last time I visited Pennsylvania Penitentiary I found twenty-eight lawyers and forty-five doctors and many bankers and merchants. These men were college graduates. It is noticeable that I saw no farmers."

In closing, the speaker attacked college football, characterizing it as a waste of time and strength.

Founder of Philipsburg.

William Reams, who resides in Decatur township, Clearfield county, not far from Osceola, was a caller at our office says the Philipsburg Journal. Mr. Reams is aged 84 years, and retains his faculties to a remarkable degree. He enjoys the honor of having when a boy spent four years in the home of Hardman Philips, the founder of our town running errands and making himself generally useful. On nice days it was a common thing for him to hitch up a two-horse rig and take Mrs. Philips out driving. He said that she was a very excellent christian woman, and very thoughtful of the poor. It was his duty to very frequently convey baskets of provisions, etc., to those whom she felt needed a little assistance.

Let Him Stay a Man.

Atchison Globe: A man soon gets mighty tired of treating his wife like a goddess. If he cannot be at ease with her, and smoke when he pleases, and take off his coat if he wants to, and throw ashes on the floor and cigar stubs all over the house, he is going to be uncomfortable, and long to be where he can. For it is born in a man to like to do these things, just as it is born in a girl to do her pet things. Moreover, if a girl has once known a man in a perfectly comfortably chummy way, she will find him worth twice as much as before he dropped his awe of her. Men are pretty nice as they are, but for goodness sake, don't try to make a man lady-like. He isn't and won't be if he is even half a man.

Overstays Welcome.

Having overstayed her invitation to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. Miano, of Wilkes-Barre, Miss Ellen McCloskey, of New York City, was arrested at the instance of Miano and taken before Alderman Donohue in a suit to collect $3 from her for one week's board. She had been invited for two weeks, but stayed a third. The brother-in-law objected to this, demanded that she pay board, refused to accept his wife's excuse that her sister helped her with the housework and finally had his sister-in-law arrested. In order to avoid further unpleasantness, she paid the $3 and went home.

Immense Sign to Illuminate Lake.

The Sunbury Daily says that Manager Blanchard, of Rolling Green park, has ordered a new electric sign of the Graybill company of York, which will illuminate the lake. The sign will be 300 feet long and each letter will be 10 feet high. It will extend along the lower border of the lake and will light it for almost its entire length at night. It is to be the world's "People's Playground." The contract calls for its being in place by the first of July. The sign will be one of the largest in Pennsylvania outside of Philadelphia.

Not Cute Enough.

Naturally, people dislike feeling that they are not cute enough in business. But a person who is run down can expect to be at his best. Sixine Pills make men and women brighter and stonger; they make you feel better in every way. Price $1 a box; six boxes $5, with full guarantee. Address or call on C. M. Hecla Park Dances.

On Friday afternoon and evening of this week a music concert and dance will be on at Hecla Park. Trains leave Bellefonte at 2:30 and 6:55 p. m. Fare for the round trip, adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

Marriage "Ad" Pans Out.

As the result of an advertisement in a matrimonial journal, answered in the spirit of fun, Albert Bodewills, of Elgin, Ill., was wedded to Miss Pearl, daughter of John Detwiler, a prosperous resident of Henrietta, Blair county, by Rev. A. L. Simmons. They mutually agreed that when they met if either was disappointed the marriage should be declared off; but it turned out to be an affinity case.

Crop Prospects.

Farmers from all sections of the county pretty generally report crop prospects, in all lines, as good. From other parts of the state comes the same cheering intelligence. From other states the reports are also favorable. This is cheering intelligence, and only damaging weather conditions later on will change the present promising stands in grain, fruit and berries.

Lawn Social.

The Albright Bible class of United Evangelical Sunday school, will have a lawn-social on the church lawn, Thursday evening, July 1. Strawberries, ice cream, cake, etc., will be served. A feature of this social will be that the men will do the serving.

Found Dead.

Trackwalker S. E. Stern, of Union Furnace, on Saturday morning found the dead body of Antonio Malone, an employe of the American Lime and Stone company, along the tracks near Tyrone Forge. The man had been run down and killed by one of the fast passenger trains during the night.

The hydro-electric plant being built at Hecla, for the purpose of lighting the Country Club house and grounds is nearing completion. Everything is expected to be in working order by July 4.

Two Ways of Doing

In days ago, a builder dealt with a dozen different supply houses. He bought his brick and stone here, lumber there, glass elsewhere, and nails and bolts round the corner.

A building that didn't "jibe" was the usual result, but no one person could be blamed for it or held responsible.

In THESE days Mr. Builder does it differently. He makes his plans, orders everything from one complete supply house, and when the material comes, IT SUITS.

And you are here now, today, with the B. L. Co.—not yesterday with the dozen.

Rockefeller Tells How To Grow Rich

HEALTHY ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN.

The first $50 John D. Rockefeller was able to save out of his wages as a farm hand he loaned to a neighboring farmer in New York state at 7 per cent.

And to this day Mr. Rockefeller, who is now the richest man in the world, declares that the $3.50 which that $50 earned for him during the first year of the loan was the real foundation of his present fortune.

"It made me realize that it was not enough to work for money; that you must make money work for you," he says. "Seven per cent. was not such a high rate of interest then, and $3.50 is not so very much money; but it was enough to impress upon me the importance of making money multiply itself.

"When I thought about the fact that I had added something to my store of wealth without turning over my hand, that I had grown richer without working I saw at once the necessity of adopting the aid to success. Of course hard work is the basis of all success, and saving is the corner stone of all wealth; but a man may be industrious and save, yet, if he does not know how to make his savings work for him, he will not reap the full reward of his labors.

"Young men do not take this into consideration as they should. And young men do not realize the importance of saving something out of every dollar they make. It is not what a man makes, but what he saves, that counts in the end. This country is full of men getting good wages and fair salaries who will never be worth much money, because they have not learned how to save."

After reading the above the Bellefonte Trust Company invites you to investigate their savings fund department, where small deposits are received and interest is regularly paid thereon.
