

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

—Miss Mary Sellers is visiting friends in Altoona.

—Mrs. J. S. McCarger was quite ill the past week, but is much improved at this writing.

—Miss Kate Brishin and brother, Winfield, spent the past week visiting relatives at Reading, Pa.

—Norman Meyers has moved his family from Beaver-Hoy row to one of Jacob Mark's houses on Logan St.

—Mrs. Frank Lulkenbach, of Tyrone, nee Miss Katie Bullock, of Bellefonte, is slowly recovering from a serious illness.

—About the middle of May T. Clayton Brown, of the Scenic, will have the pictures of "Teddy" Roosevelt in the jungles of Africa. Watch for 'em.

—Harry Irvin, the Bush House tobacco dealer, is the proud father of another little daughter. They say he opened up a keg of tempeny nails.

—Abram Baum, of Bellefonte, was in Tyrone on Tuesday and purchased S. S. Blair's handsome team of bay horses, the carriage and all of the harness.

—The Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church will hold its annual session in Bellefonte next Friday. It will bring a large number of good people to the town.

—Mrs. Mary Ann Johnston, who had been spending the winter with her son, George B. Johnston, arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday and is now at her home on Linn street.

—On Wednesday of this week Edward K. Rhoads, the Bellefonte coal dealer and his sister, Miss Rebecca Rhoads, left for the Bermuda Islands where they will spend two weeks.

—The Bickford Fire Brick Co., at Curwensville, Clearfield county, of which J. C. Meyer and J. Rowe, of Bellefonte, are interested, will double its capacity and will give employment to 400 men instead of 200.

—Charles McClellan, the tailor, has moved from his duck farm, on east High street, to the house on Spring street formerly occupied by Mr. Miller Walker. Charley must have gotten tired of seeing "ghosts" every time he went home at night.

—Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox, pastor of the Methodist church, has been selected to preach the baccalaureate sermon to the Seneca Union of the Bellefonte High school. It will take place in the Methodist church on Sunday evening, May 29.

—On Friday evening the Bellefonte Conclave Improved Order of Heptasophs held their eighteenth annual banquet in the Union building, on Bishop street. Walter C. Lytle, District Deputy Supreme Archon, was present and made an address.

—John Billet, of Coleville, who has been in the employ of the Bellefonte Match Factory for the last ten years, has moved to Mackeyville where he has taken charge of a flour mill. He is an excellent manager and the citizens of the little village will find Mr. Billet and his family good people.

—W. D. Crooks, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, who had been spending his Easter vacation at his home at Williamsport, was a Bellefonte visitor on Friday to witness the team race. He was formerly a student of the Academy and while here was a guest at the Fraternity House.

—The trustees of the African Methodist Episcopal church of Bellefonte recently purchased the lot on which their old church stood for fifty years. It was sold to them by the Thomas estate for $1500. They will erect thereon a brick structure instead of frame. The size of the building will be 65x75 feet.

—Nelson Robb, formerly of Bellefonte, but who for several years has been making his home at Harrisburg, is now located in Philadelphia at 5192 Larchwood Avenue. Mr. Robb is a prominent official of the Union Telegraph Co. who recently moved their headquarters from the Capital City to the Quaker City. He has been getting into closer contact with the larger cities.

—On Sunday Thomas W. Murphy, machinist for the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, returned from Chicago where he inspected an engine recently purchased by Supt. W. H. Gephart. It is a second-hand freight locomotive and is in good condition. The new engine was made necessary by the increased tonnage on the road, which they were unable to handle with the present equipment.

—The Thespians of Pennsylvania State College made a big hit in Bellefonte on Friday night before a large and representative audience in the musical comedy novelty, "The Gay Soulbrette." The entire cast of characters and chorus were made up of young gentlemen, who took their parts well and made a fine showing.

—Prominent among those in the cast were H. P. Armstrong and W. H. Foster. This was one of the best performances this organization ever put on the stage.

—H. K. Walker, of Yarnell, was in Bellefonte Saturday and came into our office and said: "Put me in for the Centre Democrat; my wife and I think it the best paper in the county." Of course nobody doubts but what Mr. Walker knows what he was talking about, and that his judgment was the best. However, there are hundreds of persons in Centre county who will say: "Those are my sentiments, too." Mr. Walker is a pleasant gentleman and is always a welcome visitor in the town.

—"Art Studies of Shakespeare" is the title of a lecture that has been given at State College and Lock Haven by Rev. Father O'Hanlon, of Bellefonte, which has brought forth much favorable comment. On Friday evening, April 8th, he will give the lecture here, and our people can rely on it that they will hear something far above the average lecture. Father O'Hanlon is a fluent speaker and a deep thinker which are two requisites that make an occasion of this kind interesting. We bespeak for him a large audience.

—Morgan Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Moore, who is employed in Buffalo, N. Y., and who spent a couple of days in Bellefonte recently left for Buffalo on Sunday. Morgan is a tip-top young business man, but at the last presidential election he got into the right church but the wrong pew. He thought "Billy" Taft was going to follow in the footsteps of "Teddy" Roosevelt and thus the country would prosper like a green bay tree, but "Billy" hasn't sized up to the position and Morgan has about come to the conclusion that if "Billy" Bryan had been elected there would have been a little more backbone in the presidential chair. It is all right for Morgan to get on the stool of repentance, but votes are what count, and he should try and get on the right side the next time.

—Col. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler spent the past week in Philadelphia.

—Rev. John Hewitt, rector of the St. John's Episcopal church, left for Williamsport on Monday afternoon.

—Henry Lowry has sold his house at State College to Rev. C. T. Alkens, of Selingsgrove, and will move back to Bellefonte.

—On Friday Thomas Glenn, a clerk in Joseph Brothers & Co's store was taken very ill and was conveyed to his home at Buffalo Run. He was threatened with appendicitis.

—Frank Lingle, of Patton, arrived in Bellefonte on Monday morning to attend a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of that place. Before going to the place the wind blew through his whiskers and left him a clean shave.

—Miss Edna Clark, of Williamsport, who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Reamer, in Bellefonte, has returned to her home in the Williamsport Trade School near Philadelphia. She is a bright young lady and her friends here will be glad to hear of her success.

—Edward Keichline left on Sunday for Selingsgrove where he will take up a scholarship in the University of that place. Before going to the place the wind blew through his whiskers and left him a clean shave.

—Miss Edna Clark, of Williamsport, who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Reamer, in Bellefonte, has returned to her home in the Williamsport Trade School near Philadelphia. She is a bright young lady and her friends here will be glad to hear of her success.

—Miss Adaline Olewine returned to Bellefonte on Sunday afternoon after a delightful visit to Williamsport, where she came back heart and fancy free. In Lewisburg she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lilly and at Williamsport she visited at the homes of Miss Edna Clark and Miss Sebring.

—On Wednesday morning a fine team of grey horses arrived in Bellefonte in charge of J. H. Melvin, of Sharon, Pa. They are said to draw the scales at 3200 pounds, and were equal in size, if not heavier, than John Rishel's big team of sorrels. They were taken to State College where they will be used on the experimental farm.

—On Wednesday two "Weary Willies" arrived in Bellefonte when officers of the Bellefonte taking a little vacation. They had held of them and presented them to Samuel Showers, the Street Commissioner, who put them to work at breaking stone. It wasn't long until they were broken up and they were then brushed the dust from their shoes and left the town. They were not built that way.

—A. J. Moore, the efficient and obliging telegraph operator at the Western Union office, has opened up a school at Harrisburg where young men can learn something that will give them a good paying occupation some day. The telegraph and railroad companies need operators, and the man who becomes proficient gets the jobs.

—Bellefonte has a large number of men who could better their condition by applying to Mr. Moore.

—G. W. Rumberger, of Unionville, Pa., assisting County Treasurer G. G. Fink in getting ready for his sale of unoccupied land in Centre county for this kind of work than just George Washington Rumberger. He has been about the temple of justice considerably and can master almost any job around the place. Mr. Fink wants his work improved, and there is where "Domino's" efficiency comes in.

—On Saturday afternoon Col. Hugh S. Taylor left for Pittsburgh where he made an address Sunday evening in the Millvale opera house before 1500 members of the Loyal Order of Moose and their friends. These lodges held a joint banquet to pay tribute to the memory of the members who passed away during the last year. It goes without saying that the Colonel sized up the situation and gave them an excellent address.

—On Wednesday the regular tax appeal for the borough of Bellefonte took place in the court room before the county commissioners, Assessors G. W. Hall, D. Paul Fortney and L. H. McQuinn were present and when they saw a man come in with blood in his eyes, turned white like the famous Mulhoolley's ghost. In several instances the judgment of the assessors was questioned, but on the whole there were no big kicks.

—"Bobby" Roberts left Bellefonte on Monday for Winberdale, Clearfield county, where he will go into the salt business. It is reported that he was compelled to break away so abruptly just at this time when everything was going along so lovely. We suppose, however, that there was an amicable agreement and everything will work out O. K. in the end. He should put in a Bell phone and then it would not be so lonely. From all accounts he will have a nice place up there and he may sell enough salt to salt the whole earth.

—Where are the gentlemen in Bellefonte going to take the "Old Home Week" home and launch a boom for the public spirited men of our town are lying up in the Union cemetery? At one of the question like this would not need much spurring by the newspapers, but it would have been taken up at once. Why not call a public meeting in the Court House and get the sentiment at least of our people on this question? They may take a chance to say whether they want it or not. Bellefonte, the home of three governors of Pennsylvania, ought to be able to get up an "Old Home Week" that would be a credit to the town. All that is needed is the spirit of '75.

—Eddie Thompson, the Bellefonte bootblack, took unto himself a wife on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The happy bride was Miss Elsie Green. The nuptial event took place at the Catholic Parish hall by Father McCardle. One peculiar thing about the ceremony was that it was the first time in Father McCardle's ministry he was called upon to marry a colored Catholic, the bride being one. After the ceremony at the priest's house the bride and the groom went to the home of the bride's father, Calvin C. Green, on east High street, where a reception took place and a wedding feast was served. It was a feast fine enough to set before the gods. Everybody was happy and there was general good time. The bride received a large number of nice presents.

—It isn't necessary to scratch your head and study so long as to whether you want to go to Scenic. Of course you don't want to because if you don't it will be the very time when Manager Brown will show the best pictures. Five cents paid to go to the moving pictures is a good bit better than paying five cents for a headache powder. If your head aches you need a rest, and you can get that at the Scenic. The pictures are getting so good and perfect right along that the chances are the excitement will be so great that you will forget your ailments. Mr. Brown has in view some special attractions that nobody should miss. These specialties often come at a late hour which prevents him from giving them any extra advertisement, and if you are not a regular attendant at the Scenic of course you will miss them. Mr. and Mrs. Brown run the best show of the kind in Pennsylvania, and it is a splendid place to go to put in a little time at a good advantage.

—"How about your subscription? It is over one year due better give it prompt attention now."

—"All right, I guess," said Barker.

—"Seen Bobbie Sponger lately?"

—"Yes; Bobbie is down at my place at Westhampton now. I invited him down for the week end."

—"Why, I thought that was three weeks ago?"

—"It was," said Barker, "but you know Bobbie is an expert at making both ends meet."—Harper's Weekly.

Damascus of Marvelous View.
The view of Damascus from the mountain where Mohammed made his great reputation is one of the marvelous views of the world. Again and again I deserted the mosques, the bazars, the marble baths, the courts of the fountains, the shadowy khans and the gardens by the streams for that bare height on which Abraham is said to have had the unity of God revealed to him.—Robert Hichens in Century.
