

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Clayton Ethers, of Oak Hall, favored our sanctum with a call.

Wm. Lee, one of Tusseyville's best citizens, transacted business in town a few days ago.

The N. Y. 3-times-week World and Centre Democrat for $1.65 a year. Send your order to this office.

Mrs. Charles Larimer, nee Elizabeth Schofield, has gone to Indiana, Pa., where they will make their home.

On Wednesday County Commissioner John Dunlap was in Coburn looking up a new voting place for Penn Township.

On or about the 1st of April Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Musser will move from the house they occupy on Spring St. to Mr. Musser's lumber job up Bald.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCafferty, who were both confined to the house for over two weeks with the grip, have recovered sufficiently to be around again.

On Wednesday afternoon Rev. John Hewitt, D. G. Stewart and W. Harrison Walker left for Williamsport to attend the meeting of the Consistory of 32 degree Masonry.

Since the departure of her son and daughter on their trip around the world, Louise Bush has closed her home on Spring street and has taken rooms at the Bush House until their return.

W. Harrison Walker, Esq., of this place, was named as executor in the will of the late John Long, of near Salona, who died recently leaving a large estate valued at from thirty to forty thousand dollars.

Lieutenant Colonel William F. Barber, of the Twelfth regiment, has appointed H. Laird Curtin, of Curtin, late commissary sergeant of the disbanded Fifth regiment, to be battalion commissary of the Twelfth regiment.

Linn Graham, who for some time past had been one of the efficient clerks in Eckenroth's mill paper store, left for Philadelphia, where he expects to be engaged in the future in the real estate business with one of the large companies of that city.

After a two weeks' visit at the home of her brother, Lewis Grauer and family, Mrs. Joseph Bauland left for Altoona where she spent a few days with Mrs. Louie Grauer before returning to her home in Chicago.

Prof. Sherwood E. Hall, who underwent an operation in the Bellefonte hospital for appendicitis, left the institution on Thursday for his home. It is hoped that he will rapidly recover his good health and be able to resume his duties as an instructor in the Bellefonte Academy.

William Stuart, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Patsy Stuart, on Linn street, left for his home in Seattle, last Thursday. Mr. Stuart is engaged in the salmon canning business and has found it a good thing.

Dr. George F. Harris and J. M. Locke have a touch of something like the grip this week, and for several days were unable to call on their patients. Dr. Dale helped them out and for several days the busiest man in town, day and night.

Sunday evening Rev. C. C. Shuey preached in the Bellefonte Lutheran church. His sermon was a plain, practical discourse, which was much enjoyed by the congregation. He helped Rev. Fred Barry out, who is just recovering from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Edward Cook returned recently from Muncy after a pleasant visit with her cousin, Mrs. Mary Jane Levan. While there Mrs. Levan sent a gift for her daughter, Miss Hazel, which proved to be an old canopy bed that has been passed by the family for the past 150 years. The present is prized very highly by Miss Cook.

Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick, the dentist, has about the neatest dental parlors in Temple Court we have seen in many a day. His office and reception room were recently refitted and refurnished in elegant style, and with excellent ally good taste. In doing this the thought of sanitation was not overlooked. The Doctor is just a little proud of his cozy offices, and why should he not?

The "Variety Shop," in Crider's Exchange, conducted by G. R. Spigelmyer & Co., have taken the local agency for the wares of the Ill. Blumrum Co. at this place. This is something entirely new in the line of kitchen utensils and every housewife should be interested in this new line, that is far ahead of anything used heretofore. See their advertisement in another column.

On Sunday Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox, pastor of the Methodist church, was unable to fill his pulpit on account of having the grip. Rev. Quinly very acceptably preached at both services. Dr. Weston, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was also down with the disease but is able to be around again. Josh Pottler, the janitor at the Y. M. C. A., was off duty for several days, part of which he spent in bed.

Claud Cook, manager of the Yeager Swing Co., is making things boom out there. The men are working full time and a number of fair sized orders have been received for Spring delivery. The future prospects of this industry are exceedingly bright. A special effort is now being made to push the sale of the largest swing they make, which is often used as a sofa in the house. It has leather cushions which makes it very comfortable.

Last Sunday Dr. Dale had a trying experience. Saturday night a light snow fell and drifted. The Dr. went up the Buffalo Run valley to make some visits and took a by-road for a near cut, and ran into a snow drift. It was too far to back out and high impossible. Several farmers came to the rescue and shoveled him out. Then he started and soon plunged into another drift. Thus it went, drift after drift, until he reached the main road. That is part of the fun of automobilizing in winter time.

One evening last week Rev. Winsey went home thinking his work for the day was over. A short time afterwards some one knocked at Rev. Winsey's door and invited him into the adjoining room. When the electric light was thrown on, the Reverend found the room crowded with kind and generous friends. Dr. Platts, of the Presbyterian church, then made a neat little address, and in behalf of the church presented Rev. Winsey with coal, groceries and other household supplies to the amount of $35. It was a very generous donation and Rev. Winsey made a response which showed he was deeply affected by the surprise. It is a good thing for the pastor and people to dwell together in unity, and that is what's being done in this church.

Miss Theresa Watson, of Bellefonte, left on Tuesday for Youngstown, Ohio.

Wagner Geiss, who has been afflicted with rheumatism, is slowly improving.

Mrs. John Noll, of Bellefonte, is recovering from a severe attack of tonsillitis.

You will notice that a lot of new sales were added to the Centre Democrat list this week.

The N. Y. 3-times-week World and Centre Democrat for $1.65 a year. Send your order to this office.

Lewis Rathmel, of Lewisburg, representing Westing & Emmett & Co., of Philadelphia, bankers, transacted business in Bellefonte, on Monday.

Miss Katharine McGowan, chief operator of the American Union Telephone Co., returned to her duties on Monday after a serious attack of tonsillitis.

Thomas Rishel spent Sunday in Sunbury as the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Livingston. He is one of those kind of men who like to get around and enjoy himself.

Charles Anderson, the Penn street blacksmith, says that on Monday he saw a flock of blue birds fly across Nittany Furnace. Charles must have been looking through blue goggles.

Dr. Weston, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., will fill the pulpit in the United Evangelical church on next Sunday in the place of the pastor, Rev. Hoover, who will give the members of that congregation a most excellent talk.

On Friday evening there will be an interesting and exciting basketball game in the gymnasium of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. between the Bellefonte High School and the Altoona High School. Those interested in this kind of sport should make an effort to be there and help the local boys to make up their guarantee.

The Missionary Rally for Nittany Valley, under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, will be held on Thursday evening, February 25th, at the Nittany Furnace. It will be announced from local pulpits on Sunday. The speakers for the evening will be Rev. J. Allison Platts, Ph. D., Rev. Charles Shuey, and James Potter, of Bellefonte.

Miss Helen Hall, of Bellefonte, was given a surprise on Thursday evening by twenty-five of our friends gathering at her home. It was her intention to have a party on Friday evening, but her friends thought a surprise would be the thing so went there the evening before and had a pleasant time. James and his wife, after which refreshments were served.

The new wing of the Bellefonte hospital, which will very much increase the efficiency of that institution, is being gradually completed. It contains a number of wards and private rooms, the latter of which ought to be furnished by the end of our present winter, which have not given it any serious consideration. There would be no objection to one of our rich men taking the matter up.

Wm. Breen and son, of Millsburg, were callers, and the old gentleman said he came to pay his subscription, as he was in arrears, which, it did not like. But when we looked it up we told him he still had six months to the good, he was astounded and questioned the fact. But truth will out, and the honest old gentleman had to knock under to the facts.

Friday afternoon there will be a "Mother Meeting" in Petrikin Hall, at 2:30 o'clock to discuss matters of interest for the formation of a "Mother's Club" in Bellefonte. Prof. Wagner, principal of the public schools will be present and will preside.

On Wednesday William Lowery, son of Joseph Lowery, of near Bellefonte, who recently gave his parents such a pleasant surprise by returning home after a long absence, is to be his home in Bucyrus, Ohio, where he is employed. He returns with fond recollections of how he got the better of his parents by representing himself as a fruit tree agent. The next time a few comes around in that way let us put goggles on before they turn him away.

On Monday the Elks will move into their new home on High street. On Tuesday the furniture of the lodge room was transferred and is now ready for use. The new home will be sometime yet before the interior of the new home will be completed but the boys were anxious to get in a place where there were larger quarters and more conveniences. About the only thing that will be incomplete in the new quarters is the parlors in which will be laid hardwood floors and furnished to the Queen's taste.

On Thursday evening Miss Lucretia Williams, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, of Linn street, was coasting down that thoroughfare when the sled ran into another sled that was being drawn up by Mr. C. A. Williams, received 25 years left Williams was unfortunate enough to have the bone of the right leg, just above the ankle, broken twice and a smaller bone was also fractured. It will be a number of weeks before she will be able to be around again.

On Saturday evening James C. Corl was defeated for the nomination of Justice of the Peace for the West and South wards of Bellefonte, and on Monday morning he received a letter from the large shoe firm of W. J. Walker & Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., asking him to make an application for a position of traveling agent. Mr. Corl did as directed and the indications are that he will be pretty well fixed in the future. His route has not been determined, but the probabilities are that he will be Central Pennsylvania. Mr. Corl is a good, reliable man, well fitted for the position which has been offered him. We therefore compliment W. H. Walker & Co. for their excellent selection.

The baseballists, of Bellefonte, are now sizing up the situation as to what action they will take as to having a base ball team here the coming season. The probabilities are that the enthusiasm is still strong enough to warrant getting a team this year that will win laurels on the diamond. There is a movement on foot to secure a new eight-acre athletic field, to be used by the Bellefonte base ball team and the Bellefonte Academy. It will be located on the extreme east end of Bishop street, and will be enclosed by a high board fence. Within this enclosure it is the purpose of the managers to erect a grand stand, to be used by a suitable track housing for the use of the players. Everything will be filled up in good shape.

Mrs. Morris Loeb, of Philadelphia, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. James Noonan at the Brant House.

Mrs. Lewis Lonsberry is among the many Bellefonters who have been suffering from the grip.

Mrs. Arthur Taylor, formerly Miss Alice Scanlon, of Bellefonte, but now of Milton, is at present visiting friends in this section.

Register Earl Tuten, of Bellefonte, accompanied Hastings Gates to Mt. Alto on Thursday and saw that his needs would be properly cared for.

After spending Sunday with his family in Bellefonte, C. E. Cook departed on Monday for Philadelphia where he will remain for some time.

Mrs. Kenneth Snodgrass, of Pittsburgh, is a guest of her mother and her brother, Harry Reaick. Mrs. Snodgrass will be better known as Miss Lillian Reaick.

On Tuesday Governor Stuart re-named the members of the State Board of Agriculture for the following term, and the appointments were Gen. James A. Beaver, of Bellefonte.

Miss Nora Stover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fall Stover, of Bellefonte, is said to be lying at death's door with heart trouble. Her sister, Mrs. Daniel O'Leary, is also quite ill at the Bellefonte hospital.

Milton Johnson, the Bellefonte marble dealer, who was in Philadelphia for the last two weeks having his eyes operated upon, has been greatly benefited. He expects to return home the latter part of this week.

Thomas Shaughnessy, the glass blower slipped in on his Bellefonte friends the other day. He was at Fairhance, near Uniontown, Pa., and as he didn't get a fair chance he quit and came home. He expects to leave in a few days.

Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, but whose headquarters are at Palmyra's drug store, says that there is an epidemic of the grip in the county. He has been on the go day and night for the last couple of weeks. Some of the cases have been quite alarming.

The freight department of the P. R. R. is distributing through the Bellefonte office leaflets giving the farmer valuable information on the use of lime on land, and growing alfalfa. Copies may be secured by applying to William Kelley, the freight agent.

At the Democratic primaries at State College on Saturday night, Mrs. Mary Foster, wife of W. L. Foster, was nominated for school director. Although a Republican, the voters think that she is eminently qualified for the position. They also endorsed Prof. L. L. Foster, who was nominated for school director on the Republican ticket.

C. R. Legg and wife, of Williamsport, visited friends in Bellefonte and vicinity several days this week. They are delighted with the large amount of news the Centre Democrat gives them and before leaving they found time to call at this office, encouraging their paper by advancing the table on behalf of the wonderful success the paper has been making. The flowers are always better appreciated while a man is living than after he is dead.

Mrs. Legg is a sister of the late Andrew Leggett, of Bellefonte, and was born on Spring Creek, near Reopburg.

On Monday afternoon "Davy" Scholer, one of the best known men in Centre county, because he traveled more than any other man, met with an accident that might have caused his death. He was in C. C. Shuey's grocery store when he slipped through an open trap door into the cellar. He was badly bruised about the head, neck and shoulders, but fortunately no bones were broken. He was taken to the home of John Ammerman, above Schofield's harness store, where he is receiving the proper attention. He resides on his own farm in Howard township, but it is difficult for his friends to keep him here, as he has very ambitious notions, to be on the go a peddler of notions.

Miss Mame Woods, daughter of mail carrier Edward and Mrs. Woods, and who teaches school in Bush Addition, took the members of her school out sled riding on Thursday evening. Frank Beizer took them to his comfortable home of Mrs. Kate Armer who resides about two miles down Nittany valley. Besides the teacher, there were twenty-three scholars all of whom had a gay and festive time. Mrs. Armer is a very hospitable and warmly welcomes her guests and does everything to make them feel at home. An elaborate supper was served consisting of everything delicious. At the close of the elegant repast Mrs. Armer surprised the youngsters by serving each one with a large saucer of ice cream. It was an evening filled full of enjoyment.

On Friday a representative of the Centre Democrat inspected the new hospital ambulance which was secured from the Jefferson Hospital at Philadelphia. It is a conveyance of the people of Bellefonte can be proud, and when it has been thoroughly repaired and painted by S. A. McQuinton it will be ready for service. While it is secondhand it has all the modern conveniences. On each corner there is a window containing one of the glass which throws light into the closed vehicle. In the front there is a big bonnet which has a loud, clear sound. The interior is fitted up with a cot and seats for a nurse and physician. The seat and back are upholstered in leather and over the front of the vehicle is the word "Ambulance." It has solid cushioned tires and is constructed to turn on a small space.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Murray Andrews accompanied the body of her pet dog, "Tozo," to Bellefonte, and it lay in state in the home of a prominent lady, on Allegheny street, until 10 o'clock on Wednesday when it was carefully carried by a colored man to his last resting place, under the shades of the pines in Andrews' yard, alongside of the grave of her pet dog, "Chevey," that died last summer. The remains were upholstered in mahogany with trimmings good enough for a human being. While lying in state the top of the casket was bedecked with flowers. It is said that Mrs. Andrews wanted to purchase a lot in the Union cemetery in which to bury the canine, but was refused. The money used in the burial of this dog might have made some deserving, poor family in Bellefonte happy by the purchasing of coal or other necessities of life. Most people have better sense than to make such a silly display over a dog, and such conduct merits the severest censure of all sensible people. If the Board of Health would have done its duty it would have enforced the ordinance against those silly people, and their outrageous actions, by not allowing them to bury the carcass of a dog in the limits of the town.

Our friend Quigley knows who were his friends.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Henry Fishburn her three sons, George, of Freeport, Pa., Jacob, of Missouri, and Charley, of Pittsburgh, are now in Bellefonte.

The other evening Miss Jennie Longacre took her school out for a sled ride. They landed at the home of Henry Shultz, at Curtin, where they thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. Locke, wife of Dr. M. J. Locke, and her daughter, Miss Mildred, left on Wednesday afternoon for Williamsport where they are taking in some of the society events connected with the meeting of Masonic Consistory of the 32nd degree.

On Monday evening Albert Thompson, Bellefonte liveryman, with four horses, took Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hazel and immediate friends to Centre Hall where they enjoyed a bounteous supper. After the inner man had been well supplied they had a good, social time in general. It was one of the most pleasing events of their lives.

During the high water last week Col. J. L. Spangler became a little uneasy about the safety of his niece, Mrs. Smithgall, formerly Miss Romie VanPelt, who now resides at Austin, Potter county. It was reported that the town was in great danger of being devastated by the breaking of an immense mill dam, the breast of which was 50 feet high, located within a mile of the town. The expected didn't happen thus. Mrs. Smithgall is still in the land of the living.

Today the scaffolding in the court room is being taken down because the decorators have finished the ceiling, which is beautiful. The new floor has been laid and the painters are busy taking off the varnish on the old seats, preparatory to staining them a darker color. On Wednesday three carloads of metallic furniture arrived and is now being unpacked. There is now hardly any question but what the court room will be ready for February term of court.
