

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. John King, of Centre Hall, a sister of Mrs. Morris, of near Bellefonte, has been visiting friends in Pittsburgh.

William H. Rumberger, of DuBois, has moved to Bellefonte and is now occupying one of the Schad houses on Spring street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Cooke and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward drove over to Old Fort on Tuesday evening and partook of a delicious supper.

Mrs. Michael Hoffman and Miss Jeannet Aronsberg, of Philadelphia, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. Finklostine, left for their home in Philadelphia on Monday.

N. H. Tressler, of Swissvale, gave our sanctum a call. Having been a patient in the Bellefonte hospital he was enabled to return to Swissvale again, improved in health.

H. S. Ray, proprietor of the Brockhoff House, Geo. A. Beezer, and Col. H. S. Taylor, of Bellefonte, with W. H. Spang, of Lexington, Ky., went over to Clearfield last week to attend the races. They made the trip in Beezer's automobile.

Belmont Beck, inspector of the Bell Telephone Co., at Philadelphia, was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday. He is a son of C. S. Beck, of Nittany, and is one of the young men in Centre county who is making himself felt in the world.

Wm. M. Duff, superintendent of the Pittsburgh agency of the equitable Life Insurance Society, U. S., was the over Sunday guest of J. S. McCarger. While here he took in the sights at Penn Cave, which he pronounced one of the rarest treats of his life.

Mrs. Reeser, wife of the late John Reeser, of Snow Shoe, who came to Bellefonte four months ago to live, has decided to go to State College, where she will make her home with her daughter. Mrs. Reeser is a most excellent lady, and while here made many friends.

The honey bees of veteran Emanuel Noll are still doing business finely and sweetly, as ever, at the old stand, of which we have the evidence by two boxes Mr. Noll had the kindness to present to the Democrat, in accordance with his time-honored practice. His bees in all these years have never gone back on their master who so well knows how to care for them that they do an abundance of the sweet thing for him without a sting.

Saturday afternoon Hon. C. P. Rynder attempted to step on a moving train at the P. R. R. station, in Bellefonte, when he lost his hold and came near falling under the cruel wheels. Harry Taylor, the Adams' express agent, just caught him in time. He received no harm but he was badly frightened. He is a man to be especially on a moving train. The scene almost curdled the blood of the spectators.

The impression has been made in Bellefonte that those interested in the erection of the new tank glass works here are soliciting money for the enterprise without giving any return. This is incorrect as all who take stock will be guaranteed by a preferred stock bond, with a guarantee of 7 per cent. interest. The workmen will erect the building themselves and do much of the other work in perfecting the plant, so that the only outlay will be the money for purchasing lumber and tanks. The stockholder will be secured by first bonds on the plant. Those who have the enterprise in charge claim they are making good headway perfecting their plans.

After being connected with the business for a period of twenty-nine years, John M. Bullock has now become a member of the firm of Montgomery & Co., clothiers and gents furnishers at this place. The other members are Hassel Montgomery and his mother, now the widow of the late C. Frank Montgomery. The two young men will have direct charge of the store, which for many years has had a prestige as clothiers in this section of the state. Of late we have noticed an air of hustle and improvement which indicates that new energy and young blood will make this place more popular than ever. We can safely predict for them a successful future.

Will Gathagan, of Jersey City, was in Bellefonte recently trying to see if the town looks anything like it did when he left here forty-four years ago, and as this is his first trip here since that time he naturally finds many changes. He is a marble cutter by trade, and when residing in Bellefonte lived and had his place of business where Mrs. Nannie Orblison lives on Spring street. After Mrs. Orblison moved there the old sheds, where he worked, were torn away. "Billy" looked, with astonishment, at the improvement at what was known as "Strychnine Corner" on the site of which is the Alkens' block. It was named that because of the booze sold there and the frequent deprecations that were committed in the vicinity. Often, at night, it was unsafe for a lady to be in that section of the town.

Last week County Commissioner John Dunlap, Hon. J. C. Meyer, P. Gray Meek, John Blanchard, Esq., and Miles Walker were among the Centre county Democrats who attended the notification meeting in Williamsport. On their return Messrs. Dunlap and Blanchard met with a little accident. From Lock Haven they went to Mill Hill in the trolley. It was dark when they reached the terminus at Mill Hill and before the car stopped the conductor started to prepare for the reversing of the car. The lights went out and naturally the passengers thought they were at their destination, and started to leave the car, which had not stopped. In trying to get off these two gentlemen were thrown to the ground. Dunlap had his wrist sprained while Blanchard received some slight bruises. No, they weren't.

Mrs. Harry Hughes, of Yeagertown, Mifflin county, is visiting in Bellefonte and vicinity.

Miss Katherine Bertolet, of Philadelphia, who had been making an extended visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Malory, left Monday afternoon for her home in Philadelphia.

Frank Berghoff, wife and baby, who had been making quite an extended visit in Bellefonte as the guests of Dr. J. M. Leck and wife, returned Monday noon to their home in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reese, of Patton, who had been visiting the former's parents, Deputy Collector, G. W. Reese and wife, left Monday noon for their home after a pleasant stay here.

John Gilmore, of New York City, who spent several days in Bellefonte as the guest of his brother, Charles Gilmore, left Monday afternoon for America's greatest metropolis. While here he had a pleasant time.

Ollie Campbell, of Barnesboro, spent Sunday with friends in Bellefonte and left Monday afternoon for his home accompanied by his wife and son, Lee, who had been visiting friends in Centre county for three weeks.

Cleaud Hill, of Philadelphia, who gave several exhibitions on the mandoline in the scenic recently, left Monday afternoon for the Quaker City. He is an expert musician and the entertainments he gave here were appreciated.

Eugene McGorgery, of Nesquehoning, Pa., is now running as mailcarrier in the Central Pennsylvania R. R. in the place of Thomas Kosser who is off on a two weeks vacation. Curt Taylor, Jr., is piloting him around and showing him the sights.

After a siege of sickness Hastings Gatzert is able to be out. He was never thicker than a telephone pole but he now looks like a bean pole, having lost considerable flesh. He is gaining strength right along and he will soon be himself again.

R. B. Taylor is still blasting away in the rear of the court house; on Monday afternoon big boulders, weighing several tons, were thrown about twenty feet. The work is tedious but they will get there finally, but not in the time they expected.

On Saturday evening the Methodists of Coleville will hold a festival on the lawn adjoining the church. Ice cream, cake, fruits and candies will be served. The church is in need of money and you, in this way can contribute a little towards a good cause.

William Wolf, a cousin of Frank Bradford, and his wife, of Hollidaysburg, were visiting in Bellefonte over Sunday at the Bradford home on Spring street. He was formerly from Chambersburg, formerly the home of a number of Bellefonters.

Charles P. Hilder, who twenty years ago was an ornamental sign painter in Bellefonte, was a guest of Frank Galbraith, on Bishop street, from Friday until Monday noon when he left for his home in Philadelphia. Since leaving here he has been to the Pacific coast and all through the south. He looks well and says the world has been very good to him since leaving here.

A short time ago the six-year old son of James Pacini, of Wimer, Somerset county, was bitten several places by a mad dog. His condition is still such as to cause alarm. It is stated that several times since he has been bitten he showed signs of becoming a victim of hydrophobia but it has thus far been suppressed. The father of the young man is the late John Pacini, of Bellefonte, and is well known here. It is to be hoped the young man will permanently recover.

A large number of men are now employed in picking peaches in Col. W. Fred Reynolds's orchards, near Bellefonte. Samuel Beaver, a fruit dealer, of Harrisburg, purchased fifteen hundred baskets, and on Tuesday shipped a carload by express. On Friday four hundred baskets were shipped away, some going to Harrisburg, Williamsport, Pottsville, Clearfield and other places. These peaches are of a good quality and on account of their scarcity in the country they are in great demand. The fact that these orchards are bearing so bountifully this year is something very unusual, as peach orchards rarely bear fruit two seasons in succession as these have done.

Last week we mentioned the fact that the Logan Fire Company, of Bellefonte, returned from the recent Firemen's District Convention at Jersey Shore without a prize, although they were entitled to it. We have since been informed that Jersey Shore firemen had it in for Bellefonte because they failed to secure a prize when the convention was held in Bellefonte several years ago. Under the circumstances the Bellefonte boys might have worn suits trimmed with gold and they would have gotten nothing. The Bellefonte band captured a prize, but instead of getting $55 they were given only $25. The truth of the matter is it was nothing but a cheap skate convention, and it is to be hoped that Osceola, where next year's convention will be held, will size up the situation better.

The audiences at the Scenic, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Clason, are increasing ten per cent. These cool evenings. We include Mrs. Brown because she has done much to make the business a success. Her smiling countenance is at the ticket with low every evening which makes the patrons feel at home. On the outside of the ticket box is a sign stating that children over five years must pay the regular admission. The people can't fool Mr. Brown like they often do railroad conductors by hiding their children under the seat. You pay before you go in, thus there's no chance to hide anybody under the seat. Well, the pictures are worth the money so what the difference. Mr. Brown has given our people a better show than in most of our cities and to keep it up he must have the "filthy lucre." That's what makes the mare go, "Billy" Laye's illustrated songs, still have a pleasing effect on the large audience, and he receives loud applause.

Charles McCabe, of Philadelphia, is visiting at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Dawson.

W. S. Furst, Esq., of Philadelphia, is a guest at the Furst residence on Linn street.

Miss Helen Schelenberger, who had been making an extended visit at the residence of Squire and Mrs. John Keichline, left Tuesday afternoon for her home in Philadelphia. Her visit was an enjoyable one.

Boyd Nolan and his wife have returned from Pittsburgh where they spent a week with friends. Probably it was his leaving that busted the Central Pennsylvania Base Ball League as he was one of the boys who whooped'er up.

Company B of Bellefonte will participate in the demonstration, at Huntingdon, Pa., September 9th. The boys are scheduled to leave Bellefonte by special train in the morning and join other companies at Tyrone. The Bellefonte motor club is preparing to make a run to Huntingdon on the 7th.

Mrs. Eliza Stewart, of Union Star, Mo., who had been making her stopping place for the last five weeks at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Kirk, left Monday afternoon for her home. Mrs. Stewart was born and raised near Bellefonte. Thus her time was pleasantly spent in going around renewing old acquaintances, many of whom reside in the vicinity of Pleasant Gap. She is an intelligent lady and her visit here was much enjoyed.

On Sunday morning it is expected that Rev. Wm. Bible, son of ex-Recorder Frank Bible, will fill the Presbyterian pulpit. He is a graduate of the Bellefonte High School, and since leaving here has spent several years as a missionary in China. In a couple of weeks he expects to return and make that his home. He is a good speaker and should be greeted by a good sized congregation. Dr. Platts will preach in the evening.

For some time past Jerry Shutt, of Bellefonte, has been acting very strangely and Dr. David Dale, Kline Woodring and J. H. Lingle were appointed by the court to inquire into his mental condition. They adjudged him insane; the court ordered him to be taken to the asylum at Danville. This decree will be carried out today by Sheriff Husley. At one time Mr. Shutt was one of Bellefonte's best citizens, and it is very sad that the affliction has come upon him.

Mrs. Florence S. Rearick announces the marriage of her daughter, Verna Viola, to Edward Lichtig. The young couple are home at 5043 Chestnut street, Philadelphia. The bride is the daughter of late J. Frank Rearick, and is well known in Penns Valley, where she was born and raised. The groom, during the time that President Taft was Gov. General of the Philippine Island, was appointed secretary-treasurer of the combined provinces of Lepanto-Bontoc, which provinces are the homes of the Igorotes. Mr. and Mrs. Lichtig and Mrs. Rearick just came east from Seattle, Washington, and September 20th they will sail from New York for Buenos Ayre, South America, from which point they will proceed to Paraguay, where Mr. Lichtig and his partner, H. J. Black, have a railroad concession covering four hundred miles north and south out of Asuncion which is in the course of development.

DAVID A. RICHARDS—died Aug. 28th at the age of 35 years, 2 months, 3 days. He contracted a heavy cold which terminated into typhoid pneumonia and after three weeks of suffering passed away. ALICE TUBEN—the ten months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Tuben, died Sunday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock at the family home on Penn street, Bellefonte. It was a victim of cholera infantum, a disease that is sort of epidemic in this community. The family has been robbed of a bright and interesting little child who will be sadly missed. The parents looked forward to the day when the little one would bloom into young womanhood and be a source of great comfort to them, but an alwise Providence has deemed it otherwise and they will submit. Surviving are the parents and little brother, Terie. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment in Union cemetery.

REV. G. W. FORTNEY—a former Centre county boy, and a brother of D. P. Fortney, Esq., died at his home in Suffern, N. Y., on Monday the 30th inst., of paralysis, with which he had been afflicted for about three months. Mr. Fortney was a native of Potter township, Centre county, being born along the South side of Nittany Mountain in 1845. In 1859 his father moved with his family to Ferguson township, and his early life was spent on the farm during the summer, and in the public schools in the winter. Then later he was a student in turn at the academies at Boalsburg, Pine Grove Mills, and at Penn Hall. From the latter school he was prepared for college and in the fall of 1868, he entered Pennsylvania College at Gettysburg, from which he was graduated in June 1872, as one of the honor men of his class, delivering the Latin Salutatory. It was his purpose when he entered college to prepare himself for the ministry in the Lutheran church. He steadily held to this purpose and after teaching school at different places, one of them being Centre Hall, for several years, he was ordained as a minister of the Gospel in 1880 or '81, and his first charge was at Chattam, N. Y. He served successively and successfully the charges of Ancram, Athens, Wurttemberg, N. Y., Turbotville, Pa., and then at Suffern, N. Y. He was successful both as a teacher and preacher, and there are now many men and women in all the communities in which he preached who will hear of his death with the keenest regret, and drop a tear of affection to his memory. HAD NO ENEMIES. It is not much to say of a man that he had never an enemy, says an exchange. You could write that over a cabbage head. It would be appropriate on an essay on mush or a panegyric on putty. It makes a first-class epitaph above a grave of an ox. If you never did anything to make anybody mad at you, you have been called a man merely through courtesy. You should apply for a place as a dummy in the window of a clothing store.
