

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Be sure and attend the caucus meeting on Saturday. All the leading sales in Centre county will be found in the sale Register. Mrs. Joseph Twitmore, of Sunbury, has been a visitor among friends in Bellefonte. Charles P. Taylor, formerly an employe in Green's drug store, has accepted a position at Pitsburgh. Ed. Rine, formerly of Bellefonte Adams Express Co., at Latrobe, is the proud father of a cute little girl. I will be at the hotel in Millheim, on Monday, January 24th, to give prices on harness and take orders. James Schofield. Andrew, the twelve-year-old son of Peter Saylor, of Penn street, was injured the other day while coasting on Howard street. Miss Catherine Willard is teaching school for Miss Carrie Weaver until the latter is able to resume her duties in the school room. Mrs. Sadie Hill, who the past year or two has occupied rooms in the Crider stone building, has moved to the apartments over Lyon & Co's store. Mrs. Frank Blair, who had been suffering from a severe attack of tonsillitis, is now improving right along. Walter B. Rankin, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin, on east Curtin street. This year Lent will begin on Feb. 9, fifteen days earlier than it did last year, so that Easter Sunday will fall on March 27, instead of April 11, as it did last year. Telford Fink, son of County Treasurer G. G. Fink, is now a worthy employe of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co. He is an enterprising young man who will make good. Arthur Brown, an employe of the American Lime & Stone Co., at Atmor Gap, has been suffering from a sprain of his right ankle, caused by a heavy stone falling on it. Curt Wagner, Frank Nagney and Robert F. Hunter went to Philadelphia this week to attend the mid-winter automobile show, which is commanding the attention of automobilists all over the state. W. A. Kinsale, editor of the Lock Haven Express, passed through Bellefonte on Saturday afternoon on his way to State College where he spent Sunday with his son, who is a student of the institution. W. B. Miller, of Bellefonte, had his right hand caught in the gears of a slag car at Nittany Furnace the other day while dumping a kettle of slag. He was pretty badly burned but is getting along in pretty good shape. Miss Onmacht is ill with rheumatism in her apartments on the third floor of Crider's exchange. She has been a very active woman in her day and her seclusion and illness is sort of a double affliction. It is to be hoped she will soon recover. At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Match Co. it was decided they would increase the output of the plant by building another factory building 50 x 100 feet and three stories high. Through the successful management of Joseph L. Montgomery the plant has been growing and thus the Bellefonte matches are in great demand. The stork was very generous recently in making the following Bellefontes homes happy. To Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saucerman he brought a girl baby; the same is also true of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller. Both these gentlemen would have given a farm in Pennsylvania if they had been boys instead of girls, but we cannot always have what we want. Harvey Shaffer, clerk in Olewine's hardware store, took a little vacation this week by going to Philadelphia and taking in the automobile show. He has the automobile fever and it might be that at sometime in the future he will trade his steamer in for a 1910 model of some kind. When a man visits one of these exhibitions he sees so much modern improvement that he is never satisfied afterwards with what he has. Dr. Alfred Gordon, of Philadelphia, who was married to Miss Victoria Lyons, a sister of Mrs. Lewis Grauer, of Bellefonte, has just been elected to membership in the Medical Physiological Society of Paris, the oldest of the learned societies of France. This society is composed of the most eminent alienists and physiologists in Europe, and the fact that there is only nine other American members makes the honors all the more notable. Dr. Gordon is still a young man who has been spending much time in the study of nervous diseases. Princess Wah-Ta-Wao, who is starring in the melodrama, "As Told in the Hills" is one of the best rifle shots in the country, having refused several offers from prominent rifle manufacturers to tour the country, attending tournaments where she would come in competition with the most experts, advertising their line of rifles. In one act of the play she has to free her father who has been captured and bound by the ropes which she secures his wrists. This requires a steady nerve and a quick eye for both the Princess and the captive but the incident has never been marked with an accident. The play is one of the few high class productions of the season that will be seen here with the original metropolitan cast. The show will be seen in Garman's opera house this Thursday evening. One of the pleasing features at the scenic is that Manager Brown is not afraid of his shadow when it comes down to giving all his patrons a fair shake. We mean by this that all ladies irrespective of race or color, rich or poor, are kindly requested to take off their hats. This is just as much for their benefit as anybody else's, and it should be appreciated by everybody. In the first place there ought to be a law passed against a woman wearing a hat as large as a barn door, at least while they are attending any public gathering. While Mr. Brown is running one of the finest picture shows in Pennsylvania he is being highly complimented, on all hands, for the stand he has taken with reference to the hat question. It's a guarantee that when you go there you can see something. Many a man's temper has been ruined while sitting behind a hat that obstructed his view and made everything a blank before him.

During the past week some report mercury 10 degrees below zero. That is going some. The Centre Democrat contains all the local news for $1—but it must be paid in advance. Consult us when you want job printing. Our work is good—prices always reasonable. This week Register E. C. Tuten transacted business, relative to his office, in Philadelphia. A warm spell on Tuesday melted much of the snow and caused a little flood in some of our streams. The Elks will move some of their furniture to their new home this week for equipping the lodge room and their pool room. The new bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gilliland, spent part of Sunday in Bellefonte as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Olewine. Hazel Montgomery, of the firm of Montgomery & Co, left on Wednesday for Philadelphia on a trip for business and pleasure combined. Miss Adeline Olewine and Edmond Joseph, of Bellefonte, attended the Gilliland-Stuart wedding which took place on Wednesday evening at State College. The appearances of the law offices of Hon. J. C. Meyer and District Attorney, W. G. Runkle, in Crider's exchange, has been changed by S. H. Williams putting a new paper on the walls. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rumberger entertained two sled loads of young folks from Unionville Monday evening. After playing games and enjoying a well cooked supper the young people left for their homes about twelve o'clock. Cameron McGarvey, Bellefonte's artistic landscape painter, went to Snow Shoe on Saturday to visit friends. While there he made an observation of the beautiful mountain scenery that presented itself all along the line. On Monday and Tuesday grip played havoc with the classes at the Bellefonte Academy. Fourteen or fifteen students were knocked out by the disease. It was really more like a hospital than a school. The patients, however, are gradually recovering. Sunday morning, about 10:30 o'clock, a fire was discovered between a partition in the house on the corner of Allegheny and Logan streets, occupied by John Richard. The fire companies were quickly on the scene and extinguished the flames before any great damage had been done. Joseph J. Rhoades, brother of our townsman, Edward K. Rhoades, received another promotion from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Mr. Rhoades is a Washington, D. C., engineer of the Philadelphia Terminal division of the Pennsylvania and has been promoted to division engineer of the Middle division, with headquarters at Altoona, Pa. The change took effect on January 15. Dr. Weston, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., announces that the polls are open for the election of a board of directors to serve for the coming year. Each church is entitled to representation on the board which are now being voted for. Every active member of the Association ought to go there and cast his vote so that the board may be filled with good and active men. In another column will be found a notice of the meeting of the Fruit Growers Association of Centre county to be held at Madisonburg on Jan. 29. The effect that Horton S. Ray, proprietor of the Brockerhoff House, is about to move to New York City, and Mitch Cunningham may to succeed him as proprietor of the Brockerhoff House, and that Henry Kline was to take charge of the Haag Hotel. Mr. Ray has a lease on the Brockerhoff House for seven years yet, and it is his intention to remain in Bellefonte that long and very likely longer, if nothing especially happens to change his plan. He has been running a first class house and being a tip-top fellow, we see no reason for a change. R. A. Beck, the tonorial artist, receives an invitation to attend the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Motchman which will take place at their home at 184 1/2 street, Pittsburg, on Friday evening. Mr. Motchman will be remembered in Bellefonte as manager of the Standard Shoe Works when that industry was here. Mr. Beck and Mr. Motchman were close friends and when anything like an anniversary takes place our friend Beck is never left out in the cold. Mr. and Mrs. Motchman are quite well known here and all his friends will join in wishing the occasion one of the most happy of their wedded life. On Saturday afternoon Lee Solt, the young son of Cyrus Solt, the Bellefonte drayman, came near having both of his legs broken. His father was bringing a sled load of soap from the P. R. R. freight station and the boy was sitting on top of the boxes holding an extra box. When they came to the corner of the warehouse of the Potter-Hoy Hardware Co., on High street, one of the ribbers dropped into a hole and broke. The boy was thrown to the ground and his legs were caught under the axle. The fact that the hole was there lessened the blow on the boy's legs which undoubtedly saved him from a more serious accident. As it was the right leg was pretty badly bruised and cut. It is a little too cold these days to go down to the Centre County Fair grounds and watch a race, but what's the use when there is a spirited race right here in Bellefonte just now between Henry C. Quigley and Charles F. Cook, both of whom are running for the nomination of school director in the North ward. The friends of both are lining up to a man and it is a little uncertain just now as to who is first. Mr. Quigley has been secretary of both the Bellefonte school board and the Centre County's School Director's Association and, of course, he wants to hold his position. It is a nice little political fight which is being watched with considerable interest. On Saturday evening a large crowd of basket ball enthusiasts assembled in the gymnasium of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. to see the game between the Wyoming Seminary and the Bellefonte Academy. The game was so close that it kept the spectators in an uproar of excitement from the time the game opened until its close. At the close of the first half the score stood 12 to 10 in favor of the visitors, but in the second half the Academy rallied its forces and finally, with a grand struggle, won out by a score of 27 to 22. Dr. Platts was the referee. The next great game will be tomorrow, (Friday) night, when the Academy will play the Pittsburg Collegians. This will be an extraordinarily fine game and it ought to be well attended.

RECENT DEATHS. VAUGHN:—George Vaughn, of Sandy Ridge, who had reached the great age of 88 years, died on Monday, January 17, at the home of his son Thomas, in that village. BELFORD:—Hon. James B. Belford, of Denver, Colorado, was stricken with paralysis last week and survived but a short time, his death ensuing on Friday. Mr. Belford was a native of Lewistown, a son of former Associate Judge Belford, now deceased, who at one time was a resident of Bellefonte. HAMPTON:—On Saturday morning about 11 o'clock, Viola Pearl, the 3 years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hampton, died at their home on Lamb street. The child had been ill for about five weeks with whooping cough which finally settled on her lungs. The funeral took place on Monday morning. Interment being made in the Sunny Side cemetery. ALTERS:—On Tuesday morning at 1:30, Morton Alters, of Bellefonte, died at his home on Penn street after an illness of one year and four months with tuberculosis; aged 57 years. He was a member of the Ev. church. By trade he was a stonemason and always did a good job, so that his work was always satisfactory. He is survived by a wife, one son and four daughters. The funeral takes place to-day. When She Laughed. A somewhat self satisfied, vainglorious and grumpy English actor complained that the noted actress Ellen Terry continually laughed in one of his most important scenes. He had not the courage to tell her his objections, so he wrote her a letter of heartbroken complaint, in which he said: "I am extremely sorry to tell you that it is impossible for me to make any effect in such and such a scene if you persist in laughing at me on the stage and so spoiling the situation. May I ask you to change your attitude, as the scene is a most trying one?" Miss Terry's answer was very direct and to the point, for she wrote: "You are quite mistaken. I never laugh at you on the stage. I wait till I get home." Humor of the Stump. During a warm political campaign an "old timer" took the stump. Whether he gathered many lost sheep into the fold of his party or not, he certainly did not detract from the humor of the situation. On one occasion a crowd of people gathered to hear him speak. "Fellow citizens," he roared, "our opponents are resorting to every form of villainy, to dishonest and underhand tricks, to inconceivable meanness, to the corruption of voters, but we warn them"—his thunder shook the roof—"we warn them, fellow citizens, that that is a game that two can play at!" Long Out of the Sea. Mr. Gaynor, an Irishman celebrated for his good humor, was dining one Friday with a friend, and fish was the only meat served. Gaynor was particularly fond of haddock and seated himself near a fine specimen. His olfactory nerves, however, soon made him aware that the fish was not too fresh. He first lowered his mouth toward the head of the fish and then his ear, as if conversing with it. The woman of the house, perceiving his peculiar motions, asked him whether he wished anything. "Nothing," replied Gaynor, "nothing at all, madam. I was merely asking this haddock whether he could give me any news of my friend, Captain Murphy, who was drowned last Monday, but he tells me that he knows nothing of the matter, for he himself hasn't been to sea these three weeks." One Plain Rule of Life. There is only one plain rule of life eternally binding. It is this: Try thyself unweariedly till thou findest the highest thing thou art capable of doing, and then do it.—Mill. The Cinner's Progress. In narrating a story of a naughty girl and an English magistrate in his book, "Old and Odd Memories," the Hon. Lionel A. Tollemache supplements it with that famous example of anti-climax, the rebuke of a headmaster to youthful Etonians for unpunctuality at chapel. "Your conduct is an insult to the Almighty and keeps the canons waiting." The young girl mentioned was had up before the magistrate by a farmer for killing one of his ducks with a stone. The case against her was quite clear, but it was thought worth while to call witnesses to prove that she was very naughty indeed and in the habit of using bad language. Then, in solemn accents, the magistrate addressed her: "Little girl, you have heard the evidence against you, and you see how one thing leads to another. You began by cursing and swearing and blaspheming your Maker, and you have ended by throwing a stone at a duck." Sale Register. Owing to the large circulation of The Centre Democrat, (now over 5000 each week, which is 2500 more than any other paper in Centre county) this is the best place to advertise your sale, because it reaches the most people.
