HOWARD.

In Our Churches Next Sabbath
United Evangelical—Pastor W. W. Rhoades will preach at Fairview at 10:30 A. M., and at Howard at 7:30 P. M.

A Pleasant Affair

The reception tendered by the Juniors to the Senior Class of our High school last Friday evening was an interesting social function. The invitations had been very properly restricted to the number which would fill the big room without uncomfortable crowding, thus eliminating what is sometimes an unpleasant feature.

A Free Lecture

This Thursday evening, Miss Burley, a representative of Williamsport, W. C. T. U., will give a free lecture for women only in the parlor of Mrs. A. A. Schenck, and all women interested in this good work are cordially invited to be present.

C. Ellis Fletcher, son of Henry Fletcher of the township, is spending his vacation at home. Mr. Fletcher is an engineer in the employ of the Penna. & Ontario Transportation Co., and his duty is to run one of the great freight boats which transfer whole loads of freight to and fro across Lake Erie, between Port Burwell, Canada, and Ashtabula Harbor, Ohio.

Reuben Bechdel, whose untimely death in the Altoona yard is noted more fully in another part of this paper, was closely related to the large Bechdel family of this place, and a young wife was for several years a resident here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Dunkle tendered a farewell reception to their fellow "Rebecas" on Wednesday evening last, and made a delightful affair of it for the more than forty who could accept their invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Johnson go to State College next week to take charge of the Sigma Chi fraternity house. They are very upright and capable people, and will give the "frat" boys and their house the best of care; but they are the sort of citizens whose removal from a community is a loss, and we join their many friends and neighbors in regretting their going.

At a recent meeting of the C. E. of the Evangelical church the following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. E. S. Dunham; vice president, Miss Nellie Hopkins; secretary, Frank Williams; organist, Miss Anna Holter, and conductor, L. H. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Confer, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Neff, R. P. Confer, Mrs. Hayes Schenck, Mrs. L. M. Lucas, and William Cox went to Flemington on No. 50 Sunday morning to attend the funeral of their relative, Mrs. Sarah Nolan.

Thomas Neff, engineer of the saw mill cutting lumber on the Butler farm, had the misfortune to badly smash his finger on Friday last, putting him on the waiting list for a few days.

Mrs. Thomas Moore, of Philadelphia, Miss Moore of Montana, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Brown, of Bellefonte, were Sunday diners with the family of Abraham Weber.

Mrs. Clara Kline Hicks, of Costello, took advantage of the absence of her siege lord at conference and came home to spend a week or two with the home folks.

Mrs. John Heverly and Miss Lulu Johnson, who have been victims of unusually severe attacks of grip, are usually severe attacks of grip, are improving.

Blacksmith Charlie Fletcher, who seldom leaves his anvil excepting for important business, took time to go to Bellefonte last Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary B. DeHaas attended the funeral of her cousin, Charles Barnes, in Williamsport, last Friday.

Harry Cooke, of Philadelphia, was the guest of his grand uncle, W. L. Cooke, on Thursday last.

Miss Myra Daughenbaugh is spending some days with Blair county friends.

Mrs. C. P. Long, of Spring Mills is a guest of her niece, Mrs. Lester Bowes.

Howard is not known as a lumber town yet we have no less than five saw mills running at this time, in and near this town, within sight and hearing. The Howard Spoke & Box Co. runs a stationary mill regularly, and Shope & Crider are temporarily running a portable one in the Butler woods inside the borough lines.

George H. Leathers has about completed arrangements for the building of his new house on the property he now occupies, during the coming summer. It will be commodious and comfortable, without being tawdry, nor, in any way overdone.

Frank and Samuel Gardner, who are making good among the wage earners of Bellefonte, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Gardner, in the township last Sunday.

Mrs. George Long, who has spent the winter with relatives in Spring township, returned to her home here last Monday.

Huber Hannon was summoned to Tyrone by chief dispatcher Witter on Friday last, to take work at the telegraph key.

Mrs. W. R. Hopkins, one of our "shut-ins" during the past winter, was out calling among her friends on Tuesday.

John Snyder, of Lewisburg, was the guest of Miss Freda Confer over Sunday.

Miss Maud Confer, of Bellefonte visited her parents here last Sunday.

Donald Ungard, of Allentown, was a guest of Miss Eva Neff over Sunday.

W. E. Confer and wife spent the week end with relatives at Salona.

George L. Longee, of Broadman, Pa., was a home visitor last Tuesday.

Mrs. DeHaas started the moving ball rolling early Monday morning.

(NOTE—This week our Howard correspondent supplied us with an unusually interesting historical sketch about a farm recently owned by Balser Weber. We have taken the liberty to take it out of the regular "Howard" letter and place it on the front page of this issue.—ED.)

COBURN. Mrs. Thos. Kaler and Mrs. Jesse Kaler were visitors at the home of A. J. Campbell, at Shamokin last week.

Mrs. Estella Emig, who was a patient in the hospital at Johnstown, several weeks, returned to her home last week. Miss Lettie Strohecker, of Booneville, is assisting her in the household.

"Chel" Shively, a tall young man, who was employed at Bethlehem, is now making his home with his sister Mrs. H. G. Hartline, at the bakery.

Mrs. Paul Kerstetter, of North Bend, is visiting relatives here this week.

Stella Martin, of Fiedler, who has employment at Millheim, is boarding with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Lose.

G. B. Shoffer, of State College, was a caller here on Saturday.

L. L. Weaver, of Woodward, transacted business here on Tuesday.

Birthday surprise parties are all the go at present in this community. On Tuesday evening there was one for Jerry Kishel and on Wednesday noon one for the hospital at Danville. We are sorry that we can not give full particulars of these events but we know that all present were happy and Jerry and Daniel the happiest of all.

Mrs. Lizzie Kerstetter remained two weeks with her sister, Mrs. W. L. Hosterman, who was sick.

POTTER TWP.—Earleystown. On Saturday morning Prof. Neff raised the centre pole for his round barn.

The quilting party was well attended on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Samuel Durst; those present were: Mrs. D. W. Bradford, Mrs. F. H. Heckman, Mrs. Geo. Heckman, Mrs. W. A. Alexander, Mrs. P. E. Royer, Mrs. W. Baird, Mrs. P. Moore and Miss Elsie Moore, Mrs. L. R. Lingle, Mrs. H. Prantz and Mrs. D. L. Bartzee. All had a nice time and an excellent dinner.

The dance at Brossler's was the best yet had; the Madisonburg orchestra was up; all are well pleased with the fine music. Come again.

Edna Rockey, of Buffalo Run, is visiting her cousin, Cora Frazier, over Sunday, at the home of D. L. Bartzee.

Progress grange had quite an interesting meeting on Saturday afternoon; they took in eleven members.

The dance was well attended at the Old Port, on Wednesday night and they did not get home till morning.

Milton Klines are moving from the Speicher farm on the Bible farm, east of Centre Hill.

YARNELL. A number of our people attended the convention held at Fairview on last Thursday.

Colt breaking is all the go among our farmers. The wheat crop does not look very interesting to some of our farmers.

UNIONVILLE. Miss Robie Calhoun has purchased the finetoned, grand square piano from Mrs. Brown.

After being housed up for a month with the grip, our good old Democratic friend, John Spotts, is again able to be out.

Six-year old George Bander has been quite ill with pneumonia, but we are glad to note that he is convalescing.

Arthur Hanscom, wife and babe, of Munson, are visiting the former's parents.

Spring has come, sure, cause why? Well, Herman Fisher is out on his bicycle every day.

Thos. Lambert is building a henery. Up goes the price of chickens and eggs.

Who says a woman can't keep a secret? Last December Miss Lila Pearl Keyser, who makes her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Iddings, was married to Dr. Andrew B. Davidson in the Pine street Methodist church in Harrisburg, by the Rev. Isaac L. Wood, and it was just the other day that Miss Keyser, now Mrs. Wood, "tied the string loose" and let the feline out of the bag.

Dr. Davidson is an assistant surgeon in the U. S. Navy and is a son of M. H. Davidson, of Phillipsburg, Pa. May prosperily ever be yours—you sly creature.

Miss Eva Brus and accompanied a were quietly married during the past week, also Miss Lena Resides and Clyde Yearick, were hitched up in double harness to trot through life.

In the last two cases we failed to get particulars. We wish all parties concerned abundance of success and oceans of happiness.

The Rev. Oylor will preach in the evening at 7 o'clock, instead of the morning as he has announced, on next Sabbath; everybody earnestly invited to attend.

Alfred Heaton is the general news agent at this place. Leave your orders with him for any city papers and you'll be sure to get them; as soon as he has earned enough "dough" he will buy an auto and will then deliver papers in the surrounding country.

Answer to the prize enigma published in last week's Democrat is, "Centre Democrat." The prize winners are: Miss Margaret McDonnell, first prize; Ruth Parsons, second prize, and Miss Myrtle Fletcher, of Howard, third prize. We also received a correct answer from a very nice Philadelphia girl, one from Irvin Walker, Spring Mills, and one from M. Theresa Marks, of Villas, Pa. Honorable mention: Bob Fick, Wm. Keatley, Susie McEwen, and "Skeeter" Moran, of Centre Democrat. My name is, "Get up-and-catch-me-if-you-can." Manor Hill is our location, 20 miles west of Whiskey Hollow. Am dark complected, and have white hair and green eyes. My height is 5 ft. 11 1/2 in.; weight 130 lbs. This place is largely inhabited—but has 6840 people, the school being crowded to its utmost by 12 industrious pupils; everything is run by electricity. I will give a few lines from this magazine, as it will be my last—hoping you will secure a new scribe from Manor Hill for the coming year.

One of our young sports drove to Tusseyville church and accompanied a young miss from that place home to Colyer, and was much delayed by the thunder shower which passed over that place on Sunday night last.

Whether he was afraid of the rain or if she would not let him start out, is hard to tell; he did not arrive home until next morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Quite a number of neighbors and friends gathered at Arthur Cummings on Wednesday evening and gave them a surprise farewell party, before their leaving for their new home at Centre Mills. The evening was spent very pleasantly in playing games and singing with splendid music. The refreshments served were choice, and all returned home with the best of wishes for the morning wishing Mr. and Mrs. Cummings a happy, successful home. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. A. Slutterbeck, Mrs. Klinefelter, Mr. and Mrs. Rocky, Mr. and Mrs. Guisa Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Brooks, Mrs. Frazier, Mrs. Rebecca Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Colyer, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Searson, Mrs. Jas. Swabb, Mrs. Arbor Cummings, Blanche and Cyrus Moyer, Bruce Weaver, Ruth,

IN THE Easter Clothes Parade

You'll see the best dressed men wearing the clothes of the Sim Store. Not necessarily the most expensively dressed—but the men whose clothes look to be a part of them—that stand out from the rest, in the grace, style, distinctiveness of their attire—will be wearing the Sim Clothes.

You'll be appropriately and correctly dressed for any occasion if you come here for your clothes—clothes of individuality and character.

You'll see few clothes any place at any price that can approach these, and none to outstyle them.

Let us show you the handsome new clothes and models at prices no higher than you'll be asked for the other sort.
