

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson, of near Bellefonte, are rejoicing over the arrival of a pretty little daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wyland and two daughters, Ruth and Statia, are recovering from a severe attack of the grip.

Mrs. Elmer Justice and two daughters, of Coleville, have been down with the grip. They are now much improved.

Misses Julia Curtin and Nettie Bair had a very enjoyable visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lukenbach and wife at Tyrone.

On Friday evening Mrs. Tama-zine Lane was the hostess of a small sleighing party who went to Hubbersburg and partook of a chicken and waffle supper.

Mrs. Raymond Atchison, of Niagara Falls, has been visiting in Bellefonte at the residence of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shaugnessy, on Howard street.

Mrs. Henry H. Montgomery, of Bellefonte, has been suffering from the fracture of two ribs. While in the bath room of her home she fell against the tub, with the above results.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Lingie, of Phillipsburg, have located in West Virginia. Mrs. Lingie will be remembered in Bellefonte as Miss Marie McClain, daughter of James McClain.

Mrs. Cyrus Strickland, who spends her time with her two daughters, Mrs. M. I. Gardner, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Lester Sheffer, of Milroy, is now in Bellefonte for the balance of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reese and daughter, of Patton, were guests over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Reese, on Reynolds Avenue. William Reese took in the meeting of the Williamsport Consistory last week.

W. J. Swarmer, for a number of years connected with the Nittany furnace at this place, as foundryman, left this week to accept a similar position with the Brook Iron Co., at Birdsboro, Pa., below Reading. His family will remain here until he secures a house for them at that place.

William S. Furst, Esq., of Philadelphia, sailed on Saturday from New York on the Hamburg-American steamer Cincinnati, for a two-months' trip through the Orient, landing at Genoa, Italy, about February 5th. He will visit the principal cities and places of interest in Italy and Turkey.

For a week or more the active members of the Y. M. C. A. voted for the following men as directors for the following year: A. G. Morris, F. W. Crider, J. L. Montgomery, C. K. Hicklen, C. M. McCurdy, George R. Meek, J. H. Potter, Rev. Fred W. Barry, R. Hues, C. T. Gerberich, O.arius Waltz, W. H. Gephart, J. E. Wagner and G. M. Gamble.

The Kline house, on Spring street, now occupied by the Mrs. William Laurie and daughter, Miss Bertha, has been leased by Dr. Weston, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and will move there on April 1st. Gus Heverly and wife will move from the apartments on the third floor of Crider's Exchange to the rooms in Crider's building recently vacated by Mrs. Hile.

Last week it was generally conceded that Chas. H. Hicklen was going to run for borough auditor instead of school director. Mr. Hicklen, however, has decided to stay in the race for school director. Mr. Cassidy has withdrawn as a candidate for Justice of the Peace in the South and West wards and Henry Brown has been put on the Republican ticket instead.

The other day the Hollingsworth apartment house in Philadelphia burned to the ground. Eleanor, the four-year old daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, formerly of Bellefonte, had been left in the building, with friends, while her mother went shopping. However, the little girl had been visiting a place of safety, although it was done at a great risk of life.

Take your girl to see the scenic every night, young man, and she will appreciate the little courtesy—she will be happy and so will you. For the last month Mr. Brown has been running a reel of pictures instead of an illustrated song. This week he has returned to the illustrated songs which is a change that is being much enjoyed. The beautiful singer is Miss Goldenborough, of Philadelphia, who sang at the Majestic Hotel in that city. This is the first she tried to sing in the opera house.

An unusually large audience attended the "Buster Brown" production in the opera house on Friday evening. Sleighing was good, and that brought in many from about the county. The largest number were students who came down from State College and they made things lively. As their examinations were over and with a vacation until Monday they felt like celebrating. Naturally some of them got tanked up, and one lot caused a sensation at the Pa. passenger station by throwing a suitcase through a window and soon were jugged and fined.

The opera house in this town they filled up every night and standing room was at a premium. During the play they simply raised hell, yelling at the actors, loud talking and general hilarity. The confusion annoyed the people on the stage and provoked many of the audience. It was rough house, but then the boys enjoyed themselves and had a good time. Some of them were guilty of breaking a clear case at the Brookerhoff House and taking about $15 worth of Landlord Ray's best cigars. Conduct like this can not be overlooked, and young men should draw a distinction between a good time and common theft. The many thing for them to do is to make good, and do it cheerfully. We like to see the boys enjoy themselves, but this act was beyond all bounds.

Weather fine this week and sleighing good all around.

All the leading farm sales will be found in the Centre Democrat.

Herb Sheffer, of Milroy, was in town last week on a brief visit.

Mrs. Jonathan A. Harper, of west Linn street, is reported quite ill.

We are now busily engaged in printing sale bills, for that reason send in your copy so as to avoid delay.

The inventory sale advertised by Potter & Hoy has been so successful that they have concluded to continue it for two weeks more.

With all the snow on the earth and an icy covering underneath, weather prophets are predicting another food for this section, before the winter passes.

Among the many improvements in Mrs. J. A. Aiken's store is a new steel ceiling, new linoleum on the floor and hardwood floors in the windows. It's a sign of thrift.

Rev. Richard Crittenden, who had been housed up for several months, was again on our streets on Monday. He looks a little thin, but otherwise he feels about as usual.

Another big attraction soon at the Garman opera house will be the great musical comedy entitled, "The Girl of the U. S. A." The Philadelphia papers gave it a big send-off last week.

A. G. Osmer, of Lincoln, Neb., has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Osmer in Bush's Addition. He is now one of the most influential citizens in this section of the West.

When customers go into Edwin F. Garman's store they may be surprised a little bit bewildered on account of the appearance being changed by the application of paint and a new design of paper on the wall.

We have received a copy of the Industrial Record descriptive of and illustrating York, Hanover, Waynesboro, Pa., and Frederick, Md., through the kindness of J. E. Solt. It is handsomely gotten up, and in it we find Mr. Solt, a native of Centre Hall, who is mentioned as among the business men of Frederick, where he has established an automobile and garage and repair shop.

Robert V. Miller, the faithful engineer on the Nittany Valley Railroad, on Sunday morning had the pleasure of hitting a snow drift four feet deep with engine No. 820. He made the snow fly eighteen feet on both sides of the track, and Walter F. Garman, standing on the fence, giving the engineer a high ball to hit the snow drift. The boys had lots of fun.

Antrim & Lansdy, of Philadelphia, the portrait artists have on exhibition at the Brookerhoff House, a portrait of the late Dr. George W. Atherton, formerly President of Pennsylvania State College. It is a very good picture of the man whose memory should be kept green for what he did for the building up of an institution that has come into great prominence within the last few years. The portrait may be purchased by the College authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Finkelstein gave a farewell party the other evening in honor of their sister, Miss Goldie Finkelstein, of Atlantic City. A very pleasant evening was spent there in playing various games and other amusements. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Hazel, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shively, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. H. Shaffer, Miss Carrie Batiss, Samuel Hess, Miss Sarah Miller, Ethyle Wetzel, Mary Jane Shively, Thelma Hazel, Mildred Wagner, and Masters Joseph and Charles Wagner.

One of the nicest places in this section of the county is Elmer Straub's home, located just north of Bellefonte, along the mountain, near the lime works of the American Lime & Stone Co. The house has been painted white with green trimmings, which sets it off to good advantage. Everything is very homelike and here is where "Waxie" smokes his pipe of peace surrounded by a bright and interesting little family. He can give advice to a physician he has not been in the factory during that time. He might have remained at his post, but an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure. "Sam" would rather be right than be president.

"Doc" Selbert's automobile scared at "Doc" Dale's horse and sleigh on Wednesday afternoon. The result was that Dr. Dale's horse ran away up setting the sleigh, and threw both Dr. Dale and Miss Belta, the head nurse of the hospital, out in the snow. No one was injured—only both were badly frightened.

For sometime Miss May Taylor, one of the popular school teachers in Bellefonte, had been suffering from a beated tooth. It became so serious that she was threatened with lockjaw, and it was only through the careful manipulation of dental surgery that she was relieved. The indications are that she will permanently recover.

W. H. Eby, of Bellefonte, a traveling salesman for the Cudahy Packing Company, has been suspended indefinitely on account of the movement inaugurated, in various parts of the county, to abstain from the use of meats. This shows clearly that the consumers will accomplish the desired results if they persist in keeping up the crusade.

Many Republicans in Bellefonte tried their best to persuade A. A. Dale to take the nomination for Justice of the Peace in the South and West wards, but Al wasn't to be sidetracked in that way. Everybody was of one mind as to his thorough fitness for the position but that cut no ice. Just at this time his friends may hear from him later, when he has a bigger buzz in his bonnet.

On Tuesday evening two young men of Bellefonte went out to Bush's Addition and persuaded two very fine young ladies to go to the scenic with them. After the show they unloosened and started for Cedar's ice cream parlors, but found it closed. The young men pretended they were greatly disappointed, but they were just that much in. One thing they kicked about was the big walk they had at such a late hour of the night.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Bellefonte hospital this week it was found that they were sadly in need of funds for maintenance. For some time the work of the institution has been growing, naturally entailing larger expense, while no additional income has been secured. The time has come to secure a fund by popular yearly subscriptions from everybody in this community, and not depend on the Legislature of Pennsylvania, or a few rich individuals in Bellefonte to pay all the bills. The general public should cheerfully contribute, and the present financial difficulties will be overcome.

Misses Nellie Marshall and Nellie Struble, of near Hunter's Park, attended the party at Mrs. Etter's and Mrs. Shuey, at Lemont, last Thursday evening. There were twenty-four present, and Friday Miss Anna came over to attend the banquet with the other girls which was held at the Grange hall. They also visited other friends at Lemont and Oak Hall. All report having a very nice time.

Spring election on Tuesday, February 15th.

Have you inspected the Illuminum cooking utensils at the Variety Shop, in Crider's Exchange? It is something entirely new.

Hon. J. W. Kepler, of Ferguson township, was in Bellefonte on Monday looking for a wife. He recently returned from Pittsburgh.

We can do your job printing. Best work at the most reasonable prices. About a dozen new farm sales were added to our sale Register this week.

Our physicians report an unusual amount of illness in this community. Most of it is similar to grip and entire families are under the care of physicians.

A. A. Dale, Mrs. Frank P. Green and daughter, Miss Emma, were among the Bellefontes who attended the funeral of J. Green Irvin, at Oak Hall, on Monday.

Next Sunday the last quarterly communion service of the conference will be served in the local Evangelical church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

If you get a little statement from us this week in regard to your subscription, don't get stuck up about it, for we have remembered a number of our best friends in the same way.

W. G. Runkel and Robert Cole have been wrestling hard this week with the grip. They look like walking ghosts and it will take some time before they can get back their avoirdupois.

On Monday evening M. R. Johnson, the North ward school director, took a sled load of boys and girls down to Zion where they had a big time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Corman.

The brief comment in these columns, last week, over the recent dog funeral in our town, brought forth much favorable comment. A dog is a dog and that is all there is about it.

On Monday evening while coasting Luther Crissman, son of W. H. Crissman, fell from a sled and struck his temple. He was unconscious for over an hour. He is able to be around again.

Prof. Angel, the eyesight specialist, will be at the Brookerhoff House on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. A special reduction of 25 per cent. is an inducement for you to consult him.

About thirty young friends gathered at the home on Bishop street, of the school to celebrate the birthday of his daughter, Miss Cora. Choice refreshments were served after which the guests departed for their several homes wishing her many more pleasing occasions like this one.

A car load of horses will be sold at the Haag horse stables, in Bellefonte, about a week later. You will find a full description on large posters to be issued soon. They will be principally heavy draft horses and all purpose animals, carefully selected.

For several weeks Samuel Donachy, the superintendent of the Pennsylvania Match Co., has been suffering from a couple of teeth. Upon the advice of a physician he has not been in the factory during that time. He might have remained at his post, but an ounce of prevention is worth a ton of cure. "Sam" would rather be right than be president.

WEDDINGS.

Bowersox—Ostrander.

Tuesday evening, Feb. 1st, 1910, at the parsonage of the local United Evangelical church, Mr. Harry W. Bowersox and Miss Bessie Ostrander were joined in holy matrimony by their pastor, Rev. J. F. Hower. Both of these young people are members of the choir of the church of their choice and a host of friends join in wishing them blessings in great abundance.

Rossman—Barnes.

Elmer Rossman, a young and prosperous farmer of Penn Cave, and Miss Mary Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barnes, of East Nittany, were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage in Salona by Rev. J. M. Rearick on Thursday, January 20. The young couple spent a few days at the home of W. C. Karstetter and wife in town and were given a rousing serenade by the calthumpians. Both bride and groom are estimable young people and have a host of friends.

Rumberger—Kelley.

A few days ago Samuel Rumberger, the efficient agent for the American Express Co. in Bellefonte, took a little vacation and went to Philadelphia where the press of that city gave the information that he procured a license to marry Miss Annie Kelley, daughter of William Kelley, the expert farnaceman at the Bellefonte Furnace. We have not been able to see "Sammy" and thus the report has not been officially confirmed. If congratulations are in order, here's our hand.

Fry—Fortney.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Bethany Lutheran parsonage, at Altoona, on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 26, when John Fry and Miss Anna Fortney, both of Pine Grove Mills, Centre county, were united in marriage by their former pastor, the Rev. Ralph H. Bergstresser. The young people come from the most prominent families of Ferguson township, in this county, the groom being a son of Captain W. H. Fry, while the bride's father was among the first settlers of the township. After the wedding a wedding supper was served at the parsonage. After spending a few days in Altoona among their numerous friends and relatives, they will return to Pine Grove Mills, where they expect to make their future home.

Prices of Bibles Advanced.

The price of Bibles will go up on March 1, according to announcement by a large Chicago Bible publishing house which has branches in Cincinnati, Kansas City and San Francisco. The cause for the advance is the increase of the new tariff on imported leather and paper.

Bibles are now about 20 per cent. higher than they have ever been before," said a member of the firm. The materials for the best Bibles have gone up so high in price that the count of the tariff that we cannot afford to sell our output at prices not listed.

Mrs. Harry Haag, one of our best patrons, not only renewed her subscription, but concluded to buy her daughter, Mrs. Will McCullen, should have the paper and ordered it sent to her home in Johnstown.

Your subscription may be cancelled if it becomes over a year in arrears.

Order It Now! Order It Now!

That some people are known by the company they keep and yet they are taken into society just the same. What Bellefonte society needs, more than anything else, is a thorough purging. We mean the dropping of all those persons who are known to be playing a double-headed game—being open in public and quite another thing behind closed doors. Along this line society in Bellefonte has been severely

Run Over By Ox Team.

It is seldom that we hear of ox teams nowadays, but there are many people who feel so lazy and dumpy that if an ox team came along they would not feel able to get out of the way. For such people there is no remedy equal to Sixine Pills, the great nerve and body builders. Price $1 a box; six boxes $5, with full guarantee. Address or call on C. M. Parrish, druggist, Bellefonte, Pa., where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute.
