S. S. TEACHER 67 YEARS.

The other week there appeared a clipped notice in the Centre Demo-crat that Miss Mary Hinsdale, of Winsted, Cinn., had taught a Sunday School for sixty-three successive years, and that she was the oldest Sunday School teacher in America The Centre Democrat being universally read the article came to the notice of some people at Tyrone, who took exceptions to the article and sent the following item: "Elder George B. Potter of the First Presbyterian church at Tyrone, just celebrated his 85th birthday, and for sixty-seven years has been a teacher in the Sunday School, His class at this time is a mixed one, both womand men, and numbers forty-five, with an average attendance of about twenty-eight.
