

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Read Katz & Co's ad this week. It will interest suit buyers.

Dr. R. G. H. Hayes left on Friday for Philadelphia on a short trip.

The slaters on the roof of the new school house and the snow man are now running a race.

The Price and Butler company are drawing large crowds at the opera house every night this week.

Dr. Sebring went to Detroit this week to pay a visit to the Studebaker automobile works, where the famous "E. M. F." car is produced.

Joseph Runkle, the plumber, left Bellefonte on Thursday to spend a short time with relatives and friends at McGees Mills, Clearfield county.

Warren Wood, proprietor of the Spring Mills hotel, and his father-in-law, Thomas Faxton, proprietor of the Rebersburg hotel, were visitors in Bellefonte on Friday.

Miss Vera Willard left on Friday for Union City, Pa., where she will spend some time with friends. She has been ill for several weeks and it is thought a change will be beneficial.

On Friday Trood Bidwell left for Philadelphia, after several days spent here with his mother, who had been seriously ill. It is said that Mrs. Bidwell is slowly recovering which will be good news to her friends.

Prof. A. A. Fletcher, of Howard, has recovered sufficiently from his illness of several weeks to come to Bellefonte on business and favored our sanctum with a call. Prospects are he will build up soon and be himself again.

The Lewisburg, Pa., Chronicle of last Friday says: "We announce with exceeding regret the serious suffering from peritonitis of Dr. Gerhart of the Reformed church, and express the hope that his recovery will be but a matter of a short time." Rev. Gerhart some years ago was located at Bellefonte.

The merchants of Bellefonte are preparing for the holiday fish. Christmas buying will soon begin and nothing should be bought out of town that can be gotten here. Our merchants are bringing the best selected stock they can procure and our people should be loyal enough to stand by them. What's the use of sending away for something when it can be secured at home.

L. T. Munson says everything is moving along nicely with reference to the trolley line between Milesburg, Bellefonte and State College. Most of the right-of-way has been secured and in a very short time plans and specifications will be prepared for grading the road. There will be over 1,000 feet of iron bridging on the road which will be of the very best, and erected so substantially that a large locomotive can be run over it.

On Monday twenty-five quarrymen at the Chemical works, on Buffalo Run, struck for higher wages. They were getting twenty-five cents a car but they demanded thirty cents. The company claimed it had been treating the men fairly by paying more wages than the American Lime & Stone Co., and thus the advance demanded was refused. Matters were finally amicably settled and the men returned to work on Wednesday at the old price.

Starting in next week the Electric Theatre, in Garman's opera house, will be re-opened with Calvin Huss as manager and proprietor. Mr. Huss is favorably known to our people as having been connected with Vogel's Minstrels. During the past year he devoted his time to the moving picture business, giving entertainments in the smaller towns throughout this section. Having practical experience in this line he knows how to give the best pictures and produce a program that will please all. One of the best picture machines has been secured and the films will be the latest and best selections. Admission will be 5 cents.

Like Job, of old, Robert Hunter, of Bellefonte, has been suffering from boils on the neck. He had been using salves and poultices galore but they failed to bring the required relief. He was down in Harry Yeager's shoe store the other day when he made the discovery that Mr. Yeager was selling a plaster that was very effective in curing corns. Bob got to reasoning philosophically that if the blaine thing would take off a corn on a man's foot why wouldn't it relieve a boil? Believing that this way of figuring was about right he purchased a box of plasters and applied one of them according to directions. The result was the next morning Robert pulled the nauseating ball out by the roots and has since been enjoying life as usual. Bob now is a firm believer in the efficacy of Yeager's corn plaster to cure boils as well as corns and bunions.

On Friday evening Henry M. Murtoff and his bride, formerly Miss Viola Robb, returned to Bellefonte which will be an incident in their lives that they will never forget. They had been at State College and came down on the Bellefonte Central to George Hasten's home where they took an automobile and started to Bellefonte, thinking by this they could reach town without any demonstration. During the afternoon, however, their friends got next to these arrangements and sort of frustrated their plans. The employees of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. hitched up a horse in one of the delivery wagons and tied another behind it. Putting chairs in both vehicles they started up Spring Creek to Brockerhoff's mill where they stood the two wagons across the road and waited for developments. Presently along came the automobile containing the happy couple and they soon found that they had been waylaid. The only alternative was for the bride and groom to take the respective wagons and when they reached town the announcement of their arrival was made by the blowing of horns and the ringing of cow bells. They were drawn through the principal streets amid a blaze of red lights. It was a reception worthy of a king.

Don't pass up Katz & Co's ad. in this week's issue. Its news to all suit buyers.

Thermometer down to 27 above zero Wednesday morning with half an inch of ice on puddles.

C. W. Fisher, of the mercantile firm of Fisher Bros., Pennhall, favored our sanctum with a call.

Charles Decker, wife and child, of Pittsburg, spent several days in Bellefonte as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Decker, on Linn street.

Mrs. Groh, wife of Rev. Groh, died, and two daughters, who had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Stitzer, left on Monday morning for their home in Carlisle.

The Price and Butler Comedy Company is putting up a good clean show this week in Garman's opera house. The parts are all well taken in each play, thus the show is giving general satisfaction and is being well attended.

C. D. Casebeer, the jeweler, has improved the appearance of his store by taking down a gas chandelier which makes the store look larger. To add to the general appearance of the interior he had the ceiling covered with nice, clean paper, which now gives the store an attractive appearance.

Harry F. Garber, who for the past year has been engaged in the broker's business near Terre Haute, Ind., has closed his office in that place and he and Mrs. Garber are now in Greensburg, this state, where it is quite likely he will open an office in the near future.

Next Sabbath will be Y. M. C. A. day in Lock Haven and a big time is expected. The needs of the work will be presented in every church in that city, and among the speakers will be Dr. Allison Platts, J. R. Hughes and Dr. Weston, of Bellefonte. These gentlemen are all fluent speakers and they will give interesting and profitable talks along this important line.

On Monday morning Dr. Allison Platts, Rev. Fred Barry and Rev. C. W. Winey left Bellefonte for Harrisburg where they attended the Laymen's Missionary Convention, which was held in Grace M. E. church. The purpose of this movement is to try and reach the whole world with the gospel in this generation. It was one of the most spiritual gatherings ever held in that city.

On Friday the bids were opened for the new Country Club house at Hecla Park. There were but three bids, and each of them was so high that they received little consideration. The bids were again reconsidered on Saturday, but no definite terms could be arrived at, the contractors were given ten days in which to make reductions and then report. It was the intention to commence rebuilding immediately but it will be postponed for a short time.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has decided to put in its own steam heating plant in Bellefonte. It will be erected in the railroad yard, near the round house, and will have capacity enough to heat the passenger station, baggage room, freight station, the two watch towers, and keep the Lewisburg train warm that stands nightly on the siding, near the passenger station. At present all the above property, with the exception of the passenger station, is heated by stoves, and thus the new arrangement will not only be a convenience, but it will be more comfortable for the employees.

On Tuesday morning about 11:30 o'clock, Harry Ghertt, driver of R. S. Brouse's delivery wagon, met with a serious accident. He was crossing the tracks at the depot of the Central R. R. of Pa., when the neck-yoke broke. The horses frightened and started to run away. The wagon struck the iron truss on the bridge when Harry was thrown out and his right leg broken between the ankle and the knee. He also received a deep gash cut in his head. One of the horses was slightly injured and the wagon and harness were slightly broken. Mr. Ghertt was taken to the Bellefonte hospital where he is getting along as well as can be expected. Until he gets around again Harry Tibbens will be the delivering for Mr. Brouse.

The cold weather is causing a hustle at the new addition of the Court house. On Tuesday afternoon additional masons and bricklayers were put on the job so that the work from now on will be rushed to completion just as fast as possible. The contractors are anxious to get the roof on before the snow falls and the winter sets in. The first office to be completed will be that for county treasurer, George Fink, who is now located in the county commissioners' office, where things are pretty congested. Just as soon as the roof is on the building it will be heated with steam and the work will progress no matter what may be the character of the elements outside. The new system of heating and ventilation is now being installed in the old part of the Court house which is requiring much time and labor. When completed it will be all right.

Col. H. S. Taylor had an invitation to go to Philadelphia today and he is a guest at the Thanksgiving dinner given by the Clover Club. This is one of the famous dinner clubs of America, and to be asked to dine and wine there is considered no small honor. Governor Stuart and staff and officers of the National Guard are to be guests and will appear in full dress uniform. Col. Taylor had to forego this great pleasure because he had made arrangements to be in Pittsburg today to witness the big game of football between the University of Pittsburg and State College. This game is so important that it will decide who will stand second champions among the large teams. "Hughie" is a great football admirer and would give up a big turkey dinner any time to see a first class game. He is built that way, and he can't help it.

There will be a whole bushel of fun for those who attend the "County Fair."

The "Isle of Spice" was one of the best attractions in the opera house for a long time.

Miss Florence McGuintage, of West Chester, arrived in Bellefonte on Friday to visit friends.

Miss Mary Hughes, of New York City, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jacob Hughes, at the Bellefonte Academy.

C. T. Gerberich received a cablegram recently that Lewis Wetzel and his family had arrived safely in Europe.

Mrs. Evelyn Rodgers, of Bellefonte, who had been seriously ill at her home on Allegheny street, is slowly recovering.

Mrs. Daniel Lenker, of Aaronsburg, and two daughters, Miss Lenker and Mrs. Houser, were pleasant callers in our sanctum.

Miss Nan Collins, daughter of Mrs. Peter Collins, of Philadelphia, is staying with her aunt, Miss Sallie Collins, on Curtin street.

Tickets for the "Centre County Fair" are now being sold and a large audience will be eager to witness the Centre County Fair, December 23rd and 24th.

W. N. Weaver, of Nittany, was a caller, with his little daughter. Farmer Weaver had nine acres out in potatoes, the yield of which was seventy bushels to the acre.

Mrs. Anna C. Woodcock left Bellefonte, Tuesday, for a week in Birmingham with Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Woodcock, after which she will return for several days to close her home for the winter.

Wagner Geise, the attentive clerk in Rhoads' coal office, has been some what "under the weather" for a week or more. His sister, from Centre Hall, took charge of the office for several days.

The basket shop under the supervision of Misses Mary Blanchard and Louise Valentine, in Bellefonte, has been doing a large Christmas business. These ladies held a basket sale in Pittsburg recently which proved a success.

M. C. Gephart's music store has been moved from the Alkens block to the room in the Allison block occupied by G. Willard Hall, who is in the phonograph business. These two gentlemen will occupy the room jointly and will be glad to see all their friends.

Recently Ambrose Pierce and Howard Johnson, two colored boys, were sent from Bellefonte to the Corey Institute, an industrial school for colored children at Urbana, Ohio. The institute is supported by philanthropy and the boys were sent there with money contributed by various people of Bellefonte.

Today, Thanksgiving, the ladies of the Lutheran church at Pleasant Gap will serve a roast chicken dinner for 15 cents. In the evening they will serve a chicken and waffle supper for 15 cents. It would pay Bellefonters to jump into their automobiles and go out to Noll's hall where these ladies will give them a square meal.

Don't forget that this is the day for the great football game between the Academy eleven and the crack Osgood athletic club team of Altoona. The game will be called at 2 p. m. Not only will the lovers of clean foot ball be treated to a fine exhibition of up to date football, but the city band will furnish special music during the game. Go, and help the locals win.

Former jury commissioner John D. Decker, of Potter, was in town on business a few days ago, and as usual, gave the Democrat sanctum a call. He reports the mountain streams so low that it is his opinion most of the trout have perished. Mr. Decker has been somewhat of a hunter in his mountain-life days. His score of game killed is 60 deer, 13 bears, some wild cats and other animals.

Little Joey Katz mailed a letter to Santa Claus, which will undoubtedly reach Santa before Christmas, whose home is up by the North Pole, where they have great ice bergs and where Santa has a shop to manufacture his Christmas toys for the little girls and boys, and where Cook and Peary went to climb the pole and didn't fall down but only "fell out" about it. You bet Joey will hear from Santa.

George L. Ebb, of Loveville, recently sold his farm, the old Ebb's homestead in Halfmoon township, to Milton Walker and with his family will leave next Monday, November 22, for Carmen, Oka., where they will make their future home. His sister, Miss Eva Ebb, is a teacher in the conservatory of music in that place, so that the only one of the family remaining in Centre county is a brother, Harry G. Ebb, of Loveville.

Dr. Weston, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., has made arrangements for the return of the Cambria Glee Club, which will give another of their excellent entertainments in the Methodist church this evening after the regular Thanksgiving services. An admittance of 25 cents will be charged. The proceeds to go towards the improvements at the Bellefonte hospital. This is a fine musical organization and should be greeted by a large house. Go and thereby aid a worthy cause.

As a mirth-producer and life-cheer there can be nothing compared with the moving pictures found at the Scenic. One thing they are to be credited with is their determined effort to make the ladies take off their hats which is becoming almost an intolerable nuisance. To show the inconsistency of the thing, the other evening a lady with a big hat came in and sat down behind a woman whose hat was almost as large as a wash tub. The result was that the second lady looked as if she wished she could get hold of the woman in front and scratch her eyes out because it was impossible for her to see the pictures. The second thought that the fellow back of her was swearing vengeance because her hat kept him from seeing anything on the stage. The right thing to do is to make them all take their hats off. Miss Norton's singing is still appreciated by the large audiences that gather there nightly.

Is, Baum, who for years has been an efficient clerk in A. C. Mingle's shoe store, has resigned. He has not decided what he will do in the future.

Deputy Sheriff James B. Stroh, who was taken suddenly and seriously ill last week, has improved and is spending to-day, (Thanksgiving) with his family at Centre Hall. Guess he, however, will have to cut out the turkey and dine on something milder.

Bert Taylor, of Bellefonte, was the successful bidder for two miles of state road to be built in Franklin county, this state. The tools used in building the road at Sandy Ridge will be moved to that place. If weather permits work will be commenced immediately.

M. J. Kelley, who has been engaged in the broker business in this place for the past seven months, has disposed of the same to T. S. Stray, Jr. Kelley is undecided as to his plans for the future, but it is very probable that he will engage in the broker business elsewhere.

Miss Lottie Robb, of East Bishop street, left last Wednesday for Dayton, Ohio, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Samuel Cole, for a week or ten days. Miss Helen Bair occupies the position of stenographer for W. Harrison Walker, Esq., during the absence of Miss Robb.

During the past week another section of Allegheny street was treated with oil to keep down the dust. The worst place for dust is on High street from the station to the Centre county Bank and the streets connecting. A little oiling would give the property owners in that section much relief.

D. I. Willard, the High street merchant, is much pleased with the business that has been coming his way. The way it showed up last Saturday in dollars and cents made him feel that the people are finding him out. He started with practically nothing and is now equipped to furnish anything in his line.

The semi-annual statement of the financial condition of the Bellefonte Trust Company will be found on another page of this issue. The amount of surplus and undivided profits is growing steadily from year to year adding to the stability and security of the institution. It is also evidence that the management is in its most capable hands.

J. Linn Harris last week bought the two pool tables which were in the Hotel Kaylor building, at Mill Hall. On Monday afternoon they were placed in the Curtin residence which, on January 1st will be occupied by the Bellefonte lodge of B. P. O. E. There are fine tables which will add much to the entertainment and sociability of the Elks.

On Sunday the Methodists of Bellefonte had with them Evangelist Dorsey N. Miller, A. M., and wife, of Mountville. Both have fine voices and sing beautifully, teaching as much gospel in song as in address. The meetings were all well attended and much good was accomplished. In the afternoon an interesting meeting was held in Petriken Hall, when the evangelist spoke on the theme, "The Devil's Joke."

Prof. Frank R. Straightoff is the name of the gentleman who has taken Prof. Cole's place in the faculty of the Bellefonte Academy. He is an addition of which the school can be justly proud, not only because of his efficiency as an instructor, but being a good, genial fellow he has become quite popular with the students and friends of the institution. Bellefonte is always wiser and better by having such young men tarry within its gates.

Mechanics at work putting up the new addition to the court house seem to have taken to tumbling during the last week. On Wednesday last week William Keeler fell off a scaffolding a distance of about 15 feet. He was unconscious for a short time and besides receiving a number of bruises was badly shaken up. On Friday Grover Solt fell eight or ten feet sustaining a badly sprained wrist and otherwise bruised.

On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Main celebrated their thirty-eighth marriage anniversary. During the evening a number of friends called on them at their home on Howard street and spent the time very pleasantly. They have always resided in Bellefonte where they have hosts of warm friends who will join in wishing them much joy and happiness throughout their future life.

On Saturday we had a pleasant call from Siney Hov, who resides on the old Hov farm about two miles west of Bellefonte. Incidentally he remarked that the Bellefonte gentleman with the automobile, who lost his goggles in his grove the other evening can get them by calling and proving property. The name of the young lady who was with him will not be required. We guess Mr. Hov can sell those glasses for old junk as it is hardly probable that the owner will turn up.

On Saturday afternoon at Altoona, in a fast game of foot ball, the Bellefonte Academy was defeated by a team from the Railroad City. The large and excited crowd witnessed a hotly contested game from first to finish. The Altoona Tribune gives it the credit of being the best game of the season, the score being 2 to 0 in favor of Altoona. The Academy was a little in hard luck from the fact that ten minutes after the game was started Smith, the full-back, was knocked out by having his knee injured. Later Loudon, the right guard, was taken off the field with an injured leg. Good substitutes filled their places but the characteristic vim and snap seemed to have been knocked out of the boys. The game was marked with a good deal of fumbling on both sides.

On Sunday evening in the barracks, Ensign and Mrs. Harvey, who have been in charge of the Bellefonte branch of the Salvation Army, will say farewell and on Tuesday leave town. Since coming to Bellefonte they have been working so hard and faithfully that they were compelled to relinquish the command here on account of a physical breakdown. They will seek a renewal of health in a higher altitude and probably some future day they will be in the front again. They take this opportunity to thank the people for their kindness during their stay here, although the appeals for aid made through the press recently have not been responded to. It is stated that there are impostors to the cause who are going around collecting money and other articles for the Salvation Army when they have no connection with the corps. All donations to the cause should be sent direct to the officers and not given to any Tom, Dick or Harry who comes along. Ensign Harvey and wife bespeak success to their successors.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Spigelmyer are the guests today of their daughter, Mrs. John Hoffman, in Williamsport.

Mrs. W. L. Fleming will partake of a turkey dinner today at the home of her son, Ward Fleming, at Harrisburg.

J. Kennedy Johnston, of Bellefonte, is the proud father of a nice little baby daughter, which he prizes above rubles.

James Bayard leaves today for Howard, where he will end the winter with Fred Duham, editor of the Hustler and Daily News.

Dr. John Sebring received a handsome new "E. M. F." demonstrating car which Willis Wiam is proudly showing to his friends.

On Tuesday Bellefonte seemed to be a mecca for sheriffs, as Sheriff Con Allen, of Clearfield, and Sheriff W. Howard Klepper, of Lock Haven, both transacted legal business here.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. is preparing to build a new bridge at the north side of the Nittany furnace yards. It will be concrete and steel.

Rev. C. C. Shuey and William Tressler were among the Bellefonters who attended the big Laymen's Missionary Convention which was held in Harrisburg this week. They returned very much enthused.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kirtley, of Union Star, Mo., are guests at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Kirk, on High street. Mrs. Kirtley is a niece of Dr. Kirk, and the pleasant couple are East on their wedding trip.

Miss Myrtle Barnhart, stenographer for James C. Furst, Esq., left on Wednesday for Pittsburg to witness the game of football between Pittsburg University and State College. She also expects to meet a nice friend there.

On Tuesday the bids for the State road through Bellefonte were opened at the office of State Highway Commissioner Hunter, at Harrisburg, but up to this time the County Commissioners have not been notified as to the successful bidders.

Lee F. Adams, who graduated from State in 1906 and who was a member of the engineering faculty last year, is with the General Electric company at Schenectady, N. Y. He is designing special induction motors for the Pennsylvania, Boston and Atlantic districts of this corporation.

The young men and women of Bellefonte who will assist the "Elks Charity Club" in presenting "The County Fair" in the opera house on December 3rd and 4th, are requested to bear in mind the fact that the next full rehearsal will be held on Monday evening, November 29th, and all are urged to attend.

Don't forget that this evening the Thanksgiving services will be held in the Bellefonte Methodist church. Rev. Howe, of the United Evangelical church, will preach the sermon. He is an interesting speaker and will give the people something profitable to think about. Everybody ought to be thankful enough to the Creator for what they have, to go to the church and join in the services.

By a freight wreck on the Bellefonte Central railroad on Wednesday the passenger train was delayed an hour and a half. Instead of reaching here at 12:30 it failed to arrive until nearly 2 o'clock. On the train were a couple of cars filled with students who were on their way to Pittsburg University State football game today. As an accommodation the train on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad was held here. For awhile Harry Hurdston, the ticket agent, did a hand office business in selling mileage books and single tickets. The Cadet band accompanied the rotters.

On the 23rd of September Henry Puff died at his home on Buffalo Run. Frank Naginey, of Bellefonte, was engaged as the undertaker. The body was buried without a permit from Miss Alice Tate, registrar of vital statistics. Recently Mr. Naginey was arrested and given a hearing before Squire W. H. Musser. Mr. Naginey's defense was that he sent his man, Mr. Smeed, to Miss Tate's office and she wasn't there. It also developed that in the absence of Miss Tate her deputy was J. O. Brewer, book-keeper at McCalmont & Co's, and no application for a permit, in this case, was made to him. Mr. Naginey further contended that the registrar had no right to think about funeral charges. He claimed that after applying three times for a permit he thought he did his duty. Justice Musser looked at it differently, however, and fined him $20 and costs. Mr. Naginey has appealed the case to court.

On Saturday afternoon at Altoona, in a fast game of foot ball, the Bellefonte Academy was defeated by a team from the Railroad City. The large and excited crowd witnessed a hotly contested game from first to finish. The Altoona Tribune gives it the credit of being the best game of the season, the score being 2 to 0 in favor of Altoona. The Academy was a little in hard luck from the fact that ten minutes after the game was started Smith, the full-back, was knocked out by having his knee injured. Don't Be a Loser! It is wicked to loaf. Every man is created for a purpose and he has no right to shirk that responsibility. If you have friends or money that simply increases your responsibility. No man has a right to loaf. Nothing can be more humiliating to a parent than to know that her son is a confirmed loafer—a mere blank—absorbing his living from the toil of other hands and creating nothing. No sensible young lady will allow a confirmed street loafer to enter her company. No able-bodied, strong-minded person ever wanted work that was unable to find it. If you can't get paid for your labor go and work for nothing. It will be better for you, and when you have fully demonstrated that you are capable of work you can easily find a paying job. The man or boy who is content to live like a drone bee—sponging off of the others—should be forced on his own resources and compelled to swim or sink. It would be best for society. Boys, if you have ever loafed don't do it any more.
