UNTIMELY DEATH OF JOHN G. BAUDIS.

GREW DESPONDENT OVER FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

SHOT HIMSELF IN THE HEAD

Death Came Instantly From the Wound—Wrote a Letter—Was the Merry-Go-Round Man—Lived at Benore—Died at Williamsport.

John G. Baudis, of Benore, Centre county, in a fit of despondency over bad merry-go-round business, shot and instantly killed himself at the Litcher & Moore park, at South Williamsport, on Monday night. The bullet did the work, as it entered the right temple. The tragedy occurred about 9 o'clock while lying on a cot in the tent occupied by his men. The body was found in the tent by an employe who with others was near the tent where Baudis made his headquarters and heard a revolver discharged. Officers of the Citizens' Hose company were notified. When the body was searched $43.88 was found in the pockets of the clothing.

Baudis died almost instantly. Justice of the Peace Milton Furey, who officiated at an inquest in the absence of Coroner Hardt, found near Baudis' body an unfinished letter beginning "My dear little wife," and bearing the date of August 14. The letter complained that the merry-go-round was killing him. The letter contained the directions to his burial. In it he directed his wife to take him to Pine Hall. Baudis was about fifty-eight years old.

Baudis had two employes, a white man and a negro. These said that Baudis was not behind on his payments to them and that he did not know that he was seriously in debt in any direction. They said that following a breakdown of the machinery of the merry-go-round last Friday night Baudis became despondent. The men had made the rounds with him this season. Before opening on the South Side the amusement had been at Snow Shoe and at one other location near there. The men declared that during the entire summer Baudis did not take in more cash than paid his expenses and that he became gloomy. The merry-go-round had been taken down Saturday and was partly ready for shipment.

For a number of seasons Mr. Baudis was found running his merry-go-round at Hecla Park, and at the Centre County Fair. At one time he had his merry-go-round in operation at Bellefonte on the green, near Gamble, Gheen & Co's mill. He was a good, clever gentleman, and had many warm sympathizing friends, who will be sorry to hear of his tragic death. He was 56 years of age. He had been successful in business for some time. He owned a little property at Scotia and even if the merry-go-round business was a little dull it was no reason why he should have taken his life. He offered his merry-go-round for sale recently for the purpose of leaving this country and going way up into the interior of Canada, where he has two sons. He never accomplished his purpose because he could not secure the price he asked for his machine. His wife and son, of Benore, on hearing the sad news, went to Williamsport on Tuesday morning and had the body prepared for burial. The remains passed through Bellefonte on Tuesday morning and burial was made according to the request made in the letter to his wife.

56th Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Klein, formerly of Bellefonte and now residing at 31 1/2 Sagamore street, Lynn, Mass., will celebrate their 56th wedding anniversary August 17th.

They had eight children, all of whom were born in Bellefonte, and are all alive at present and married and residing at different sections of the United States. Some are at Cleveland, New Mexico, Trinidad, Col., New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Lynn.

Mr. Klein will no doubt be remembered as he at one time was band teacher. The old couple are enjoying good health and still have a warm spot for Bellefonte.

Fire at Sinnemahoning.

The large general store of Barclay Brothers, together with practically all the stock, was burned and Shaffer's hotel, about 15 feet distant, was also destroyed on Monday night.

Shaffer's hotel where the fire is supposed to have started was also a complete loss, the occupants saving only a small part of the furnishings. The buildings were old land marks, having been erected about 70 years ago. It has always been headquarters for politicians and a rendezvous for hunters.

Lands Her Six-Pound Carp.

In trying to land a six-pound carp at Spruce Creek on Friday Miss Bessie Gallagher, of Altoona, was almost dragged into the Juniata River several times. The fish took the bait on a fly and a royal battle followed. Miss Gallagher, being quite a piscatorial artist, eventually landed her prize, the largest of the species caught there this summer.

Clinton County Deaths.

Among those Clinton county residents who died recently were: Robert Mills, aged 65, of Lock Haven; John Crowley, of Lock Haven; Squire H. S. Mitchell, of Flemington, who died at the age of 78 years at Mount Union, where he was visiting his son; Mrs. Elizabeth Long, aged 63, of Haver; William McDonald, aged 55, of Lock Haven.

Opera House Condemned.

The old Pierce opera house, at Phillipsburg, was condemned this week, and in consequence there will be no attractions in that place until the building is put in proper condition.

TOWN CLOCK SOLD.

Goes to Phillipsburg Borough for the Sum of $10.

The sale of the former furnishings at the Court House was held on Saturday and was largely attended. There was some lively bidding for some of the articles, while others went at bargain prices. The famous old town clock, which was purchased over fifty years ago by the borough of Bellefonte and did duty right along in the tower of the Court House all that time since, was among the articles sold. The borough, by resolution, surrendered all claim to the mechanism and that permitted the commissioners to offer it for sale. The only bid for the clock was made by ex-burgess H. C. Warfel, of Phillipsburg, and it went to him without any competition for the small sum of $10. Before the clock was sold the commissioners announced that it would have to be sold to some town in the county for public use, and that limited the bidding. The mechanism of the clock is said to be in splendid shape and capable of running out the century and then some more, under ordinary care, and for that reason Mr. Warfel felt that he got a bargain, and went back across the mountains happy over the purchase he had made. The clock, if sold to outside parties, would have been worth at least $200, but as long as it remains in the county the matter of the price is not of so much moment.

The clock will be taken to Phillipsburg at once, and after thoroughly cleaned and repaired will be placed on the public building at that place where it will be a relic to be admired and of use to the citizens of the town. Another benefit, hereafter, there will be no excuse for some of the people of that town forgetting the hour of the night and failing to be at home with their families at a reasonable hour.

In many ways the good people of Phillipsburg will appreciate the old town clock that for over half a century peeped forth the passing of time from the belfry over the Temple of Justice.

LOST OR STOLEN.

On Thursday of last week, James K. Barnhart, cashier of the Bellefonte First National Bank, had a strange thing happen to him. He came up town early in the morning where he attended market. After returning home he and his son, Philip, thought they would take a morning constitutional by walking down the State road to the round house of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. They crossed the bridge and came up the Pennsylvania track to Gamble, Gheen & Co's mill. From there they went to their home on West Lynn street. After breakfast Mr. Barnhart attempted to look at the time of day when he made the discovery that his gold watch and chain were gone. He immediately searched the house but no trace of it could be found. He and his son went over the route they had just traveled for several hours. Now the question is, did he lose the watch and chain or were burglars in his bedroom who stole it. If burglars did enter his home they did it so slick that nobody knew they were there as nothing indicated that the midnight plunderers were around. On the other hand, if anybody found a watch and chain on Thursday along the route traveled, it evidently belongs to Mr. Barnhart.

Fake Hold-Up.

On Saturday night Samuel Justice, of Bellefonte, hunted up politician Dukeman and Justice and, in an exciting way, told them he had been held up by a couple of men while passing the coaches near the station of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. He claimed he had been working in the woods, near Julian, for a man by the name of Moore, and had just been paid his month's wages, and while passing the coaches the highwaymen sprang out and a fight took place, when $12.50 was taken from him. The officers at once went with Mr. Justice to the scene of the hold-up where they spent an hour or more making a thorough search for the fellows who committed the deed. In the meantime Justice disappeared, which made the officers a little suspicious as to whether the story was true.

Monday Officer Harry Dukeman, Justice on the base ball grounds and so cornered him that he was compelled to admit that the hold-up story was a fake, pure and simple.

Berry At Boalsburg.

A large picnic will be held at McFarlane's grove, one half mile east of Boalsburg, on Friday, August 26th, which will be attended generally by the citizens of that portion of the valley. It is the third annual gathering of the kind and has always proved a successful event, and has been under the direction of Geo. M. Fisher, one of the special features of the program will be the attendance of ex-state treasurer Wm. H. Berry who will arrive in the morning and spend the day there, being on the program for an address in the afternoon. Al. Dea, Esq., of Bellefonte, is also booked for an address and will be sure to give them something appropriate and eloquent.

As Mr. Berry is a prominent figure in the political arena at this time in the state, his presence there will be sure to attract many who will be anxious to pay their respects to the distinguished gentleman and hear his address.

Picnic and Festival.

Washington camp, No. 385, P. O. S. of A., of Blanchard, will hold its annual picnic in Eaton's grove Saturday of this week. It promises to attract a great crowd. All of the local Sunday schools have been invited. A parade will form at 9 a. m. In the evening a festival will be held on the base ball grounds.

New World's Trotting Record.

Driven by Charles Tanner, of Cleveland, Ohio, C. K. G. Billings' black gelding Ublan on Friday established a new world's record by trotting a mile at North Randal track without a windshield in 1:58 1/2, beating Lou Dillon's record by 2 1/2 seconds.

The man who is fond of day dreams ought to be a night watchman.

PURDUE FAMILY HOLD A REUNION

FRIENDS AND RELATIVES MEET ON HISTORICAL SPOT.

SEVERAL PATRIARCHS PRESENT

Meet on the Old Purdue Farm on Top of Muncy Mountains—List of Those Present—Had a Most Enjoyable Time.

One of the historical spots around Bellefonte is on the top of Muncy mountain at what is known as the Purdue farm. A short distance from this is located one of the oldest cemeteries in this section of the county. In this are buried quite a number of the oldest inhabitants of the county, among which are the Purdue family. Those who are interested in the history of the county should visit this ancient city of the dead, and they would find much that would appeal to them. Long before Bellefonte was a borough there were people living on these heights whose life and character would be of interest to our people.

Mrs. Amanda Gummo, of Rib Lake, Wisconsin, is now on a visit to her sisters, Mrs. George Rhoads and Mrs. Clarence Tate, and her father, Thomas Purdue, at Coleville. On Sunday about sixty members of the Purdue family climbed the mountain road and at the old homestead they lingered to recall memories of the past, when even the oldest present, in their youthful glories, roamed over the hills and mountains. Among these was Thomas Purdue, who is 82 years of age. He was born and raised on the farm, and left a few years ago when farm life became too irksome and he was compelled to seek employment more befitting to his advanced age. Mr. Purdue's account of his life on the top of this mountain is filled with much that will be appreciated by the average man. In his father's days it was a common thing to see Indians and wild beasts roaming through the dense forests.

Another gentleman present who could speak of the early history of the Purdue mountains was Martin Brower, who is 79 years of age and still resides in that vicinity. His version of mountain life in the early history of this section of the country was also of a nature that elicited much attention.

When dinner time came a large table was spread among the trees in the orchard, which was laden with all the choice viands of the season. It was a meal "fit to serve a king." Down in the valley the sun's rays beat down in torrents, while on the mountain top there was a gentle breeze which added much to the comfort of those who sat around the festive board.

After dinner the company took a stroll to the different peaks overlooking both Buffalo Run and Bald Eagle valleys. These were beautiful sights, even grander than that portrayed by the hand of the artists. The afternoon passed too quickly, and as the shades of evening were falling the Purdue family took another glance of farewell to the old home, ground which cling to many pleasant memories, and then departed for their homes, deeply impressed with what they had seen and heard during the day.

Among those who were present were Martin Brower and family, Joseph Lowery and family, E. S. Way and family, Geo. M. Eickley and sister Sarah, James Rowan and family, Albert Schad and family, Edward Rhone and family, Snyder Tate and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Oliger, Mrs. Jacob Houser, Miles Houser and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Rhoads and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Lola Dove, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Amanda Gummo, of Rib Lake, Wis., and Thomas Purdue, Mrs. John Dawson, Mrs. Bert Poorman and William Purdue were unable to be present on account of illness.

Mrs. Bathurst Injured.

A painful accident befel Mrs. Sarah Bathurst on Thursday about noon. She is 81 years of age and resides in Pike Alley, in the rear of Parley's drug store. She had come out on the street to see the circus parade and while standing on the curb in front of Shaffer's store, a horse frightened and she made a sudden misstep and fell on the edge of the stone curb sustaining a serious intra-capsular fracture of the left thigh. Mrs. Bathurst was removed to the hospital and on Saturday was taken to her home, expecting to be taken to the home of her daughter later, who resides in Pittsburgh. Owing to her advanced age there is much doubt as to whether she will ever fully recover from the serious injury.

Must Support His Father.

Judge Evans, of Columbia county court, ordered P. H. Shuman, of Catawissa, to pay his aged father $20 a month for his support. At the hearing the aged parent told the judge that he had given the son much property and he was grieved when his son refused to provide for him any longer.

Slaughter of Copperheads.

While sitting on the porch in front of his home at Carlisle on Sunday evening, John Evans, of that place, noticed a large snake passing near him. He immediately secured a brick and in an instant dispatched the reptile. The snake proved to be a copperhead, the most venomous of that section of the country, and measured three feet, four inches in length. This is the largest copperhead killed in that vicinity for many years. Inside the snake was about fifty young ones, and over thirty of these were killed. Several eggs were also found.

FAMOUS BRASS BAND 55 YEARS AGO

BELLEFONTE MUSICIANS WHO COULD TOOT A HORN.

F. P. GREEN WAS THE LEADER

Played for the Bellefonte Fencibles Before the War—Some are Still Living—The Present City Band—List of Musicians—Good Organization.

Bellefonte has always been a mecca for musicians, and for over fifty years back the town has never been without some kind of a musical organization. One of the oldest band musicians in Bellefonte is Frank P. Green, the druggist, who joined an organization of this kind in 1855, 55 years ago. Most of the members of this organization have fulfilled their mission in this life and passed to their reward. Among these were the following: Fred Smith, leading E-flat cornet; Joseph McMeen, 2nd E-flat; Davir Bollinger, 3rd E-flat cornet; F. Pottler, 4th E-flat cornet; E. M. Blanchard, 2nd B-flat; cornet; alto, John T. Johnson, Jack T. Bayard and Robert Cassidy, the latter now residing in Canton, Ohio; tenors, W. W. Montgomery, George T. Bayard and Jacob Schrom; baritone, Wm. Biele; tuba, Austin Snyder and Col. David T. Tate; bass drum, James Briebein; base drum, Thomas Nolan. Fred Smith was the first leader and after his death Frank Potts Green became the leader. The band always went out with the Bellefonte Fencibles until the soldier boys went to the front. They were all born musicians and as a band were known far and wide.

What is known now as the Bellefonte City Band has been organized. Every member of the famous Coleville band has become a member. This makes it one of the best musical organizations in this part of Pennsylvania. In addition to this, several new members of considerable musical talent, have been added. The boys must be uniformed and to this end a subscription is being circulated which is being liberally signed. A little encouragement and support by the citizens of Bellefonte will result in making this one of the most popular organizations in the town. The members have been practicing for several months and they play well. The following are the names of the members: Samuel Bryan, William Bryan, William Royer, E. Cox, Scot Lose, Willis Wian, Clayton Rice, Charles Stover, James Rider, Clayton Rider, Clarence Rhoads, William Rine, George Glenn, Calvin Lambert, Frank Martin, Arthur Dickinson, James Bailey, Edward Zimmerman, Charles and Thomas Sheehler, Henry Brown and Louis Hill.

Gaynor Out in 2 Weeks.

Mayor Gaynor's progress toward recovery from the bullet wound inflicted by James J. Gallagher was interrupted by any untoward symptoms. All official bulletins were of the same tenor as those heretofore issued. Surgeons in attendance predicted that he will be able to leave the hospital for the Adirondacks in two weeks' time and be back at his desk in the city hall, if he so desires, within a month. His condition is very encouraging and we all look for rapid recovery.

Detectives are carefully investigating the rumor that Gallagher was the tool of others who sought to take the Mayor's life, but so far not a shred of evidence to support this has been found. Gallagher reiterated that he acted entirely alone because he thought he was the object of persecution by city officials.

One For Senator Heinle.

S. E. Lindsey, editor of the Smith-post Democrat, says that it was his privilege to travel from Lock Haven to Philadelphia recently in company with ex-Senator W. C. Heinle, of Bellefonte, Pa., the Democratic nominee for Congress in this district. This was the first time that we ever had the pleasure of meeting the Congressional nominee, and we are more than glad to state that the Democratic electors of the 21st District made no mistake when they nominated the able Centre county gentleman as their standard bearer in the pending campaign. We were assured that Mr. Heinle is a most effective public speaker, and that his eloquent voice would undoubtedly be heard in McKean county during the campaign. Mr. Heinle informed us that he expected to visit this county again in about two weeks.

Centre County Fair.

The Centre County Fair association have decided to hold their annual fair at the fair grounds, just outside the borough limits, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 4, 5, 6, and 7. Although considerable damage was wrought at the grounds of the association this spring by flood, this will all be repaired and the same put in better condition than before. From plans already formulated the fair this fall promises to be one of the largest and most successful in the history of the association, and it is hoped that the farmers of the county will take an early and active interest therein. The prizes offered will compare very favorably with those of previous years and a fine exhibition of stock, poultry, and farm implements will undoubtedly be given.

Lane is Agin Victor.

The first day's play in the Tennis Association of Northwestern Pennsylvania on the courts of the Clinton County club on Monday furnished tennis of a surprising quality to the large body of spectators in attendance. Perhaps the feature of the day's play was the match between Stanley Talbot, of Williamsport, and E. E. Lane, of Bellefonte, the present holder of the cup. Talbot was considered a runner-up and it took all the ability of the clever Lane to defeat him, 6-4, 8-7. Nearly every game in the second set went to deuce and victory in the set for either one often hinged on one point. Lane showed up stronger at the net than his opponent, and his accurate returning of the lobs was a feature of his play. Talbot shone in his back-court play and careful placing, but his strength gave out and Lane rather easily won the deciding game.

The second day's play of the tournament saw the defeat of E. E. Lane, of Bellefonte, the present holder of the cup, by E. T. Newman, of Smethport, 6-2, 6-1.

Casey Accepts.

John Casey, of Wilkesbarre, has accepted the nomination of the Keystone party for secretary of Internal Affairs. Casey is a union labor leader and is the labor representative on the "third ticket."

KILLS HIS BROTHER.

He Accidentally Touched the Trigger of a Rifle.

Shortly before noon Saturday, Donald Henderson, aged 5 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus D. Henderson, of North Bend, Clinton county, was standing in the doorway and saw a bird in a tree in the yard and exclaimed "I'll shoot that bird!" He entered the house and getting a chair reached to a top shelf in the cupboard where a box containing three cart-ridges was, and took one out and then went across the hall to a back room where a rifle was standing which had not been used since last fall.

While Donald was in the act of placing the cartridge in the gun, his oldest sister came in to hang up some clothing. She was followed by Marcellus Dean and Elinor, twins, aged 4 years. As the older sister saw Donald with the rifle, she told her brother that he should put it away, and in so doing attracted the boy's attention from what he was doing he unconsciously touched the trigger. The bullet struck Dean in the back of the head and came out at the forehead, taking off the top of his head and blowing out the brains, killing him instantly. The bullet continued through the partition, across a cellar way and imbedded in the partition on the opposite side. The unfortunate lad was not more than four feet from the muzzle of the gun when it was discharged. The mother, who was in the kitchen ironing, on hearing the report of the gun rushed in to see what had happened and at the same time William Mauck, a neighbor came in to see what was the matter. They picked the boy up, but on seeing the nature of the injury and that he was dead, left the body and sent for the father, who is employed at the shops in Renovo as a gang leader in the wheel and axle department.

It was indeed a sad home when the reporter visited the scene of the accident and the parents have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement. The father recently destroyed a revolver so as to prevent accident and while knowing that the rifle was in the house, neither the mother nor the boy knew of any cartridges being about the premises. The boy evidently had seen his uncle, who makes his home at the Henderson house, place the cartridges in the cupboard, which was his first thought when he saw the bird.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

George Sunday, the Bishop street tailor, met with a singular and unfortunate accident on Tuesday which gave him a little vacation. He was cleaning a lady's skirt with gasoline; standing nearby in a can was a quart of the inflammable substance, which he was using. The top of the can was off, and in a twinkling of an eye there was an explosion that made the glass in the house rattle. The flames shot up high, and the first thing Mr. Sunday knew he was enveloped with flames. His clothing caught fire, and the only thing that saved him from an awful death was his thoughtfulness in running to the high grass in the yard, and rolling around in it. The shirt sleeve of the right arm was burned off, and the flesh on his hand and arm were burned. The rear of the building caught fire but it was extinguished before any damage was done. How the accident occurred is unexplainable. Mr. Sunday had no fire around. A conjecture is that the gasoline so penetrated the air that the heat from a stove in the vicinity might have caused the explosion. Gasoline is a treacherous article and must be handled with the greatest of care. It will be some time before Mr. Sunday will be able to handle the needle and thread again.

Booster Day.

"Booster Day" on last Friday in the interest of the Bellefonte base ball club, proved a howling success, with the exception of winning the game. As often has happened, the Bellefonte team fell down at the most critical moment. Those fault it was could be clearly seen but no comment is necessary here. The crowd at the ball park was one of the largest that ever assembled in Bellefonte to witness a baseball game, showing that our people could be aroused on the subject. What they want is good ball and they will be there.

The young lady who sold the most tickets for the ball game was Miss Rose Beezer. She succeeded in getting in 196, making her the winner of the first prize of $15 in gold. Miss Kathrine Allison sold over 139 tickets and was given the second prize of $5. These young ladies together with Miss Annie Nolan and the other young ladies who sold tickets are to be congratulated upon their good and efficient work. Manager Clayton Brown, of the scenic deserves credit for what he did on Friday evening to help boost the club. The receipts of the day amounted to something over $300 which was good.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The following are the scores since our last issue: August 12—Bellefonte 9, Clearfield 5; Osceola 1, Phillipsburg 0. August 13—Bellefonte 9, Clearfield 5; Osceola 5, Phillipsburg 1. The following are the averages of the teams:

After Friday's loop-the-loop, Mr. Beame was retired at short stop, and on Saturday went home. Now, Beame was a good player, but been it was Beame the managers did a good stunt by retiring him. His place was filled by Baty; Eberle took Dillon's place at centre field. Dillon, however, is not out of the game, because he is all right. Both the new men have been making good. From this out most of the games for Bellefonte will be played at home.

Many a fellow doesn't realize that he loves a girl until some other fellow comes along and takes her.

THE ANNUAL PICNIC AT BAILEYVILLE

WILL BE A LARGE GATHERING ON SATURDAY.

REUNION OF CO., E., 45TH REG.

Will be Held on the Same Date—Effort to Erect a Monument—Other Gatherings of Note—Prominent Speakers Present.

The annual Baileyville picnic, which is always the big event of the year, is on Saturday, August 20, and it is safe to predict that all Ferguson township will be there as well as scores of people from adjoining townships.

This eighteenth annual picnic and will no doubt be a greater success than ever before. The committee in charge have arranged a splendid program of amusements so that all can have a royal time. Two games of ball at 10:30 a. m. by two local teams, and in the afternoon Allen M. Moser's bascule ball team will come together. Races of various sorts, such as foot races, barrel races, potato races, etc., will be pulled off. A merry-go-round will also be on the ground to furnish amusement. Music for this delightful occasion will be furnished by the Baileyville cornet band. Refreshments of all kinds will be served. A lunch counter with hot coffee and sandwiches will be established on the grounds. Positively no fakers allowed on the grounds.

At the same time and place the surviving members of company E, 45th regiment Penna. Vols., met to celebrate the 49th annual reunion in celebration of the anniversary of their leaving for the seat of war. This gathering will be of unusual interest as the committee has booked as speakers, Gen. James A. Beaver, Hon. J. C. Meyer, Hon. W. C. Heinle, Hon. J. C. Hicks, of Tyrone, and Rev. Ralph Illingsworth. On that occasion the committee appointed at last year's reunion to arrange for the building of a monument to the company will make its report and as it will be a favorable one definite action will be taken by the association on the occasion of their fiftieth anniversary in August of next year.

It might here be said that there is not another company in the United States more deserving of a monument than company E. During its term of enlistment the members traveled over thirteen thousand miles and fought in a dozen or more different States. They were in thirty-four engagements and their percentage of killed and wounded was fifth on the list of all the companies in the war, while their dead were buried in ten different States. The company was recruited entirely in Ferguson, Halfmoon and Patton townships, Centre county, and from Franklin township, Huntingdon county, and on the roster were the names of all the well known families of that section.

After Friday's loop-the-loop, Mr. Beame was retired at short stop, and on Saturday went home. Now, Beame was a good player, but been it was Beame the managers did a good stunt by retiring him. His place was filled by Baty; Eberle took Dillon's place at centre field. Dillon, however, is not out of the game, because he is all right. Both the new men have been making good. From this out most of the games for Bellefonte will be played at home.
