

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

That John D. Sourbeck says he always likes to see a fair show, especially when a circus comes this way.

That there are lots of men in Bellefonte who are just as truthful as George Washington, but they can't prove it.

That the great trouble in Bellefonte is that it has too many men and women in it who are nearly all right from their own point of view.

That Frank Sasserman, the Bellefonte barber, said his parting word to Lewis Daggert when he asked him on which side he combed his hair.

That there is a young man in Bellefonte who is a good fellow down town, but he usually evens up by being mighty disagreeable at home. When this fellow is called up higher he will have very few mourners.

That as housecleaning is in vogue in Bellefonte the man of the house is allowed to swear, especially when he takes down the stove pipe and the soot gets in his mouth, ears and eyes, and everything in the room is covered with it. Then when he goes to put the pipe together a swear word may be admissible.

That Ed. Gherret, one of the aggressive contractors in Bellefonte says that it is hard to convince most of the workmen that the world goes around when they don't get their share. He says Pierpont Morgan, John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie would be more easily convinced on this subject.

That the religious man in Bellefonte who goes about with a long face and his lip hanging down over his chin has a mistaken case of dyspepsia for a change of heart. The true christian has a ready-made smile always on his face and in his heart all the day long, from January 1st until the judgment day.

That on Friday George Beezer, Hard Harris, "Pete" Meek, George Knieley and John Curtin were among those who celebrated the opening of the trout season on Fishing Creek, the old familiar stream. It is said, however, they had remained at home and fished in a mackerel barrel, they might have been more successful.

That a large number of people in Bellefonte are ignorant of what M. D. stands for at the end of a doctor's name. There have been various interpretations, such as "My Dear," "My Dear" and others, but Dr. Feidt, one of the leading physicians of Bellefonte, has figured out that it has a more exalted, dignified and significant meaning—that of "Money Down."

That it is said that a certain clergyman in Bellefonte was much surprised the other day on receiving a basket of potatoes through the generosity of an old lady in his congregation. The madam's message stated that she heard him say in a recent discourse that some common taters (climnators) did not agree with him, so she thought she would send him some good ones.

That it would be well for some people in Bellefonte to remember that the person who has lived an ungodly life from young manhood to old age, will never be saved in the hereafter by having communion served to them just about the time they're ready to topple off. That's a bogus way of getting into Heaven, and St. Peter is on to the scheme. There is only one instance in the Bible where a man was saved by the skin of his teeth.

That it is said that a certain married man in Bellefonte drove out to Pleasant Gap the other night on business best known to himself. Before going into the house he tied, or thought he had tied, his horse to a post. After remaining in the house for a while he came out and found that the horse had "skidooed." The result was he had to foot it almost to Bellefonte. He ought to have been home with his wife, and then he wouldn't have gotten into such trouble.

That the other evening a lady in Bellefonte became very much increased because she was requested by the usher of the Scenic to take off her hat. Although she does think that her "bustle" weighs a ton she is not a whit better than any other lady who attends this place of amusement. This kind of style don't go in a place where the managers are no respecters of persons. In addition to this the woman's station in life doesn't warrant her puckering up her nose in this way.

That some people in Bellefonte have a special faculty of giving somebody bades behind their back. Did it ever occur to you that these are the individuals whom the best people of the community steer clear of? The most perfect man or woman would be unsafe in their company. The best citizen of Bellefonte is the one who speaks out in meeting if he has anything to say, and then lets it go at that. The man who stabs another in the back is always put down as a coward.

That there are some people in Bellefonte who are having a good time at the expense of somebody else. They never earned an honest dollar in their lives, and anything they ever tried to do proved a miserable failure. These are the person who hold up their heads on the street and snub their superiors when it comes to intelligence and a pure, clean life. It is good that the family history of some of these would-be aristocrats is not generally known or there would be something doing.

That a night school for girls in Bellefonte would be a good thing just now, where good and lady-like manners and common sense would be the main course. There are girls here who act just as unruly on the street and often more so, than an intoxicated man. On Wednesday evening of last week a bunch of these ignoramus came from the Scenic and their conduct was low and degrading. This class of girls ought to be put some place where they could receive instructions as to culture and refinement.

That it is the duty of every married man in Bellefonte to spend the evenings at home with his wife and children. Before he was married there wasn't enough of nights in the week for him to be with her. He followed her around like a bull pup. Now, as he has got her where she can't get away, he treats her with less respect than he would a mule. There is no place like home and the fellow who has started one should remain there as much as possible and aid in letting a little sunshine in. Very often the wife knows her husband is running around after other women at night, but to keep down a dirty scandal she bears the burden with an aching heart.

The Prof. had wide experience as an instructor and this famous old institution, under his supervision, is sure to keep up the standard of instruction which it has maintained in the past.

The dwelling opposite the Mary Potter farm, west of Centre Hill, recently passed into the possession of Henry Potter, in a land deal with Samuel Gingerich. The latter had purchased the tract from E. M. Huyett, and in order to get a few fields adjoining his property lying farther to the north from Mr. Potter, the dealing was done, Mr. Potter paying the difference in cash.

The sap pine on the Dr. Lieb lumber tract, east of Centre Hill, is being cut into plank and has been sold to the Meyer Brothers, at Coburn. The lumber will be shipped to a match factory. The saw mill in the Lieb tract has been purchased from Irvin Showers by Dr. A. G. Lieb and John A. Korman, who are operating it. The sawing is being done by William H. Keller, of Centre Hill, a skilled sawyer.

One day recently while Robert Young was ploughing on his farm in Penn township one of his horses broke through the ground and sank so that only his head and forelegs were visible. It was with some difficulty that the animal was rescued from its perilous position and then an examination disclosed the fact that the ground there was less than a foot in thickness and that underneath was a cavern twenty feet in depth.

After drilling to a depth of 280 feet on the Dr. S. C. Runkle farm, east of Old Fort, water was struck in abundance, and rose eighty feet. The drilling machinery has been moved to the Wilson farm, a short distance farther east, which farm was recently purchased by the McNitt-Huyett Lumber Co., and a well is being sunk there at a convenient point, with a view of supplying for the operation of the proposed saw mill to be erected later. The well drilling machinery is that of A. P. Krape, of Centre Hill, and is being handled by Messrs. Arbor and Lester Cumings.

The officers-elect of Boalsburg lodge of Odd Fellows were recently installed by W. E. Stover, special district deputy, assisted by Clark Herman and William Kennedy. They were accompanied by A. B. The pupils of the Boalsburg primary school who passed the examination for the grammar grade are: John Smith, Lewis Rothrock, Charles Hosterman, Carl Williams, Chester Schenck, David Kaub, Cyrus Wagner, Grace Wieland, Martha Houta, Bery Brouse, Veran and Nellie Ishler; Grace Wieland was present every day during four terms, and not tardy once; Charles Hosterman and Martha Houta were present every day during the last two terms; Charles Hosterman, Daniel Wieland, Lester Brouse and Rachael Segner were perfect in spelling, having spelt every word correctly at every recital during the entire term.

The John H. Reed farm, in Ferguson township, was sold. Mr. Reed and family moved to Graysville. The many friends of James H. Sellers, of Ford City, but formerly of Centre county, will be sorry to know that for some time past he has been critically ill at his home.

Rev. I. W. Beckley and wife, of Lebanon, Pa., were welcome visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Spangler, of Tusseyville, and also took in State College. They leave the Spangler home on the 2:17 train for Lebanon on Monday noon.

Ed. Martz, of Pine Grove Mills, left for Birmingham to get a good start as a crack player with a ball team at $125 per month. Last season he did excellent work for the Bellefonte team, who had some notion of engaging him this year, but were a little late in organizing. He is a good one.

Irvin Bartley, one of the energetic citizens of Spring Mills, has invented a sheep shearing machine with the capacity of clipping one hundred and fifty sheep a day. Mr. Bartley has been in the sheep shearing business for several years, but the machine in question was too slow and tedious, so he concluded to try and get up a machine himself to shear expeditiously and thoroughly, and to be superior to anything of the kind yet made and he has succeeded admirably.

Mrs. T. J. Hickoff, Mrs. E. T. Snyder and the Misses Mildred Hunter and L. S. Stover left Mill Hall for Snow Shoe to attend the first commencement of the Snow Shoe High school. While there they were the guests of Prof. B. J. Bowers and wife, he being the efficient principal. Mr. Bowers organized the Mill Hall schools years ago and his success as an instructor is brought about only by his indefatigable labor in the cause of education. The scholars of Snow Shoe are, therefore, to be congratulated on having him at the head of their schools.

New Station at Mill Hall. Mill Hall, Clinton county, is to get a new New York Central passenger station as the present one is too small to accommodate the traffic. The work of setting poles and stringing wires at Mill Hall for furnishing light and power to that place from Lock Haven is expected to begin in the near future and it is expected that by the 15th of May everything will be ready to turn on the lights.

The beauty about beginning at the bottom is that you haven't so far to fall.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remediation. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation is taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; now comes our relief. Deafness, when caused by such a condition, is cured by our famous "New Method," which is a non-surgical process, and is guaranteed to cure any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. THE SPLIT LOG DRAG.

The postmasters have received a communication from the fourth postmaster general having a direct bearing on the subject of good roads. The split log drag is recommended for use and it made clear that if the roads on the rural routes are not kept in proper condition, the free delivery of mail will be discontinued. The communication explains that as the result of general and special letters sent out by the department, the fact has been discovered that there are many localities where road conditions are bad and improvements are imperative. The postmasters in the county are directed to inform themselves on the condition of the roads and bridges on the rural routes out of their offices; if they find any of these in bad condition he is directed to present the matter in the strongest and most positive way to the patrons and the road officials. If after a reasonable time has elapsed the improvements have not been made or started the postmaster is to report the fact to the office of the fourth postmaster general, when action will be taken looking to a discontinuance of the service.

Burns Husband's Wooden Leg. The law on Thursday offered no relief to Michael Kinsel, of Exeter, near Wilkesbarre, whose wife burned up his wooden leg on Saturday night to prevent him going to saloons and getting drunk. He had her arrested and brought before Alderman John F. Donahue, of Wilkesbarre. She admitted burning the leg.

"It was the only way to keep him home," she explained. "He would go to the saloons every Saturday night and get drunk, so in a fit of anger I took his leg and burned it. It was as much mine as his, anyway," she declared. The alderman thought it was, too, and dismissed the case.

SCRATCHED SO SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

Child of Two had Masses of Eczema Over Face, Head and Body - They Took Her to the Best Doctors and Tried Salves and Medicines in Vain - Suffered for Five Years.

SOON RELIEVED AND CURED BY CUTICURA

"I write to tell you how thankful I am for the wonderful Cuticura Remedies. My little niece had eczema for five years and when her mother died I took care of the child. It was all over her face and body, also on her head. She scratched so that she could not sleep nights. I used Cuticura Soap to wash her with and then applied Cuticura Ointment. I did not use quite half the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, together with Cuticura Resolvent, which you could see a change and they cured her nicely. Now she is eleven years old and has never been bothered with eczema since. My friends think it is just great the way the baby was cured by Cuticura. I send you a picture taken when she was about eighteen months old.

"She was taken with the eczema when two years old. She was covered with big sores and her mother had all the best doctors and tried all kinds of salves and medicines without effect until we used Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. H. Kiernan, 663 Quincy St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 27, 1909."

For thirty years Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded speedy relief to tens of thousands of skin-tormented and disfigured sufferers from eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings, from infancy to age, bringing comfort and peace to distracted households when all else failed. Guaranteed absolutely pure and may be used from the hour of birth.

LIME BUSINESS BOOMING.

Never in the history of the lime business of Bellefonte and vicinity has there been such a rush. The White Rock Co., at Pleasant Gap; the Chemical Company; McAlmont & Co., and the American Lime & Stone Company are all back with their orders. One hundred good, stout able-bodied men are wanted at the stone quarries at Salona, which are operated by Frank Warfield and John P. Harris, of Bellefonte. Just as fast as the men come they are put to work. What the operators want is to get the stuff out.

Hon. A. G. Morris, Hon. A. A. Stevens and J. H. McAnahan, head officers of the American Lime & Stone Co., were in Bellefonte recently and authorized the starting up of the lime kilns along the State road, just north of town. Thirty men are now employed at these kilns and quarries which have been idle for over four years.

While in Bellefonte the officials of this company also authorized the erection of their No. 25 plant on Bellefonte Central railroad of an immense plant for grinding limestone for use on land as a fertilizer and for use in glass factories. This plant will be equipped with an Allis-Chalmers No. 6 crusher, two Jeffrey mills, two Kent mills and McAnahan rolls and will have a capacity of three hundred tons per day. All the machinery is already on the ground with the exception of the crusher, and as work on the building of the same will be pushed as rapidly as possible it is expected to have it in operation in six weeks or two months. This plant when completed will give employment to from sixty to seventy-five men and will give the company a capacity of five hundred and seventy-five tons a day of fine grade ground limestone, not counting crushed stone, lime, etc.

The American Lime & Stone company is the biggest industry under one management in this section. They now have in their employment here over six hundred men and this number it is expected, will be increased to eight hundred or more before the summer is half over.

With lots of men nothing is impossible—till they try it.

WOMAN 110 YEARS OLD.

Looking back over a century and ten years, Aunt Mahala Ayers Thursday sat on the porch of the Home for Aged and Infirm Colored Persons, at Belmont and Girard avenues, Philadelphia. She ruminated, blinking now and then in strong sunlight, and finally quit ruminating long enough to give a recipe for longevity.

If anyone wants to live to be 110 years old—though why any one should want to live that long, she is not sure she can see—but, if any one does want to live that long, let him push away anything. Don't go "bet up" over anything, is Aunt Mahala's advice. Above all, don't get into the tantrums. "Those are the worst things—tantrums."

Aunt Mahala, who has the old family Bible to prove she was born on the plantation of John Fossitt, eighteen miles from Snow Hill, on the shore of Sinepuxent bay, Maryland, April 12, 1800—Aunt Mahala is not sure that she cares for many more birthdays. She has had so many of them they no longer are a rarity.
