

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

—Coming very soon, the peoples favorite, Price & Butler Company at the opera house.

—James Summers left on Thursday for Fredrick, Md. to attend the funeral of a relative.

—Miss Anna Beaver, of California, has been a guest at the residence of General and Mrs. James A. Beaver.

—Miss Hazel Kramer, of Clearfield, has been visiting in Bellefonte at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Claude Thompson.

—Mrs. Russel Blair left on Monday afternoon for Philadelphia, where she will visit her parents for a short time.

—Clifton Mallory will be here shortly to present "Richard Garrick" and "A Soldier of France," at the opera house.

—W. T. Daggett, the genial proprietor of the Bush House, spent Sunday with his brother, S. O. Daggett, at Hughesville.

—Mrs. S. Kinney, of Newton, Kansas, is now in Bellefonte, called here by the serious condition of her father, Isaac Longacre.

—In the Spring Mrs. Newton Snyder and son Donald, of North Allegheny street, will take a trip to Wales, Mrs. Snyder's old home.

—Chauncy F. York, of Detroit, Michigan, was a recent visitor in Bellefonte as the guest of his father-in-law, Emanuel Noll.

—Mrs. Sarah Bathurst, who has been visiting at the home of her son John at Blanchard, returned to her home at this place on Monday.

—Twenty-six members of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, of this place, partook of an oyster supper at Garbriek's restaurant on Tuesday evening.

—Hugh N. Crider says that by the end of this month he will open the eyes of the Bellefonte automobilists. By that time he will have a 1910 model 50-horse power Mathe Ewson car.

—Next Sunday will close the work of the present conference year in the local United Evangelical church. The evening service Rev. Hower, the pastor, will give a short review of the work done since the last conference.

—Wallace Reeder, son of the late Col. W. F. Reeder, formerly of Bellefonte, and the Methodist church, at Bloomsburg, are the only legatees named in the will of Mrs. Reeder, mother of Col. Reeder.

—On Thursday evening William Trissler, C. K. Hicklen and George Everhart, teachers in the Methodist Sunday school, gave the boys of their respective classes a sled ride to Pleasant Gap and back.

—M. J. Glenn, of Kittanning, Pa., was here attending the funeral of his uncle, Michael Hayes, on Monday. He is the manager of the Elk Brewing Company at that place. Mr. Glenn formerly was a resident of Snow Shoe.

—Mrs. Jane Musser and daughter, Miss Kathrine, will move from Mrs. William Pace's house, on Bishop street, to the apartments over the Potter-Hoy hardware store, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Strunk who will move to their new home on Thomas street.

—On Sunday Ernest Hansell, a young student who is about to graduate from Princeton Seminary, filled the pulpit in the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Dr. Platts was also in the pulpit, but as he was just getting over the grip he was advised by his physician not to preach on this occasion.

—Wilbur Burkholder, the efficient assistant of Harry Hutchinson in the P. R. R. ticket office, spent several days with a real nice Duck in New York City. It may not be many more months until "Burkey" will have his "Duckie" right here in Bellefonte. What's the matter with starting a little Duck colony?

—Landlord Edward Royer, of the famous Old Fort hotel, was in town on Monday and among other things advanced his subscription for another year. During the past year he filled the pulpit in the Presbyterian church on Sunday. Dr. Platts was also in the pulpit, but as he was just getting over the grip he was advised by his physician not to preach on this occasion.

—Miss Mary Kelley, who is the Bellefonte representative of the Bellefonte Daily, has opened up an office in the W. C. T. U. rooms in Petrikin Hall where news or money can be left. The latter is used for greasing the machinery at Howard where the paper is published.

—Roy Decker, teacher of the Knox school, in Jenner township, gave his pupils a little variety by bringing them to Bellefonte and having their pictures taken by Mallory, the photographer. There were fifty boys and girls and were brought to town in sleds by Michael Grove and John Kelley.

—Miss Mollie Snyder, the Bishop street milliner, is being congratulated. No, not on securing a handsome man, but on the elegant way she has her store fixed up. The painting and papering has made such a radical change in the place that the patrons have to look twice before they are sure they are in the right place. Everything is in accordance with an up-to-date store.

—On Wednesday Dr. George F. Harris moved his office from the Elk's home, formerly the Curtin residence, to the rooms formerly occupied by Henry Kline as a shoe store. He will have three large rooms which will be ample space for his private office and the carrying on of the excellent work connected with the State Dispensary in which an effort is being made to stamp out tuberculosis.

—J. Harris Hoy left on Wednesday afternoon for Clarence where he has accepted the position of head bookkeeper and cashier in the large store of the Clarence Supply Co., which is owned by George Uzzle and David Chambers. Harris is the right man for the place and there is no reason why he should not make good. He can find no better people to work for than just Uzzle and Chambers, who everything should work out harmoniously.

—Norman Meyer, of Bellefonte, a conductor on an extra freight train, which was waiting to pass another train at Salona station last Thursday evening, exhibited a spirit of daring by mounting a two-horse sled while the train attached to it was running away, and brought the frightened animals to a standstill, after he had climbed over the dashboard of the sled and gathered up the lines, which were dragging on the ground. The team belonged to William Romig, of Rote.

—On Friday evening Prof. Philip Meyer, of Centre Hall, will conduct another session of the singing school in the Presbyterian chapel, on Spring street. Remember Mr. Meyer is paid by one or two parties so that not one cent tuition is charged. Everybody is therefore cordially invited to attend and make this school a grand success. The rudiments of music will be taught first, and as the class advances the more difficult parts of the subject will be taken up. If you desire to be a good singer for not a cent of outlay this is your chance. The chapel should be crowded tomorrow night.

—H. F. Kessinger, one of the progressive citizens of Blanchard, was a pleasant caller at this office on Monday afternoon and, like hundreds of others, advanced his subscription. He is one of the men who wants to keep abreast with the times and so he purchased a Franklin automobile from A. P. Williams, of Curtin, who advertised the machine in the Centre Democrat. Mr. Kessinger will use the machine for taking him to and from his home to his mill which is about a mile apart. After he gets to handling it all right he will be going down through the valley at the rate of a mile a minute, leaving the trains far behind him.

—Ladies read Yeager's ad. this week.

—Luther Fishburn, of Pine Grove Mills, is the new clerk in Green's drug store.

—Have you seen the aluminum ware on sale at the Variety shop, Spigelmyer & Co.?

—V. J. Bauer has sold his green grocery, on High street, to I. Tadada, who will continue the business.

—Michael Kelley, of Bellefonte, fell the other day on the pavement and the result was his arm was badly bruised.

—D. A. Grove's horse sale at the Haag House was largely attended last Friday, and the larger portion of the animals were sold.

—Edward Sprague, a student at the Bellefonte Academy, has returned from his home at Scranton, where he had gone on account of illness.

—Court will be in session next week and a large attendance is expected, as considerable business will be transacted at the session.

—On Friday Leland Struble, of Bellefonte, left for Creek Side, Indiana county, where he has accepted a position with the P. R. R. Co.

—Howard R. Ruger, formerly of Bellefonte, who had been running the Star Theatre at Phillipsburg, for nearly a year, has leased the same to Ellis Freeman.

—On account of the serious illness of Isaac Longacre, his three sons, Chas. of Sharon; Clarence, of Williamsport, and Paul of Pittsburg, were in Bellefonte several days recently.

—On Thursday evening William Trissler, C. K. Hicklen and George Everhart, teachers in the Methodist Sunday school, gave the boys of their respective classes a sled ride to Pleasant Gap and back.

—M. J. Glenn, of Kittanning, Pa., was here attending the funeral of his uncle, Michael Hayes, on Monday. He is the manager of the Elk Brewing Company at that place. Mr. Glenn formerly was a resident of Snow Shoe.

—Ladies read Yeager's ad. this week.

—Professional wrestling match at the opera house this evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Raymond spent Sunday with friends in Lock Haven.

—On Sunday A. G. Morris left Bellefonte on a business trip to Columbia, S. C.

—Are you keeping your subscription paid up? If not you are liable to miss your paper one of these days.

—Mrs. Robert Cole has returned from Philadelphia where she spent three months having her eyes treated by a specialist. Her eyesight is somewhat improved.

—Miss Anna Beaver, after spending a week very pleasantly at the residence of General and Mrs. James A. Beaver, left on Monday morning for Pittsburg.

—"An Old Fashioned School" will be held in the lecture room of the Methodist church on Thursday evening; admission free; refreshments will be served.

—A mothers' meeting will be held on Friday, February 25, at 3.30 in Petrikin Hall. Subject for discussion "The Child in School." All women are invited to attend.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bert LeVan, of Altoona, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin on Tuesday. Mr. LeVan holds a responsible position with the Penna. railroad in that city.

—A. D. Fink, one of the prominent citizens of Mahaffey, Clearfield county, spent several days in Bellefonte this week as the guest of his daughter, Mrs. N. B. Spangler and Mrs. Joseph Runkle.

—Professional wrestling match at the opera house this Thursday evening between Chas. A. Kaiser and Eddie Barr. This is something entirely new for Bellefonte and should attract a good attendance.

—On Friday evening Rev. John Hewitt, of Bellefonte, preached an interesting sermon in the St. Paul Episcopal church at Lock Haven. It was highly spoken of by the Press and those who heard it.

—Prof. Espenshade, of State College, gave a very interesting talk on English and European literature, in St. John's parish house Monday evening, to the members of the University club and their friends.

—Mrs. James Harris and Mrs. Sarah Brown and daughter, Miss Bess, returned to Bellefonte on Thursday. The former spent a month among friends in Philadelphia, and the latter spent about the same time in Lancaster.

—Mrs. John C. Rowe left on Saturday for Phillipsburg to see her mother. Mrs. Catherine Armstrong who was brought home from the Cottage Hospital where she underwent a critical but successful operation five weeks ago.

—H. P. Yearick, one of Altoona's young business men, spent several days of this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Yearick, of Bellefonte. The young man holds an important position with a large furniture firm in that city.

—The engagement of Miss Edna Meyer, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. J. C. Meyer, to Walter Hoge MacEntire, of Wilmington, N. C., has been announced. Mr. MacEntire, for several years, has been instructor of agronomy at State College.

—Katz & Co. have an important announcement on page 8 of this issue. They are offering some real bargains that should attract the attention of the ladies. When Katz & Co. announce such a sale you will find the goods at the store, as advertised.

—On Monday Miss Alice Wilson and Mrs. George Elliott, of Bellefonte, attended the funeral of Mrs. Margaret Moyer Hilton, which took place at Tyrone. The young woman was the daughter of the late Curtin and Clara Pruner Moyer. Her husband died about one year ago. Mrs. Hilton is survived by one child.

—On Friday Miss Lillian Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Walker, of Philadelphia, where she will spend several weeks at Custers where she will familiarize herself with the spring styles of millinery. From there she will go to West Chester where she will take charge of Mrs. T. I. Heckwith's large millinery business.

—On Sunday morning the Presbyterian choir will render an anthem recently published by Prof. W. T. Meyer, of Philadelphia, that has won favor in musical circles. The selection is entitled "Hide Not Thy Face." Of late Prof. Meyer has devoted much of his time to composing sacred selections for which there has been a popular demand.

—Paul Wetzel, son of Hon. Henry Wetzel, who is connected with the engineering corps of the N. Y. C. & H. R. Railroad Company, spent Sunday in Bellefonte with his parents and other friends. He is a studious, energetic young man and is climbing the ladder of success very rapidly. He is one of the boys the company can depend upon, thus he is in the line of promotion.

—Miss Rachael Shuey, a student of Dickinson Seminary, at Williamsport, spent Saturday and Sunday in Bellefonte with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shuey. With her were two school friends, Miss Genevieve Watkins and Helen Counsel. After the basket ball game at the Y. M. C. A. Miss Shuey gave a reception at her home in honor of the Dickinson team which proved a most enjoyable social affair.

—For some time Miss Kathryn McCoy, of Bellefonte, has been suffering from what was first a head cold. To get at the foundation of the trouble her cheek was lanced. Several weeks ago it was thought the trouble was about over, but during the past week the pain was almost intolerable, which has required her to seek medical treatment two or three times a day. It is one of those afflictions that it is difficult to tell the outcome, although it is to be hoped that permanent relief may soon come.

—We had an interesting caller on Monday in Elmer Roller, of Fletcher, Ohio, who some twenty years ago was a resident of Pilmore. Now he is a prosperous farmer in the Miami valley, of the Buckeye state. He reports the farmer prosperous in his community, getting better prices for their products than was ever known. He also says they build better roads in his section than in Pennsylvania. In Ohio they crown their roads in the center and drain them with deep ditches on the sides. Before departing Mr. Roller put himself at the head of the subscription list by paying his paper to April 1st, 1910 or over five years in advance. He says he enjoys reading the home news, and the Centre Democrat contains so much of it.

—George Huffert, of Williamsport, has accepted a position with the Pennsylvania Telephone Co. in Bellefonte.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Glenn, of Snow Shoe, is critically ill at the home of her niece, Mrs. Clay Rider, at Coleville.

—Miss Ethel Irvin, of Westfield, N. J., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Green, on the corner of Allegheny and Linn streets.

—Mary Parker, the interesting little daughter of Conductor and Mrs. Ross Parker, was six years old on Tuesday and she was the recipient of a large number of pretty post cards.

—Rev. E. S. Wallace, of Philadelphia, formerly U. S. Consul to Jerusalem, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Platts. Arrangements are being made to have Rev. Wallace deliver a series of lectures in Bellefonte in the near future.

—Mrs. James Harris presented to Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., a fine portrait of her husband who for years acted as chaplain of the Post. The mass over the chaplain's desk and is a good likeness of Mr. Harris and is highly appreciated by the members of the organization.

—Col. W. H. Musser, of Bellefonte, hereby calls the attention of the survivors of the 45th Regt., P. V. V., that a reunion will be held at Williamsport on Wednesday, March 2nd, for the purpose of making arrangements for the publishing of the history of the regiment. A campfire with prominent speakers will be present. It is to be hoped there will be a large turnout.

—Wednesday night the Centre Lodge J. O. D. F. held its annual banquet in their lodge room on the third floor of Crider's Stone building. As usual it proved a great social success, as the members had their wives and sweethearts with them. The large tables were elegantly arranged and were bowed down with all the good things of the season. A Lukenbach acted as toastmaster and the music was furnished by Detriech's orchestra.

—Miss Ruth Kerstetter and brother, Walton, of Hamburg, accompanied by Miss Fannie Rose, of the same place, have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Yeager, on Spring street. The Kerstetter children always have a good time when they come to Bellefonte. The only thing that their uncle Harry Yeager has is that there is not a theatre here where he could take them that costs $5 a seat and then some, to tip the usher.

—The fourth number on the star course will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, the 25th, instead of Petrikin hall. There are so many boys taking part and so much apparatus to move that the committee decided to have it in the Y. M. C. A. Seats will be reserved for those holding season tickets, and they will be on sale Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. Great interest is being manifested by all the participants and athletes coming from the College.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stinson, whose home is now at Donora, Pa., will soon change their place of residence to Allentown where Mr. Stinson has accepted a position as clerk in the office of the steel mills at that place. Mrs. Stinson was formerly Miss Lillian Crittendon, of Bellefonte, and in 1892 she married Mr. Stinson. She expects to spend several days here before going to her new home. Grandfather, Rev. Crittendon, is just as restless as a hen on eggs, until he sees that little granddaughter.

—On Saturday evening Charles P. Barnes, brother of Homer Barnes, arrived home from Baltimore, Md., where he holds a splendid position with the New York Continental & Jewel Exhibition Company. Charles is one of the boys who got a hustle on. That is, when he couldn't find work at home he left to turn something up elsewhere, thus he is ahead of the crowd who are loafing around here waiting until something comes to them. Where here, he was initiated into Elkdom and since then his horns have been growing very nicely.

—On Saturday evening Hon. W. C. Heine returned from New York City looking after the sale of land in which he is interested. Before going to America's chief Metropolis he stopped off at Philadelphia where he was the main speaker at the annual meeting of the Centre County Association. He was highly pleased with the treatment and hearty reception given him. He gave them an address which was highly appreciated by the fifty Centre countians who sat around the banquet table. Col. J. L. Spangler and Hon. Robert M. Foster were among the outside guests.

—On Tuesday evening the Ladies Auxiliary of Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R., served an appetizing oyster supper in the post room which was well patronized. One good thing about it was that it wasn't necessary to fish around in the soup to find one measly oyster. Meats and salads were also served all for 25 cents and they lost considerable money on such good feeders as Al. Dale, John Olevine, Dr. J. E. Ward and "Jim" Curtin. Frank Naginay kindly furnished the graphophone music for the occasion most of which was all right, but there were three or four pieces that made the fellows stare as if they had a fog horn in their throats. Mr. Naginay's efforts to please were appreciated.
