Circulation Over 5,500-Largest in Centre County.

DESPERATE LOVER LANDS IN PRISON

TRIFLED WITH A YOUNG LADY'S AFFECTIONS.

Arrested 'on Tuesday and Given a Default of Bail Sent to Jail-Ar Injudicious Lad.

An interesting case was brought before Squire W. H. Musser on Tuesday afternoon in which Miss Rosa I. Rishel, the pretty and pleasing daughter of Squire M. L. Rishel, one of the best known citizens of Gregg township, figured as the prosecutrix, and was represented by Samuel Gettig, of the law firm of Gettig, Bower & Zerby. The defendant is quite a handsome young fellow by the name of Paul J. Leitoung fellow by the name of Faul J. Left-zel, who had been teaching school in Gregg township for several terms, but who is now a resident of Mifflinburg. He returned early in the spring, at-tending school at Spring Mills, and boarded with William Smith. The in-formation made by Miss Rishel is, that she is terribly afraid of him, and on several occasions he threatened to kill her. The warrant for his arrest was placed in the hands of Robert Montgomery, deputy constable of the South ward, who went to Spring Mills and brought him to Bellefonte on Tuesday afternoon to answer the charge. Upon arriving in Bellefonte he at once retained Henry C. Quigley, Esq., as his attorney.

Miss Rishel, the young prosecutrix, was very nervous as she told her story, stating that her life was in great dan-ger while Leitzel was at large. The The ger while Leitzel was at large. The Leitzel family always resided in Gregg township until recently, where the de-fendant began teaching a public school. He being a fine looking young man, naturally attracted the eyes of the young ladies, and in course of events he met Miss Rishel. It was not long until they became friends, and for over three years they were very fond of each other's company. Leitzel called quite frequently and they went out together on many occasions. went out together on many occasions. It was evidently a case of true love on the part of both, and everything moved smoothly until last November when Leitzel went to Mifflinburg to attend a teachers' institute. While there he became acquainted with a young lady whom he began taking out idling with another couple and having riding with another couple and having, as he thought, a good time. Instead of keeping it to himself the gay young Lothario wrote to Miss Rishel about

He then persuaded Leitzel to give him the revolver and a box of cartridges which he had been carrying. It was a 38-calibre self-acting revolver and was logical was loaded. On May the 27th there was a Sunday school convention at Penn Hall and Miss Rishel telephoned to Mr. Sinkabine asking him if he thought it was safe for her to attend. His re-THEN THREATENS TO KILL HER ply was that he thought it all right. She attended, and so did Leitzel, but when he discovered that Miss Rishel was there he went and askd Mr. Sinkabine for the revolver and cartridges, Hearing Before Justice Musser-In stating that he had not expected to meet her there. Of course Mr. Sinkabine refused, because he knew what might happen. Mr. Sinkabine now has the revolver in his possession and will keep it until ordered to give it up by the authorities. Squire Rishel claims that he him-self is afraid of Leitzel, and it was self is afraid of Leitzel, and it was only to protect his daughter and fam ily that the young man was arrested and put under restraint. Leitzel is not a bad fellow, as up until this time he always showed himself to be a gentleman, or Miss Rishel would not have consented to his calling on her so-frequently. The secret of this is that when it was mutually agreed to separate, Miss Rishel's hand was sought sometime after by another suiter, and was accepted. This, of course, fired the brain of Leitzel who at once began writing threatening letters, stating what he would do to him if he persisted in paying attention to the young lady. It is simply a case where a young man's mind is fired with jealousy and stands willing to commit a crime to carry his end. As stated, crime to carry his end. As stated, Leitzel is not a bad sort of a young man, but one wrong word from Miss Rishel, either on the 9th or 14th of May, might have terminated serious-He, therefore, can be thankful to Rishel, who has taken this proly. Mr. ceeding to prevent the tragedy which he told Sinkabine he was going to create. Mr. Sinkabine said in his tes-timony that if he belonged to any of the Rishel family he would be afraid of his life, if no restraint was placed or his file, if no restrict was placed on the young map. After hearing (the evidence, Squire Musser bound Leitzel under $1,000 to keep the peace until September court. Being unable to secure such a bond the young man was committed to tell. to jail.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Never was Memorial Day better ob served in Bellefonte than it was on Monday. In the afternoon business was practically suspended. At 2 o'clock the parade formed in the dia-mond under the direction of S. H. mond under the direction of S. H. Williams, who has always taken a deep interest in Memorial Day exercises. In front of the parade were a number of automobiles for carrying soldiers and Lotharlo wrote to Miss Rishel about what a glorious time he was having stead of Miss Rishel taking it as a poke she looked upon it as a slur and became convinced that he was un-true to her, in whom she had placed every confidence. Miss Rishel then wrote him a letter stating that from that time on their former happy relations would cease. He resulted the it was much to the in the flag during the greet struggle the flag during the great struggle. Finally several hundred school chil-dren and their teachers in charge of S. B. Miller. Beneath the shades of the pines the old soldiers formed a square. Emanual Noll acted as comsquare. mander and W. H. Musser chaplain It was delightful and awakened much enthusiasm to hear several hundred children singing familiar patriotic songs and waving the red, white and blue. Other music of an inspiring na-

Sentence Includes a Fine of $200 and Closing Event this Thursday Even-Nine Months' Imprisonment-The Way of the Transgressor is Hard-An Old Offender.

Most Nos The Centre Democrat.

BELLEFONTE, PA. THURSDAY, JUNE 2, 1910

Sometime ago, Jacob From, the no torious character from Centre Hall, barred the doors and nailed up the windows of his little domicile at that place, against his son, James, and left for parts unknown. Several months ago he turned up on the farm of ex-county treasurer Daniel Keller, near West Chester, Chester county. Mr. Keller, being formerly of Centre Hall, and knowing Mr. From to be a good workman, gave him employment. As habitual drinking becomes a disease, so to From stealing and thieving has evidently become a chronic weakness, for he is always ready to commit some depredation, mostly under the cover of darkness.

From reports he was not in Chester county long until he was back at his old tricks, and as usual was caught at night burglarizing a hardware store. seemed to be a trivial offense, but on Monday, May 23, he was brought before the court at West Chester and sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than nine months or more than three years. After From had been sentenced it was shown by the Com-monwealth that he owned property in Centre Hall. In this new view of the case the defendant was taken before court again and a fine of $200 addthe ed to the sentence. It is said that when he was being sentenced From showed considerable emotion, because it was only a year or more ago that he came pretty nearly dying from typhoid fever, while serving sentence the Western pententiary. The crime for which he was confined behind the bars was for stealing corn from the cornfield of Frank Gfrerer, of near Centre Hall. He was sentenced by Judge Orvis on December 5, 1907, to the penitentiary to one year and four months, but on account of his severe illness he only served a year. At that time Judge Orvis gave him special warning that the next time he came before him, charged with a crime of that character, he would give him a more salty sentence. This is probably why he left Center county and went to a new field of operation, only to be in the town. The commencement was ushered in on Sabbath evening with the baccalaureate sermon by Dr. Thomas Wilcox, pastor of the Metho-dist church. The church was tastily decorated for the occasion with flags, evergreens, flowers and the class pennant. The choir rendered choice mu-sic that could not help but be appreclated by the vast congregation that had assembled for the purpose of hearing the last admonition given the young ladies and gentlemen as a class. The sermon was full of inspiration and kindly counsel to the young people. He put great stress upon their improving every opportunity, no mat-ter how insignificant it may look at the time. If the calss follows the in-struction given them on this occasion, their life's efforts are bound to ance. be crowned with success. The class was distinguished from the rest of the congregation by wearing caps and gowns which is an excellent idea. Monday night the Junior class of the High School attracted an audience of six or seven hundred people to the auditorium. All of Monday the new school house was a hive of industry, and everything was put in readiness for the Junior contest. This contest is for two elocutionary prizes, one of $10 and the other of $5, given by Col. W. Fred Reynolds. The spacious as-sembly hall, used for the first time, was brilliantly lighted with the electric spark, and the blending of the walls and the celling made a beautiful effect, causing many expressions of admiration. The acoustic properties of the room are almost perfect, anybody being able to hear a speaker on the rostrum in any part of the large room. Deitrich's orchestra furnished inspiring music for the occasion. Space

ing-A Large Clas of Graduates From the High School-Junior Contest-Social Events.

ace Hartranft, Violet Barnhart, Har-old Hollabaugh, Nevin Wetzel, Ada-line Lyon, Lena Thomas, Mary Mc-Clure, Donald Wallace and Lillian W.:-In the evening at 8 o'clock Madison

Peters, D.D., of Brooklyn, N. Y., will deliver the commencement address. He is an orator of wonderful ability and a man known all over the United greatest literary men of the times Go and hear him and you will never regret it. This will be followed by the awarding of prizes and presenting of diplomas by H. C. Quigley, president of the school board.

With the commencement closes the The commencement exercises of children it means an uninterrupted 1910 connected with the Bellefonte round of pleasure for the next three High school proved to be the best ever months. To the many parents of the held in many years, and will go down growing boys it is a serious question in the histroy of local education as a as to how the three months vacation memorable event. First, because the shall be spent. It is very difficult to class is one of the largest that has find satisfactory employment and it is very unwise not to have something class is one of the largest that has ever graduated. Second, because the exercises were held in the new High exercises were held in the new High that will employ the mind. The wise father, therefore, will give some serties

The year just closed has been one of conscientious efforts on the part of the teachers and directors. They have labored under considerable difficulty in not having room for all the scholars. A certain number of pupils would attend in the morning and a different class in the afternoon. This arrange-ment was made necessary because of the demolishing of the old stone school. house to make way for the new one which is now the pride of the town. By September it will be ready for occupancy and then things will go bet-ter. On Monday evening the people of thetown were very much impressed with the exterior of the new school house under the glare of the electric light. It made an imposing appear-

THE NEW CLUB HOUSE.

The new Centre County Club house at Hecla, is now under roof and the plasterers are now nailing on the lath so that it will not be many more months until it will be ready for oc-cupancy. The house throughout is complete in every detail, and in many respects is far superior to the one destroyed by far of the one destroyed by fire. On one side, on the first floor, is a well lighted dining room with an old-fashioned brick chimney. In the rear is the kitchen and pantry On the opposite side will be the parlor or general utility room. Back of this will be a ladies' parlor. The pool room will probably be abandoned. room will probably be abandoned. The halls are large which can be used as a place for holding social chats, or to lounge. On the second floor is the grill room, several bed rooms and a couple of conveniently arranged bath rooms. The third floor will also con-tain lodging rooms with a bath room. When the large porch is completed the building will have an attractive appearance.

Yes, We Saw the Comet. On Thursday and Friday evenings

PRIMARY ELECTIONS HELD ON SATURDAY

All The News In Centre County

Vol. 33. No. 22.

SOME GENERAL INFORMATION FOR ALL VOTERS.

POLLS WILL OPEN AT 2 O'CLOCK

And Close at 8 P. M .- At the Regular Voting Places-The Different Party Ballots-Bars will be Closed From 1 to 9 P. M.

The regular primary elections for choosing candidates on the various party tickets, to be voted for at the general election in November, will be held throughout Centre county at the regular voting places, on Saturday, June 4th, 1910. The polls will be open from 2 to 8 p. m.; all retail liquor license houses are required by law to close on same day between the hours of 1 and 9 p. m. The primary election will be conducted under the provisions of the recent Uniform Primary election law by the regular election officers, for all parties, and the ballots are furnished by the county commis-

For the information of the voters we give an outline of the different party tickets, offices to be filled, and the candidates whose names appear on the various tickets:

DEMOCRATIC BALLOT.

Delegates to State Convention: (Vote for Three)

L. Auman. M. Cunningham, James Cornelly, John G. Dauberman, R. M. Foster, Wm. H. Noll, Jr., A . C. Thompson.

Rep. in Congress, 21st District: (Vote for one) William C. Heinle.

Senator in Gen. Assembly, 34th Dist. (Vote for one) George M. Dimeling.

Representative in Gen. Assembly: (Vote for one) J. Calvin Meyer.

County Chairman:

(Vote for one) Arthur B. Kimport.

REPUBLICAN BALLOT. Delegate to State Convention: (Vote for two) David Chambers, Harry Keller.

Representative in Congress, 21st Dist: (Vote for one) Lewis Emery, Jr., Charles E. Patton

Representative in General Assembly: (Vote for one)

Senator in Gen. Assembly, 34th Dist.

former happy relations would cease. He replied that it was mutual to him, as he liked the other girl better, or something to that effect.

It was thought that this mutual agreement had settled the matter, but nstead of that he began sending her letters containing threats on her life if she failed to reconsider the former agreement, and again become lovers. He also sent her postcards at which Miss Rishel became very much insulted, claiming that they were unfit to send to any upright, honest young lady. On May 9th Leitzel called her up several times on the telephone and asked to "make up" and forget the past, but she refused to have any-thing further to do with him. That evening he called at the Rishel home, when he was met at the door by Mr. Diskel father of the young lady who Rishel, father of the young lady, who invited him into the house, but he declined, stating that he would like to see Miss Rosa only for a few min-Miss utes, and for the last time. Mis Rishel had not been feeling well and was lying down, but Mr. Rishel de-While waiting livered the message. for the young lady to appear Mr. Rishel and Leitzel had a conversation in which Mr. Rishel gave him some good advice and told the young man that he did not desire to have any trouble with reference to him and his daugh-ter, to which Leitzel replied that he was not there for trouble, but wanted to see his daughter for a short time only. Finally the young lady appear-ed at the door, when he asked her to walk out to the gate with him. The young lady claimed she was afraid of him and therefore would not heed his request. It was afterwards discovered that Leitzel had a revolver on his person at that time, and it is difficult to surmise what might have occurred had they gone together to the gate. On the 14th of May Leitzel was sitting in the Smith house, at Spring Mills, when a buggy passed and some one of the household informed him that his girl was in the conveyance. Leitzel went to his room and secured his revolver and coming down stairs took his bicycle and followed after the buggy. Meeting Miss Rishel in a onely place between Spring Millis and Farmers Mills, he placed the front wheel of the bicycle before the front wheel of the buggy and then began entreating her to take him back. He seemed very nervous and determined, and said, "You must come or death will." The young lady understood what he meant and the only way was to consent to try and take him back again. It was only a piece of strate-gy to get away from a man who was insanely in love, although she had determined to never take up with After making the young man feel better towards her she was able to proceed without any serious results.

When she reached home she was very weak from the fright, and was unable to do anything for some time. Miss Rishel claimed that for several months past she was afraid to leave months past she was afraid to leave her home for fear of meeting Leitzel. On the 15th of May, Leitzel called at the home of W. H. Sinkabine and asked him to take a walk with him, which he did. On that day Leitzel told him that the day he met Miss Rishel on the road he was there for business, and if she had refused to make up with him he would have created a tragedy. That is, he had made up his mind to kill her and thet kill himself. He also made other statekill himself. He also made other state-ments that made Mr. Sinkabine come to the conclusion that something terto the conclusion that something ter-rible might happen, and so warned the young lady. He tried to show young Leitzel what terrible conse-quences might follow should he car-ry out-his awful designs and threats.

ture was furnished by a select choin. After the decoration of the soldiers graves and the salute by Co. L, the old soldiers went to the grave of Governor Curtin. As usual there was found the beautiful floral tribute from Penna. Reserve Association, of Phil-adelphia. Here Senator W. C. Heinle delivered a beautiful tribute to the memory of the great War Governor. After firing a salute over the tomb, General D. H. Hastings' grave was visited where a salute was fired. The procession then returned and the people assembled in Petrikin Hall, an able address was made by where Rev. Fred Barry, pastor of the Luth-eran church. It was well received by the audience.

Against the Curtin monument on the diamond stood an old flag that waved over the executive mansion in Harrisburg from the breaking out the war until it closed. It was the old flag that Governor Curtin loved so well, and was given to the Post when the Curtin heirs vacated the house now occupied by the Elks.

Rev. Richard J. Farrell.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Eugene A. Gar-vey, of the Altoona diocese, has des-ignated Rev. Richard J. Farrell, of St. Patrick's church, Spangler, Cam-bria county, as rector of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Lock Haven, to succeed Rev. Father J. N. Codori, who has been transferred to Johnstown. Rev. Farrell it is expect-ed, assumed the duties of his charge June 1. Father Farrell was born New York City and is a graduate Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsin burg, and was ordained ten or twelve years ago. For a time he was first assistant pastor of the pro-cathedral at Altoona, pastor at West Salidis-bury and pastor at Spangler.

Well Pleased.

In speaking of the effort made at Eagleville on Memorial Day by A. A. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, a correspon-dent says: "A. A. Dale, Esq., of Belle-fone, a prominent member of the Cen-tre county bar, and the speaker of the occasion, was introduced and for 50 minutes gave an inspiring and pa-triotic address in a fervant spirit which could not do otherwise than deeply impress the andience. He is an interesting speaker and his address was filled with facts of history, admonitions to the citizens of this great Republic given to us as a heritage by past and passing generations, and tributes to the heroes of its brilliant and magnificent history.

Hospital Notes.

Ida Shirk, of Bellefonte, operation for appendicitis. Edmund Meiss, of Bellefonte, admit-d for operation. Born, to Mr. and Mrfs. Jno. Leopard, of Bellefonte, a son. Mrs. Della Keeler, of Bellefonte. ad-mitted for treatment.

W. R. Gardner, of Howard, discharg-

Miss Francis Swope, of Lock Haven, nurse in training, returned from vaca-

Miss Jessica Kerstetter, of Millheim,

excursions he got in a neighbor's barn and was riddled with a load of bird shot, which failed to warn him of his dangerous business; but in a strange country he has found it doesn't work that way.

When Josiah Dale was murdered on Nittany mountain several years ago, From was arrested and tried for the murder, and was acquitted principally because of the unreliableness of some of the Commonwealth's witnesses. As the old saying goes, he secured his freedom by the skin of his teeth, and one would have supposed that From would have gone to his home at Cen-tre Hall with the determination to be a better man, and thus live down the terrible stigma that had been placed up on him. Instead of that he sat down and studied where he should go to carry out his nefarious designs. How much he has stolen in and about Centre Hall since he returned from the penitentiary is not known and could not be estimated unters a search was made to his house. It will be remem-bered that only two years ago his house was searched and in one room was found a modern, well equipped department store, consisting of things which he had stolen. Some think that stealing has become an incurable all right. mania with this man, that at his age is beyond hope.

Back to Atlantic City. All the principal figures in the trial of William Seyler, who had been charged with the murder of Jane Adams, in Atlantic City, on February 4, returned to Atlantic City about 1 o'clock Thursday morning. On the train were Seyler, his brother, Orvis, Prosecutor Goldenberg, four members of the Seyler family and seven members of the jury. The party was met at the station by about 300 persons who had learned that Seyler had been acquitted and jeered the man as he was pushed through the crowd by the his relatives and hurrled to his home down town. Seyler was a happy man as he greeted his wife and an affecting scene followed. The freed man had nothing to say to newspaper men except that he was happy at being given his freedom, but added that he knew he would be acquitted. Some persons are authority for the statement that while watching the comet recently the tail separated from the head and disappeared, says the Lock Haven Express. They evident-ly still keep the old style whisky in that town which makes fellows see snakes and makes them think they are comet talls.

Marriage Licenses.

David W. English, Clearfield
Ethel Crompton, Clearfield Thos. William Robins, - Spring Mills
Annie Lobb, Coburn
Clayton J. Wolf, Spring Mills Edith E. Stitzer, Coburn
J. Frank Bible, Centre Hall Elizabeth E. Lose, Coburn
Samuel F. Smith, Philipsburg Laura M. Jackson, Philipsburg
Stanley V. Bergen, Coal Centre Nellie S. Hopkins, Howard
Musser E. Heberling, - Pine Gr. Mills Della C. Henninger, - McAlvey's Fort

McGrew-Stickler. One day recently Ben McGrew, of Beaver Falls, and Miss Pearl Stick-ler, of Bellefonte, were joined in hap-py wedlock. The ceremony took place at Beaver Falls where they will make their future home. The bride former-ly was a dressmaker and resided with her mother, on Bishop street.

Miss L. Edith Houser; "Morality in Politics," E. Graham Hunter; "Im-pressions of Niagara," Clare Reynolds; "No Room for Mother," Grace V. Showalter; "Truth and Victory," Hen-Keller; "Christmas at Hallowell's Miss Anna Shuey; "The Story of Xanthippe," Miss Mary E. Straub; "The Silent Captain," Joseph R. Taylor; "The Singing Mother," Beulah Woods. The judges were Prof. Geo. P. Singer, of the Lock Haven Normal School; Prof William D. Crockett, of School; Prof William D. Crockett, of State College, and R. L. Weston, sec-retary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A. They were only out a few minutes when they returned and Prof. Crockett announced they had given Miss Woods the first prize, and the second to Gra-ham Hunter. This met with the general approval of the audience. In passing we would just compliment Miss Woods on her excellent manner in which she presented her subject. Some day you may hear of Graham Hunter going to congress from this district, no matter how big the Republican ma-jority. He is an orator and if he sticks to his studies he will come out all right. The graduating class of next year will be composed of the following young ladies and gentlemen: Elsie Al-tenderfer. Emma J. Bachman, Arthur L. Confer, Marguerite Coxie, Bertha Deltrich, Edward E. Garbrick, Roy H. Grove, Millard Hartswick, L. Edith Houser, B. Graham Hunter, Henry Keller, Adaline, F. Kling, Harrieson G. Keller, Adaline F. Kline, Harrieson G. Kline, Robert Lannen, Harry L. Noll, Clare Reynolds, Helen C. Saylor, Grace V. Showalter, Anna Shuey, Anna B. Spangler, Mary E. Straub. Joseph R. Taylor, Harry Thompson, C. Esther Undercoffer, Beulah Woods and Homer Zimmerman.

The society event of the week was he alumni social and dance held in the armory on Tuesday evening which was attended by a large number of people, many of whom were from a distance. They returned for the purpose of renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. The committee had everything arranged in tip top shape, so that those present could not help but enjoy it. The armory was beautifully decorated, and every comfort was provided for the entertain-fort was provided for the entertain-ment of the guests. At 10 o'clock dancing commenced which continued until the wee hours of the morning. Christy Smith was present with a large orchestra of eight pieces, which was one of the pleasing features of was one of the pleasing features of the evening. During the evening re-freshments were served, thus the occa-sion proved a very enjoyable one from start to finish. Thursday afternoon the graduating exercises will take place in the audi-torium in the new school house which will be presided over by Supt, Jonas E. Wagner. The decorations are very pretty, consisting of flowers, flags and evergreen The music will be furnish-ed by District's orchestra evergreen The music will be furnish-ed by Dietrich's orchestra and every-thing is conducive to a successful commencement. The following are the names of the graduates without giving their subjects: Raymond Jul-kins is the first honor man, and, of kins is the first honor man, and, of course, will have the valedistory, Helen Eberhard received second hon-ors and thus will have the salutatory; Helen Smith will give the class pro-phecy, and Miss Mary Hicklen the class history; the other members of the class who will have either orations or ensure as full and there is the-

Feel Pinch. Home missionaries of the United Presbyterian church of North Amer-ica have felt the pinch of the high cost of living, and as the result of en-appeal the General Committee on Home Missions, in session in 1950a-delphia, has raised the maximum sal-ary from $1,200 to $1,300 s year. The or essays are as follows. Harris Ole- delphia, has raised the maximum sal-wine, Mary N. Bertran, Lucille Wet- ary from $1,200 to $1,300 a year. The zel, Mildred Kirk, Helen Hartranft, appeal for higher salaries had been Robert Tresslor, Trude Parker, Lor- under consideration for several months. Baturday afternor streets and hills surrounding Belle. fonte were crowded with men, women and children who had caught a glimpse of Halley's comet. The wanderer was first seen about 9 o'clock after a heavy bank of clouds had passed from the western heavens. Contrary to th general expectation the head of the comet did not appear bright like a tiny white light in the heavens, but rather a pale luminous blue mass blueish if it could be said to have color, and about the size of a man's fist. It looked like a fan-shaped tail of pale, luminous smoke. Although there were many millions of stars in the heavens the mysterious visitor from somewhere was plainly distinguisha-ble among them. Harry Auman, the efficient clerk at the Brockerhoff, and sky shark, says the comet hasn't a tail Neither have some dogs, but all are not minus a tail. So is it with comets. Some are tailless and others are not; so astronomers tell us. Now Auman, which is which !

Died Twice. Ausin Swisher, aged 76, of Julian, Centre county, died recently, for the second time in his life. About ten years ago, after several days' illness, to all appearances he died. An un-dertaker was summoned and a cas-ket ordered. The undertaker was on The undertaker was on his way to the Swisher home, prehis way to the Swisher home, pre-pared to embalm the dead man, when he was told that the deceased had come to life. Sympathizing people were surronding the supposed dead body, after the man laid perfectly still for hours, when Swisher's eye-lids moved and he spoke. Had he rehas moved and he spoke. Had he re-mained in the comotose condition an-other hour the embalming would have been started. Until he was placed in the ground at his real funeral some people were skeptical as to whether he really was dead.

Important Facts

The time for the uniform primaries and general election for 1910 is ap-proaching. The following facts are of interest to both voters and candldates

Primary election, June 4 General election, November 8.

Democratic State convention, Allenown, June 15

Republican State convention, Hatrisburg, June 22.

Prohibition State convention, Har-risburg, June 23 and 24. Last day for filing statement of ex-penses, for Spring primary, Saturday,

June 18

Large Peach Crop.

Notwithstanding the rumors that ome from the different parts of the come from the different parts of the accept State that the peach crop has been in-jured by the May frosts, Col. W. Fred Reynolds says that he anticipates a mammoth crop off his large orchard which is located a short distance from Bellefonte. His orchard never looked in a more flourishing condition than it does at present, and barring future evils he will probably take from the trees 20,000 bushels. The orchard had been used this spring as a State exbeen used this spring as a State ex-periment station by the officials of the Department of Zoology, and for experimental purposes by Pennsylva-nia State College.

ote for one) Joseph Alexander Frederic R. Scofield, Philip E. Womelsdorf.

County Chairman: (Vote for one) Henry C. Quigley,

SOCIALIST BALLOT. Delegate to State Convention: (Vote for one)

(Vote for one)

Representative in Congress, 21st Dist .: (Vote for one) George W. Fox.

Senator in Gen. Assembly, 34th Dist .: Daniel M. Calwell.

County Chairman:

(Vote for one)

Where no nomination papers were filed and no names appear printed on the ballots for some offices on the Re-publican and the Socialist ballots, the voter can insert the names of any persons he desires. In addition to the names printed on the ballot the name of any other person or persons can be inserted by the voter by simply writ-ing or pasting the name on in a blank space after each office provided on the ballot for the person of the person of the second ballot for the purpose.

The return for each district is made to the county commissioners who compile the vote and certify what candidates' names will be printed on the official ballot at the general election next November.

It will be noted that on the Democratic ticket seven names appear for delegate to the State Convention and only three are to be selected. At this time practically no one knows that any one of these has any particular issue he represents, or is committed to any candidates. For that reason it will be simply a personal choice of three men between the seven names on the bal-

On the Republican ticket there is a spirited contest for congress Letween Emery and Patton. Emery represents the progressive Roosevelt-Indepen-dent thought of that party; Patton is endorsed by the "organization," the "standpatters," the "Cannonites," and is Boles Penrose's candidate, backed by the postmasters and officeholders. For State Senate there is also a con-For state Senate there is also a con-test and the voter must select one from the three. For Assembly, no name appears, indicating that the ex-cellent record of Hon. J. C. Meyer is acceptable to the public and will be endorsed by the Republicans gener-ally.

On the Socialist ballot only two names appear, for Congress and As-sembly, and the voter, if he desires, can fill in the balance.

Owing to the small number of of-fices to be filled, and with no local contests on hand, there will be little interest manifested in the primary election, and in consequence a light vote will be polled.

Credit Given.

Credit Given, The mailing list was corrected this week for the past month of May. All persons who paid any money on sub-scriptions during that time will find the same credited this week by a change of the date on the label. Look at it and in case of any error please notify this office at once.

Remember the primary election on