Democratic State Convention. Harrisburg, Pa., May 2, 1910.

In accordance with the action of the Democratic State Executive Committee, at a special meeting held at the rooms of the Democratic State Committee in Harrisburg, on Thursday, April 7th, 1910, notice is hereby given that the Democratic State Convention the Lyric Theatre, meet in Allentown, Wednesday, June 15, 1910, at 12 o'clock noon, to nominate:

One candidate for Governor; One candidate for Lieutenant Governor:

One candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs: One candidate for State Treasurer.

And to act upon and determine such other matters, pertaining to the work and welfare of the party in this State, as may be brought before it.

ARTHUR G. DEWALT, Chairman. Attest: P.GRAY MEEK, Sec'y.

Taft for president and Pennypacker for vice-president, in 1912, wouldn't that make an ideal ticket for the G. O. P. standpatters?

President Taft's twenty-five thousand dollar appropriation by congress for traveling expenses, has already been spent, and now there is a proposition to appropriate another ten thousand for further junketing.

The county commissioners had the unpleasant duty of choking off a notorious "printer's hog" this week. They did it effectually-the hog was put clean out of the trough, where he had nestled for some time, and while he made an awful squeal, the public looked on with approval.

Mr. Barclay, our highly useful (?) member of congress, has concluded to withdraw from his race for a third term. He has evidently learned the feelings of the people of this district. feelings of the people of this district. His card, asking for a third term, has been printed in all the Republican pa-pers of the district. The reason he gives for withdrawing is that his negives for withdrawing is that his been printed in all the Republican pa-there is the district. The reason he gives for withdrawing is that his been printed in all the Republican pa-gives for withdrawing is that his been printed in all the Republican pa-there is the printed in all the Republican pa-proximately a nominal ten-and-a-half hour day, but a large percentage of them were required to work oversick-has heard from the people whom | time on week days and to work Sunhe has not represented. here the other day asking for assistance. She said that her husband had fed all the straw in the beds to their worthless horse and the children had to sleep on the floor. The authorities are looking for the man.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

On the same day that Secretary James Wilson, of the Federal Department of Agriculture, told the Nation-al Farmers' Convention at St. Louis that the farms of the United States are not producing half what they should, because of the lack of practical scientific education in farming, thus accounting for the high cost of living, B. F. Yoakum, president of a great Western railroad system, told the same farmers that a bushel of beans for which the producer in Flor-ida receives $2.25 sells in New York for $6.40, although the cost of trans-portation is only 50 cents.

He told them that it is not what he farmer receives but what the midthe dle man gets that makes the cost of living 44 per cent, higher than it was ten years ago, while during the same ten years the cost of transportation has fallen ten per cent.

Mr. Yoakum also told the convention that during the last five years 400,000 Americans, principally farm-ers, have left the United States for Canada, taking with them an aggre-gate of $400,000,000 in money, imple-ments and live stock, because they can do better in Canada, although the soil is no better and the climate not so favorable. Mr. Yoacum showed by figures that the farmer who works to produce the food gets from 30 to 35 per cent. of what the consumer gives for the food rest, under organized methods fostered by the legislation of the party that has controlled the Government for the last thirteen years; legislation the that is driving American farmers to Canada by the hundred thousand.

HOW THE TARIFF HELPS LABOR.

The Harrisburg Patriot on commenting on the tariff says when Mr. Penrose's organs and orators are makng their frantic appeals to the voters of Pennsylvania to support the machine ticket this fall lest they endanger the tariff—the tariff made for the benefit and protection of the workingmen—they arecordially invit-ed to use the Bethlehem State ed to use the Bethlehem Steel works as an eloquent illustration of the beauty and beneficence of that tariff. In hardly more than a dozen years that tariff has made so many millions for the chief owner of the Bethlehem Steel works that he has them to burn or give away, as suits his humor. Nevertheless only a few months ago thousands of the men working in that great plant struck against what they laimed were unreasonably long hours f toil and unreasonbly low wages. Were their demands for shorter ours and better pay just or unjust? The Patriot does not undertake to say. We leave that to the Penrose orators, while we recall some facts just recently submitted to the United States Senate by the Federal Bureau of Labor after a careful and extended inestigation of conditions at the Bethlehem Steel works. This bureau re-port says that 2.322 men at the works were required to work twelve hours a day for seven days in the week and that a large percentage of them earn-ed only twelve and a half cents an hour, many only twelve cents. Of the ,9184 person on the payroll.

> NOLEN:-- A very sad and untimely death was that of Richard Boyd No-len, on Monday night about 11 o'clock. He was a resident of Bellefonte and for a number of years was janitor and errand boy at the Pennsylvania railroad passenger station. About a year ago he took a position as a brakeman with the shifting crew in the Belle-fonte yards. On last Friday a week, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, he was uncoupling the air-brakes between two freight cars when the cars dropped back, on him, the couplings catching him and squeezing his left shoulder He was taken to the office of Dr. Dale who examined him and found that the shoulder was severey cut and bruised, but no bones were broken. After having the wounds dressed the unfortunate young man valked to the home of his mother, or Thomas street. Instead of the wounds healing, they grew more painful and on Thursday he was taken to the hospital. While everything possible was done to save his life he gradually grew weaker, at the same time suf-fering excruciating pain. His death

In 1736 a gentleman living in the Un Hampshire, England, named Samuel 121,036. Baldwin, died after a rather stormy and most unhappy married life his will he directed that all his vast estate be given his wife on con-dition that she should dance upon his grave from time to time. As the will further instructed that his remains should be taken by boat to the Needles and from there cast into the sea, this, of course, prevented his widow from fulfilling the conditions of the will and thus lost her the property. He, however, had his revenge for the various tempers she had exhibited dur-ing their life together and for the remarks she often made that she "would vet dance upon his grave."

ANOTHER CALAMITY.

Recently a publication in Washington, known as "Brickbats and Bouquets," (published for revenue only) sold several columns of its space to Hon. Charles F. Barclay. One of the choice paragraphs read:

"A failure to elect Hon. Charles F. Barclay would be in the nature of a disaster to his country and a catastrophe to his State and district."

That sounds good! The guy who wrote it evidently worked the statesman from Sinnemahoning in good shape. Since then the spirit of unrest has been abroad in central and term, earn $1,440 a year to live as northern Pennsylvania, owing to the well as he did then. impending "disaster" and "catastrophe." At last the suspense is over, the Penrose organization kicked the poor old man with the "pink whiskers" overboard during the past week, and in consequence the rains continue to fall, the sun shines, the crops grow, as many babies are born as ever, and the population continues to increaseeverything moving along in the even tenor of its way, despite the retirement of our misrepresentative for the a subject of controversy or of occapast four years in congress, whose only a barrel of money and was willing to people. The strike began, the report says, on February 4, 1910, "when several hun-dred machinists struck against the discharge of three men who shortly had served as a committee apbefore pointed to protest against Sunday and overtime work."

While the Penrose organs and orators are "enthusing" over these things they should not fail to call attention to the fact that during the last twelve years while the beneficent Dingley and Payne-Aldrich tariff laws have been in operation, the cost of living has in-creased forty-four per cent.; that a man who at the beginning of McKin-ley's term earned $1,000 a wear to support himself and his family, must at the end of the first year of Taft's
