HOWARD.

Pastors' Appointments
Next Sabbath there will be preaching in the churches of our town and at the appointments which center here as follows:

Reformed—Pastor H. I. Crow will preach at Hubersburg at 10:00 A. M.; Mt. Bethel at 2:30 P. M., and at Salona at 7:30 P. M.
Church of Christ—Evangelist J. H. D. Tomson will preach at Howard in the morning and evening, and at Mt. Eagle in the afternoon.
Methodist Episcopal—Pastor R. S. Taylor will preach at Howard at 10:30 A. M.; Kennedy at 2:30 P. M., and Curtin at 7:30 P. M.
Christian Chapel—Rev. Joseph C. Kelly, Presbyterian, will preach at 7:30 P. M. Mr. Kelly will also preach and administer the communion at Jacksonville, at eleven o'clock of the same day.

United Evangelical—Pastor W. W. Rhoads will preach at Fairview at 10:30 A. M.; at Jacksonville at 2:30 P. M., and at Howard at 7:30 P. M.
St. Bernard's Catholic—Rev. Aloysius O'Hanlon will pronounce mass and deliver a sermon at 10:30 A. M.

Changes in the Reformed Church

The old Nittany charge, made up of the Jacksonville, Marsh Creek, Hubersburg, Mt. Bethel and Salona appointments, and most acceptable served by Rev. H. I. Crow for many years, has been found, since the erection of a church and an appointment in Howard, to be too large and cumbersome for one man to serve, and was recently divided by separating Hubersburg from it and attaching Zion to the new charge, making a new charge, the name of which has not yet been decided upon. Mr. Crow, having resigned the pastorate of the old charge, has been appointed to the new one and retains his residence in Hubersburg. His resignation of the old charge takes effect Oct. 1, and he preached his farewell sermon at this point last Sunday morning. On Saturday and Sunday Rev. D. H. Leader, of Greenville, Mercer Co., Pa., preached by appointment at all the five churches in the old charge, and is being considered for the succession to Mr. Crow.

Public Lighting at Private Cost

John Holmes has installed the street lamp, the use of which was granted him at the last meeting of council, at the sidewalk on his premises, and burns a common oil lamp in it every night, lighting a long stretch of street with it very nicely. Frank Strunk, Mr. Holmes' next neighbor, has followed his good example, and Mr. L. Beck, a square or so farther south will do likewise within a week. Walnut street from Gordon street to the Main street crossing, will be fairly well lighted by private enterprise, including the electric light maintained by W. H. Long in front of the Hustler office. It is rumored on apparently good authority that several others of our public spirited citizens are arranging to maintain street lights in other parts of the town, at their own expense. Good.

His Birthday Remembered

Rev. W. W. Rhoads had business in Bellefonte which required his attention last Friday afternoon, and when he arrived at his home upon his return in the evening, he found it in possession of over forty of his friends who had brought with them many loaves and fishes and prepared a great table of good things to the enjoyment of which he was promptly invited. Then he remembered that it was his 67th birthday, and understood. The evening was just such a joyous one as Howard folk can make, and before it was over the faithful pastor had received several presents, the most prominent of which was a beautiful solitaire diamond stud, to bear testimony of his friends regard. May he have many anniversaries added to his life.

Has Rented a Larger Farm

Joseph H. Dunkle, who has long supplied our community with high class milk, has rented the John B. Jr. farm, about one mile above Jacksonville, and will move upon it in the spring. This would be a calamity if it were to deprive us of our milk supply, but Mr. Dunkle proposes to drive his route as heretofore, and with the larger farm and improved conditions which he will have in his new home, give better service than ever, unless he shall sell it to some nearby farmer who can give at least equally good service. "Joe" is a good citizen and will leave hosts of friends behind him. The Township Schools Open

Another Old Soldier Gone
On Sunday night last, William A. Roush, for many years a citizen of the township, died at the home of his nephew, Samuel Lyon, in Curtin's Gap. He was eighty-two years of age. Mr. Roush served in the Civil war from private in Co. 51st Pa. Regt., from the time of his enlistment in October, 1864, until the close of the war. His wife, who was a Miss Lyon, died several years ago, no children have been born to them.

A Gospel Tent

Will be erected on the Burdine Butler farm, just back of William Solt's blacksmith shop, and Evangelist G. Stanley West, formerly of Eagleville and Beech Creek will hold preaching services.

Among Our Sick

Mary DeHaas was taken suddenly and seriously ill on Saturday evening, but is much improved. Mrs. Baney was again called to the bedside of her invalid son, Walter Wentzel, at Yarnell, Monday morning. John Turner appeared on the streets last Saturday for the first time since his severe illness of many weeks set in. Miss Ida Rhoads is so far convalescent that she drove over into Marion township last Saturday to be a several days' guest of her friends, Miss Kling and Mrs. Blerly.

Mrs. Carl McGinley has returned to her home from a course of treatment in the Bellefonte hospital, from which she has not received so much benefit as was hoped for by her friends.

On Monday of last week Willard McDowell was strong enough to go on crutches to visit his uncle, Capt. Bennison, a few rods distant. The first time he has walked so far in just a year, and on Monday of this week, he walked some as far as Morris' drug store.

On last Monday D. T. Allison stopped at Capt. Bennison's home with his pair of bronchos, and asked the Capt. to take a short ride with him, and the invitation was promptly accepted, enjoying the half hour in the balmy morning air immensely. This is the first time Capt. Bennison has left his premises for something more than seven months, and all his friends are rejoicing.

Chief Burgess Leathers is spending the week at home. Adelbert Confer has gone to work in the woods at Hyner.

Matthew Rogers, Jr., and wife spent Sunday with Altoona relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ray, of Lemont, and guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Mottle.

William Marshall, a P. S. C. student and athlete, was a week end guest at the home of Edward Shope.

Mrs. Ida Munsell, of Emporium, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. D. W. Fletcher, a few days last week.

An itinerant five cent moving picture show has established itself temporarily, on the base ball grounds.

Mrs. Dr. Kurtz surprised and delighted her Williamsport friends with a little visit last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Austin Rothrock and her brother, W. McLouth, of Niagara Falls, were guests of Mrs. Geo. Long, last week.

Charles DeHaas will go to Williamsport on Monday next, to enter the employ of the Prior and Sallade Electric Company.

Miss Butler and her brother Frank, entertained their sister, Mrs. Wilbur Clark and her husband, of Mill Hill, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lucas returned Saturday afternoon from a pleasant week of visiting in Lycoming and Columbia counties.

M. S. Mallilieu, district manager, and W. H. Cruse, salesman of the Bell Telephone Co., were circulating among our business men last Monday.

Rev. R. S. Taylor was a Williamsport visitor last Saturday, to see his sons Edward and Stuart, who are students at Dickinson Seminary.

Dr. Kurtz had a Bell phone installed in his office this week, that he might be in closer touch with his patients in the upper Marsh Creek region.

Miss Annie Yarnell, one of the quartette of nice girls who look after our telephone interests, entertained her friend, Miss May Lesch, of Zion, on Saturday.

It is "on dit" that butternuts are valued at about two dollars per bushel here this week, and some of our good fellows are kicking (themselves) at the price.

Miss Sue Watson, of Tyrone, while on her way home from Ridgeway and St. Marys, stopped off for a day or two with her friends, the Misses Elfreda and Florence Confer.

"Aunt Mollie" Baker left on No. 55, on Sunday, escorted by her nephew, Paul Cheesman, of Altoona, where she expects to spend the winter as the guest of her brother, Irvin Cheesman.

Mrs. Z. T. Weirick went to Mill Hill on Sabbath to be the guest of her brother, Charles Neff, until Monday, when she attended the funeral of her relative, W. C. Markle, in Lock Haven.

The sale of the old furnace farm, belonging to the Bernard Lauth estate, to W. Gardner, which was noted a few weeks ago, has been annulled, and the farm will be again rented.

Miss Lou Shultz, daughter of former Pastor Shultz, of the Evangelical church here, and now stationed at Philadelphia, was a visitor on Monday with her friend, Miss Nellie Hopkins, on Monday.

To help him in delivering the big list of Philadelphia papers in time to be ready for school in the mornings, Ward Confer has purchased a bike, paid for it with his own earnings and savings too.

Mrs. David R. Wilson, now of Pittsburgh, but long enough a resident of our town to have made many friends among us, with her three children is a visitor at the home of her father-in-law, W. B. Wilson.

Chester Ulmer, of Williamsport, a bright young graduate of the High School of that city, and who will matriculate at the Medico-Chi in Philadelphia this fall, is a guest of his relative, Dr. W. J. Kurtz.

The store at the corner of Main and Walnut streets, heretofore run in the name of Edward Sykes, and conducted by Nathan Yuleman, will hereafter be known as the store of Mr. Yuleman, he having purchased the store.

E. B. O'Reilly, wife and daughter, Mrs. J. W. Furey, of Lock Haven, and Mr. O'Reilly, of Buffalo, drove in their auto from Lock Haven last Sunday evening to spend an hour with their friends, Abraham Weber and family.

The street repairs, new crossings and new sidewalks ordered by council at the last meeting, are nearly all completed, the last sidewalks placed were the concrete ones of Charles Kennedy, and the other of Howard brick on the property of Mr. J. Z. Long.

Last Wednesday was a birthday anniversary for Mrs. Ira C. Leathers, and her children, Mrs. W. H. Gardner and little son, of Renova, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lingie, of Johnsonburg, came all the way from their homes to remind her of it, and celebrate it, and wish her as many returns as may conduce to her comfort and happiness.

On Monday last six of the seven township schools opened on time, and with a full complement of pupils and teachers. The seventh, Kennebec, will be delayed a few weeks because of the incompleteness of the new building. Contractor N. H. Fletcher is pushing it with all speed. The list of teachers was given in a former issue.

Our town had an unusual outpouring of legal illumination on Tuesday, C. S. McCormick, of Lock Haven, and J. A. B. Miller and S. D. Gettig, of Bellefonte, followed each other in quick succession, and little Cyrus Brungart, of Centre Hall, circulated among them indiscriminately. Our people are wondering if all this has anything to do with the coming of the 1910 comet.

M. Tate, foreman of the molding department in the shops of the S. Pacific R. R. at New Orleans, visited his former teacher, A. A. Fletcher, here last week. He is one of the six bright pupils of the school at Washington Furnace, when Mr. Fletcher taught it years ago, all of whom now occupy important positions in various parts of the United States and all read the Centre Democrat.

Mrs. McMurtree spent Sunday with her folks at Hyner.

Miss Anna M. Kaup was a Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. J. L. Holter. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Long were Sunday passengers eastward on No. 50.

UNIONVILLE.

H. I. Stine has a mammoth sweet pumpkin of last year's raising, that is sound as a dollar—that's what Pete says.

The Hon. G. W. Morrison was off duty all of last week on account of a severe attack of cholera morbus.

Miss Cora Hall, of Mount Pleasant, daughter of Mark Hall, was a recent shopper in town. She's a good catch but she says no young man need apply unless he owns an automobile and is an abstainer from the use of tobacco in any form, and whiskey. There, now!

Stewart Turner and family are visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Turner.

A large number of our good citizens, male and female, young and old, attended the surprise party at the home of Mrs. Fredericks, up the pike, about a week ago. It was in honor of the anniversary of her 75th birthday.

Who was the first discoverer of the North Pole? Why, Cook, of course.

Connie Brugger, after he emerged from a cloudburst of post cards, looked like a bright new twenty dollar gold piece—142 was the number of cards that rained down on him, and his birthday anniversary was the 21st.

Mrs. Ida Munsell, of Emporium, was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. D. W. Fletcher, a few days last week.

An itinerant five cent moving picture show has established itself temporarily, on the base ball grounds.

visited the Old Home Week at Phillipsburg.

Mrs. Ada Thomas is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harris Watson. Those who have left for school are: J. Thomas Buddinger, State College; Philip Buddinger, Kiski; Misses Anna David, Clara Koch and Annie Park, Lock Haven Normal.

WOODWARD.

The farmers are busy cutting their earliest corn stalks.

Among those who attended Grange picnic last week: L. L. Weaver and family, Mrs. L. D. Orndorf and son Ray, in Mr. Weaver's auto.

Rev. H. W. Buck, who served this charge in the years 99-01, will preach in the United Evangelical church on Sunday forenoon. Come and hear him, W. J. Smith, wife and son Wesley, of Stony Lonesome, visited Mr. Smith's parents, Charles Smith's on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Yearick, of Nittany valley, spent a few days with her aged brothers, Michael and Henry Eby.

Abas. Vore, of Ohio, transacted business with one of our up-to-date farmers, C. J. Stover, one day last week.

John Hosterman and lady friend, Miss Gertrude Musser, spent Saturday night and Sunday very pleasantly at the hospitable home of C. J. Stover's "Pay" seems to have some attraction in Pine Creek Hollow.

Those who visited at Reuben Sheesley's on Sunday, were: Mr. and Mrs. John Trutt and four children; Mrs. Elias Turner and daughter Kathryn, of Hartleton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beebe, of Smyrna, Mich.; J. W. Sheasley, wife and children, Brice, Floyd and Florence, C. P. Sheasley and wife, and Bessie Orndorf, of this place; and Maud and Sara Hosterman, of Brookville. It certainly was a filled house and everybody heartily enjoyed the time spent together.

Mrs. Marie Goss, after spending some time with friends and relatives in Millfin county, returned home on Sunday evening, and her plate to eat his meal, Eugene Stover was reminded of his birthday, by finding a fine gold watch and fob under his plate. Eugene said, "Wish my birthday could come every Sunday."

Mrs. E. M. Boone and three children, of S. D., who had been visiting their many friends in this vicinity, left again on Tuesday for their westerly home.

M. J. Yearick, of Nittany valley, transacted business with his uncles, Eby brothers, one day last week.

Lawrence Miller, more familiarly known as "Brownie" formerly of this place, but now employed at Vixburg, is spending some time with his many friends and chums.

Old Pappy Feese and his cook, Maria Goss, of Bull Frog Hollow, visited at C. W. Vonada's at Brookville.

Boyd Musser and Emery Oden left on Tuesday for South Dakota. Wish the young men good luck and success in their distant home.

The parting word of a certain young couple on Sunday night, caused some handkerchiefs to become damp by the overflow of the lachrymal gland.

Samuel Kreamer is making some improvements to his house by having it weather-boarded and painted.

On account of the dry weather old Pappy Feese's melon crop was a failure. It is certainly a pity as he gave them special attention; still it did not yield to a great extent.

L. L. Weaver and family, John Musser and Ray Orndorf, spent a few hours at M. O. Stevens; they were out for a pleasure trip to their aunts.

Three more counties heard from. The first is from G. W. Ingram, Millville, Pa., says, "the CENTRE DEMOCRAT is my mascot—couldn't do without it." The second is from Dan Houser, Houser-ville, says: "I never could raise such fine pigs if I didn't read the CENTRE DEMOCRAT." The third is from Mrs. L. DeBayarde, Wilmington, N. C., she was formerly Miss Allie Cadwalader, of this place, also mashed on the C. D.

There will be special services in the M. E. church on next Sunday evening. The summum bonum of the exercises will relate to music. The sermon of the pastor will touch on music and composers. The choir is making an extra effort to give us a fine treat. You will miss a good thing if you don't come.

LEMONT.

Mrs. Alice Bloom Sundayed at the home of H. Houls.

A few from the lecture on Sunday, delivered by ex-Gov. Hanley, of Indiana.

The Grange picnic was well attended by our people.

Thomas Miller was a prominent caller at the home of George C. Williams on Thursday of last week.

James J. Mitchell, of W. Va., visited in town last week.

George Williams returned Saturday from Phillipsburg where he attended the Old Home Week, and had a fine time.

William Grove and wife are rejoicing over the arrival of a son, on Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Houser is slowly growing worse.

The farmers are quite busy cutting corn and think it will not be a very good crop this year.

Frank Kline and boys went to Ebensburg and Pittsburgh this week.

William Schenck and wife are visiting with her sister in Ebensburg, and he will also attend the United Brethren conference which is in session at Altoona this week.

D. L. Helte and wife went to Altoona on Wednesday, to visit the former's parents, they being ill at present.

MILESBURG.

Mrs. Sue C. Wilson, of DuBois, state organizer of the W. C. T. Union did some excellent talking in the M. E. church on Thursday evening, 16th, for the cause of temperance, thereby adding new members to the Union.

George McMullin, of Frankfort, after visiting his brother Henry, returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Campbell are visiting friends in Columbus, Ohio.

A. T. Boggs spent Thursday at the Grangers' Picnic.

Miss Marcella Boggs visited Centre Hall and Spring Mills among friends.

Miss Hannah Green has returned home after visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

SNOW SHOE.

An airship isn't much good unless it rises to the occasion.

T. B. Buddinger has returned from Philadelphia where they were buying material for their daughter Cirlie's wedding to come off next month.

Rev. Schugart, of Altoona, and Rev. Illingfritz, of Glenn Hope, two of our former pastors and Rev. Erle, of Karthaus, were visitors in our town, stopping on their way home from the Methodist Ministerial meeting at Howard.

It wouldn't be wise to jump at the conclusion that Peary's goose is cooked.

Quite a number of our town folks

For very Particular Men! THE SIM CLOTHES-READY!

It pays to be particular about Clothes, and because that's so, it pays to have particular Clothes for such wearers. The small touch of style, of shape, of finish of the pockets or cuffs, the things that give fashionable distinction to a man's dress—it's our business to know about such things, and to have them ready for those who appreciate them.

We are ready with just this sort of Clothes; ready as never before, with the largest and most pleasing collection of good clothes ever gathered together under one roof in all Central Pennsylvania.

The styles, fabrics, models, are handsome—its really a pleasure for us to ask you to come in and look over such a collection. We know how good they are; we know you are certain to find them satisfying.
