HOWARD.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath

Church of Christ—Elder J. H. D. Tomson, evangelist, will preach at Flemington, morning and evening. United Evangelical—Rev. J. R. Sechrist, a former pastor of this charge, will preach at Jacksonville, 10:30 A. M.; Fairview 2:30 P. M.; and Howard at 7:30 P. M., and will administer the Holy Communion at each of these appointments. Methodist Episcopal—Rev. R. S. Taylor will preach at Beech Creek at 10:30 A. M.; at Hunter's Run at 2:30 P. M.; and at Howard at 7:30 P. M. At the annual conference of the Pentecostal church, held in Reading last week, John Knarr was appointed pastor of Pendale and of the Muncy Circuit, with William Solt as assistant, and Joseph Gray was appointed to the Marsh Creek charge. Messrs. Knarr and Solt are both residents of our borough.

Joy Riders

have been in evidence the past ten days to a greater extent than for several years in this vicinity. It is impracticable to give details of all the sleighing parties, but mention may be made of some of the comers and goers: On Monday evening of last week a big load numbering about thirty, most of them members of the Christian Chapel congregation, drove down to Blanchard to spend the evening with their pastor, Rev. W. H. Patterson. The same evening another party drove over to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. MacClintock, in Nittany valley, and had a royal good time. The occasion was a Reformed church sociable and oyster supper, and the party was led by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Robb. Tuesday evening a party of twenty of the staid, married folks went over into Nittany valley to spend an enjoyable evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Ertley. The Sewing Circle Girls, with their boys made a big load which drove to Snow Shoe intersection, on Wednesday evening to call on Asbury Fletcher, who is teaching school there, and is a brother or cousin-in-law to half the nice crowd. The High school pupils chose Friday evening as the time and Mill Hall as the place for a good time and had it, too. The same evening a party of Presbyterians got together and spent a few hours with venerable Joel Kling and his family, as welcome as though he were only forty instead of almost eighty. The son Samuel, and daughter Miss Kathryn, the only two remaining at home of a round dozen, emphasized their father's hospitality in their own delightful way.

The First of the Season.

When Lewis Casselberry, of the township, took his horses to the spring for water last Thursday morning, a snake's tail stuck obtrusively out from one of the crevices of the stone wall, but was withdrawn so quickly that he could neither catch it nor knock it off. In the afternoon of the same day he went again to the spring, having a stick in his hand, and found the same tail, or a similar one, with a good deal more of the body of the varmint stretched out on the flat stone, and being on the lookout quickly pinned it fast with the end of the stick. The tail end was so short that he could not grasp it with his hand, so he called to his mother, who brought him a pair of big pliers, and with these he drew his snakeship out into the open and quickly dispatched it. It was about twenty six inches long. It is a little early for snake stories, but this is a truly true one to begin with.

Sudden Death.

On Monday last, at 10:20 a. m., Noah Palmer died, after an illness of but three or four days, at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. E. Casselberry, on the Divide, north of town. Mr. Palmer was born at Warsaw, N. Y., a few months near eighty years ago, and had been married, but his wife died without leaving children, and for some years he has been alone in the world, save for his sister, Mrs. Casselberry, with whom he has been making his home of late. Mrs. Casselberry is the only near relative he leaves behind him. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. S. Taylor, in the M. E. Church of which he was a member for many years. Interment was made in the Schenck cemetery.

The Howard Canning Factory

Held a meeting of their stockholders at the cannery last Saturday afternoon and re-elected all the old officers as follows: Directors—Albert Schenck, George W. Weaver, Henry Thompson, Jackson Kline, Wilber F. Leathers, David Robb, Joseph D. Diehl, J. Will Mayes and Robert Confer. President, Jackson Kline; Secretary, Wilber F. Leathers. On next Saturday, at one o'clock, the stockholders will again meet, at the cannery, to transact general business, and particularly to make arrangements for the business of the coming season. Don't forget this meeting; it is of public interest.

Dr. William C. Hensly has been appointed surgeon and physician of the American Car and Foundry Co., at Berwick, Pa. This is an appointment on merit. Dr. Hensly's professional education was thorough and complete, and he had a strong mental bias in the direction of medicine to begin with, and the addition of several years of unusually successful practice in Berwick has developed him to a thorough equipment for the physical care of this large body of men, who are subject to many accidents. He is the same fifteen of our good citizens, and most of them attend the meeting regularly. The startling awakening which they administer to sleeping citizens when they return in the "wee, wee" hours anent the twae, is fully atoned for by the excellence of the vocal music with which they do it.

Mrs. Ira C. Johnson invited a number of her friends to spend last Wednesday evening at their home in honor of her husband. A pleasant evening was spent by Rev. W. H. Patterson; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowes, Matthew Rodgers, Jr., Wm. J. Wilson, Reuben Lucas, N. G. Fletcher, Philip Ertel, John Wagner, J. Will Mayes and W. L. Cooke, Mrs. Hetrick, H. T. Lucas, W. I. Harvey, Nan Lucas Schenck, Fannie Leathers, James Harvey, John Heverly, D. W. Fletcher and A. M. Butler. The Misses Carye Butler, Rebecca Lucas, Hilda Wagner, Minnie Heverly and Marion Cooke, James and Claire Leathers. Mrs. W. C. Hubbard, of Pittsburg, and Miss Annie Moore stopped off between trains on Tuesday for a brief visit with their aunt, Mrs. Ira C. Johnson.

Automobiles are coming now week by week. Last week Balser Weber's arrived, and the week before Harry Wetzel's appeared. The Wetzel Bros. are perfecting themselves in the care and repair of automobiles, and will soon open up a line of that specialty at the machine shops. The location of their place, at the west end of town, in the direct road from Bellefonte to Lock Haven, will make it convenient for all auto drivers.

John Baney's many friends gathered in his home in the evening of last Thursday, to congratulate him upon the arrival of another birthday, and have a good time. It is shrewdly guessed that his good wife engineered the function, but neither she nor John will tell how old they are.

Banker John P. Harris dropped in on us between trains on Tuesday. Mrs. Burdine Butler, in charge of her husband, returned from the sanitarium to her home on No. 53, last Tuesday. It is hoped that she has been permanently restored to her usual good health.

Mrs. W. H. Pifer, of Mill Hall, was the guest of her friends Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Confer last Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Pifer is closing up her home and preparing to go with one of her sons, to Nelson, Neb., where she will make her future home.

A "The Social" under the auspices of the young people's Mite Society of the Evangelical church, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thomas, next Saturday evening. Everybody, particularly the young ladies, should consider this a special invitation to attend.

Presiding Elder J. H. Reeser presided at the quarterly conference of the Evangelical church last Monday afternoon, and preached in the evening. Mr. Reeser is deservedly popular with his people here, having formerly served as pastor for several years.

The accident to W. E. Confer proved to be a dislocation of the shoulder, from which he suffered severely. Dr. McEntire succeeded in reducing it last Thursday evening, since which time recovery has been rapid.

William Diehl, who is a successful farmer near Mifflinburg, Union Co., and whose boy days were spent in his community, is visiting with his brothers, Joseph and John, this week.

C. C. Lucas was called to Gilliland town last week by an accident to his mother, Toner Lucas, who broke the larger bone of her arm by a fall on the ice, last Wednesday.

The Howard contingent of the Bellefonte lodge of F. and A. M. numbers oldest son of the late Dr. L. R. Hensly, of our town, and his many friends here congratulate him.

On Monday evening of this week the L. S. C. (formerly S. S. S.) drove up to Mt. Eagle, and were right royally entertained at the home of Mrs. Ella R. Leathers.

Thomas E. Mayes, train dispatcher for the Bellefonte Central railroad at Bellefonte, spent Sunday with his relatives here.

Jesse Hall, of Beech Creek, who has not been much in evidence here of late, was in town looking after business last Monday.

Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, has been called in consultation with Dr. McEntire, in the case of Theophilus Fletcher, of the township.

The social of the Junior Epworth League, which was held at the M. E. parsonage last Friday, was a fine success, both socially and financially.

Miss Ella Hall, Mrs. S. H. Bannison, Miss Ida Rhoades and Mrs. L. C. Thompson were Bellefonte visitors on Tuesday last.

N. Edward Leathers, of Renovo, came on Tuesday for a short visit with his mother, who has been ill for several days.

J. C. Sunday, of Pennsylvania Furnace, was in our town and its vicinity on Monday, offering good prices for good farm horses.

Mrs. John R. Holter and Miss Nellie Hopkins spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week with friends in Bellefonte.

A series of revival meetings from evening to evening, is in progress at the Methodist Episcopal church, with Rev. R. S. Taylor in charge.

Insurance agent John Shaeffer, of Lock Haven, was seen on our streets last Monday.

Father C. Logan McKinney, of Renovo, stopped over in town between trains last Thursday.

Mrs. O'Neil, of McKeesport, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Howard Tipton, in Curtin township.

McDowell Bannison, of Pittsburg, came home last Sunday for a little visit with his parents.

The venerable Mrs. W. T. Leathers has been under the doctor's care a few days, and is improving.

Mrs. Ross McGhee and daughter, of Renovo, were last week's guests of the family of C. S. Yearick.

Miss Corilla Thomas was among the "shut ins" last week, but is happily on the road to sound health again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Yearick entertained their old neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoy, Jr., last Wednesday.

Miss Elfreda Confer has returned to her home from Spring Lake, N. Y.

Mrs. George Bechdel added a new boy to her little family last week.

Walter Muffly came down from State College to spend last Sunday at home.

ORVISTON.

The railroad company is building a new bridge where the ice flood had damaged the former one.

Mrs. Fullington spent Saturday and Sunday with her friends at Clearfield.

Mrs. Daley, of Romola, and son Charles, visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Heverly, on Sunday.

We are having quite a lot of sickness in our town at present. Those on the sick list are: Mrs. Lloyd Tressler, Master Sherman Confer, Mrs. Harry Herr, Mrs. Ives Harvey, Almetta Hixel, and Mrs. Ralph Ryan.

The brick yard has started making brick with good success. Mrs. James Butler, of Romola, and two daughters spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. John Mann.

Gilbert Gillespie and wife attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Fred Fields, at Williamsport.

Mrs. Geo. Long, of Romola, and family, visited her daughter, Mrs. James Heverly, over Sunday.

Rev. B. F. Long, of Salona, preached a very interesting sermon on Sunday. John Packer expects to move to Lock Haven soon.

Rev. E. B. Killinger, D. D., was unanimously elected pastor of the Lutheran church at Phillipsburg.

We are putting out the best sale bills ever seen in Centre County.

UNIONVILLE.

On Tuesday evening the following brainy, multi-millionaire representative citizens of the village of Bellefonte: Rev. Dr. Allison Platts, lawyer and law-maker the Hon. J. C. Meyer, stumppuller and teeth extractor Dr. Ed. Ward, insurance agent, W. K. Rankin, railroad superintendent, M. J. Gardner, bank cashier J. K. Barnhart, bank-teller Chaney Hicklin, county auditor and grapevine agent, H. E. Pontius, and coal king and financier Claude Cook came up to our city on the 5 o'clock train, having pre-arranged for a chicken and waffle supper at the "Hotel de Peters." It leaked out that their guardian angels had been invited to a 6 o'clock dinner at the home of Dr. Ward while they were given the cold shoulder, so they conspired to get even with their "ribs" for the "slight." Each one telephoned to his respective wife, "Don't look for me home for supper, am invited out." "Don't wait for me, will be late, am detained in the office." "I will take supper at the Brandt House, won't be home for supper," etc. They were as jolly a lot of kids as one will meet in a day's travel. The joke was on Mr. Claude Cook. It seems that he and another gentleman were so absorbed in discussing the high cost of living that he forgot to get off the train and was taken quite a distance past the station. The conductor was notified and stopped the train to let him off. In an interview with their host and hostess in reference to their conduct, they reported favorably. The hostess declared she never prepared a supper for a finer, better looking or better behaved lot of men. Not a thing was said after the train left. She thought, however, that they had a wonderful capacity for chicken and waffles. They left for home on the eight o'clock train well pleased with their trip to Unionville. We hope there will be no divorce suits result from their sly transaction.

FIEDLER.

Clayton Musser had the misfortune to lose one of his best horses—it had a leg kicked off and had to be shot. Elmer Boob and family spent last week visiting friends at Lock Haven, Mackeyville and Loganton.

Frank Harter's recently purchased a piano at Sunbury and presented it to their daughter, Anna.

Last Saturday one of Will Hosterman's horses got out and strayed to Aaronsburg, and Mr. Hosterman found him on Sunday afternoon at A. O. Hosterman's.

Roy Hiczel, the merchant, had been on the sick list last week and was staying at Andy Moyer's. John Bower attended the business in the store.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle of Woodward was entertained with a sumptuous dinner on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. James Guisewite.

Frank Kister and family, of Aaronsburg, spent Sunday at the home of H. S. Winkleblech's.

J. W. Winkleblech, wife and daughter were hospitably entertained at L. D. Orndorf's at Woodward on Sunday.

On Sunday while on their way to Sunday school F. P. Guisewite's got into a snow drift and broke the cross piece in their sleigh, and were compelled to walk back home again.

Cyrus Bower and family spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Henry Zerby's.

F. S. Tomlinson and family are spending some time with relatives in Brushvalley.

BLANCHARD.

Mrs. Annie Ridge is visiting at the home of Mrs. Frank Corter. Mrs. John Williams is suffering with another stroke of paralysis, and H. A. Snyder is suffering with a bad cold.

Anyone wishing a god kitchen outfit call on or write to Virgil Ridge, as he is selling the best that money can buy.

A jolly sleighing party from Flemington drove to the home of Miss Mabel Kunes on Thursday evening and a good time was had by all until the late hours, when they departed for their homes.

The comet was seen once by a few people. Mr. George Heverly is not improving very much.

Edward Cox spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham spent Monday with his sister, Miss Ella Kunes.

Henry Williams and Charles Cooke, of Beech Creek, were seen on our streets on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Mayes, of Hublersburg, has been ill for some weeks past at the home of Wallace White, at Axeman.

MOUNTAIN—Gregg Twp.

The days are beginning to lengthen. H. H. Eisenhuth and Elias Confer made a flying business trip to Mifflin county last Monday and returned on Tuesday. As the sleighing was splendid and with the two swift horses they had hitched in a sleigh, they went as far as almost as an airship; so made it a pleasure trip as well as a business one.

All the young ladies are making "goo-goo" eyes at Maurice Lingle and no wonder, after seeing the beautiful brand new sleigh he has purchased and is sporting around. Now who will be the lucky one to capture him? Maurice is a fine young man, without the sleigh.

On account of the bad weather and drifted roads over last Sunday there were no services in either of the churches, which made the day seem very lonesome. The large feathery Theresa Rachau, our school teacher, spent over last Sunday at her parental home in Spring Mills.

William C. Lingle has purchased the Conrad Auman homestead and will move there in the spring. He intends to make a number of improvements thereon.

John C. Lingle bought the farm which formerly belonged to Fred Auman, and is moving on it this week. Mr. Lingle could afford to quit farming and move to town but he prefers his mountain home, and lives here where the water and air are pure.

Mrs. Sarah Grim intends to move into the home she bought from John Lingle in the spring. She at present lives in the Conrad Auman homestead.

Last Saturday snow fell all day and when night came on there was no sign of abatement. The large feathery flakes came drifting downward, gradually and surely covering everything upon the earth. The trees caught it in their branches until they bent as if they would break, and piled in the roads until the wonder was whether any travel could be done or not.

Fred Ripka has the proud honor of not missing a day of school since institute, which, when we take into consideration the bad weather we have had, means a great deal. Fred is just as energetic in his studies and is quite a bright lad.

We are sorry to state that Verna Lingle is sick. She is being attended by Dr. Braucht.

On Friday Mountain school finished ka, Lloyd Ripka, Clyde Ripka, Emanuel Breon, Clayton Auman and Norman Lingle.

Aaron Auman and son are filling a car load of props. They make four trips daily and are usually at home until 4 o'clock P. M. They believe in the adage, "The early bird catches the worm."

We hear that Spring Mills intends to send in a load of partners for our fourteen single ladies, but we will also state that there are fourteen prospective husbands of different ages in our district who are very handy in using a shot gun. Let's see, wouldn't St. Valentine's day be a good time for them all to couple up?

We are sorry to lose our good neighbor, Stewart Ripka, who will move on a large farm at Pleasant Gap in the spring. Mr. Ripka is a good farmer and we are sure he will meet with success there.

W. W. Krisher seems to be the only man who knows how to set and file a saw just right, as he is busy every evening after his day's work, filing saws for his many customers.
