

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

The bricklayers have the first story of the new addition to the hospital up and the work is being rapidly done. Miss Mary White, stenographer in McCormick's law office, at Williamsport, spent Sunday and Monday with friends in Bellefonte. The venerable Isaac Miller, of Bellefonte, was a recent guest of his daughter, Mrs. Ed. Moore, at Tyrone. Of course, he attended the races. William P. Humes left Saturday afternoon for Duluth, Minn., where he went to look after some very valuable timber lands in which he has an interest. Emanuel Noll is now a guest of his daughter, Mrs. North at Clark Lake, Mich., when he returns his friends will find that he has developed into an expert fisherman. Howard R. Ruger, formerly of Bellefonte, but who has been running the Star Theatre in Phillipsburg, went to New York recently and contracted for a series of vaudeville attractions. He's a hustler. Charles F. Cook left Saturday for Pittsburg where he will spend a part of his week's vacation with his children, Harris Cook and Mrs. Benjamin Curry. From there he may go to Buffalo, N. Y. and Niagara Falls. L. A. Freeman, marker in Strawn's broker office, left Saturday for his home in Scottsdale where he remained until Monday evening. Monday being Labor day there was no market, so he thought he would take a little vacation. Mrs. Wilber H. Baney and her sister, Miss Florence Lamb, are now visiting friends in Baltimore, Md. Wilber is again his own boss for a short time. We don't mean that he hasn't the nicest wife in the world but every married man wants to be alone once in awhile. Mrs. Web. Kerstetter and her two daughters, who had been visiting several weeks at her parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Furey, left Saturday for their home. The girls would like to have stayed with their parents longer but they had to go home to commence school. James Barnhart, who is acting cashier for the Bellefonte First National Bank, left Monday afternoon for Bedford Springs where he attended the State Bankers' convention. Naturally he went there for the purpose of getting a few pointers, thus he will return better equipped to pursue the daily routine of his business. Mr. and Mrs. Fossil, from Pittsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Steinkirchner, of Driffting, were visitors over Sunday at the home of Wm. McGowan at Reopburg, and were accompanied home by their daughter Marie, who was called home Wednesday on account of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. McGowan, who is much improved at this time. Calvin A. Huss, of Spring Mills, was a pleasing caller at this office Friday. He is traveling over the county with his moving picture show which is sizing up all right. He understands the business and is giving a good show in every town in which he stops. He draws large crowds because he has nothing but up-to-date pictures. Harry Yearick, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday in Hubersburg as the guest of his mother, Mrs. William Yearick. He is employed by Uncle Sam as mail agent on one of the passenger trains that leaves the Capitol City. Mr. Yearick, before going to Harrisburg, was employed at a teacher in the Bellefonte public schools, and he was a good one. Roads & Knisely, the contractors, of Bellefonte, received the contract for erecting large abutments and piers for a railroad bridge at Orviston for the Hayes Run Fire Brick Company. They shipped their concrete mixer, engine, etc., there this week and are pushing the work right along. They will likely have quite a bit of other work about the plant, which now is being rebuilt. They are reliable workmen, and find plenty to do. On Thursday and Friday, Oct. 14 and 15 the 49th P. V., will hold a reunion at Harrisburg. Among those in Bellefonte who belong to this regiment, and who attend are W. H. Taylor and Charles Eckenroth. Col. H. S. Taylor will be there and make an address. The Capitol City is a splendid place to hold a reunion of this character, as from that city went thousands of the boys in blue who fought, bled and died for the defense of their country. The other day Sheriff Woodring, of Bellefonte, had business with George Erte, of near Jacksonsville, and he brought back the following story: He says Mr. Erte has a flock of trained ducks that follow the cattle to the pasture field every day. When the cattle get tired eating and lie down to rest these ducks will pick the flies off them. Two or three ducks will get on one cow, and as quick as a fly lights on them they pick it off, thus allowing them rest with comfort. Mr. Erte thinks he gets better milk from these cows because they have not been tormented almost to death. On Saturday John Hishel, the prosperous Benner township farmer, dropped in our office to say that Cook, the famous Arctic explorer, had finally selected the best place for the Quay statue, and that was on the end of the North Pole, where nobody would ever see it. "Those are my sentiments" said Rev. James P. Hughes, who sat on our right. Then Rev. Richard Crittenden, in his Bulletin made the same suggestion. The crime of the twentieth century is putting up a monument to the memory of a man so steeped in crime and degradation as was Matthew S. Quay, whose name brings forth memories of the men whom he forced to commit suicide to cover up deeds that would have forced him to wear strips in the penitentiary. The monument ought to be entitled "Pennsylvania's Disgrace." Bols Penross can read between the lines what the people will think of him after he is laid under the sod. Isn't that a bright picture to look forward to?

"Girls will be Girls" on Friday evening at the opera house. Miss Blanch Irvin, of Mill Hall, has been elected to teach the grammar school at Milesburg. Mrs. Frederick Topelt, nee Miss Bess Brouse, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Brouse, on Thomas street. Jacob Knisely and family have moved from the James McClure house to the house on South Spring recently vacated by Joseph Wise and family. Edmund Hayes has accepted the position in the office of Col. H. S. Taylor made vacant by the resignation of Harry J. Jackson. They say Eddie is making good. The Bellefonte public schools opened on Monday. The mother of the town will be on double turn. It is said that the attendance will be larger than last year. Ex-Governor Hanley, of Indiana, is expected in Bellefonte within the next few weeks, and when he comes everybody should make it a point to hear him speak. Mr. and Mrs. Philip McGinley and their pretty little daughter Ruth, of Baltimore, Md., are visiting at Mrs. McGinley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Caldwell, of Milesburg. H. F. Bartley and wife, of this place, have returned from an extended visit, taking in Altoona, Beaver Falls, Liverpool, Ohio, Rock Springs, W. Va. They had a fine time; enjoyed the visit greatly. Mrs. Boal, widow of the late Rev. James W. Boal, of Centre Hall, who has spent the past year or so in Jasper, Minn., arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday with the intention of spending the winter here. Miss Anna Hoffer, of Phillipsburg, after quite an extended stay with her aunt, Mrs. Lewis Wetzel, in Toledo, returned home Thursday afternoon. She is a grand-daughter of Mr. C. L. Gerbrick, of Bellefonte. Love Lane was a winner recently in the first rounds at the tennis tournament of the Altoona Cricket and Golf Club. He brought home three silver cups, trophies of his victories in the tennis tournament, at Franklin. S. D. Ray, Esq., and daughter Harriet left last Friday on a ten day's trip to Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City. Mr. Ray is going as much on business as pleasure and took his daughter along for the pleasure part of it. Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Griffith, of Philadelphia, are so well pleased with Bellefonte that they have decided to spend the winter here. They will shake the dust of Bellefonte, off their feet by the 15th of September. It now looks as if something will be done out at the Nittany furnace. The price of iron is getting to where it can be made in Bellefonte at a profit. The impression is if these furnaces start they will keep moving for several years. This prospect cannot come any too quick. William Hurley, father of Sheriff W. C. Hurley, of Phillipsburg, and Mrs. Isabelle Hartze, of Mo., the Sheriff's aunt, left Bellefonte on Monday for Phillipsburg after visiting in Bellefonte for two weeks. They are pleasant people and while here made many friends. Chas. Triple, who had been spending a short time here as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Harry Yeager, left Monday afternoon for many of the cities of the east in the interest of the Penn match factory. That is, he is an agent for the firm who handles their matches. He is a hustler and sells all that can be made here. The opera house is prepared for an unusual crowd next Saturday night and on Sunday. The most delightful place to spend an hour. The pictures are of the highest class and great care is taken to avoid the offensive. Christy Smith, with his orchestra, will be there and that of itself is a most popular entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Fleming have located in Harrisburg where the former is now a teacher in the High School. He is a good man at the business and will finally come out jay bird. We shouldn't wonder if he would some day permanently locate in the Capital City as a lawyer. All he wants to do is to get into the swim and he will go along with the current. Rev. M. L. Ganoe, who entered the ministry from Phillipsburg about thirty-five years ago, will be there to preach the morning sermon at the M. E. church on Sunday, September 12th, the opening day of Old Home Week. He has always been a great favorite with the people, over there. He is also well and favorably known in Bellefonte where he preached a number of times. Miss Eloise Schuyler, daughter of Rev. W. H. Schuyler, of Centre Hall, who has been in Bellefonte the past seven weeks helping to take care of her mother who has been undergoing treatment in the Bellefonte hospital, left Friday for Cape May, N. J., to resume her labors as teacher in the high school at that place, which opened for the ensuing term this week. Mrs. Schuyler, by the way, is improving very slowly. Henry Kline, the Bellefonte shoe dealer, has made such rapid progress since he has been in business that he needs larger quarters to this end he has leased the room on South Allegheny street now occupied by M. C. Gephart, the music dealer. If he can find a sub-tenant for his present room on High street he will make the change on March 1st. It is understood that Mr. Gephart will remain in Bellefonte, but will secure another location for his store. The advance agent of "Girls will be Girls," informs us that the play has been on the road five seasons, and that it was originally produced at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, where it had a long and successful run. We knew that before he came in, as we peruse the dramatic papers occasionally. This truthful advance agent also told us that one week last winter, when "Girls will be Girls" was playing at the Grand Opera House in New York, five old gentlemen fractured their maxillary bones from laughter, seven old maids got hysterics from the same cause, and fifteen of the chorus eloped with millionaires. Those scribes who have seen the show recently say that it's a hummer, full of good clean fun, and a chorus as pretty as Delaware peaches. We like fun and peaches so next Friday Sept. 10th we will be ourselves to Garman's Opera House and find out that the advance agent told the truth.

Had eight showers in August—total precipitation, 5.47 inches. Ex-commissioner Calvin Weaver favored our sanction with a call on on Friday. No high winds, rigs or autos can raise the dust on High street where it has been given an oiling. Mr. and Mrs. John Furst and little daughter, Louise, have been visiting at the Furst home, on Linn street. Mrs. James McClain, of Massillon, Ohio, spent Sabbath in Bellefonte as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Harris. Next Sunday a turkey dinner will be served at Grange Park by James Decker, who will conduct the boarding house. Charles Lytle, of Stormstown, was a pleasant caller at this office on Wednesday. He, with Nelson Frank, of the same place, left for Niagara Falls. "Girls will be Girls" at the opera house on Friday evening. This is the opening attraction for the season and has the assurance of being something good. A full assortment of household goods will be sold at the home of the late Mrs. Clara B. Crider, deceased, on east Bishop street, on Saturday, September 18th, at 1 p. m. Today the Bellefonte Academy opens for the fall term. Prof. Hughes has secured a large number of students many of them being from Pittsburg. All the instructors are back again, among them being Miss Isabel Hill, who returned on Wednesday. Mrs. W. H. Galway, of Bradford, Pa., who spent a couple of months in Bellefonte as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Henry Harris, left Wednesday for Reading, where she will spend a week with her brother, James Harris. She was accompanied by her son, Stanley. From there they will return home. Recently Register Earl C. Tuten took an automobile trip to Harrisburg, in the interest of the Mull estate, at Phillipsburg. They went to Lewistown and then down through the narrows to Millin. It was a nice ride and the beauty of it was it didn't cost him one red penny. All he had to do was to sit up straight, look wise, smoke good cigars and his hosts did the rest. James Pierpont is interested in having a large cement plant locate at Bellefonte that would use furnace slag principally in manufacturing their product. All that is asked from the town is a free site, near the Bellefonte Furnace. It would give employment to about fifty men, and has strong financial backing. The location would be rather expensive, but our people are carefully considering the proposition. How About This Chance? Park College, one of the best in the land, is located in Kansas and has educated more missionaries and Presbyterian ministers than, perhaps, any other college in this country. W. F. Bible, who was in Bellefonte recently, is a worthy example of the men the institution is in the habit of turning out. The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, has raised money for a scholarship in this institution which is waiting for some young lady or gentleman to accept. This institution has a farm of four hundred acres of land with a fine campus. The young man who has not the money to put himself through college can go there and work four or five hours a day and the time will be credited to him on tuition and board. The balance of the day is put in studying and reciting. This is an opportunity for some progressive young man to make himself an influential power in the world. Who will it be? Burning the Dead. Giant funeral pyres are burning in Monterey, Mex., following orders of the federal health authorities that bodies of the victims drowned in Sunday's flood be cremated. In three days 1,500 bodies have been recovered, according to dispatches received. The complete death list, these dispatches say, will reach more than 10,000. Hundreds of bodies have been found in lagoons left by the floods below the city. These bodies are decomposing and sickness has broken out. For the reason the authorities are making every effort to restore sanitary conditions and the order to burn the bodies was issued. Balloon Drops Lincoln Pennies. A huge balloon passed over Clearfield Friday morning in a southeasterly direction, and while so doing a note was dropped, in which the balloonist said he was taking part in an endurance test, and that he had started from Cleveland, O. on September 1st. He did not give his name. The note came down in an envelope which contained a dozen or more new Lincoln pennies as a weight. About 8 o'clock Friday night a balloon with a brilliant light passed over the Bald Eagle mountains and Pennsylvania railroad station at Beech Creek, and was probably the same balloon referred to above. Should be Prosecuted. The Pennsylvania narrows road, from Woodward to the Centre county line, some three miles, is kept in excellent condition for travel. The road on the Union county side, some four miles, is abominable, has too many loose stones to make it pleasurable for traveling, but it is passable. The east end should at least be in as good condition as the Centre county portion. That road is a discredit to Union county, always has been and we doubt if it will be improved until someone prosecutes them—and it should be done. Hospital Notes. Dolan Wellers, son of David Wellers, of Milesburg, had a partial amputation of three fingers of the left hand, on Wednesday. Miss Rhoda Dillen, of Bellefonte, admitted for treatment. Mrs. Maggie Crawford was able to return to her home in Centre Hall. Mrs. Florence Ogden, of Snow Sho, operation for appendicitis. Mrs. Fry Justin, of Coleville, operation for appendicitis. Sheridan Rossman, Nittany, operation for appendicitis. Taft May Visit Altoona. Arrangements are being made to have President Taft present at the unveiling of the Curtin monument at the Logan House in case the project is a certainty. Everything is in readiness for Grand Army Day to be held at Lakemont Park Saturday, September 11.

He was only nineteen years old. In addition to his parents he survived by two brothers and three sisters. The funeral was held at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, burial being made at Shiloh. N. HENRY JOHNSTON—a well known and highly respected citizen of Blanchard, died at his home early Sunday morning, after an illness of more than a year of a dropsical nature. A daughter, Emma, died during the past year and another daughter, Edna, and a son are also dead. The funeral was held on Monday, services being held in the Disciple church. Mr. Johnston was an energetic, industrious man of good business ability. For more than a score of years he was undertaker. WILLIAM POTTER LUCAS—died in Holts Hollow, at the home of his father, John T. Lucas, on Monday morning, August 30. His death was the result of a complication of diseases from which he had suffered for some time, although at the time of his death his parents and friends thought that he was growing stronger and would soon be well again. The deceased was 17 years, 3 months and 1 day old. His promising life cut short so early and the suddenness of his going made his death doubly sad. Almost his entire life had been spent in the vicinity of Fairview and Holts Hollow. He is survived by his father and mother, two sisters and five brothers. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. H. D. Tomson, of Howard, interment was made in the Stover cemetery. Mrs. GEORGE MILLER—familiarly known as Mrs. Mollie Miller, died last Thursday morning August 25, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Keller, at Linden Hall, with whom she had resided for the last ten years. During these years she had been an invalid and was tenderly cared for by Mrs. Keller who supplied her every need. Her age was 86 years, 5 months and 2 days. Her death being caused by the general wearing out of the system. Early in life she joined the Lutheran church and lived a faithful Christian life. Mrs. Miller had many friends in that community who were sorry to hear of her demise, even at her old age. Her husband died eighteen years ago to date of her burial.
