DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET

For Auditor General, J. WOOD CLARK, of Indiana county. For State Treasurer, GEORGE W. KIPP, of Bradford county.

For Justice of the Supreme Court, C. LARUE MUNSON, of Lycoming county.

EDITORIAL.

Don't vote for Amendment No. 7—it is a bad one.

Put aside all manner of important business next Tuesday until you have gone to the polls and voted.

It may be a good thing to change our spring elections to the fall. For that reason vote for all the amendments except No. 7.

Durham, the Philadelphia contractor, boasts of having advanced Moschzisker to the Bench. That should be enough to satisfy any man as to what he should do.

Before you vote on Tuesday take a good look at the two candidates for supreme court and select the one, according to your judgment, best fitted for the place.

No matter if you are a man, mouse or long-tailed rat, in politics—if you go and vote you are better than the fellow who stays at home and damns the times and the fellows in office. It is your duty to go and vote.

DON'T FAIL to vote next Tuesday. It is a requirement of good citizenship. Under the precinct system the polls are so convenient that no valid excuse can be had for failing to vote, unless it be sickness.

All the capitol looters are sighing for the election of Von Moschzisker for Judge of the Supreme court, hoping thereby to escape punishment for their perfidy in the six million dollar steal. Vote for Larue Munson, next Tuesday, if you desire to see the rascals punished.

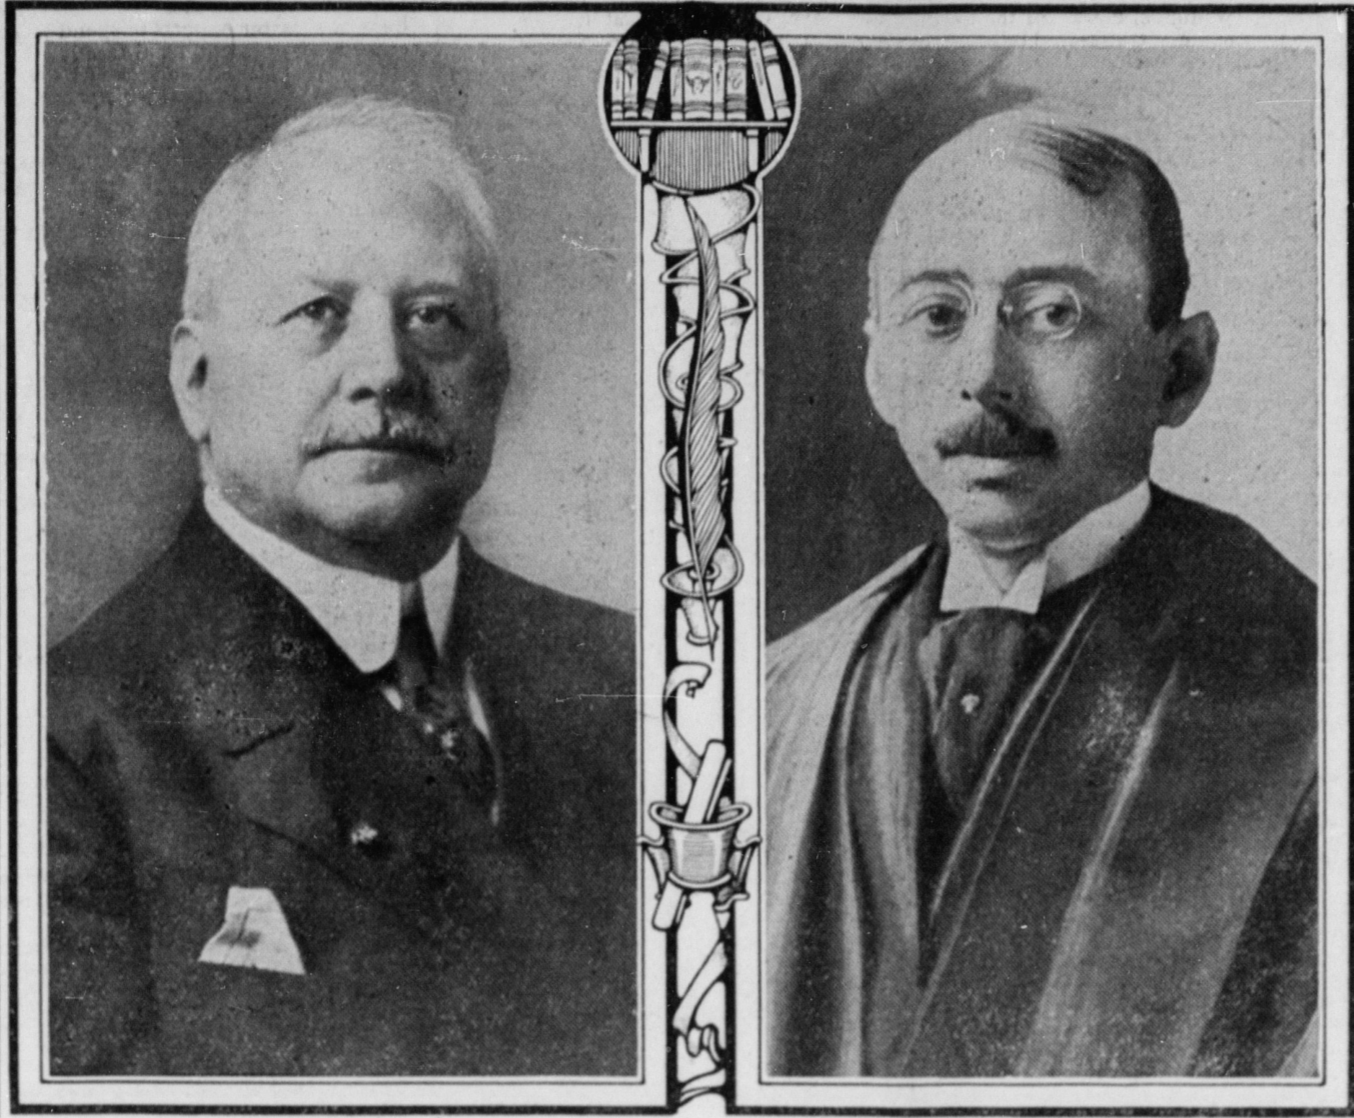

ALL THE attorneys at the bar in Williamsport, irrespective of party, endorse the nomination of Cyrus LaRue Munson for judge of the supreme court. Philadelphia has fifteen hundred lawyers and only fifteen out of that number endorse the gangster nominee, Von Moschzisker, for that high office.

Democrats throughout the county should bear in mind that next Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, an election of importance will be held. Let no democrat fall in his duty to the party and the welfare of the state. Remember what great good was accomplished by electing Berry state treasurer. He raised the lid and exposed the most gigantic robbery ever heard of. Had Berry not been elected, the gangsters who shared in the capitol looting, would have been unexposed to this day.

The G. O. P. organs are attempting to deceive their readers as to the true character of their state nominees, Messrs. Moschzisker, Sisson and Stober. The organs fail to give the record of these worthless as it has been truthfully printed in the Centre Democrat, and other papers, not excepting some of the independent republican journals. There can be no denial that all of these nominees are gangster tools and were placed in nomination by the Quay-Penrose clique which runs the republican machine.

COLVER—Potter Twp. Mrs. Swartz and her Ray, from Snyderstown, spent over Sunday at the home of Mrs. Swartz's sister, Mrs. A. L. Slutterbeck. Mr. and Mrs. John Boal and daughter Sara, of Huntingdon Co., are spending some time visiting his parents and friends here.

THE TWO CANDIDATES FOR JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT

CYRUS LARUE MUNSON, ESQ. OF WILLIAMSPORT.

ROBERT VON MOSCHZISKER OF PHILADELPHIA.

Nominee of the Democratic Party, supported by the non-partisan movement.

Nominated by the Republican Party at the dictation of Philadelphia bosses.

BERRY'S STRONG ADDRESS.

The opening gun of the Luzerne county campaign of the Democratic party was fired at Plymouth on Thursday night when at a meeting at Hurwitz Hall, ex-State Treasurer William H. Berry defined the issue of the campaign. Mr. Berry in his speech said in part:

"It is the duty of every Democrat in the State to actively support the nominees of their party. They are men of the highest character and ability, nominated by the free choice of their party and they deserve our support for these reasons. Moreover the best interests of the State demands that a strong and formidable opponent of the dominant political party be maintained in the State. Let it not be said that Democrats are apathetic or indifferent in this campaign.

"Republicans who love political virtue more than party success can endorse the sentiment and will vote accordingly unless they believe that their leaders are repentant and will repudiate their life long records. That they were thoroughly scared by the election of a Democrat in 1905 is certain. The hasty call of the extra session of the Legislature in 1906, the good work done by it and the selection of excellent candidates at the next election, leave no doubt of this. But recent events disclose the old spirit revived. The Quay statue is erected in a prominent niche in the Capitol pursuant to the votes of both the present Republican candidates, Sisson and Stober. No protest or apology is of record from them. They, with the living bosses and the marble image smile in cynic contempt of all reform.

"Salter, the confessed traitor who fled the country to escape conviction for notorious ballot box stuffing in Philadelphia, returned when the District Attorney's office was manned by Norris S. Barrett and Robert Von Moschzisker, when, according to Senator McNichol, the jury was fixed and Salter acquitted. Barrett was nominated and elected Judge of the machine that profited by Salter's crime. Von Moschzisker was presented by them to Governor Pennypacker for appointment to the bench soon afterward, but the Governor declined to appoint him. He was nominated, however, and elected to the bench by the gang at the succeeding election.

"He is now presented for election to the Supreme bench by the same people and thus does the gang reward its servants.

"Will the Independent Republicans be deceived in the face of these bold facts? I think not."

SISSON UNHORSED.

When Messrs. Sisson and Stober, the Republican candidates for auditor general and state treasurer, were at Towanda the other day, E. D. Rundell, one of the largest shippers in that section and a Republican, arraigned Mr. Sisson for his conduct while a member of the state senate, during which arraignment, among other things equally as significant and important, Mr. Rundell said:

"Why did you keep quiet when you knew a crime had been committed and leave it for a Democratic treasurer to expose? Mr. Berry turned out to be a very good officer for the people. Now, if Mr. Kipp is elected, he will try to do for the people the same as Mr. Berry did. I am a Republican, but I feel it a duty to support men who have shown a disposition to stand by the people. This pigeonholing fraud and covering up theft I do not believe in, and I cannot vote for men who are likely to do such things."

Mr. Sisson acknowledging that he had cast his vote for the expenditure of $20,000 for the Quay statue, Mr. Rundell continued his sermon thus:

"I travel a great deal. In my business, I go into many of the western states. I have been asked many times how I could consistently be a Republican in Pennsylvania where a man like Quay was sustained in his rotten political work. I have actually been ashamed many times. When I think what Penrose has done and is doing, and you fellows, set up by him, covering up the conduct of the worst set of thieves that ever cursed a state, I am still ashamed."

The answer given this indictment by the Republican candidate for auditor general was to back out of the crowd and disappear, a very orderly thing to do, to be sure, even though it was a confession to the truth of the charges.

OVER THE COUNTY.

A Lincoln Paul, the dairyman, sold his farm between the Beech Creek and Bald Eagle, to James L. Metzgar, of Beech Creek, whose son-in-law and daughter will occupy it in the spring.

Some time in December Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer, of Centre Hall, expect to go to Columbia, S. C., where they will remain for the winter with their daughter, Mrs. J. W. McCormick.

Plans are being considered by H. W. Orwig, of Millinburg, for five double houses on South Atherton street, State College. These will be on the same order as those built by him this fall. There is a steady demand for dwellings of that size.

Miss Carrie Brooks, the professional nurse in charge of the tuberculosis stations in Tyrone, Philipsburg and Bellefonte, has moved from Tyrone to Philipsburg and together with her sister, Mrs. Samuel Allison and her two children will spend the winter at the Potter house.

While doing some repairing about the barn, William Homan, east of Centre Hall, had the misfortune to receive a painful injury to his hand. He was in the act of breaking a board, and in some manner fell, striking his hand on a nail which was forced almost through the palm.

J. H. Miller, of Linden Hall, was among the surviving members of the 184th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, who went to Richmond, Virginia, to participate in the dedication of the monument erected by the government to the honor of the soldiers who fought in the battle of Cold Harbor.

The other day a sery individual entered the slaughter house of Charles Decker, at Struble Station, in broad daylight and cut a large chunk of meat off a side of beef. Without waiting to wrap it up he carried it in his hand to the store, where he bought a few articles and wended his way homeward. The loss was soon discovered and the identity of the purloiner ascertained. There was something doing in that quarter shortly afterwards.

Among the Kansas people who are in the east enjoying the associations of their relatives and friends in Pennsylvania, at this time, are Mr. and Mrs. John Rossman, of Jewell City, who have been in Pennsylvania for the past few weeks. Mr. Rossman is a brother of Henry and Michael F. Rossman, of Tusseyville, and Calvin Rossman, of Sigleville. Mr. Rossman has been in the west for forty years, and it was there he was married to a western lady who is now here with him. He is engaged as a manager in a lumber yard at present.

"SO PERFECTLY DELIGHTED"

"Yes, 'Hubby' had his photographs made at MALLORY'S. Are they not fine? So neat, so stylish and so like him. I'm so delighted, I'll have MALLORY'S make a large portrait of myself and surprise him at X-Mas."

You must start early to avoid the rush. Do it now.

WEDDINGS.

Spotts—Woodring. At the Presbyterian parsonage, Petersburg, Huntingdon Co., Pa., Oct. 20th, by S. S. Bergen, Ernest F. Spotts and Miss Lillian K. Woodring, both of Port Matilda, Pa.

Smith—Stover. A wedding of interest throughout Centre county was that at Millheim on Sunday, Oct. 17, when Mrs. Harriet Terressa Stover and former Prothonotary William F. Smith were united in marriage. Mr. Smith is well known in the county and during his time as Prothonotary made many friends in Bellefonte. With many others we extend hearty congratulations and best wishes.

Keener—Corl. Last week we gave a notice of the Keener-Corl wedding which took place at Pleasant Gap. There is a bit of romance connected with this marriage. Mr. Keener went west thirty years ago, and after being away for a few years came back to seek the hand of his present wife, but the mother would not consent to leaving her daughter go so far away from her, even though she had the assurance of the love, protection and provision of an industrious man. The couple parted. Mr. Keener married, prospered, and reared a family. Some years ago his wife died, and he again made overtures to Miss Corl, but then other conditions had arisen (the care of an aged father) that she could not leave the old home. On the death of the father, Robert Corl, a few months ago, the westerner again pressed his suit, and as there were then no barriers to the proposed contract, Miss Corl gave consent, and the marriage followed.

Haagen—Confer. Quite a pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome A. Confer, at Yarnell, on Wednesday evening, October 20, when their youngest daughter, Miss Frances M. Confer, was united in marriage to Harry S. Haagen, of Beech Creek. The ceremony took place at 6 o'clock in the evening and was performed by Rev. W. H. Patterson, pastor of the Disciple church at Blanchard. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Haagen, a sister of the bridegroom, and the young couple went to the altar unattended. About fifty guests were present to witness the ceremony. Following the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served. On Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. Haagen left on a four-day trip to the western part of the State, returning on Monday when a reception was given them.

at the Haagen home in Beech Creek. The bride is a most estimable young woman and will make a worthy life partner for the man of her choice. Mr. Haagen is a young man of excellent qualifications. He owns a nice farm near Beech Creek where the young couple will make their future home.

SOBER. Coleman Sober, from Lewisburg, was seen here last week. George Winters, of Bellefonte, was seen at Zerby station on Saturday evening. Wonder what the attraction was.

Mrs. R. T. Eisenhuth, of Coburn, spent Thursday at H. H. Eisenhuth's. Mrs. F. T. Weaver is still on the sick list. Thestork visited the home of Clayton Auman's and left them a wood-chopper. Miss Furl Auman spent Saturday with her aunt, Sadie Bron. Oscar Wolfe and Tona Hassinger made a business trip to Millheim on Monday. M. C. Vonada and family spent Sunday at J. J. Gentzel's. Willis Bron was a pleasant caller at U. G. Auman's on Sunday, also O. J. Auman. Mrs. Nora Zerby made a business trip to Aaronsburg last Saturday. Miss Furl Auman spent one day last week at Potter's Mills. Mr. H. V. Gentzel and family spent Sunday at D. A. Smith's. Mrs. Andrew Zerby spent a couple days at U. G. Auman's last week.

GREENBURR. George Walizer, of Tyersville, was a visitor in our town last Monday. Newton Walizer, butchered 10 or 12 porkers and shipped them to Lock Haven on Monday. Gathering chestnuts, apples and corn is the business of the day; the crop is rather poor.

Our town has improved greatly during the last year; five new porches were built; four dwelling houses, and the Ev. church were painted, and a lot of concrete and board walks were put down. Livonia scribe, please pass on the news, we are always anxious to hear the news from Livonia.

Mrs. Sallie Walizer is slowly improving but is still unable to work. Clare Kahl, who was working in Nittany valley during the summer, came home last week and is engaged in helping his father husk corn. We could hardly believe there was a band in town, but we heard something on Monday evening that forced us to believe it.

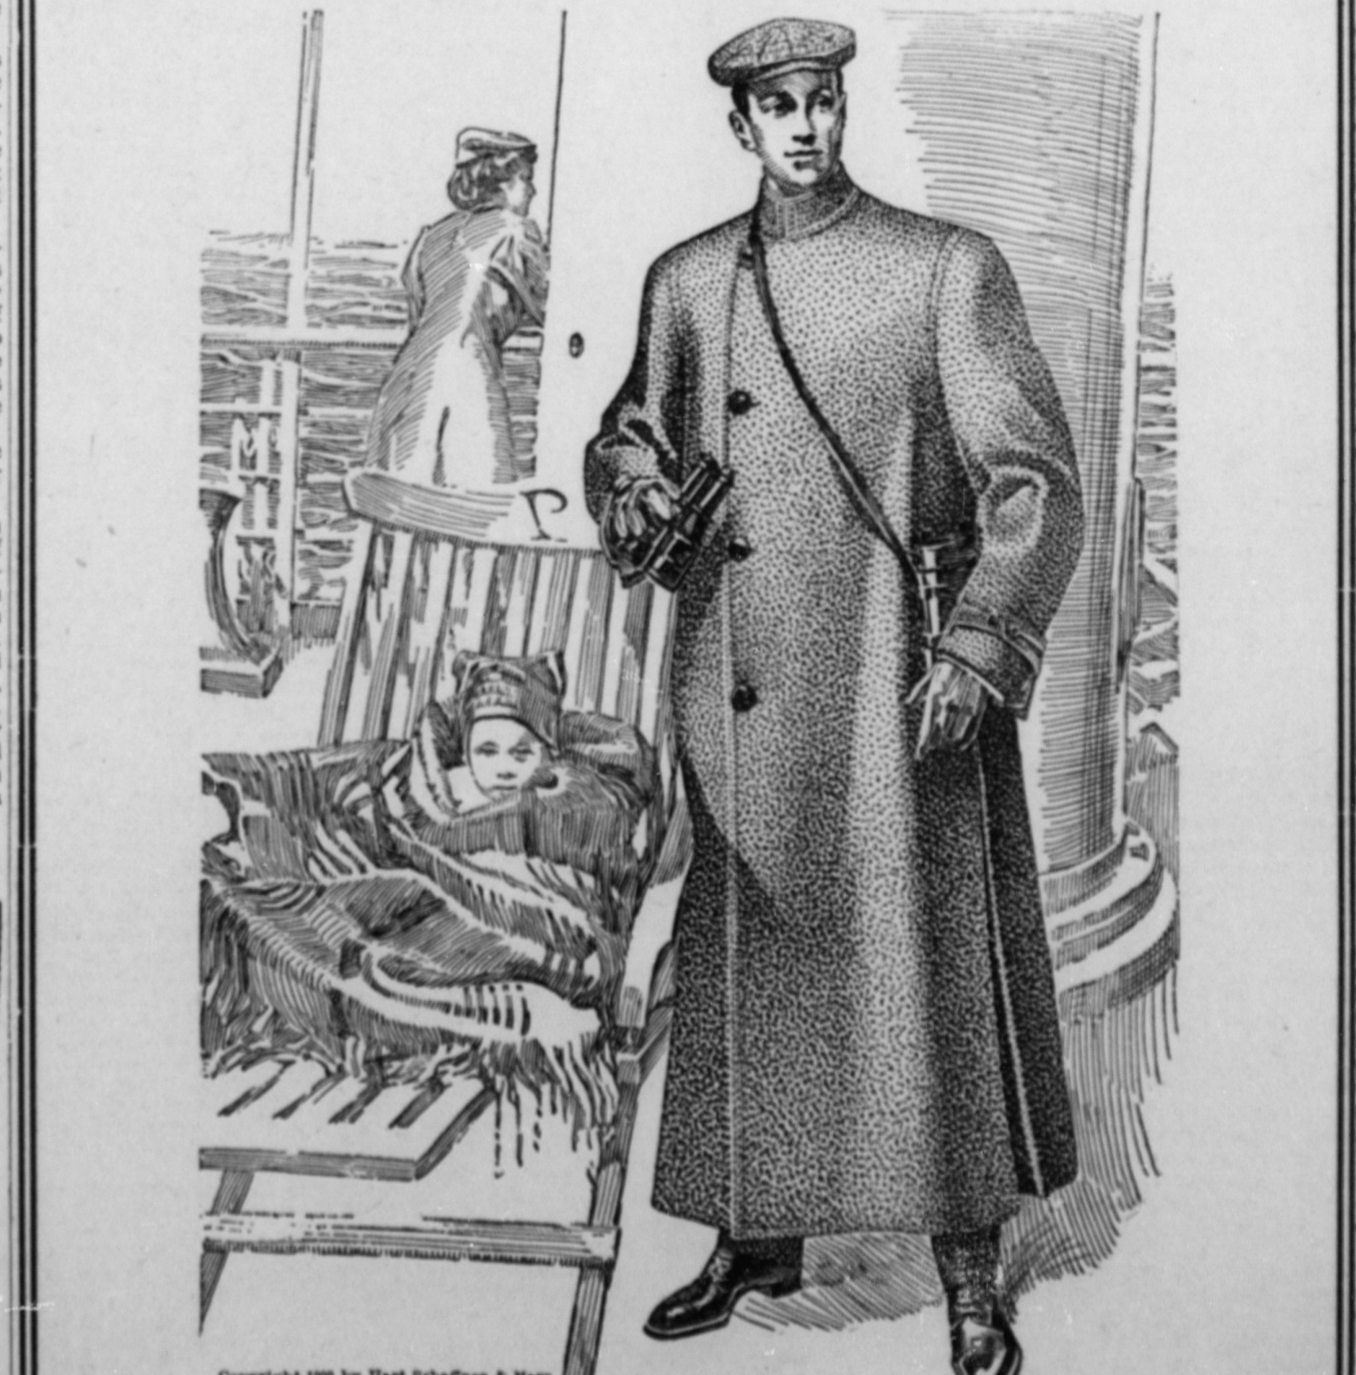

That the small boy in Bellefonte likes to hear himself whistle as well as the big man in Spring township likes to hear himself talk.
