

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "Chat" Column

That some men in Bellefonte have no respect for old age, unless it is bottled.

That to offer a penny for the thoughts of some deep in Bellefonte is nothing but rank extravagance.

That the man in Bellefonte who has many enemies has either done wrong or "made good" and it is more likely the latter.

That love may be blind but we have seen fellows in Bellefonte taking an eye opener occasionally after they were married.

That the young man in Bellefonte who thinks his wife would be satisfied with a 98 cent bonnet had better remain a bachelor.

That when the girls of Bellefonte think a young man is a good catch they fall over each other to sling themselves at him.

That when a woman in Bellefonte believes everything her husband tells her it is a sure sign that she has only been married about a minute.

That the Bible says "Love thy neighbor as thyself"—but this doesn't apply to married men in Bellefonte—if their neighbor is another man's wife.

That there is a young lady in Bellefonte who would not take $1000 to have it generally known what happened recently. She'll know better the next time.

That the man who dyes his hair doesn't fool any more people than the certain man who whitewashes his conscience and paints everybody else with mud except himself.

That to take the conceit out of some girls in Bellefonte you would have to reduce them to skin and bone. This may be a homely way of expressing a truth but it is probably as forcible as any.

That it is said that a young unmarried woman in Bellefonte makes it a habit of meeting married and single men on a certain corner and makes dates with them. If the rumor is true she is making a pretty spectacle of herself.

That Bellefonte has a number of good girls who ought to leave the town and go somewhere else where there are more marriageable young men. If they don't mind the Central Hotel and the balance of their lives looking every night for a man under the bed.

That whisky and women are putting some of the brightest young men of Bellefonte to the bad. It was only the other night that a wife in a certain prominent family openly accused her "dear hubby" of violating his sacred marriage vows. From all accounts she gave it to him straight.

That it takes a good deal of unadulterated gall for a Bellefonte old maid to call at the home of a certain family when it is supposed she is in love with the man of the house. The wife ought to get her in some corner and "smash her bald-headed." The man who would sanction such a thing is a coward and a sneak.

That "Freddie" Landis, of Bellefonte, and a friend, have been seen taking morning walks down toward the round house of the Centre Railroad in Pennsylvania. There are no ice cream parlors or soda fountains down in that direction. The only thing you can get there is a sound of a whistle from an engine.

That you can run an automobile successfully in Bellefonte but when a certain fellow in Bellefonte undertakes to run one with a combination of beer, whisky and gasoline, trouble follows. The other night there was an illustration of this kind when three young women, not ladies, were compelled to jump from an auto to save their lives.

That Herbie Auman, of Bellefonte, who is farming on Howard street, is getting along nicely with his new occupation with the exception that the cutworms are working on his corn. The way to get rid of those pests is easy. All you have to do is to plant beans in the corn rows and the cutworms will eat the beans and blow up with wind and burst.

That Hon. Ellis L. Orvis is not the only man in Bellefonte who can pronounce a life sentence on a man. There isn't a minister in the town who hasn't done it more than once in the following words: "I pronounce you man and wife." Many a poor devil would ten times rather have taken a life sentence from Judge Orvis than the one from a minister.

That the poker players of Bellefonte, if there are any, should cut the game out on Sunday. Six nights in the week, up until 1 o'clock in the morning, is "pot" enough, and on Sunday they should cut it out. If some of the fellows bring up in the Union cemetery could come back and preach a ten minutes sermon on Sunday poker playing, there would be some fellows in Bellefonte who would need a nurse. Gentlemen, we are not getting good all at once, but the advice is worth considering.

That it has been frequently demonstrated in Bellefonte that when poor, insignificant persons have inherited a few dollars they sit down in idleness and often become more worthless than a bull pup. They also become overbearing and nothing less than a nuisance. The woman or man in Bellefonte who imagines their mission in life is to stay up late at night, drink beer and whiskey, play cards and read dime novels, is either a bad character or a subject for an insane asylum.

That "Sammy" Rumberger, the capable and obliging agent for the American Express company in Bellefonte, has "Jim" Clark and Frank Steele skinned to a finish. He has a big boy out at his home and our friend Clark looks with envy upon "Sam," but admires his ability to do things. The young farmer has already begun the mission in life to stay up late at night, drink beer and whiskey, play cards and read dime novels, is either a bad character or a subject for an insane asylum.

That a certain young lady in Bellefonte who has been disappointed in love several times is now trying to get up what she calls a "Boycott Club." The young ladies do not pledge themselves they will not marry, but they decide to call on all the fascinating belles of the town and beg them not to invite the heartless young men to their homes, teas, receptions or dances, and even stop speaking to them. There are some girls who shook their heads when the proposition was put up to them. If the girls keep a thing like that up long it wouldn't be long until Bellefonte would be a mecca for old maids. The trouble is there's too many now.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Preaching services in the United Brethren churches for Sunday, July 3rd; Paradise at 10:30 a. m.; Julian at 7:30 p. m.

J. P. Kottcamp and family, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are at State College for the summer and are stopping with Mrs. K's father, Dr. W. S. Glenn.

Relatives from Altoona who are tenderly caring for Mrs. Rankin, of Boalsburg, during her illness, are her daughter, Mrs. E. P. McIntire, her sisters, Mrs. Edward Kremer and Mrs. Alexander Everhart, and her niece, Mrs. Sara Hunter.

The condition of Miss Cora Snyder, of State College, who is now taking treatment at a Mt. Clemens sanatorium, is such as to warrant her return home sometime next week. Her many friends will be pleased to learn of her improvement.

The junior civils at State College, have been spending a 10 days' observation trip at Eaglesmere. The class which numbers 52 men, is in charge of Prof. H. B. Shattuck, who is ably assisted by Messrs. Rumsey, Knight, R. O'Donnell and Smith.

The Freeport, Ill., Bulletin, 23rd Inst., says: Robert Goheen, of Rock Springs, Pa., was in the city yesterday on a brief visit to Mr. and Mrs. George Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. Job Musser. He was accompanied by Miss Belle Williams, of Cherry Valley.

Clover three feet tall is reported by a number of our callers, one being W. D. Barges, on one of the Durst farms near Farmers Mills. The hay crop from all reports, is safe to be a fair one and the same can be said of most others—the oats being a little short.

At a special meeting of the Millheim school board, Miss Mae Musser, of Millheim, was elected teacher for the intermediate school. The next school year will be eight months beginning on the last Monday of August. The tax levy was fixed at 7 mills and for building at 3 mills.

J. P. Pillsbury and family, of State College, left on Saturday for St. Louis for the summer. Mr. Pillsbury, however, will spend the time in visiting the gardens and parks in all the principal cities of the west and east, in the interest of the department of horticulture at Penn State.

The board of directors of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Centre county, met on Monday of last week, when applications amounting to $242,682 were passed, and the cash premium $999.26 received. The loss on the Francis Forster house in Penn township, $800, was adjusted and ordered to be paid.

While handling railroad ties the other day, a truck John H. Puff, of Centre Hall, on the foot, injured the member to such an extent that he has since been unable to perform the duties of a railroad section hand. He has been on the "track" for a number of years, but has had few accidents, if any, before.

Deer appear to be quite plentiful. Recently two deer pastured with the cattle in the meadow of Clayton Struble, near State College, and when the cattle reached the barn the deer scampered to the woods. On going to the barn the other Sunday morning he found a fine doe in the barnyard, apparently well contented with its surroundings.

James A. Keller, of Centre Hall, is back from his trip to the south, where he visited his son, Rev. John H. Keller, at Hickory, North Carolina. He had a very delightful trip. Harvesting is over in that State, and there were plenty ripe peaches, apples, etc. There was an excess of rain in North Carolina, the same as here, which interfered with harvesting the crops.

L. Mothersbaugh, of Boalsburg, departed recently for a ten days visit with relatives in Warren, Illinois. Among this number is Dr. Grant Keller and family. Dr. Keller was recently operated on for appendicitis at a hospital in Freeport, Illinois, and has not yet fully recovered. Mrs. Keller is an inmate of the same hospital having been taken there since her husband became afflicted.

One day last week Mrs. Henry Eisenbuth, of High valley, was working in her garden, she discovered a rattlesnake within two feet of where she stood. She stood still and called her husband, who came with his gun and shot the snake. The snake had 13 rattles and measured five feet and four inches in length. It was the largest rattlesnake ever killed in that section and Mrs. Eisenbuth had a very narrow escape.—Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Atherton, of Cleveland, O., who are spending a few weeks with the former's mother and sister, at Pennsylvania State College, will return to their western home about August 1. Mr. Atherton is a noted musician and composer and has been engaged by the Theodore Presser company, music publishing of new compositions and to assist in the judging of the deluge of manuscripts which constantly flood this large publishing house. Mr. Atherton is himself engaged in writing compositions for piano and for violin, which have already found a popular reception in teaching circles.

At a recent meeting of the Ferguson township school board, held Saturday night, the following teachers were elected for the ensuing school term: Pine Grove Mills—H. N. Walker, grammar; Edna Ward, primary; Keplar—Leslie Gates; Glades—Kathryn Bollinger; Halleyville—W. C. Weaver, grammar; Nancy Heberling, primary; Tadpole—Foster Barr; Gatesburg—Florence Keplar; Maringo—Alexander Bowersox; Whitehall—Edward Martz; Oak Grove—Verna Martin; Krumrine—Alfaretta Sensor.

No teacher was chosen for the township high school. The officers of the board are H. M. Krebs, president; Jacob Neldigh, secretary; J. F. Meyers, treasurer.

Mrs. M. V. Lawrence, business manager of the State College Times, was married three weeks ago to Lieutenant Atchison, of the regular army. She became acquainted with him a few years ago while in command of the State College cadets. After a wedding trip they returned to State College last week where they will remain until tomorrow when they will leave for Washington, D. C., where the bridegroom is now stationed. The bride is the widow of Edward E. Lawrence, who at one time was an insurance agent in Bellefonte. Her daughter in Vermont will also be married in a short time. Her son will remain at State College until they dispose of their interests there, when he will go to Washington.

Mrs. G. O. Benner, of Centre Hall, attended the Buddinger-Mann wedding at Snow Shoe, Wednesday evening.

A festival will be held on the United Brethren church lot at Paradise on Saturday evening, July 2. Two balloons of good size will ascend.

Michael Woormer, who went to Illinois a few months ago, has returned to State College. Mike says Pennsylvania is good enough for him.

A fine half-inch shower on Monday night gave the corn and other growing crops another boost, and making all look promising.

Mrs. Sarah DeHass, an elderly lady of Beech Creek, by a fall fractured a bone near the hip. Her condition being critical has brought to her home her children from distant points.

Miss Ruth Holmes, and little brother, Cecil, of Harrisburg, arrived at State College recently to spend the summer with their grandmothers, Mrs. Emily Holmes.

The Rev. R. W. Illingworth and family, of Marietta, are spending their summer vacation at the home of Henry Snyder, on the White Hall road, near State College.

George Meese, the merchant at Colyer, informs us they will have a sale 4th of July at that place. Fireworks in the evening, music, refreshments of all kinds, and a generally good time.

John Camp, Democratic nominee for State representative from Mifflin county, suffered a sunstroke Saturday. Mr. Camp was overcome while painting a roof. His condition was reported improved, but he is not out of danger.

Among the graduates at the Lock Haven Normal school last week were the following from Centre county: Verna Allison, Nutany; Anna J. David and Pamela Huston Snow Shoe; Laura Williams, Hushannon, and Wilbur Dunkle, of Minkoville.

LOYAL TO OLD CENTRE.

Sons and Daughters of the County of Governors on Annual Picnic.

Three hundred natives of Centre county who are now residents of Philadelphia, reunited Saturday afternoon on the seventh annual picnic of the Sons and Daughters of the County of Governors. The picnic was held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Beale, of Philadelphia, at Belmont Park. Among those present were the members of many prominent and influential families in the central part of the State. Cyrus Larue Munson had been invited, but declined with regrets.

The picnic was one of the good old-fashioned "basket" kind where everyone furnishes his own eatables. Arriving at the grounds the picnickers stored their baskets under a large tree and immediately began to renew acquaintances. After several hours of social intercourse the former Centre countians were gathered together to nominate and elect officers. Those elected were: President, Dr. G. Roland Curtin; vice president, Ira D. Garman; treasurer, S. Gray Matern; secretary, C. C. Mattle. After the election the picnic baskets were brought forth and unpacked and an informal out-of-doors dinner took place. The after-dinner speakers were Dr. Curtin, General B. F. Fisher, Ira D. Garman, Dr. J. C. C. Beale, Forster N. Magee and Rev. Robert Harkinson.

Dr. Curtin called attention to the fact that Centre county has given to Pennsylvania five Governors, William Bigler, William F. Packard, Andrew G. Curtin, James A. Beaver and Daniel H. Hastings. California, too, he said, had been governed by a Centre countian—John Bigler.

In connection with the reunion the Centre countians tendered a reception to Captain George P. Runkle, of the schoolship Adams, who is also one of their number. Captain Runkle acknowledged the reception with an address of thanks and welcome, after which he gave an informal recital of the work of the Adams in describing in detail the countries visited and relating many interesting incidents.

The Centre County Association of Philadelphia was founded ten years ago by a number of Philadelphians, who were born and reared in that county, the object being to keep in touch with each other. Since that time the association has so increased as to have at present a membership of about 1000 persons, representing 200 and 400 families. A large proportion of these hail from the Centre, principal towns of Centre county—Bellefonte, Centre Hall and Philipsburg.

Among those at the reunion were: S. H. Griffiths, James Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCafferty, Edward B. Rankin, John I. Rankin, J. E. Hahn, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Mattle, Mr. and Mrs. F. Garman, A. Sternberg, Miss Mayme F. Garman, A. Sternberg, Miss Amanda Tone, Mrs. M. B. Buck, Miss Mayme Butts, Miss Henrietta Butts, Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. M. H. Magee, Miss Marjorie Garman, Miss Mary Garman, Miss Ethel Cox, Miss Katharine Cox, Miss Mary Cox, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Foster, Mr. Mrs. H. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, Dr. David J. Beale, Jr., Mrs. George G. Pifer, Boyd H. Magee, J. W. Klepper, Mrs. Mary Gilmour, the Misses Gilmour, Mrs. P. H. Fairbank, Harry Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Hoover, Harry Brew, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Clark, Mrs. Celia Lichten, Mrs. David J. Beale, Mrs. Emma Greninger and Miss Bessie Greninger.

This was the largest number that ever attended, over 200 present, representing all sections of Centre county, came flocking out to the park with their arms full of babies, baskets and packages of all sizes.

A ladies' aid was organized with following members: Mrs. Mary Magee, Mrs. Dr. Matern, Mrs. Robert Harkinson, Mrs. E. H. Cooke, Mrs. W. W. Cox, Miss Eva Riche, Miss Mary Butts.

Corn in Hogs.

Joseph Bever, a farmer living near Waldron, sold a bunch of fifty-nine hogs for $923, at an average of $15.50 for each hog. Mr. Bever kept a record of the number of bushels of corn fed the porkers, and in comparing this with the price received for the hogs, is shown that he received $1.54 a bushel for the corn.

At these prices it would seem that raising corn and hogs is a profitable business, especially if the corn is put into the hogs. The farmers have been told that for years by the agricultural journals, but the trouble with the farmer is that he does not want to be bothered with the keeping of accounts. At a much lower price than that which now rules for hogs, it would seem that a combination of hog and corn would pay pretty well.—Freeport Journal.

Kept the King at Home.

"For the past year we have kept the king of all laxatives—Dr. King's New Life Pills—in our home and they have proved a blessing to all our family," writes Paul Matulka, of Buffalo, N. Y. "I am sure every family for stomach and kidney troubles. Only 25c at Green's Pharmacy Co., Bellefonte.

IMPROVED COACHES.

According to an announcement made to-day, the Pennsylvania Railroad System has in service on its lines, or on order, nearly two thousand passenger cars of all steel construction. These cars have been added to the Company's passenger equipment since June, 1906, when it was announced that all future additions to passenger equipment on the Pennsylvania System would be of all steel construction.

The Lines of the Pennsylvania System, on all of which steel cars will be operated, include the Pennsylvania Railroad Lines East and West of Pittsburgh and Erie, the Long Island Railroad, the Cumberland Valley Railroad, the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railroad, the Vandalia Railroad, and the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railway.

The Pullman company is at present constructing a sufficient number of steel sleeping and parlor cars to equip the entire Pennsylvania System. These cars are now being delivered at the rate of from 50 to 60 a month. Already there are in service on through trains 75 sleepers, and 5 combined parlor and baggage cars. When the present order is completed there will be in service on the Pennsylvania System some 600 all-steel Pullman cars; this number is included in the 1988 cars now in use or on order.

The steel passenger cars on the Pennsylvania System have been called "Dreadnaught" cars by reason of their construction. They weigh some 118,500 pounds as against 85,000 pounds in the standard vestibule wooden coach. This increase in weight very greatly reduces the vibration of the car, thereby adding to the comfort of passengers. The car is noncollapsible, its principal feature being a central box girder 43-7/8 inches wide by nineteen inches deep extending throughout the entire length of the coach; this girder, in collisions, prevents telescoping. The car is fire proof, containing only about 125 pounds of wood; the latter is used for window frames and arm rests in the seats.

In the steel equipment now in service, there are 457 coaches, 22 dining cars, 34 passenger and baggage cars, 23 baggage, 78 postal and 80 Pullman cars. In addition to these there are on order or under construction at the present time, 502 steel coaches, 23 steel dining cars, 83 passenger and baggage cars, 83 baggage, 35 postal, 23 baggage and mail, 1 combination motor car, and some 520 Pullman cars.

The 704 steel cars in use at present on the L. S. R. cars on order, the Pennsylvania System will shortly have available for use on its lines East and West of Pittsburgh and Erie a total of 1,988 solid steel passenger equipment cars.

LITTLE SUFFERER FROM ECZEMA

Grew Worse in Spite of Six Months of Ablest Treatment—Sleep Terribly Broken—Face, Head and Hands Masses of Dreadful Humor.

A SINGLE SET OF CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I feel it my duty to let you know with what success I have used the Cuticura Remedies. When our baby was seven weeks old he broke out with what we thought was heat but which gradually grew worse. We called in a doctor. He said it was eczema and from that time we doctored six months with three of the best doctors in Atchison but he only got worse. His face, head and hands were a solid sore. There was no end to the suffering for him. We had to tie his little hands to keep him from scratching. It never knew what it was to sleep well from the time he took the disease until he was cured. He kept us awake all hours in the night and his health wasn't what you would call good. We tried everything but the right thing. Finally I got a set of the Cuticura Remedies and am pleased to say we did not use all of them until he was cured. We have waited a year and a half to see if it would return but it never has and to-day his skin is clear and fair as it possibly could be. I hope Cuticura may save some one else's little one's suffering and also their pocket-books. John Lennon, 1403 Atchison St., Atchison, Kan., Oct. 19, 1909."

Cuticura comfort for all who suffer from facial eruptions such as acne (pimples and blackheads), acne rosacea, facial eczema, ringworm, tetter, redness, roughness and only perspiration is found in gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment followed by warm baths with Cuticura Soap. For preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands of infants, children and adults, Cuticura Soap and Ointment are priceless.

Cuticura Soap (25c), Cuticura Ointment (50c) and Cuticura Resolvent (50c), or in the form of Y. S. Cream, are sold by all druggists throughout the world. Post-Office Box 107, Cuticura, 1403 Atchison St., Atchison, Mo., U.S.A. For full description, treatment and cure of disease of the skin.

USED UNIVERSALLY

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

WHEN Cortright Metal Shingles were first introduced (24 years ago) you had some excuse for being sceptical. But now— If you are sceptical it can only be because you do not know the facts in the case. They are used today from the Atlantic to the Pacific for all kinds of buildings, under all conditions. They are fireproof, stormproof; never leak and last as long as the building itself without needing repairs. For further detailed information apply to Local Contractors or Roofers or CORTRIGHT METAL ROOFING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

WHO GETS IT? The railroads and beef and other trusts are about raising their rates—the beef trust has already raised its prices. These skimmers allege that they are not making anything—all interested have become multi-millionaires already by exactions from the public and now would skin it to the bone. That they tell tales of falsehoods is clearly shown by the following:

The New York Journal of Commerce shows that the railroads will pay out $3,000,000 of dividends July 1 more than they did a year ago, the industrial concerns will pay out $7,000,000 more in dividends, and the traction companies and banks and trust companies will pay out small increases over last year. Altogether, the July interest disbursements will be $11,000,000 greater than last year. There will be an increase of $8,000,000 in interest, half of which will come from the railroads. So far the railroads have not been doing badly, and if their gross earnings continue to gain, as they have been gaining for months, the percentage of operating expenses will drop back to inconspicuous figures.

The trusts are making big money and paying big dividends whilst the dinner pails remain empty owing to high prices and little work, and thousands of working men are out of jobs.

Alcohol to Children

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely. Children do not need stimulating." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. Follow his advice. He knows. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The first great rule of health—"Daily movement of the bowels." Ask your doctor if this is not so. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. Sold for nearly sixty years.
