

BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

William Zerby, Esq. was a business visitor to Tyrone on Monday.

Miss Nell Conly is attending the Birmingham school exercises this week.

The family of Henry C. Quigley, Esq., left Wednesday afternoon for Watkins Glenn, N. Y.

Mrs. John Raymond, of Bellefonte, is visiting friends in Lock Haven and is having a nice time among her friends in that city.

Missioner Crittenden left on Tuesday for Brookly, N. Y. where he will spend several weeks as the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Geo. S. Frost.

Hon. P. Gray Meek is again in the editorial chair after a serious illness. He is still a little frail yet but is gradually becoming stronger.

Joseph Whitehead, of Williamsburg, Blair county, arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday afternoon to spend a day with his friend, James Furst, Esq.

On Tuesday evening there will be a meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose in Bellefonte to which every member is cordially and earnestly requested to be present.

Mrs. M. E. Maxon, who had been visiting her daughter at Pittsburg, is home again. She resides at the Presbyterian manse with Dr. J. Allison Platts.

Edward Chambers has recovered from his recent illness sufficiently to be around again with his old companions. He seems much improved and it is hoped he will remain so.

The musical entertainment in the Presbyterian church Friday evening, for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital, will be attended by a large audience as nearly all the tickets are sold. It will be a fine program, worth hearing.

Trude Parker returned Tuesday evening from Jersey Shore, where she spent several days with her grandmother. That young lady at Rousesburg had better keep her eye on "Trude," or some young lady in Jersey Shore might cut her out.

John D. Hite, of Altoona, passed through Bellefonte on Wednesday afternoon from Johnsonburg, where he had been visiting his daughter. He was on his way to Lemont to spend several days with his son before returning to his home.

The A. M. E. church will hold a bazaar on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15th and 16th, 1910, at the academy. There will be on sale an assortment of aprons and caps, fancy articles; also chicken and waffle supper, luncheon, ice cream and cake. All cordially invited.

David Speer, of Chambersburg, who quite frequently has visited in Bellefonte, returned on Wednesday afternoon from his home in Philadelphia. While in Bellefonte Mr. Speer gave several interesting lectures on his late eastern trip through Palestine. Mr. Furst is a quick observer and a ready talker so that these lectures were highly interesting.

The rumor on the streets on Wednesday was that Judge Love's condition was of a very critical character. We made inquiry and found that for the last two weeks he had been keeping close to his bed with the idea that rest might prove more beneficial to him than any other plan. His condition therefore is not at all alarming, and if the weather becomes favorable he will be out in a short time.

Harris Olewine, of Bellefonte, entertained the club known as the "Select Few," at his home on Monday night. They met up in the upper chamber in a session, which in these days is against the law. However the young gentlemen had a most delightful time, but if they had not been so selfish and had asked an equal number of pretty girls, peachy girls they might have had a better time.

On Tuesday morning the lime kilns and quarries, just north of Bellefonte, along the pike, which have been idle for several years, were put in commission again, and will be operated to their fullest capacity. The news is received gladly by employes of the quarries, as it means work for 25 to 40 men. Charles Morris, son of A. G. Morris, has assumed management of the quarries and kilns.

Tuesday John A. Daley and his accomplished daughter, Miss Maud, of Curtin township, were in Bellefonte doing a little shopping. They were pleasant callers at this office where the old veteran and politician is always welcome. To show how popular Mr. Daley is at his own home he received a number of votes for Assembly at the primaries on last Saturday evening. The honor was thrust on him but he has no intention of being a candidate.

Waiting until in July was a little too long for George and John Knisely, Homer Barnes, "Brack" Gerberich, Rodger Brouse, "Billy" Casady and J. C. Rowe to go fishing and camping on Fishing Creek, so they spent a couple of days this week on the old camping ground. They say Atlantic City with its ocean breeze, hum and bustle, isn't it with an old tent, good grub, pure buttermilk and a fishing outfit, on the banks of old Fishing Creek.

Norman Shearer gave an exhibition with his Ford car on Wednesday afternoon at the Bush House. When he gave the crank a twist, the car leaped forward and he grabbed it desperately. The critter was too powerful and began to move, when several others caught hold. It seemed to gain more power and fattened Mr. Shearer out on the street and plunged into the rear of a buggy, panting and smoking, with several men hanging on to it. In this dilemma John Olewine rushed out and pulled the switch and it became as docile as a lamb. Talk about an automobile without a driver causing a panic, this one certainly was a whole circus. Fortunately no one was injured or damage done to the machine.

Mrs. Jane Marshall, of Centre Hall, was recently a guest of friends in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Margie Fasig, of Williamsport, has been a guest in Bellefonte of Mrs. Ira From.

Malcolm Waite, who had been working at Pittsburg, is now in Bellefonte taking a rest.

George Beezer has been appointed local agent for the 1910 Pullman car lot at a firm in Williamsport.

Fred Hollabaugh, who was working at Lock Haven, is firing on an engine in the P. R. R. yard at Bellefonte.

A subscription is being taken up about town for the purpose of placing a much-needed elevator in the new annex of the hospital.

Miss Bessie G. McCafferty has returned to Bellefonte after spending the winter in Pittsburg as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jennie A. Deber.

Mrs. Edith Longwell, of New Bethlehem, Pa., made a flying trip to this place to attend to some business and for memorial services.

Mrs. Sadie Baney, of Atlantic City, is a visitor in Bellefonte her former home, and expects to spend the summer in this place with her friends.

William Craft, of Clearfield, who is quite well known in Bellefonte and Centre county, has been quite ill after having an operation for appendicitis performed.

Prof. Angel, the eye specialist, will be here to meet his many patrons on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15th and 16th. See his announcement in another column.

Charles E. Weber and daughter, Hazel, of Williamsport, have been guests in Bellefonte during the last week. On Wednesday they attended the Grove family reunion at Grange Park, Centre Hall.

James R. Blythe, a son-in-law of Aman V. Miller, who has made his home with Mr. Miller for the past two years, left for Pittsburg where he will locate and follow his trade as a carpenter. He expects in the near future to move his family to that city.

On Tuesday Samuel Campbell, one of Millheim's progressive citizens, passed through Bellefonte on his way to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Funeral Directors' Association, which meets in Erie this week. He was accompanied by Frank Nagney, of Bellefonte.

Nathan Grove, of near Shiloh, was in Bellefonte the other day and made the statement that on examining his corn he found at the roots from twelve to sixteen cutworms at one stock. This is certainly alarming, and should put every farmer on his guard against these pests. If there is any remedy it should be applied as soon as possible. The short corn crop this year would leave our people in pretty bad shape.

Between that bright and interesting little daughter who came to his home the other day and the nomination of Charles E. Patton for congress, Editor Dorworth, of "The Republican," attended the raised to the height of almost eternal blessedness. It is said that it seldom rains unless it pours, and this is the way it has been going with Charles until he is overflowing with ecstasy. It is really enough to make a fellow imbibes a little.

Charles McCafferty, Jr., of Bradford, was in Bellefonte recently making arrangements to improve the McCafferty property on west High and Railroad streets. These improvements consist of paving the properties and building new sidewalks. It will enhance the value of that real estate at least ten per cent. When the house which James Bine occupies and the shoemaker shop are painted, west High street will rival in beauty any part of the town.

On Sunday morning Dr. Thomas S. Wilcox, D. D., pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church, preached an interesting sermon to boys and girls. This was followed by an address by Miss Emma E. Payne, a returned missionary from Mexico, who gave a well prepared talk on what is being done in that mission field, which seems harder to be brought under christian influence than all the mission fields of the far east. She spoke in the Sunday school on Sunday afternoon and on Monday afternoon made an address before the ladies of the town in the Methodist church.

This week Supt. McAvoy, of the Bellefonte Electric Light Co., has placed the electric fixtures in the auditorium of the Bellefonte High school. They present a very pretty and attractive appearance. The two in the center are of a circled cluster and are hung on what seems to be a cord strong enough to hold the chandeliers in the Palace of Graft at Harrisburg, of which so much has been said. This is not a criticism, because we think they are about O. K. Gas and electric fixtures of a pretty design will be placed in all the rooms, and a nice one will also be placed on the outside.

When a friend comes to Bellefonte to visit you, you cannot entertain him or her better than by taking them to the Scenic where manager Clayton Brown and his excellent wife will give them a cordial welcome. There they will be given a good laugh and a pleasant time in general. Within the last two weeks the moving pictures have been ten per cent. better than ever before, and they are still increasing in attractiveness. The Scenic has gained a large following in Bellefonte, and the pictures do not fail to appeal to the large audiences that gather there nightly. Recently the large hall was thoroughly scrubbed and cleaned, so you can feel assured that there are no microbes lurking around. They have all been killed by the use of Banner lye.

Herbie Auman, of Bellefonte, has been farming on a pretty extensive scale. He should have a pair of goats to hitch to his cultivator when he comes to work his corn and potatoes, which are growing so fast that by the middle of next week he may gather some roasting ears and peas. We don't just know the locality of his little farm because it lies in the vicinity of the homes of J. C. Harper, ex-shepherd D. W. Woodring, Hon. P. Harris, Harry Hutchinson and Charles Eckenroth, and when those roasting ears get ready to put into the pot Herbie will have to sit there all night with a bow and arrow or a sling shot, or else borrow Mart Garman's slippers. Besides working the big lot, which is planted with all kinds of vegetables, Herbie is raising four hogs which next winter will make him independent of the meat trust.

New line of automobile veils just received—all colors.—Kata & Co.

Hon. John G. Love is confined to his home these days, afflicted with rheumatism.

Now it is Dr. M. J. Locke, president of the school board. He certainly will uphold the dignity of that body.

Mrs. and Mrs. Gates, of Altoona, spent Sunday in Bellefonte as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Keichline.

Mrs. J. F. Collins, of Bellefonte, who has been seriously ill for some time with heart trouble, is recovering very slowly.

S. O. Daggett, of Hughesville, was a recent visitor in Bellefonte as guest of his brother, W. L. Daggett, at the Bush House.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Griffiths, who has been visiting friends in Bellefonte for several weeks, have left for their home in Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Shorkey, of Williamsport, arrived in Bellefonte Saturday afternoon, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Charles Gilmore and Mrs. Archibald Allison.

This week the new marble floors in the court house are being laid, and the concrete is being put down on the outside walks. It is being thoroughly inspected by the public.

Miss Catherine Edwards, of State College, was a pleasant visitor in Bellefonte as the guest of Miss Ethel Gettlig. She was here attending High school commencement.

John J. Bower, Esq., who has been down for several weeks with typhoid fever, is slowly improving, and his condition is as good as can be expected, considering the nature of his ailment.

W. H. Musser and wife left on Tuesday for Harrisburg where they attended the annual encampment of the G. A. R. From there they will go to Philadelphia where they will visit friends.

Mrs. John Curtin on Thursday gave a tea in honor of Mrs. William S. Furst, who has made his home with her daughter, Elizabeth, have been visiting at the Furst home on west Linn street.

Ed Schofield and John Anderson arrived home from Huntingdon Saturday morning after transacting business with reference to the Order of Moose. His report was very good, having had a jolly good time.

Mrs. Harry Burket, of Stormstown, visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tressler, on Reynolds' ave., and attended the commencement of the High school of which she was a former member.

Miss Jennie Morrison, formerly of Bellefonte, who for a number of years has been a teacher in the Philadelphia public schools, has gone to Williamsport where she will spend her vacation with her brother and sister.

William Walker, of Bellefonte, has wound up his fish business and is now in Lock Haven attending carnival where he is selling corn crisp. After that he will attend a teachers' examination and picnic in Central Pennsylvania.

Children's Day services will be held in St. John's Reformed church on Sunday morning at 10:30; the school will meet at 10 o'clock and at 10:30 proceed to the church. Infant baptism will be administered at this service.

When you are in need of printing remember the Centre Democrat has a typesetting machine, fast presses, run by electric motors, an excellent supply of type and can supply your wants on short notice. Prices are always right.

Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, of Burnham, with her two children arrived a couple of weeks ago to visit at the home of J. Thomas Mitchell. While here the children became ill with the measles. Mr. Mitchell came to Bellefonte to look after the sick children and finally took them home.

He who runs may read where the tent of the local Macabees is located. All they need do is to cast their eyes upward when passing the McClain block and they will see a glass illuminating sign. It was made and placed there by Joseph McSuley, who is an artist in this kind of work.

Clark Carson is now the new chef at the Elks' club house in Bellefonte. He took the place of Bobby Hood, who has gone to Williamsport to work at his trade as a moulder. What will the Bellefonte base ball team do without Bobby to cheer for them? On that point he was an enthusiast.

Last week Edgar Poorman left the hospital and went to his home at Coleville. It will be remembered that six weeks ago he was so unfortunate as to fall from a train on the Bellefonte Central railroad and have both legs cut off. It is said that with the use of a cork leg and crutches he will be able to walk.

A. W. Moore, manager of the Western Union telegraph office, has moved his family from Lancaster to Bellefonte where they will make their future home. Living with him is his brother, a fine gentleman, but who is badly crippled with rheumatism. They are all pleasant people, just the kind that Bellefonte needs.

Thursday ex-shepherd D. W. Woodring, of Bellefonte, entertained Henry McMonigal, who resides with his daughter at Frankstown, Blair county. He resided for forty years in Kansas, but about one year ago his wife died after which he sold his farm and came east to spend his remaining days. He is 87 years of age and gets around as though he was but 50. With him was his brother, James McMonigal, of Taylor township, who is 87 years of age.

For some time the managers of the book-lovers' library have been holding a contest through the columns of the Philadelphia Press, the prize being a life membership in the library. Among those in Bellefonte who sent in a creditable list of answers and secured a life membership were Miss Myra Humes, Miss Helen Overton, Mrs. W. E. Shauer, Harry Keller and Prof. A. H. Sloop. The Maxwell automobile, valued at $1,500, offered as a first prize, was won by Miss Ray Bradshaw, a maiden lady of sixty years of age. She ought not to have any trouble to get a man now, although she is still over the age.

The Lutheran church of this place has recently undergone some needed improvements. Just now the large Sunday school room has been prettily frescoed. Improvements have been made in ventilating and introducing steam heat from the town plant in place of the furnace in the basement, and besides a fine stone walk put down on the Allegheny street side, the sides of the edifice. Through the efficiency of Mr. Hart, a fine chorus has been organized, composed of over thirty voices, whose renditions have been so charming as to bring invitations to sing at various social occasions in other churches and halls. Mr. Hart deserves great credit for his efforts in this behalf.

On Wednesday John P. Sebring, of Bellefonte, went to Jersey Shore to see his aged mother.

Our June sale of ladies' and children's muslin underwear included in our Cherry Blossom Sale now in progress.—Katz & Co.

Dr. Sebring sold a Franklin to M. D. Kelly, of Snow Shoe; also a Pope-Hartford to the Potter-Hoy Hardware company this week. He has placed a large number of cars during the past season.

The ladies of the U. B. church will hold a festival on the lawn near Gamble, Green & Co's mill, on Saturday evening, June 11th. Ice cream and cake will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Mildred Kirk, who had been making her home with Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Kirk while going to the High school, will leave Friday for Clearfield where she will attend a teachers' examination with the purpose of teaching school this winter.

A fine Elk head and rack was received this week and now occupies a prominent place on the walls of the parlor in the new Elk home. It is an exceptionally fine rack, and came from Ontario, where large game is more plentiful than in the States.

The State road builders have Allegheny street torn up from Linn to Howard street. The brick to be used in the paving of the business portion of the town are now being burned in the plant of the Howard Brick company, and are said to be exceptionally fine for that purpose.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parsons have moved from State College to McKeesport where Mr. Parsons has a good position. For the present they are boarding in the new hotel, but are keeping just as soon as they can secure a suitable home. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were formerly of Bellefonte.

The cut worm is doing harm to the potato plant as well as the corn. One party found as many as sixty of the worms in a single potato hill. In Nittany valley, The pests are found in nearly all the potato patches over the county, and if there is no way of heading them off both the corn and potato crops will suffer.

On Saturday Raymond Jenkins, who took first honors in the recent graduating class of the Bellefonte High school, will take the examination for the Freshman McAllister scholarship at Pennsylvania State College. Raymond has shown himself a worthy young man, and nobody would appreciate such a scholarship as he. If he should happen to make it he would make good.

Miss Mildred Grimm, daughter of councilman and Mrs. George Grimm, returned today, Thursday, from Pittsburg, where she had been employed in the home of Mrs. B. B. Rumberger. She has become quite expert in trimming ladies' headgear. Miss Bessie Glover, who had been a student at the Academy and making her home with the Grimm family, left today for Huntingdon where on Saturday she will attend a teachers' examination. From there she will go to her home at Warriorsburg. Miss Glover also took an examination before Supt. D. O. Eiters, of this county.

Disbaring Attorneys. A unique situation arose in the Clearfield Court last Friday morning before Judge Smith, when a hot verbal battle took place between W. C. Pentz and A. L. Cole, two DuBois attorneys. Cole arose and said: "If the things that Pentz says about me are true, I am disgraced and I am going to resign. I intend to say about Pentz are true—and I think they are—then he should be disbarred from practice in this Court, and I therefore ask the Court to grant a rule to show cause why he should not be disbarred." Judge Smith was equal to the occasion, and the rule was granted to forthwith, and it will be up to the two attorneys to square themselves with the Court within the next ten days.

Academy Reception. The annual reception and dance on Friday evening, which means practically the closing of the Bellefonte Academy for the summer, proved to be a very elaborate affair. Those who had the pleasure of attending are high in praise as it being one of the most successful social events of the kind since has been held in Bellefonte for many a day. Prof. James R. Hughes and his co-workers can feel highly proud of the delightful event. The thirteenth annual dance was held in the armory at 10 o'clock, or immediately following the reception, and proved a most successful and entrancing affair.

Upwards of 20,000 acres are involved in the options secured on coal lands by unknown parties in Barr and Blacklick townships, Cambria county, and in part of Jefferson and Pine townships, Indiana county. The Johnstown Tribune thinks that the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads both are in the deal. Great developments in railroads and otherwise are anticipated.

RECENT DEATHS.

JUDGE.—On Monday morning Michael Judge, one of Tyrone's oldest citizens, passed into the eternal world. Mr. Judge had only been ill three days with pneumonia. He was a brother of Dominic Judge, of Bellefonte.

SMITH.—Daniel S. Smith died at his home at Millmont, Union county, of diseases incident to old age. His age was eighty years. He is survived by two brothers, Robert J. Smith, of Spring Mills, and Charles Smith, of Fiedler. Interment was made in the cemetery at Laurelton.

BARTGES.—Mrs. Jane Bartges, wife of James L. Bartges, died at her home near Booneville, June 1st, due to heart trouble and a complication of diseases, aged fifty-five years. Surviving her are her husband, five sons and one daughter. Deceased was a devout christian, earnest church worker and active member of the Evangelical Association church.

WAGNER.—Mrs. James Wagner, a widow aged upwards of 70 years, died Wednesday, June 1, at the home of her son, W. W. Wagner, on Marsh Creek. Death was due to the infirmities of old age. There are no surviving children. Interment was made Friday morning in the old Wagner graveyard near the Bowes school house, following funeral services at the Weaver home.

MUSSER.—Alice, daughter of the late John Wesley Musser, died at her home in Warriorsburg last Friday, May 27, after an illness of several years. The deceased was a lovable young woman and leaves, besides her mother and brother, a large circle of friends to mourn her death. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Woodcock, of Birmingham, formerly of Bellefonte. Those who attended the funeral from State College were Misses Margaret, Elizabeth, Fred and William Kennedy and Mrs. Boal.

HEVERLY.—James Heverly, native of Bellefonte, who spent the greater portion of his life in Bellefonte, died at his home in LaPorte, Indiana, on Wednesday of last week, following a lingering illness. Deceased was aged about 71 years. He was an honest, upright citizen of that community, and his name is honored by many friends in Indiana and in Centre county as well. He was an uncle of Mrs. Clyde Blackford and is survived by one brother, F. F. Heverly, of Bellefonte. Funeral services were held and interment made at LaPorte on Saturday.

NORRIS.—The community of Juniata was shocked Monday morning, May 31, by the sudden death of a most estimable lady, Mrs. D. B. Norris, wife of ex-burgess Daniel B. Norris. Her maiden name was Gertrude Rumberger, she having been a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Rumberger, of Buffalo Run, Centre county. At Unionville, on November 4, 1874, she became the wife of D. B. Norris, who survives with the following children: Mrs. E. C. Hallett, Mrs. E. H. Young, Joseph W. and Walter M., all of Juniata; Roy T. Aye, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Margaret, Agnes, Russell, George and Gertrude, at home. Interment on Wednesday at Greenwood cemetery.

SAGER.—Harvey Jacob Sager died at the home of his son, Edward Sager, East Altoona, at 6 o'clock on Thursday evening of rheumatism with which he has been afflicted and suffered for the past several weeks. Deceased had resided in this vicinity for a number of years. He is survived by two sons, Edward at whose home he died and George F., of Antis. He is also survived by these brothers and sisters: Mrs. Francis Weber, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Elizabeth McKinley, of Tyrone; Mrs. Mary Brooks, of Spruce Creek; Mrs. David Yelke, of Lewistown; George, of Scottsdale; Frank, of Bellefonte; Isaac, of Bellefonte; and Edward, of Bellwood. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, services conducted at Asbury church at 2 o'clock. Interment in Asbury cemetery.

KAUFFMAN.—George Kauffman, of near Zion, one of the highly respected citizens of Walker township, died on Sunday morning after an illness of about two weeks. Some time ago he was injured by horse in the stable from the effects of which he never fully recovered. He was around until about two weeks ago when he was compelled to take his bed. The deceased was about 70 years of age and had been a resident of that community for a great many years. He was a member of the Reformed church and lived a faithful, honest life. He is survived by a wife and the following children: Horace Kauffman, of Zion; Clayton Harshberger, of Hubert; Mrs. Herbert Showers, of Pleasant Gap, and Ida at home. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Jacob Garbrick, of Zion. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Interment at Zion.

TATE.—Mrs. Foster Tate, who had been making her home with her son, Snyder Tate, at Coleville, died Monday evening at 6 o'clock after a prolonged illness of several years. She suffered from several strokes of paralysis, and for the last nine months was almost helpless. Strange to say that up to the time of her demise her appetite was good and she slept like a child. She was the daughter of Moses and Catherine Hafer, and was born in Miles township, her age being 75 years, 3 months and 11 days. For years they lived on the farm near Coleville now owned by the American Lumber Co., and was well known in this vicinity. Her life was that of a true, upright lady who had many friends. In early life she joined the Methodist church and lived according to its teachings. She is survived by the following children: Snyder, William, Clarence and Irvin, of Coleville; and Mrs. Edward Meese, of Tyrone; also two brothers: John Hafer, of Pittsburg, and Dr. A. W. Hafer, of Bellefonte. The funeral will take place today.

HASTINGS.—William Hastings, of Gatesburg, and one of the well known residents of Ferguson township, died in the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, recently. He has been in poor health for some time and two weeks or more ago went to the hospital and underwent an operation. Instead of improving peritonitis set in and his death followed. He was born in Blair county on July 1st, 1844, hence was almost sixty-six years old. When only eight years old he was enlisted as a member of Company I, Twenty-second Pennsylvania cavalry, and served through the Civil War. Returning he located in Centre county and ever since lived in Hallmoon and Ferguson townships. Forty years or more ago he was united in marriage to Miss Emeline Rider who survives with five children, as follows: John and Charles, of Tyrone; Mrs. Myrtle Rumberger and Mrs. Lizzie Snyder, of Hollidaysburg, and Miss Athalia A. at home. He also leaves one brother, John, in Colorado, and one sister, Mrs. William Cupp, of Centre Line. The remains were brought from Philadelphia and taken to the home of Gatesburg where burial was made in the Gatesburg cemetery.

MEYERS.—Wesley Meyers, a lifelong resident of Boalsburg, Centre county, died at his home in that place on Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock. He had been ailing with diabetes for several months, but was not compelled to take his bed until two days prior to his death. He was a man who was well liked in the community, and his death is sadly mourned. He is survived by a wife and one son, Fred, who is principal of the schools in one of the suburban towns of Pittsburg; also by the following brothers and sister: William and Henry, of Alexandria, Huntingdon county; Fred, of Pine Grove Mills; Daniel, of Boalsburg, and Mrs. Adeline Kline, of State College. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Boalsburg.

The Grove family reunion was held at Grange Park, Centre Hall, on Wednesday. Many members of the Grove family as well as their friends were in attendance. The gathering was in the shape of a basket picnic.
