

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Sweater coats for men, boys and ladies; all sorts of weaves and color combinations. Sim, the Clothier.
On Thursday evening Mrs. Frank H. Thomas, of Bellefonte, and her daughters entertained at cards.
The Centre Democrat has exceptional facilities for doing good job printing. Prices always are reasonable.
William Markle has resigned his position at the Pennsylvania Match Factory and is now employed at the court house.
Dr. Sebring is running a new "E M F 30" demonstrating car about town that is a good one, while the price makes it a practical investment.
Mrs. Downs, who had been in the Bellefonte hospital training school, has gone to Pittsburgh where she has accepted a position in the Rasalla hospital.
Several quilts used at the production of the "County Fair" remain at the Elks rooms, and the owners are unknown. Kindly call or telephone for them.
A young lady, of fair education, residing in Bellefonte, desiring to learn printing, as a compositor and a Linotype operator, should apply at once at this office.
On Monday Emil Joseph, one of Bellefonte's progressive merchants, took a day off and went to State College where his son, Edmund, is a student. He was much pleased with his visit.
Mr. and Mrs. George Gamble, of Bellefonte, attended a high noon wedding on Wednesday at Sallysburg, Lycoming county, the groom being Elmer Plook, a brother of Mrs. Gamble, and the bride was Miss Alice Belford.
Don't forget the supper and festival to be held at Zion on Friday and Saturday evenings, by the ladies of the United Evangelical church. They have made extended preparations for the even and it should be liberally patronized.
G. G. Fink, the county treasurer, is back again at his post of duty after an absence of several days. Like Job, of old, he has been troubled with boils, causing him to eat his meals in a perpendicular position. It is said every boil is worth $5, but he would rather take a more painless method of pilling up wealth. The other fellow is welcome to all the fives he gets in this way.
On Thursday Col. H. S. Taylor, Robert Hunter, Dr. M. J. Locke and Thomas Beaver left Bellefonte for Philadelphia as delegates to the annual meeting of the National Guard Association of Pennsylvania. They all returned on Saturday evening with the exception of Thomas Beaver, who went to visit friends or a "friend" elsewhere. He returned on Tuesday morning.
On Friday evening Sidney Landon, the character artist, will appear in Petriken Hall. This is the third entertainment provided in the Y. M. C. A. course and a good one. His impersonations shows him to be an artist of the first class in his line. He is wonderfully clever in his portrayal of different personages, and cannot help but please. This entertainment is decidedly out of the ordinary and should be well attended.
Maurice B. Runkle, formerly prescription clerk in C. M. Parrish's drug store, Bellefonte, has resigned his position with the Thompson Drug Company, of Coatsville, and has accepted the position of head prescription clerk in Kantner's large, new drug store at Altoona. Maurice is thoroughly conversant with the drug business and consequently he is able to fill any position in pharmacy that may be offered him.
Norris Bogle left Bellefonte on Wednesday for Yucatan, a peninsula of Mexico, jutting into the Gulf of Mexico. Agriculture and lumbering is the chief occupation and Mr. Bogle expects to remain there for at least one year, during which time he will investigate some of the inducements that are offered there to northern capitalists, especially in mining and lumbering. He is an expert along this line, and any report that he may make of this land that is said to be flowing with milk and honey, will be O. K.
At a recent meeting of the Bellefonte Camp No. 5682, Modern Woodmen of America, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Past Venerable Consul, George T. Bush; Venerable Consul, William A. Lyon; Worthy Advisor, John C. Rumberger; Banker A. C. Mingle; Clerk, J. Kennedy Johnson; Escort, Andrew B. Young; Sentry, and Watchman, John Farkin; Physician, Dr. M. J. Locke; Manager, E. O. Struble; George T. Bush and M. R. Johnson. In the last ten years the camp has collected and dispersed over $11,000.
Foster Jodon, who serves milk to customers in Bellefonte, was rather unfortunate on Sunday morning. He resides along the pike near Axemann, at what is known as the Black barn, and at about 5 o'clock he took a lantern and went to the stable to get ready to start to town. The lantern was left in the stable, while he went to the house and while absent exploded, setting fire to the building which burned to the ground in a short time. Mr. Jodon saved his horse, wagon and chickens, which is quite an asset just now. The loss amounted to several hundred dollars.
At Sheriff Sale D. H. Shivery, of Bellefonte, recently purchased James Summers' restaurant under Criders Exchange. The price paid was $250. Mr. Shivery intends to run the place until he secures a good customer, and on Monday Wallie Karstetter, formerly with Charles Moersbacher, was employed as chef who is the right man for the place, and will serve the patrons with the best that's on the market. James Summers has taken Mr. Karstetter's place at Moersbacher's restaurant. Since the above was written Mr. Shivery has taken Harry Irwin in as a partner, and these two gentlemen will conduct the business in an up-to-date manner.
Umbrellas, ladies' or mens—at Sims.
Mrs. John Noll is visiting her daughter, Mrs. VanDyke, in Altoona.
Miss Eva Crissman will hold her dance this evening instead of on Friday evening.
A box of 1/2 doz. "squaredale hose" in assorted colors, guaranteed six months, $1.50—at Sims.
Handkerchiefs, plain linen, initial and fancy and select, always acceptable—Sims The Clothier.
Harvey Steele, one of the carriers of the Bellefonte Daily, fell on Tuesday and broke his right arm above the wrist.
Miss Carrie Weaver, one of the Bellefonte school teachers, is ill with pneumonia at her home on Howard street.
Guy Dale left Bellefonte for Renovo where he is assisting the construction crew in putting up poles for the Bell Telephone Co.
Miss Nelle Conley is entertaining Miss Margaret Harbison, of Pittsburgh, at her home on Logan street. The young ladies were schoolmates at Birmingham.
Among the callers to this office on Monday were James and J. T. Metzger, of Beech Creek. They inspected our progressive method of putting out a county newspaper.
T. Clayton Brown, who recently underwent an operation in one of the hospitals in Philadelphia, will be home to-morrow. He thinks he is now just as good as any man, physically.
The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. has men employed in digging ditches at the depot for the two-inch steam pipe which will be laid from the passenger station to the freight station, where a steam plant will be installed.
Don't forget the chicken and waffle supper this evening to be held in the U. B. church annex, by the ladies of that denomination. You will be served with the best that can be had.
It is said that E. R. Chambers, Esq., of Bellefonte, is now on a sure way of permanent recovery and is now looking for an office to resume the practice of law. This will certainly be good news to his many friends.
Joseph Kelleher, who had been off duty for the last month on account of a dislocated shoulder, returned to work Monday as conductor of the shifter in the yard of the Penn. R. R. He was tired of his job as a loafer.
Miss Vera Willard, the trained nurse, who had been visiting friends at Union City and Meadville, has returned to her home in Bellefonte. She has entirely recovered from her recent illness and is now ready to fill any engagement that is offered her.
If you go around to W. R. Brackbill's furniture store you can see a big, live owl, and Mr. Brackbill will show you where the large bird took a chunk out of his wrist. Remember it is not a white owl like some of the boys sold around here about one year ago. No, this one is genuine.
Tuesday night about 11 o'clock, the fire department was called out to extinguish a fire in a Hungarian shanty, located near the round house of the Bellefonte Central railroad, north of Coleville. It was a small building and burned to the ground before the firemen reached the place. The loss is a trifle.
On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Morris and son Thomas, of Pittsburgh, arrived in Bellefonte and became guests of Mrs. Morris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Gray Meek. Mr. Morris returned to the Smoky City on Sunday afternoon while his family will remain here for several weeks.
J. T. Zeigler, of Pleasant Gap, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday circulating among his friends. He just finished the contract of painting all the buildings at the fish hatchery, which was more than an ordinary job. Mr. Zeigler is a first class painter and does his work well. The buildings are painted white, with green trimmings, which give the place a neat and attractive appearance. As soon as spring comes other improvements will be made out there.
On Saturday night, W. G. Lave, the popular singer at the Scenic, gave a stag banquet at Clyde Blackford's restaurant, on Bishop street. Eight of his bachelor friends sat down to a fine course dinner which was gotten up in elaborate style. Mr. Blackford leaving nothing undone that would add to the comfort and pleasure of his guests. "Billy" Lave is one of the boys here who likes to have a good time in the right way, so that he has made many warm friends since residing in Bellefonte, and this is one of the ways he showed his appreciation of them.
Swears at Jury.
At Sunbury, on Friday, when the jury returned a first degree murder verdict against Joe Molecki charged with shooting and killing W. Tomachefski, near Mount Carmel, last September, for the purpose of robbing him of his pay envelope containing $15, the prisoner arose from his chair and, facing the jury, shouted: "I did not get a fair shake. Some of you damn fools must have changed your mind."
Molecki, although only 29 years old, is a desperate man, and takes delight in being called "the tough kid." The evidence produced at the trial showed that he made a pretense of going to work in the mines on pay day and several days thereafter, and concealed himself in the underbrush awaiting any good opportunity to rob miners returning from work with their money.
Mens or boys suits, overcoats, raincoats, made right, priced right, at this one store—Sims The Clothier.
Street Paving.
Statistics compiled by the city controller show that since 1905 the Altoona property owners of that city have spent nearly $2,000,000 for street paving and other improvements directly connected with the paving, a sum that it is believed is hardly equalled by any other city of that size in the country.
The best shirt made—Manhattan. If you don't think so wear half a dozen. Have other prominent makers' best styles to show you. All that's newest—Sims The Clothier.

Cranston-Meyer.
On Wednesday at noon a pretty wedding took place at the home of Prof. and Mrs. W. T. Meyer, in Philadelphia. In the presence of a number of friends and relatives, and amid a shower of floral beauty, his daughter, Miss Eva M. Meyer, became the bride of Fred Cranston, who holds an excellent position at the Reading Terminal in the Quaker City. The bride is well known both in Bellefonte and Rebersburg where she quite frequently visited. After a wedding breakfast they left on a two-weeks' tour to Washington, D. C., old Fort Comfort and other cities of the south. On their return they will make their home in the city of Brotherly Love.
Miss Edna Meyers, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. R. C. Holmes, of State College, witnessed the ceremony. Before returning Miss Meyer and Mrs. Holmes will visit at the home of Dr. William McCalmont, in that city.

A. J. Tate, of Pine Grove Mills, has started a furniture store and undertaking establishment in that thriving little town. He is a most excellent citizen and his friends wish for his success.
The steam threshers, of Ferguson township, have all pulled in for the winter with the following tally: C. H. Meyers, 48,000 bushels; W. H. Weaver, 42,000 bushels; J. A. Cramer, 34,000 bushels.
Leslie, son of George Harper, of State College, met with a serious accident on Thursday while butchering hogs. A cap on the gun exploded, the particles of shell striking his face, badly mutilating it, and it is feared, destroyed the sight of one eye. The young man's condition is pitiable.
While Waldo Cori, of Pine Hill, was endeavoring to ride and tame an unbroken colt he was thrown to the ground, dragged some distance and sustained severe bruises about the head. Breaking bronchos is a profession that most farmers' boys have yet to acquire.
A revival meeting that has been duplicating in experience and power the old time revivals, has been in progress several weeks, in the Methodist church in Milesburg. The meeting is under the supervision of the pastor, R. Sykes Oyler. One Sunday evening there were fifteen came to the altar. There have been forty-seven conversions and the interest continues. The town has been so awakened that the meeting is the subject of conversation in the business places and the homes.
At a recent meeting of the Tussey Rebekeh Lodge, No. 66, of Boalsburg, the following officers were installed by District Deputy President, Mrs. Jacob Hoy, of the Crystal Spring Lodge, of Bellefonte: Noble Grand, Mrs. Anna Zeigler; Vice Grand, Mrs. Kathrine Mothersbaugh; Secretary, Miss Anna Dale; Treasurer, Miss Nora Miller; Warden, Mrs. Ella Ishler; Conductor, Mrs. Maude Williams; Chaplain, Mrs. Effie Fortney; R.
