

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Friedman, wife of Dr. Lewis Friedman, of New York City, and her little daughter are visiting in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of Sunbury, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher.

Mrs. Frank Forcey, of Jersey Shore, was a recent visitor in Bellefonte at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Steele.

Harry Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Valentine, who had been quite ill at his home on Curtin street, is slowly recovering.

Miss Cella Haupt, of Philadelphia, arrived in Bellefonte on Friday, and is now the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haupt.

Livermyer A. Baum, of Bellefonte, furnished seventeen horses for the N. G. P. encampment, at Somerset, and they were all up to the scratch.

Miss Harriet Hastings, of near Bellefonte, has returned after spending a pleasant time at the home of her brother, Gray Hastings, at Avis.

Miss Eleanor Harris accompanied architect Russell Harris to Philadelphia on Tuesday afternoon. From there she will go to Cornwall, on the Hudson.

Miss Onmacht left Bellefonte on Tuesday afternoon for Buffalo, N. Y., and Detroit, Mich. At the latter place she will visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. York.

Harold Lingle left Bellefonte on Friday for DuBois, where he will take charge of a large automobile garage that is being opened by some capitalists of that city.

Miss Catherine Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Allison, is now at Spring Mills enjoying herself at the comfortable home of her uncle, Hon. William M. Allison.

John I. Potter, freight agent for the P. R. R. in Bellefonte, who had been seriously ill with heart trouble, is gradually improving. It is thought he will be out again in a short time.

Mrs. William Steele and son, Harvey, have been visiting the former's daughter, Mrs. Longue, of Lewistown. Frank Steele and wife, of Bellefonte, also spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Longue.

On Saturday afternoon Conductor Ross Parker and his two children, Eleanor and Mary, left for Somerset. Mr. Parker's old home; of course the N. G. P. encampment was the main attraction.

Register Earl C. Tuten returned from Atlantic City on Tuesday night. Wonder what the wild waves said to him that he returned before his vacation was over? It might have been that the salt water didn't agree with him.

Mrs. Samuel Stuart, of Union Star, Mo., is now visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Kirk, on west High street. She has quite a number of friends both in Centre and Clearfield counties whom she will visit before returning home.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith left Bellefonte to make a short visit at Johnstown, at the home of Mr. Smith's brother, William Smith. On Sunday they took in the N. G. P. encampment. From there they went to Pittsburgh.

On Thursday morning of next week a special train will leave the depot of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania at 8:15 o'clock, to accommodate all those who desire to attend the Reformed reunion of Nittany Valley which will take place at Hecla park.

Rash Irvin, of Bellefonte, has about recovered from a slight accident he met with while unloading shingles at the plant of the Bellefonte Lumber Co. He slipped from a car and sprained his ankle to the extent that he was on the "rinky-dink" for a few days. He is now able to be around as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fisher came down from Boalsburg on Monday morning to Bellefonte and took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John I. Olewine. They left on that afternoon for their home in Altoona. This practically finishes their honeymoon, and the groom will have to think of something else for awhile.

John Morrison, clerk in Shaeffer's grocery store, is now the proud father of a little daughter. If he is a little nervous and lets the potatoes run to the side of the half-bushel instead of getting them inside he is excusable. The first baby always has a tendency to make a young man's head swim but as time advances he gets use to it.

About 2 o'clock Sunday morning some one knocked at the home of Mrs. William Dawson and asked for the doctor, meaning, of course, Dr. John Sebring, who formerly lived there. Harvey Griffith, who boards there, says he had just gotten sound asleep when the thump came. Harvey's friends think that a pretty late hour to be just getting into a dose.

William Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, was an early caller at this office on Monday morning. He was on his way to Marsh Creek to finish up an eighty-foot iron bridge which will be erected out there near what is known as the Kune's crossing. It was set on trestles until after the abutments had been built, and his work this week was to let the big mass of iron down on its firm foundation and then paint it.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fosnot and Mrs. W. S. Taylor, of Lewistown, came to Bellefonte on Sunday in an automobile and took dinner at the Bush House. Mr. Fosnot is the Junior Editor of the Democrat and Sentinel, one of the newest daily and weekly papers in the interior of the state. The paper has been such a phenomenal success that the proprietors have purchased a lot in the centre of the town on which they will erect a three-story building, containing all modern improvements for getting out a daily and weekly paper.

Mrs. Henry C. Quigley and her three children left Wednesday afternoon for New York State where she will visit at her old home.

Mrs. William Rishel, who had been visiting her parents, William Kramer and wife, left for her home in Pittsburgh on Tuesday afternoon.

As has been our custom a number of prominent advertisers were refused space in this issue, because it is a newspaper and isn't an advertising sheet.

The Centre Democrat has twice as many readers in Centre county as any other paper published in Bellefonte. Will some one dispute this statement?

Hunter Knisely, of Bellefonte, who has been quite ill with heart trouble, had another sinking spell on Tuesday which may prove fatal. His condition is alarming.

Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and her sister, Mrs. Huber, who had been visiting at the Hamilton home, left Tuesday afternoon for Williamsport where they will visit friends.

An ice cream and cake social will be held by the ladies of the local Rebekah Lodge, at the home of Mr. James Summers, on Friday evening. All are cordially invited.

Work on the Court House, the new school building and an addition to the hospital indicates local pride about Bellefonte. Be a booster—"knockers" are of no use to our town.

Mrs. Clyde Frank, nee Miss Mary Martin, of Jersey Shore, is visiting her parents and friends in Bellefonte. She is a very nice young lady, and her acquaintances here are glad to see her.

Misses Anna and Sarah Shuey and Martha McClure left Tuesday afternoon for Altoona and Curwensville on an extended visit. It goes without a question that they will have a delightful time.

Mrs. Arthur Miller, of Erie, who had been visiting in Bellefonte, at the home of Orit Miller, left Saturday for her home. She was accompanied by Miss A. nie Bechdel. There will be a very lovely young man here until the latter returns.

Ed. Haupt, of Bellefonte, has been skinning a bad eye of late. The trouble is he was trying to fix a fence and the fence flew up and fixed him, just like something else is going to fix him later. It was fortunate that the fence didn't knock his eye out.

Mrs. M. A. Kirk left Wednesday for Clearfield, where she is visiting friends.

Envoys M. Schofield, of Franklin, Pa., is visiting her many friends in Bellefonte this week.

Mrs. Margaret Hutchison and daughter Fannie are among those who are attending the big Methodist rally which is being held today at Lakemont Park, near Altoona. They have visitors there from all over Pennsylvania.

Leathers Bros., the real estate people, who have been booming State College the past year are arranging for a large lot sale in August and will make it a big outing, with plenty of amusements for all who attend. They have an important announcement in this issue.

Capt. Craig, of the local Salvation Army, preached his farewell sermon Sunday night, and left this week for her home in New England, where she will take a needed rest. While in Bellefonte she did a large amount of good work which the public knows nothing about. She is an excellent lady and her services here will be missed.

On Wednesday morning a traveling man at the Bush House, upon hearing that George Freeman had a strong affinity for trading old watches, knives and jewelry, suggested to George that they match for a 25-cent water melon which W. H. Macker was selling out of a car at half price. George was game and he got the melon, and he was as proud as if he had won a big fortune.

A. G. Morris and family are now comfortably located in their new home, which they recently purchased from W. C. Lingle, who has moved to Philadelphia. Mr. Morris is delighted with his purchase and thinks he is now settled for the balance of his life. He says should he want a little change he will slip down South, but Bellefonte will hereafter be his permanent home.

Despite the fact that a public official in Bellefonte is in the habit of denouncing the Bellefonte hospital on our streets, declaring that it is not fit for either himself or any of his guild to enter, nevertheless, on Tuesday the Board of Directors deemed the need of the balance of humanity sufficient to proceed with the erection of the new extension to the present hospital building which now is overcrowded, and on Tuesday ground was broken for that purpose.

Mrs. Emil Roth, who resides up along the mountain, on this side of the old mill works, comes near being the champion snake killer in this section. The other day she went out to feed her chickens where she found a snake entertaining the young chickens. Mrs. Roth quickly seized a garden spade and with it quickly killed the reptile. It measured six feet, four inches in length and was correspondingly large in circumference.

The Saturday nights are bright at the opera house. During the pictures music by the pianist, and after each picture the orchestra entertains you. You can spend an hour most profitably, besides see a class of pictures not often seen in any town of its size. We want to impress upon all the security and safety of all the patrons. There are plenty of exits, and every attention is paid to the comfort of everyone. Children can go alone and rest assured of the most careful attention. Don't miss this coming Saturday night.

On Wednesday W. H. Macker, the grocer, received a car load of water melons on consignment. On looking them over he found there were two many small ones, so he refused to take them. The grocer from whom he purchased them directed him to get the freight out of them. For awhile they could be bought for a song. He finally began selling them at wholesale when Lauerbach & Co., the wholesale grocers doubted his right to sell them in that way and undertook to stop him. Mr. Macker claimed his state license covered that point and he went on disposing of the melons at prices that made one's mouth water—15 cents bought a good one and the largest sold for 20 and 25 cents.

Lewis Geisert, inspector for the Mergenthaler Linotype company, of New York City, was a business visitor in Bellefonte Friday. Mr. Geisert inspects the company's product in eight states, making the round each nine months. In performing his duty he was a caller at the Centre Democrat office and made a thorough examination and inspection of the Linotype here. After making a few minor suggestions, for doing better work, he pronounced it one of the best machines now being operated anywhere. This, of course, is the best testimony that we do not have a white elephant on our hands as a certain tribe of degenerates in Bellefonte would have the people believe. No, it's the genuine stuff, as we have been demonstrating in the Centre Democrat for the last four or five weeks.

Big drop in wheat—down to $1.10. Misses $2 tan and black oxfords now $1.25. At Yeagers.

The Lutheran congregation of Bellefonte are repairing the exterior of their church on the corner of Allegheny and Linn streets. That is, the crumbled brick are being replaced by new ones. When it is erected soft brick was used which has since caused the congregation much trouble and expense.

Budd Harper and Russel Blair are now busy getting up a cast for a home talent musical extravaganza entitled "Fantasia." It will be given in Garmen's opera house the second week in August for the benefit of the local Y. M. C. A. It will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Erhart, of New York City.

Recently John Lester, son of D. W. Showalter, of near Bellefonte, fell from a cherry tree, a distance of about twenty feet, fracturing both bones in his left arm. Only a short time before the young man had part of a finger on his left hand severed by the knife of a mower. He is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. P. Goldberg, of Philadelphia, who spent three weeks in Bellefonte as the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. Finklestein, left for her home on Friday. She came up here to see her little granddaughter and would have gone home a week sooner had it not been that Mrs. Finklestein had been quite ill. She is now somewhat better.

Little Catherine Rine, daughter of Mrs. Pat Rine, came near drowning in Gamble, Gheen & Co's race on Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock. She was going across the footbridge, near the P. R. R. freight station when she made a misstep and in she went. Mr. Kennedy, a flagman on the local freight, happened to see her fall and he quickly pulled her out. The little girl was almost frightened to death. Outside of a bath she was all right.

Miss Anna and Christine Blanchard, daughters of the late Edmund and Mary Blanchard, of Chicago, are in Bellefonte on their annual visit. At the conclusion of their visit here Miss Anna will go to Lock Haven to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. G. G. Green while Miss Christine will go east for a month's visit with friends about Philadelphia and New Jersey and before returning home will attend the wedding of Miss Jennie Brees and Mr. Baker at Downingtown. Mrs. George Bible, who had been spending a few weeks in Bellefonte as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Benjamin Bradley, left on Tuesday afternoon for her home in Philadelphia.

Every thing is going on with perfect harmony at the "Scenic." The place was recently inspected by a state inspector who found that our friend Brown was running an up-to-date moving picture show. He said it was one of the best conducted in Pennsylvania which was putting a feather in Clay's cap all right. Some of the best and newest pictures are now being shown there each night which are worth three times a half dime to see. It's a great show, and none should miss it.

A Modern Street Fair. The modern street fair is pronounced by the Altoona Tribune an unmitigated nuisance, and hopes the authorities of that city will never again grant permission for one to exhibit in that city. This is the kind of a combination that tried to get a franchise of the streets of Bellefonte when Dr. M. A. Kirk and C. C. Shuey made it so hot for them that they went elsewhere. No thank you, we don't want 'em. It's too rich for our blood.

Look on Every Page. Owing to an unusual amount of local news and demand for advertising space in this issue we are compelled to omit two leading features—the Roosevelt Hunting Stories, also Pastor Russel's sermon.
