Reformed—Pastor H. I. Crow will preach at Howard at 10:30 A. M.; at Marsh Creek at 2:30 P. M., and at Jacksonville at 7:30 P. M.

Methodist Episcopal—Pastor R. S. Taylor will preach at Howard at 10:30 A. M.; Hunters Run at 2:30 P. M., and Beech Creek at 7:30 P. M. On the same evening Rev. C. C. Shuey, of Bellefonte, will preach at Kennedy, and there will be service every night during the week.

Church of Christ—Elder J. H. D. Tomson will preach at Howard morning and evening; at Mt. Eagle in the afternoon.

Christian Chapel—Rev. W. H. Patterson will preach both morning and evening, and on Friday and Saturday nights as well.

An Adamless Eden

Was the keynote which gave tone to a delightful little gathering of "just our bunch of girls" Monday evening after Hallow'een, at the home of Miss Susie Pletcher, one of our teachers and one of the "bunch." Not a man was present, but it is said that two of the young ladies borrowed suits of their brothers' clothes to appear in, and personified men very successfully. The girls were mainly dressed to represent little school girls, and told stories and sang songs of the "old young days" most entertainingly. No time nor strength was wasted in getting an elaborate supper, but a fine oyster stew satisfied the inner woman, and left them all bright, wide-awake and ready for work and business Tuesday morning. It was a sane and safe way of celebrating the occasion, and left no aftermath of waste, destruction and hard feelings behind it. The parties were: Susan, Flora, Emma and Trenna Pletcher, Emma and Helen Weber, Anna Muffly, Anna Holter, Lovan and Josephine Henderson, Mollie and Zelma Yearick, Margaret DeHaas, Lulu Stover, Minnie Heverly, Carrie Butler, Helen Benson, Josie McEntire, Minnie Robb, and Lulu Johnston.

Hunting Party

A party of ten gentlemen from Uniontown, who expect to enjoy the exhilaration and benefits of camp life in the mountains for a couple of weeks, and incidentally to secure some specimens of the game which may yet be found there, arrived in town on Nov. 5, Monday. After enjoying the comforts of the hotel Howard, under the competent care of Charlie and Mrs. McMurtree, over night, liverman W. H. Thompson loaded them up, bag and baggage, in three wagons, and drove them out to point on Laurel Run about two miles beyond the Hotel de Alfred Lucas, where they are now camped. Frank Allen, a pilot on the Ohio river, is at the head of the party, and those who are with him are Everett Malone, division foreman on B. & O.; William Fealtler, conductor on B. & O.; Geo. Langston, supt. of Sunshine Coal & Coke works; Lloyd Hayden, B. & O. employee; Alva Newcomer, dealer in lumber and coal; William King, engineer for Sunshine Co.; Frank Shultz, farm manager for Dr. Eastman, of Uniontown; Frank Lingonfield, a veteran of the Philippine war, who spent fourteen months in Manila; and J. A. Huhn, chief engineer of Conneville Coke Co. Good luck to every man of 'em.

Business Change

Peter Robb, who last spring bought the bakery, lunch room and confectionery business of George L. Williams, has resold it to G. Frank Williams, of another family, the transfer to take place Monday, the 24th. Frank proposes to enlarge and improve the business, and will be aided by his sisters, Edna and Laura. Home-made bread, for the baking of which his sisters have a reputation, will be on sale every day, and orders will be accepted and promptly filled for cakes and pies, that they may be fresh and fine when needed.

Since the fire Billy Shay has had his barber shop patched, painted and cleaned, and it is now a great deal better for the scorching.

The Rebeccas

An open meeting of the local lodge of I. O. O. F., to which ladies were specially invited, was held in the lodge room last Saturday evening, the purpose of which was to consider the organization of a Rebecca lodge at this place, and a goodly number were in attendance. District Deputy Mrs. J. F. Hoy, of Pleasant Gap, explained the aims, purposes, methods, benefits and ways and means of the organization, and urged upon all present the prompt acceptance of the invitation she tendered. After some discussion and elaboration by others, preliminary steps were taken toward the securing of a charter, and it is more than probable that lodge will come into existence in the near future.

A Handsome Family Dinner

Was given on Sunday last by Burgess and Mrs. George H. Leathers, this being the only day in the week, because of the constant business absence of several members, on which the family can be gathered together. The venerable mother, Mrs. W. T. Leathers, was, of course, the guest of honor, with her children and children's children and children-in-law, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Neff and children, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Yearick and children, Miss Lucy Leathers, Mr. James Leathers, Mr. Fred Leathers, Mr. A. Cookman Leathers, Mr. Jesse T. Leathers, Miss Rebecca Harvey, of State College.

Under the Doctor's Care

B. P. Confer had a severe attack of acute indigestion on Sunday which flattened him out badly. He is much improved.

His wife, Mrs. Ira C. Leathers was quite ill for a few days last week.

John B. Wheeler, from Buffalo on Thursday with but little encouragement as to his health, and is now confined to his house.

Eliza Haines broke an arm and dislocated her elbow by a fall from the porch a few days ago.

Mrs. Woodward is slowly progressing toward good health.

Mill Equipment Sold
Lumberman N. H. Yearick, of Jacksonville, who bought the D. B. Pletcher farm in the township, sometime ago, and has been cutting up and selling the timber from the mountain part, sold his mill and engine last week, while the job is still incomplete. He has rented a mill and engine of Solomon Tice, and will resume operations in a few days, and continue until the tract is cleared. He has some 200,000 feet yet to cut.

Mrs. S. B. P. Allis, of Easton, is visiting friends in town.

Harvey Pifer Dead

As the oldest son of Abram Pifer, who for several years owned and lived upon the farm north of the village now occupied by Arthur Yonides, and as a very frequent visitor here since his removal to Clinton Co., W. Harvey Pifer was well known to most of our citizens, and his sudden death, of a complication of diseases, at the Lock Haven hospital last Saturday evening, comes as a shock to them. He had been ill but two or three days. The funeral services were held in the Lutheran church at Lock Haven, Tuesday afternoon and interment was made at Cedar Hill in Lamar township, where he has lived on his farm until within a year or two. He was fifty years of age and leaves a widow and five children to mourn him: Walter and Agnes, Sarah and Roy at home with the mother in Lock Haven. His living brothers and sisters are George C., of DuBois; J. A., of Marion twp.; Mrs. R. A. Krapp, Parvin; Mrs. Catharine McClintick, Lock Haven; Mrs. A. V. Smith, Nelson, Ka.; and Mrs. L. E. Bolopue, Blanchard.

Kennedy Church Reopened

The reopening of the M. E. church at Kennedy last Sabbath was an enjoyable and encouraging occasion, notwithstanding the enforced absence of Dr. Stein, of Tyrone, who was to have preached at the morning hour. The cost of the repairs and renovation was one hundred dollars, twenty-five of which had been paid by the subscribers in labor as the work progressed, leaving an unpaid balance of seventy-five dollars to provide for. This sum was fully raised in cash and subscriptions during the day's services, and the congregation starts out on a new development in the work with hopefulness and encouragement. Congratulations to the brethren and the hard-working pastor.

Monday morning's train brought from Tyrone Elmer Kling and his sons, Foster, of Bellwood, and Guyer, of Tyrone, the former having his little son Paul with him. They were on their way to visit the venerable Joel Kling, of Marion twp., who is father, grandfather and great-grandfather of the party, for a day's hunt for rabbits and pheasants. They are a sturdy-looking crew and their coming made the old gentleman's eyes twinkle with pleasure.

The representative delegations which journeyed to Lock Haven last Saturday morning on work or pleasure bent, were C. E. Yearick and daughters Mollie and Zelma, Miss Hall, Mrs. Rudolph Pletcher, Miss Robb and nephew Fred, Mrs. McMurtree, Mrs. W. R. Gardner and children Donald and Sarah, Mrs. Jacob Robb, Mrs. W. S. Cooke and Mrs. DeHaas.

Mrs. Sherman Holter, of Somerset, formerly Miss Mary Wilson, of our town, presented her husband with a bouncing boy last Friday. Grandpa Wilson says its an old story with him, but he carries a very high head over it, anyway. Sherman is the only child of Branda Pletcher, and the old gentleman has had such a lame back that he could do no work ever since he heard the glad news.

Rev. J. C. Reaser, presiding elder of this district, preached and administered the Holy Communion at the three appointments of Howard, Fairview and Jacksonville, last Sabbath. Dr. Reaser was at one time pastor of this charge and is held in high esteem by his people and the community. The father and six sons were seen in their own cornfield one day last week, seated in a circle, and piling up the golden ears at a goodly rate. Some of the boys were young but sturdy and willing workers, and it is needless to say that the farm is a successful and profitable one.

E. F. O'Reilly and family, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Furey, of Lock Haven, took advantage of good weather and good roads to spend an evening last week with their friends here, autoing home in the moonlight.

Miss McCloskey, of Mill Hill, was a guest of Mrs. Elizabeth Hannon, over Sunday.

A round dozen is L. H. Thompson's record-breaking bag of rabbits in two days.

Charles Candy, of Tyrone, spent Sunday with friends here.

Saddler T. E. Pletcher enjoys delightful choice bits of his wild turkey dinner among his friends, particularly those who are sick, about as much as he does hunting the game old bird, and that is so much that in these glorious autumn days he only Pifer was well known to most of our citizens, and his sudden death, of a complication of diseases, at the Lock Haven hospital last Saturday evening, comes as a shock to them. He had been ill but two or three days. The funeral services were held in the Lutheran church at Lock Haven, Tuesday afternoon and interment was made at Cedar Hill in Lamar township, where he has lived on his farm until within a year or two. He was fifty years of age and leaves a widow and five children to mourn him: Walter and Agnes, Sarah and Roy at home with the mother in Lock Haven. His living brothers and sisters are George C., of DuBois; J. A., of Marion twp.; Mrs. R. A. Krapp, Parvin; Mrs. Catharine McClintick, Lock Haven; Mrs. A. V. Smith, Nelson, Ka.; and Mrs. L. E. Bolopue, Blanchard.

An addition of five was made to the membership of the Christian Chapel congregation last Monday afternoon, by the immersion, in the baptistry, of the following persons: Mrs. Alonzo Henderson, Leah Lucas, Harry Diehl, Vernon Johnson and Nettie Swartz. Daniel Lucas, who moved here from Mechanicburg a year or more ago, has returned to that town to work, and on Sunday last Mrs. Lucas joined him there.

Mrs. George A. Jacobs entertained her relatives, Charles and Mrs. Eckeroth, of Bellefonte, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neff and Chas. Candy, all dwellers in Tyrone, visited the home folks here last Sunday.

Mrs. Nelson Confer, of Butler, formerly Miss May Allison, is a guest of Miss Mary Allison.

Balsler Weber says he got six rabbits last Friday and that ties Lot H. Thompson's record.

Guy H. Thompson, of Jersey Shore, looked after business interests here last Monday.

Oh say; you ought to see our Wingate girls buzzing around now, since we got a new ticket agent. Some are going in to get the time of day, others to inquire about baggage that was never sent; and other excuses, just to get to talk to our little agent. If you don't believe this, ask E. E. M.

It isn't always falling memory that causes a woman to forget her birthdays.

ANY DAY that suits you, suits us, when you want an Overcoat or Raincoat; and any style you want can be had here now.

New Military Collar Overcoats—splendid new utility coat, with lapels that lay flat as an ordinary dress coat or stand up with the military cut.

New Tourist Coats, wide ulster-like collars.

Double-breasted coats of Scotch-looking goods.

Shapely back Overcoats, Loose Back Boxcoats, Magnificent Fur-lined Coats.

Then in addition our immense showing of conservative styled Coats.

Such variety you've never seen. The finest weaves, the smartest patterns, the best tailoring and finish; the most fashionable models.

We have coats of quality for everyone; for the man who wants the best and is willing to pay for it, and for the man who wants to make every dollar count and knows the value of money. And the next man you see with a coat on "that strikes your eye" ask where he bought it and see if you don't come here.

Any day, we are ready.

We have coats of quality for everyone; for the man who wants the best and is willing to pay for it, and for the man who wants to make every dollar count and knows the value of money.
