

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Morris Baum returned this week from a purchasing trip to New York City.

Sim the Clothier has one of the most attractive displays of linen collars we have seen for a long time.

Mrs. Joseph Ceaders, who had been confined to the house with the grip for almost three weeks, is around again.

Mrs. Emma Yeager is now in Pittsburg where she will spend several months with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Bentley.

If you have money to loan see the John F. Gray & Son, insurance agency, Bellefonte, as they can secure you a good investment.

On Monday Miss Mary Blanchard left Bellefonte for Chicago where she will spend two weeks with Fred Blanchard and his sisters.

Miss Beattie Grove, formerly a trimmer in Mollie Snyder's millinery store, has accepted a position in a large establishment in Philadelphia.

Lee Larimer, of Jersey Shore, and Shem Spigelmyer, of Antis Fort, transacted business in Bellefonte on Monday. They are all welcome guests.

Rev. Winey, pastor of the United Brethren church is spending the week at Coalport, Pa., where he is assisting Rev. A. H. Buffington in evangelistic services.

Wednesday was Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the Lenten season. Special services will be held in the Reformed, Catholic and Episcopal churches.

The Ladies Aid Society, of the United Brethren church, will hold a chicken, corn soup, and oyster supper in their rooms, next Wednesday evening, February 17th.

Mrs. E. C. Deltz, of Howard, Miss Theresa Rachau, of Spring Mills and Mrs. Charles Dale, of Howard, were guests of Mrs. Alice Showers, on Allegheny street over Sunday.

On Monday night the Elks held their first meeting in their new lodge rooms in the Curtin mansion. Many new applications for membership were received from various sections of the county.

Mrs. George Port, of east Howard street, and Mrs. W. H. Derstine, of Penn street, have been down with the grip. They had been serious with the disease, but are now somewhat better.

Owing to having a large variety of stock, Pinklestone, the 5 and 10 cent dealer, will offer still bigger reductions to reduce the same to make room for new goods. If you look at his ad in this paper, you will find that the clearance sale is still going on.

A business meeting of the Nesane Tribe No. 71, I. O. E. M. will be held on Friday evening Feb. 11, 1910 at 7:30. All members are requested to attend this meeting. A smoker will be held at the close of the meeting. Committee: John Cherry, John Strunk and Wm. Hamilton.

Ammon Gramly, of Coleville, did some sleighing this winter that undoubtedly gave his friends and neighbors much pleasure. With his two-horse team he made frequent pleasure trips. Last week he was out every night, with from 18 to 22 on board each trip. Guess they all had good grub along with the sleighride.

The First National Bank, of Bellefonte, has been asked by the Union Associated Press to act as depository in receiving and remitting funds for the relief of the sufferers by the floods in France. All subscriptions received will be acknowledged by the company's news service throughout North America, and will be promptly remitted by the association to the Paris Y. M. C. A. and Ambulance Substitution blanks will be found at the bank.

One of the most generous individuals in Centre County is just John A. Daley of Curtin township. Nobody goes hungry when he is around. On Saturday both the proprietor of the Centre Democrat and his assistant received a sack of the very finest buckwheat that comes from the rolls. He has made a specialty of having it ground right so that there could be no klick coming from those who use it. If you haven't tried it you had better go to Seehler & Co. and purchase a sack and get strong. If you get one sack you will be sure to get another.

The Beech Creek correspondent of the Lock Haven Express says: Mrs. George W. Lingle has been ill for more than a week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Clark, in Bellefonte, where Mr. and Mrs. Lingle are spending this winter. Mrs. Willis P. Bullock, also a daughter of Mrs. Lingle, was in Bellefonte when her husband was suddenly taken ill Tuesday evening, and was summoned home, arriving Wednesday morning. Mrs. James Clark was also ill the forepart of the week.

The services in the local United Evangelical church will be of special interest next Sunday. At 9:30 in the morning the Sunday school rooms with their new mar and ceiling will be thrown open. Those who have not seen it will be surprised at the change of appearance. At 10:30 A. M. and at 7:30 P. M. Miss Emma D. Messenger, of Lewisburg, will deliver an address in the interest of the Mission Band and Young People's Missionary Society. The people who have heard Miss Messenger a year ago will be delighted to hear her again this year. She is a talented young woman, and full of enthusiasm for missions.

Everywhere you go people are talking about the scenic. They have gotten onto it out in the country and the people are coming in sled loads. It only costs five cents and they are beginning to realize how much they are getting for their nickel. Where on earth can you go and see so much for the price? This is why the hall is crowded every night with the very best people in the town. Manager Clayton Brown is onto his job both as to securing the very latest pictures and maintaining the best of order in his place of business. He is always looking out for special attractions and will bring one on his patrons most any time. So if you don't want to miss these you must be there each night, and know what is going on. The better the place is patronized the better will be the show. Miss Goldsborough who came here from Philadelphia to sing for the illustrated songs was taken suddenly ill with the grip and went home. Her place was filled for several evenings by Henry Brown who beats 'em all. The song on Monday night was a dandy, and Henry acquitted himself well.

Ladies' $2.00 calf skin shoes reduced to $1.25. At Yeagers.

M. I. Gardner recently purchased the Franklin car owned by Geo. Beezer.

Mrs. Sarah Fulton and her son Harry drove to State College on Sunday.

Miss Louise Armor, stenographer for the C. R. R. of Penn., spent Sunday in Tyrone as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Claud Jones.

Miss George A. Steele, one of College township's efficient school teachers, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Bellefonte.

Walter B. Rankin, of Harrisburg, arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday and remained with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rankin, until Sunday afternoon.

Albert Schadt's new house, on Linn street, has been leased by Mrs. Jacob V. Thomas and daughter, Miss Mary, who will move here from Philadelphia on April 1st.

Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker, who became seriously ill last week with the grip at Ft. Pitt Hotel, Pittsburg, was brought home and is now getting along very nicely.

On Monday evening Col. and Mrs. H. S. Taylor entertained Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shehee at 6 o'clock dinner. From here Mr. and Mrs. Shehee went to Atlantic City until April 1st.

Walter Karstetter, of State College, is once more installed as chef at Mersbach's restaurant, on High street. He is a good cook and is a valuable asset to that place of business.

Prof. Philip Meyer, of Centre Hall, will conduct an old fashioned singing school on Friday evening in the Presbyterian chapel, Bellefonte. Everything will be free and everybody is cordially invited.

Hon. John G. Love and wife are now in Atlantic City where they have gone with the hope that the Judge can get rid of some of the rheumatism from which he has been a great sufferer for several months.

William Showers, engineer at the plant of the Bellefonte Lumber Co., has decided to move to his farm, near Hocka, in the Spring. He will give his attention to the growing of choice fruit.

Guy E. Swartz has changed his location from Clintonada to Philadelphia. He has secured a good position in the Quaker City. Mr. Swartz is a machinist and a few years ago was employed in Lingles' machine shop.

Edward Keichline, of Bellefonte, has been awarded a free scholarship in the Susquehanna University at Selinogrove, and will enter the institution immediately after the Easter vacation, for a short course in English and book-keeping.

Mrs. Samuel Taylor and her little daughter, Eleanor, of Philadelphia, are in Bellefonte for a short stay. Her husband, who has been in charge of a large 5 and 10 cent store in the Quaker City, has been transferred to Columbus, Ohio. After Mr. Taylor secures a house his family will join him.

The room on High street, formerly occupied by Henry Kline as a shoe store, is being rapidly fitted up as an office for Dr. Geo. F. Harris. The large store room has been divided into two rooms by folding doors which makes it a desirable place for State Dispensary as well as a doctor's office.

John Hoffer, Jr., a son of C. Hoffer, one of the auditors of Centre county, spent part of Saturday and Sunday in Bellefonte with his grandfather, C. T. Gerbrick. John holds an excellent position in the First National Bank of Philadelphia, and is one of that town's promising young business men.

Alvin Stover, who for years had been farming on the Rishel farm, in Benner township, has decided to quit farming and the probabilities are that he will go to Altoona or Harrisburg to make his future home. Alvin has been a good man on the farm and it is doubtful whether Mr. Rishel will be able to find a man who can fill his place.

Maurice Baum returned the beginning of the week from a ten-days' trip to Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York, purchasing the newest spring styles for Sim the Clothier. This store constantly keeps in direct touch with the style centers and always shows the new styles here as quickly as they are brought out. Its store Bellefonte should be proud of.

Business is getting better at Lingles' foundry and machine shop. Fourteen men are employed there now, although they do not make full time, owing to the lack of orders for the foundry. The outlook, however, for a good lot of work in the spring is encouraging. This is one of Bellefonte's best industries and at one time employed over one hundred men.

On next Sabbath evening Rev. J. Alton Platts, of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, will begin a series of sermons to the young people of the town. On Sunday night he will preach to young men. Rev. Platts is well and favorably known among the young men of the town, as he has been with them in many of their sports, thus there should be a large turnout at this special service. Two weeks later he will talk to young women.

Recently Levi Symonds, the faithful janitor at the court house, has been charged with the serious crime of not keeping the snow off the Soldiers Monument, which stands in front of the temple of justice. Levi has been fighting mad and was ready to ride the frame of the fellow who would dare to make charge to his very face. Gen. John I. Curtin has come to his rescue and he says that he doesn't recollect the time when the monument was kept free from snow than it has been this winter. Give three cheers for Symonds.

On Saturday evening a large number of young gentlemen of Bellefonte assembled in the parlor of the Undine Fire Co. to hear Walter S. Greevy, Deputy Supreme Organizer, of Altoona, who was present and explained the Moose organization and the benefits derived from it. The enthusiasm ran high and was decided to organize a lodge here known as the Bellefonte Lodge No. 206 of the Loyal Order of Moose. It was decided to hold the charter open until March 1st. Up to that time applicants will have the benefit of the special reduced initiation fee of $5. Those who are interested should apply to R. C. Valentine, State Organizer, at the Brokerhoff House.

Ladies' $4.00 lace shoes reduced to $2.48. At Yeagers.

William Gross, who resided on the Hale farm, just east of Bellefonte, is seriously ill.

Mrs. J. A. Alkens left on Monday afternoon for Philadelphia and New York on a business trip.

Miss Mary Barlett is seriously ill at the home of her brother, Jacob Barlett, on Valentine street.

Dr. R. T. Weston, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has recovered sufficiently from the grip to be at his desk again.

Hon. J. K. Thompson, of Philadelphia, fell on the ice recently and cut his head. He is well known in Bellefonte.

Miss Lucille Hayes, of Union City, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. I. Willard, on Thomas street.

W. T. Speer, Jr., of Pittsburg, spent part of Saturday and Sunday in Bellefonte with his father, W. T. Speer, on High street.

Isaac Maitland, wife and family, of Williamsport, who visits the Maitland family in Bellefonte over Sunday are now in DelRea, Texas.

On Wednesday William Katz moved from the Gardner house to the house opposite the court house, formerly occupied by the Elks.

On Saturday and part of this week John E. Harris, the mercantile appraiser of Centre county has been calling on the merchants of Bellefonte.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran church will hold a bread, cake, rolls and pie sale every Saturday afternoon this month at Coxey's store.

On Tuesday Aaron Katz, one of the enterprising business men of Bellefonte, fell on the ice and sprained his right arm. The result is, he is carrying it in a sling.

On Friday evening Cyrus Solt, the Bellefonte drayman, took a sled load of young ladies and gentlemen to Pleasant Gap where they had a pleasant time at a taffy party.

Harry McCoy, the reliable express agent at Monongahala City, spent Sunday in Bellefonte at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, on Thomas street.

On Saturday Mrs. Ralph Mallory went to Philadelphia in response to a telegram, stating her mother was seriously ill. She returned on Tuesday, her mother being much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Maitland and daughter, Miss Louise, and little son, of Williamsport, spent Sunday in Bellefonte at the home of Mrs. Charles Crouse, who is a sister of Mrs. Maitland.

R. S. Brouse, Bellefonte's popular merchant, has withdrawn as the Republican candidate for council in the West ward. Rodger says he wouldn't take the office if it was given him on a silver platter.

Frank Clemson, of Buffalo Run, and Dr. Coombs, of Scotia, are now calling at Monongahala. They were purchased from Dr. Sebring, of Bellefonte, who has been selling a number of machines of late.

Both the Boston and New York National league baseball clubs are after Bud Sharpe, the former State College and Bellefonte Academy baseball player. He played at Newark last season and was reserved by Pittsburg.

Next Tuesday will be election day and the voters of Bellefonte should throw away party prejudice and cast their ballot for the best men seeking the office. Let no man be afraid of his shadow, but vote according to his honest convictions.

Harvey Lutz, now employed as a driver for E. K. Rhoads, the coal dealer, has about decided to become manager of the poor farm of Spring township. He is a good man and will give the very best of service. The farm is located just east of Asselman.

C. U. Hoffer, one of the efficient auditors of Centre County, went to his home in Philadelphia on Monday morning, and returned to Bellefonte on Tuesday morning. He is clerk of the Philadelphia Council and had to be there on Monday evening to record its proceedings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Curry, of Woodbury, a suburb of Pittsburg, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little son. The happy mother was Miss Nettie Cook, daughter of Charles E. Cook, of Bellefonte. This is the first time Mr. Cook has been a grandfather and thus he is inclined to feel his oats a little, but he can't be here and vote on Tuesday.

On Tuesday we received a postal from George T. Bush who on Friday, Feb. 4, was in San Francisco. He reports having a fine trip through the southland. On Saturday, the 5th, he sailed on the "Overland," which is a dandy big boat, for a trip around the world. The incoming passengers report an excellent trip with a big reception in Japan.

County Commissioner John I. Dunlap had business up in Ferguson township, and on Tuesday evening he registered at the St. Elmo at Pine Grove Mills. After supper he took his shawl, bath, Eleanora Helen, and Dorothy Decker for a sleigh ride to Halleyville and the kids were tied to death when the sleigh upset. Nobody was injured.

On Monday J. Montgomery Davis, of Tyrone, assumed charge of the Garman House. He comes to Bellefonte highly recommended, both as a citizen and a hotel man, one who will always keep an up-to-date house in every sense of the word. The initial day's business showed a registry of thirty guests, which was pleasing to the new proprietor. There is no doubt but what this popular old house will increase in public favor under the new management.

George E. Meek and sister, Miss Marie Meek, left on Sunday afternoon for a trip with the National Editorial Association. At Johnstown they were joined by their sister, Dr. Nell Meek. From Pittsburg the Association went to Cincinnati, Ohio, and then to New Orleans. From there they took a boat to Central America. Before returning they will visit the big ditch which Uncle Sam is digging at Panama. It is a nice trip and, no doubt, will be thoroughly enjoyed.

Not within our recollection has there been so much sickness among the students and professors of the Bellefonte Academy as this winter. The grip and appendicitis have been the plagues of the school, and have caused much of the suffering and inconvenience relative to the progress of the school. Following the death of young Sleppey, James McQuash was taken home by his father on account of being ill with appendicitis. He had been sick for some time. Mr. McBride, one of the players on the basket ball team, also returned to his home, being threatened with appendicitis. Ivan Mahoney has returned to his home in Wilkes-Barre on account of illness.

Those on the sick list are: Sam'l McGinley, who was better last week but worse the beginning of this week; Mr. and Mrs. Roll Swisher—but the latter is much better. Mrs. Muesel-Zones was poorly but is improving; and Austin Swisher is very sick.

O. P. Nason is at home as the paper-punching is finished at Philadelphia he talks of going to a job at Huntington.

There was quite an excitement after prayer meeting last Wednesday night. When Miss Frances Swisher went to get her horse, which was tied to the railing back of the church, she was surprised to find the horse lying flat in the snow and the rope drawn tight about its neck. Fortunately some men and a lantern were soon on the scene and the only damage was a broken shaft, which was soon replaced by another pair, and the girls were soon on the road home rejoicing that it was not worse. Miss Maude Wilson was a little nervous the next day but is all right now.

BLANCHARD. Christ Page and wife, of Orviston, spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Page's home.

Mrs. Clara Heaten met with a painful accident on Friday evening, by falling on the ice and breaking her right arm.

A jolly sleighing party of Howard took advantage of the good sleighing conditions and drove to this place to attend church, after which they were invited to the home of Robert Beaty, where they all had a good time.

Mrs. Florence Shank, of Howard, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Milford Fletcher.

Lloyd Bechdel and family were Sunday visitors at the home of William Gussallus, of Mill Hill, on Sunday.

WILLIAMS.—Mrs. John Williams died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Fravel, on Saturday, Feb. 5th, of dropsy, aged 77 years, 10 months and 6 days. She leaves to survive three daughters: Mrs. Alex. Heverly, Mrs. John Fravel, Mrs. Edward Heverly and Mrs. Clara Heaton. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock interment was made at the Baptist cemetery. Mrs. Williams was a member of the Baptist church, being found there in every service until of late years, when she was unable to go. She will be missed by all who knew her; she was a good neighbor and a kind mother.

CURTIN. KORMAN.—On Saturday morning, February 5th, Mrs. C. W. Korman died at her home at Curtin, after an illness of several months. Mrs. Korman had been failing in health for about three years. Two years ago she was treated at the Bellefonte hospital. She was afterwards taken to the Adams sanitarium in Philadelphia without any improvement and was brought home. Mrs. Korman was born in 1857, making her age 52 years. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and a kind and loving wife and mother; she is survived by her husband and the following children: Margaret, William, Charley, Verda, at home and Clayton.
