

PRINCIPLES THAT WIN.

Democrats may find instruction as well as comfort in the fact that most of the recent policies of Republicans have been borrowed from them.

The effective regulation of corporations, the warfare upon monopoly, the direct primary, the popular election of United States Senators, the tax on the earnings of corporations, the tax on inheritance, the income tax and the regulation and publication of campaign contributions and expenditures have been Democratic in their origin, although mainly Republican in execution.

The lesson which Democrats should learn from all this is plain enough to be self-enforcing. There is great popular faith in true Democracy. There is great popular intelligence in separating the false from the true. False teachers and teachings are not fatal to Democracy itself.

That Democratic policies should be carried into execution by Democrats will be generally conceded, but we can hardly hope for such a thing until Democratic leadership shall measure up fully to Democratic profession.

Uncertain Lines.

The Fish Commission is now at work drawing lines as to where a trout stream ceases and bass fishing begins. The upper part of a stream where the waters are fresh, are decided to be the part where fishing for trout is legal, and the lower parts where the waters are not so fresh shall be considered legal for bass fishing.

Good News for Tyrone.

Having been idle since December 1907, the large repair works of the Shoemaker-Eyre construction company at Tipton, will resume operation in a very short time.

Riddles Best Suit.

John Nash, of Sunbury, is seeking notoriety as a reflex joker. When his next door neighbor left town for a few days recently he decided to pull off a stunt by placing a dummy figure of a man on his porch to guard the place.

Large Orders.

Orders for 500 steel box cars, forty-seven postal cars, fifteen diners and eight baggage and express cars will benefit 1,500 Pennsylvania railroad employes at Altoona.

$100,000 to Charity.

The Texas Brewers' Association, composed of moralists and social reformers, has issued a challenge to the National and State Prohibition party to disprove the alleged fact that more liquor is sold in "dry" States than in "wet" ones.

The brewers will select six men and the Prohibitionists are to name six more to act on a commission to visit the "dry" States and make the investigations.

The brewers really want to show that the only way for a community to be temperate is to drink plenty of beer and let whiskey alone. In the Prohibition States little or no beer is drunk but liquor is consumed in large quantities, straight, as stomach bitters and as nerve tonics.

The only trouble is that no one has yet invented a patent machine to tone up the stomach whose main ingredient is beer. When that is invented the brewers will whirl in and work for the Prohibitionists and increase their sales all through the South.

A Wonderful Shot.

They were telling how well they could shoot, and Tom Dawson recalled a duck hunt in which he had brought down five birds with one shot.

"Talk about shootin'," began Old Man Tilford; "I saw Jim Ferris do a mighty neat piece of work one day last week. His wife was puttin' out the washin' and she was complainin' about the pesky sparrows makin' dirt marks on the damp clothes with their feet."

"They're thick as bees around here," says she. "There's seven of 'em sittin' on the clothes-line this blessed minute."

"I'll fix 'em," says Jim, taken down his shotgun, which he allus keeps loaded with fine bird-shot. He tipped to the door, took aim, and—

"Killed every one of them sparrows!" broke in Dawson.

"You're wrong," corrected Tilford, calmly; "he never teched 'em, but when his wife took in the washin', she found she had three pair of open-work stockin's and a fine peck-a-boo shirt-waist."

Capt. Green Now Retired.

Capt. John P. Greene, formerly first vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, went on the pension list on the first of July. As a pensioner he will draw the highest amount of pension money of any man in the United States.

Just what amount Captain Greene will draw as his pension is not known, but it is estimated to be in the neighborhood of $13,000. It is said that during the last ten years of service averaged $25,000 per annum, on which his pension is based.

Large Sums.

Figures covering the operations of the various portions of the Pennsylvania railroad system show that in 1908 there was paid out in wages $125,542,947, a reduction of $29,471,951 as compared with the $155,015,898 expended in 1907. In the latter years the companies employed an average of 159,000 men, while in 1908 the number was 175,000, a reduction of 24,000 men. In 1907 the gross earnings from operations of the companies were $321,478,308 and in 1908 $267,559,213, a loss of $53,919,095. Thus in 1907 the companies paid for labor forty-eight per cent. of its total earnings from operation, and in 1908 wages absorbed forty-six per cent. of the total.

Will Go Into Retreat.

The annual retreat of the priests of the Altoona diocese of the Roman Catholic church began Monday evening at St. Francis college, Loretto, and will continue until Saturday evening. The Rev. Father Roberts, of New York state, a member of the Passionist order, will be the instructor. All the hundred priests of the diocese, including the Rt. Rev. Eugene A. Garvey, D. D., the bishop of the diocese, together with the Rt. Rev. Mons. John Boyle, of Johnstown, the vicar-general of the diocese, will attend.

Many Pure Food Prosecutions.

Dairy and Food Commissioner Foust a few days ago directed that 16 prosecutions be entered in Allegheny for selling oleomargarine as butter, eight in Allegheny, Mifflin and Venango counties for adulterating soft drinks, two in Allegheny for watering milk, and one each for adulterating ice cream, lard and vinegar in Beaver, Potter and Indiana counties, respectively.

The Use of Sexine.

Price $1 a box; six boxes $5, with money-back guarantee. Address or call on C. M. Parrish, druggist, Bellefonte, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.

Is it an Elixir of Life?

An English physician has gained some notoriety by asserting that sour milk is the real elixir of life and that it will prolong human life. That is strange; sour milk has been tried on hogs for ages; it makes the animal fat, but there is no evidence that it has prolonged its life.

Law Governing Fish Basket Licenses.

All people who contemplate taking out fish basket licenses this year should look up the new codification of the law governing this class of fishing. One of the provisions of the new law, which supercedes all previous acts, is that not over two-thirds of the width of any stream where fish baskets are allowed to be placed may be closed. The baskets must be placed at least one-fourth of a mile apart up and down the stream. It is also provided that any man who had a fish basket located last year may use the same point this year to the exclusion of all other applicants.

New Food Law.

A new feeding stuffs law was enacted by the last Legislature to take effect the first day of August next. This new law limits the amount of ground corn cobs and oat hulls that can be used in mixed feeds; prohibits the use of rice hulls, peanut hulls and weed seeds as adulterants in concentrated commercial feeding stuffs, and makes it possible to free the markets of Pennsylvania from undesirable feeds.

The co-operation of all manufacturers of and dealers in feeding stuffs, as well as the public press, is solicited in the effort to carry out the provisions of this new law.

Copies of the new law will be sent to any person making application to the office of Commissioner Foust, at Harrisburg.

A New Free Delivery Route.

A new rural free delivery route will be established Aug. 2, from the Stormstown postoffice. The route will cover portions of Halfmoon and Buffalo Run valleys, connecting with the route from Bellefonte giving service to the entire scope of country between the two offices. The route is laid out as follows: Beginning at the postoffice thence northeast to Hartsock corner, northwest to Julian road corner, easterly to Waddle corner, northeast to Hale corner, southeast southwest and northwest to school-house corner, westerly to Waddle corner, southwest to M. E. church corner, southwest to Stormstown postoffice. The total length of the above routes measured will be 16 1-10 miles.

In Judging.

Don't judge a man by his clothes. God made one and the tailor made the other. Don't judge a man by his family, for Cain belonged to a good family. Don't judge a man by his failure in life, for many a man fails because he is too honest to succeed. Don't judge a man by the house he is living in, for the lizard and the rat often inhabit the grander structure. When a man dies they who survive him ask what property there is left behind; the angel who bends over the dying man asks what good deeds he has sent before him.

Shot Through The Hand.

Henry Gussallus, a son of Ira Gussallus, of Liberty township, was taken to the Lock Haven hospital Saturday 3, suffering from gun-shot wounds. The unfortunate young man was in the woods with a fishing party and returned, carrying a short shot, to the house. He was shot in the hand before he had time to load the gun belonging to George Miller, one of the party, who was discharged while they were sitting on a log. Gussallus was shot in one hand through which the buckshot passed. Another buckshot passed through the wrist. It will not cause the loss of his hand.

A Rip Van Winkle Freed.

After a lapse of twenty-five years during which time he remained secluded in the Trenton state prison, Patrick Quinn, recently paroled by the men who were freed a few days ago and excited considerable attention in the streets. He had never before seen automobiles or electric trolley cars and was bewildered generally at the changed appearance of the city since the time he was imprisoned for murdering his wife.

Don't Mention It.

A boy in school one day was writing a description of the ostrich. After he had succeeded in describing the different parts of the bird, he was puzzled as to whether the ostrich had a tail. He finally consulted the teacher, who told him that the ostrich did have a tail, but not to speak of it. The boy, having resumed his work, wrote the following: "The ostrich has a tail, but you must not say anything about it."

No Wonder She's Cross.

The woman who has a thousand pretty cares and annoyance while she suffers with headache or sideache must not be blamed if she cannot always be angelically amiable. What she needs is thoughtfulness from her family and such a simple and natural remedy as Lane's Family Medicine, the herb tea that makes weak women strong and well. Thought Drowned, Found Hanged.

John F. Snyder, of Northumberland who, it was thought, had committed suicide by throwing himself into the Susquehanna river last week, while suffering from a heat stroke, was found hanging from a tree near the river. His body was almost unrecognizable through decomposition. He had strangled himself with a noose made from a wild grape vine.

Heated Windup for June.

June rounded up with eight days of high temperature, exceeding any previous record for great heat. The following is the record given by the Centre Democrat's official instruments for the closing days of the month: On 26th, 91; on 27th, 94; on 28th, 91; on 29th, 90; on 30th, 93; on 31st, 91; on 29th, 92; on 30th, 93.

Many Drags.

In Lancaster county over 500 drags are now in use by farmers, supervisors and private citizens, and it seems as if the good roads question is now being taken up in Dauphin and Cumberland counties with the proper spirit. What is doing in our county of Centre? We do not know of any drags in use here, as yet.

FROM MICHIGAN.

Hart, Mich., July 4, 1909. Centre Democrat, Bellefonte, Pa.

I have not been in good health for some time and have had several slogs of sickness but have regained somewhat again. At the present time I am buying fruit for our canning company here. Last week I purchased over 2500 cases of strawberries and about a hundred cases of cherries. The cherries are just coming in on the market now. The price paid for the strawberries run from 50 to 80 cents a case of 16 quarts, the price paid for the cherries for fancy stock is 75 cents a case. These fruits are all canned here and we need about 6000 cases of strawberries for to fill our orders for this season, but the weather being hot and dry the last ten days has reduced the strawberry crop 1000 cases and we will not be able to fill our orders. We handle all kinds of fruit as well as vegetables such as peas, lima beans, sweet corn, pumpkins, tomatoes. To give you some idea of the volume of business done: Yesterday, July 3, we canned over 8000 cases of peas, two dozen cans to the case. That is not a big day's run, an average is 15,000 cases. We run six lines that pour forth continually six streams of cans, besides the fruit department where we have a hundred women at work and about twenty men canning fruit. The total number employed is 800 hands. The peas are grown just as any crop. Sown with grain drill, cut with a mowing machine, raked with a horse rake, loaded on the wagons and hauled to the factory; or if a great distance from the factory, they establish viner stations where the green peas are thrashed and the farmer takes his vines home and cures them for hay, which is the finest kind of feed for cows and sheep, and the green peas are washed and prepared for the cans. From the time the peas are pitched from the farmers wagon there is a continuous stream of peas running until they are packed in the cans and stored in the ware house.

I would like to have some of the farmers about Howard try growing a few peas to experiment with, for I do believe that they can be grown there without any doubt, if they were started in the right direction. I would like to get in correspondence with the manager of the Howard factory and have it tried out to see if a pea crop would not be profitable there as well as here. The average profit after the seed is paid for and the cost of sowing and harvesting is $20 per acre. We have farmers here that have made as much as $60 profit from an acre.

Then they have about a ton and a half of dry hay that is worth at least $12 per ton. Pea vines sell for more money than hay on our local market. Very truly yours,

EDWIN K. SMITH.

MOTORISTS BUY DRAGS.

The Motor Club of Harrisburg is taking an active hand in the good roads campaign in Dauphin county. The association has purchased several split log drags, and permission is now being sought from the supervisors of a township through which a strip of river road runs to use the drags in the repair of that highway. To back their part in the good roads work the members of the Motor club are raising funds with which to pay for the work undertaken by them, and which will be under the supervision of the club's officers. It is the intention to use the split-log drags after every rain throughout the summer. The efficacy of the split-log drag as a device with which to improve dirt roads is so generally recognized that autoists, horsemen and farmers are joining in the movement to spread its use.

Two Ways of Doing

In days ago, a builder dealt with a dozen different supply houses. He bought his brick and stone here, lumber there, glass elsewhere, and nails and bolts round the corner.

A building that didn't "jibe" was the usual result, but no one person could be blamed for it or held responsible.

In THESE days Mr. Builder does it differently. He makes his plans, orders everything from one complete supply house, and when the material comes, IT SUITS.

And you are here now, today, with the B. L. Co.—not yesterday with the dozen.

Pure Food

an essential to

Good Health

Nearly every state in the union, as well as the Federal Government, has realized the need, as well as the wisdom, of enacting PURE FOOD LAWS for the protection of the General Health of the public. In these days of ingenuity in all lines of manufacture, the processes for imitating the GENUINE, by placing inferior goods on the market, no where has been more widely practiced than in the general line of groceries and Food Products.

Inferior adulterations of all kinds abound. They are, to all appearance, pure and nourishing, but invariably are injurious, and in some cases fatal.

For many years the firm of SECHLER & CO., BELLEFONTE, has been a by-word and a God-send to the housewife for the reason that the name alone always was a guarantee of purity and quality in any thing that came from this famous grocery store.

The long experience in this one line enables SECHLER & CO. to buy intelligently and sell reliable groceries to those who appreciate the fact that PURE GROCERIES are the CHEAPEST FOOD, and an assurance of good health to the consumer.

What you buy from SECHLER & CO. is always right and the price consistent every day of the week, and every week of the year.

When you have intelligent consideration of your health, the matter of providing for your table should be the first to enlist your attention, and that is why SECHLER & CO.'S Grocery Store can supply every want.

Rockefeller Tells

How To

Grow Rich

HEALTHY ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN.

The first $50 John D. Rockefeller was able to save out of his wages as a farm hand he loaned to a neighboring farmer up in New York state at 7 per cent.

And to this day Mr. Rockefeller, who is now the richest man in the world, declares that the $50 which that $50 earned for him during the first year of the loan was the real foundation of his present fortune.

"It made me realize that it was not enough to work for money; that you must make money work for you," he says. "Seven per cent was not such a high rate of interest then, and $3.50 is not so very much money; but it was enough to impress upon me the importance of making money multiply itself.

"When I thought about the fact that I had added something to my store of wealth without turning over my hand, that I had grown richer without working I saw at once the necessity of adopting the aid to success. Of course hard work is the basis of all success, and saving is the corner stone of all wealth; but a man may be industrious and save, yet, if he does not know how to make his savings work for him, he will not reap the full reward of his labors

"Young men do not take this into consideration as they should. And young men do not realize the importance of saving something out of every dollar they make. It is not what a man makes, but what he saves, that counts in the end. This country is full of men getting good wages and fair salaries who will never be worth much money, because they have not learned how to save."

After reading the above the Bellefonte Trust Company invites you to investigate their savings fund department, where small deposits are received and interest is regularly paid thereon.

You can profit by Rockefeller's experience and advice by calling on the
