Bright, Newsy Letters From the Various Sections of the County.

SPRING MILLS.

The next Berry crop will be a big one.

Those who are going to tent at the Granger picnic are: Mrs. C. A. Krape, T. M. Gramley, Windom Gramley, Dr. Braucht, John Smith, W. H. Smith, Nane Sweetwood, Mrs. C. P. Long, Samuel Condo, Verna Strunk, Mrs. Donakle, O. T. Corman, W. O. Gramley, Luther Royer, John Snavely, John Huss, Elmer Ripka, Harvey Brian, Rev. Lantz and Joe Solt. There are more than any previous year.

There are two traveling men who once in a while send two young girls to our hotel, waiting and singing, "I am waiting for you." Later in the day, sure enough, the two agents who stopped at Millheim, come driving along with two horses in a carriage and take them to Penn Cave hotel; of course it was only for a night.

Berry is the same man that was elected State Treasurer.

Wm. Allison has the lumber ready to put in a new forebay at the breast of the mill dam.

Who lifted the lid at Harrisburg?—Berry did.

Hunting season is not here yet but we get some good examples by some of our local sports. They take their dogs and guns, go out and chase rabbits. This is unlawful; I do not say they shoot any rabbits, but I would not trust them.

William Grove, T. M. Gramley and W. H. Smith were appointed to go to Woodward as road viewers.

H. I. Breen and Warren Wood have started in handling crushed stone and lime and the best cement in the market. Anyone in need of anything in their line will do well to call on them.

Who was the fault of sending the capitol grafters to States prison? It was Berry.

The P. R. Co. did this community a great favor in giving us a new station agent.

Wm. Grove spent Sunday with his family; he has been away all summer along the line of the Huntingdon and Broad Top railroad, surveying State land.

The heavy rains we had in the last week raised the streams considerably; it was the best rain we had this summer.

Bill Berry is the man you will all understand.

He is well educated and merry; His influence is great and for votes he will take the cake.

There is none such a man as Bill Berry.

AARONSBURG.

Prof. R. U. Wasson returned from State College on Saturday where he had been employed the last five months; he is now teaching the Co-burn High school.

W. H. Phillips and Samuel Beaver took a trip to Renovo and Lock Haven last week.

Mrs. and Miss Hoy, Ida Bell, and Pomeroy Brooks, of Pleasant Gap, spent a few days very pleasantly here, at the home of Prof. R. U. Wasson.

Mrs. Jane Minnich Bollinger and daughter, of Phillipsburg, were the welcome guests of their niece, Mrs. E. G. Minnie and Mrs. Sue Rote.

Rufus Beaver spent a few weeks with his uncle, A. S. Stover; he has returned to his home at State College.

Ira Gramley, who is employed in the Millheim meat market, while in the act of killing a beef, his knife slipped and cut his knee very badly.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiblinger, nee Lodia Acker, from Chicago, paid her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Acker's, a welcome visit and took her sister, Mildred, along home with her.

Homer Zerby, of Youngstown, Ohio, came to see his best girl, Bessie Stover, daughter of George and Zena Stover, and of course took her along for good. The writer wishes her a bright and happy life.

Martha and Beatrice McCall left on Monday morning for a brief stay at State College.

Irene Dornblazer, of Springfield, O., spent a day with her relatives and friends. She is on her way to China as a teacher in the mission field there.

Our schools opened here on Monday and will be taught as follows: Prof. C. C. Kreamer, high school; Lloyd C. Stover, grammar; Helen Stover Intermediate; Ruth Swabb, primary.

Marion Stover is visiting at West Fairview; will go from there to Harrisburg to attend the lady business college; her many friends all wish her success.

Clarence Hains, of Woodward, is sojourning with his brother John, for a few weeks.

Hannah Musser and daughter, and Adaline Edmonds, spent the Sabbath at Smullton.

Jennie Gramley and her friend, Mary Zettle, of Lewistown, spent a day with her uncle, Tom Silver, at Wolfe chapel.

Mrs. Wilson Burd left on Monday morning to spend a few months at State College.

COLYER.

Mrs. Susan Long returned home after spending a week with her children in Millin county.

Quite a number of friends remembered Mrs. Stuart Jordan's birthday on September 2, by giving a handkerchief shower; she received 36 in all.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Seanson and family autored from near State College to the home of Edward Hubbs, last Monday, where they spent the day very pleasantly.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Homer spent over Sunday with friends at Potter Mills.

Some of the farmers around this vicinity have already sown wheat, while there are still others not through plowing.

We are glad to note that Grandmother Schaffer, who was among the sick for the past week, is again able to be around.

Miss Eva Fryer, of Coburn, is spending a few days with her sister Mrs. James Swabb.

FILLMORE.

We are having quite a lot of rain, which was greatly needed, as farmers could scarcely plow, it being so very dry.

About all our people attended the Odd Fellows' picnic at Hunter's Park on Monday.

Mrs. Dickerson and daughter, of Ohio, returned home after a week's visit at the Kephart home. Miss Eva accompanied them home.

Mrs. Boyd, of Camden, N. J., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Hunter.

Steward Taylor, son of Rev. R. A. Taylor, of Howard, is visiting friends in this community.

WINGATE.

L. S. Way, the proficient P. R. R. operator here who has been working in the Train Dispatchers office at Tyrone during the last two months, has resumed his former position as 2nd tripper operator here.

By a regrettable error in last week's items the names of Mrs. Eli Stere and daughter, Dora, were omitted from the list of those who attended Williams reunion of Martha.

The sick of the week are Chas. McLaughlin, Aaron Long, M. E. Flynn and Marcella Harnish.

Look for your noise producing instruments boys as we see signs of a wedding in the near future.

C. G. Murray, wife and children visited their parental home here last week.

The old proverb, "It is better to give than to receive" may be believed but not practiced as was shown here last week when three women were chased out of a patch of elder berries by a cat who never has or never will use them. Such persons as cut their berry bushes down and burn them to keep worthy people from picking them should remember there will be a fire hereafter.

Mrs. Mary E. Snyder is spending some time at Pittsburg and vicinity.

Miss Sue McLaughlin represented herself and sister, Mrs. John Smith at the Pine Grove meeting last week.

Those who spent Sunday here among their respective friends were, Miss Elsie, Harry and Charles Kerchner, of Unionville and Frank Kerchner, of Port Matilda; C. B. Harnish and R. M. Summers, of Tyrone; James Haines, wife and family, of Conemaugh; Ruth and Geo. Young and Herbert Test, of Bellefonte; Guy Alexander and Newell Fisher, of Plum Grove; Harry Kellerman, wife and family, Clyde Peters, Ralph McLaughlin, of Milesburg; Geo. Brown, of State College; Lego's P. R. R. Italian hand of Tyrone, Leonard Watson, of Smoke Run; Irvin Lucas, of Curtin; Wm. Cogan, of Snow Shoe.

P. G. Murray spent Sunday afternoon at Tyrone.

Did you see those cack-kay hats Ed and Lloyd are wearing?

William Heaton left on Saturday for Hecla Park where he will be employed.

Our farmers are wearing the smile that won't come off on account of the much needed rain last week.

Marlin Ryan and J. L. Oswalt spent Saturday afternoon among his friends at Curtin and vicinity.

Mrs. W. F. Peters spent last week among relatives at Snow Shoe.

W. E. Fisher and son, Roy, spent Sunday at W. F. Peters'.

HIGHVALLEY.

P. S. Stover, our pulp man, finished his job; he said he is glad, as he believes Highvalley is inhabited by wild animals, he having seen tracks in the sand. He took a look but could not make out what made them, but will watch—he may be able to tell more. I really believe that it is the same animal that opened my fence and drove the cattle out, as I saw an animal with a gum shoe on the right foot and a lady's slipper on the left.

Times are still dull, as is always under the Republican administration. But I have an idea that some of our laboring men will not ante up with their promise, they who have lived long enough on potatoes and no salt.

It is a long time since we wrote to the Centre Democrat, one of the leading papers in the county, but will report how things are moving in our scrubby valley. Corn will be a half crop and potatoes turned out well; buckwheat will be a drug.

Dr. Snyder is still using a cane but is not housefast.

Our walking boss is a welcome visitor at Jess'; its a fine thing when neighbors live together, but birds of the same feather flock together.

We see that G. M. Dinning will not be a candidate—sorry to hear such news.

The visitors on Sunday: Jacob Musser, Al Alexander, William Harter, wife and two daughters, P. S. Stover, Samuel Boyer, all of Pine Creek; Emil Vonada, William Musser, Ammon Rider, of Coburn; call again, gentlemen and ladies.

Berry is fooled if he thinks our valley will not ante up for him; our voters are not of such a tribe that they will dance on a plank when there is no sand.

Game seems to be plenty—that is small game; some say they saw deer, but turkeys are scarce here.

Some say sawdust on land will do the same as manure, but I have no such a belief; if I had a place and had all saw dust on it that would settle the farming.

No sowing yet here but Barney said some corn is already husked on the J. W. Meyers place; rumor says some has been stolen; if the rumor is correct my belief is it is by the same animal that makes queer tracks in the sand, as our valley never had any that would be mean enough to do a trick like that, so it must be a wild beast of some kind.

SMULLTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Reno Crossgrove, of Lewistown, visited at Newton Brunhart's during the past week.

Merle Winkleblich and family, of Renovo, visited at the home of James Miller.

Chas Beck and family, of Wilkes-Barre, moved into W. M. Bierley's house.

William Smull, of Freeport, Ill., is visiting his mother at this place.

James Miller, an aged resident of this place, who had been on the sick list, is able to be out again.

H. E. Brungart made a business trip to Millheim last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Brungart, of Columbus, Ohio, and Miss Gertrude Yearick, of Harrisburg, are spending a few weeks at the Hill Crest farm.

Mrs. Eva Mallory was found dead on Sunday morning in her home here.

Elias Breen is remodeling his house on the home recently purchased from Mr. Limbert.

Mr. Mauck, of Hubersburg, spent Sunday at the Hill Crest farm.

RUNVILLE.

Two welcome arrivals here Thursday were the Center Democrat and the rain.

Mrs. Lulu Davis, of Coleville, spent Thursday at her parental home here.

Mabel Flock and Ethel Brubaker, two accomplished young ladies of Bellwood and Altoona, respectively, after a week's visit among their wide circle of friends here returned to their homes on Tuesday. Call again, girls.

The stern ball given by Miss Taey Lucas on Monday evening is the topic of the conversation among the young set, as all who attended pronounced it a brilliant affair.

Charles Dickens' saying, "Never judge a man by the size or kind of a hat he wears," would apply perfectly here at present, as the popular fad is wear no hats at all, among our young men. All you need, boys, is a Teddy bear hair cut and you will be right up-to-date.

Elayton Walker, a P. R. R. track repairman, is off duty a few days with quinsy.

Mrs. William Watson spent Tuesday at Dr. Watson's, at Unionville, on account of eye trouble.

What has become of the Plum Grove scribe? Are you dead, dad?

C. G. Murray, of Altoona, spent a few days in this locality last week hunting for ground hogs.

Verna Shope is spending some time among relatives at Milesburg and vicinity.

For corn drying call on Clara or Will, as both are experts in that line.

Litch Aikens, the road supervisor, is doing a commendable act by repairing the road between here and Milesburg. May the good work continue.

Bessie Petzer, of Bellefonte, after a pleasant visit among relatives at Williamsport, spent Tuesday in our village.

Clara Iddings, of Wingate, is spending some time here among her many acquaintances.

For pretty girls and nice boys, Chestnut Grove can't be beaten, so say some of our boys and girls.

Our sportsmen anticipating an abundance of game this season have commenced to hunt and repair their hunting accoutrements.

Irvin Bennett, one of our progressive citizens, recently purchased an auto of the latest improvement, and desires his many friends to call and have a spin. Can you beat that, Wingate?

JULIAN.

The schools opened for the fall and winter term on Monday morning.

Mrs. R. C. Rodkey and son, of Bradock, are spending a few days visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Eva Davis, who has been spending her vacation with her parents, returned last week to her work at Lancaster.

Roy Meyers, Dorrie Williams and John Tallhelm are attending High school in Bellefonte.

Now that fall is drawing close see that your walks are fixed up so that our boys will be kept at least partly up with the times.

Next Sunday Rev. Swank will preach his last sermon in the U. B. church for this conference year, at 10:30 a. m. Let there be a good turnout.

On Monday morning Miss Ella Alexander left for State College where she will take charge of the new home her father has just finished.

The stork in his travels visited the home of George Sones and left a big girl. George thinks he is it now.

Arthur Irvin, who has been at Dunbar for ten days relieving the ticket agent, returned home on Sunday. He will go next to Bald Eagle for two days.

There are some persons in this town who whip their children entirely too much. Be kind to your child. Vinegar won't catch flies. Next time this comes to our notice we will make it more plain.

J. R. Williams, our mail man, had the misfortune of getting his driving horse hurt. He is unable to be out of the stable. He is driving Maud S. this week.

The lady who drank the mixture of birch beer and alcohol would better be a little careful. That is a strong dose and does not become a lady.

NITTANY.

We are glad to say that Mrs. Fannie Emerick, who took very ill at her home of Harry Baker's, one day recently, and had to be taken to her son, Charles' home on a bed, is very much better.

Earl Peck was to Lock Haven one day last week on business.

Preaching next Sunday at 10:30 in the U. B. church.

Quite a number of our people took in the excursion on Sunday to Watkin's Glenn and report having had a nice time.

On Monday, 11th inst., the school in the Franklin school house will open with Mrs. Yelma Allison, one of Nittany's young ladies, as teacher; we wish her success.

G. W. Young has accepted a position as clerk in the postoffice here. Mr. Young was formerly one of the clerks for a number of years and understands his business.

William Gates, who was employed by the McNitt-Huyett Lumber Co., at Waddle, has returned home to stay.

Fred Tillman and family, of Lock Haven, were over Sunday visitors with Harry Baker and family.

We are having a much needed rain. Just ask some of the boys how they made out at the serenading one night last week.

Nelson Roseman, who is employed at Waddle, spent over Sunday with his parents and many friends here.

Mrs. Tate has returned home after spending some time visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fultz, in Milwaukee, Wis.

W. J. Mauck and Wilson Ammerman were to Lock Haven one day last week on business.

Lloyd Rogers, who has been traveling through the western states this summer, has returned home.

PLEASANT GAP.

Miss Helen Brooks returned home on Monday from a visit to Altoona.

John Armstrong and his mother, of near Spring Mills, visited at Abe Houser's on Sunday.

Samuel Wilson, of Phillipsburg, arrived here on Thursday for the purpose of teaching the Spring Mills District High school. He is boarding at N. Kellers'.

All the schools opened here on Monday and were all pretty well attended.

CENTRE LINE.

A four-horse tally-ho from Tyrone took the Centre Line young folks to State College last Saturday; dinner and supper were prepared but the weather did not permit them to go.

Three of our young men thought they would have a fine spin to Warriorsmark to band practice, in the auto, and when they came to a hard hill it was get out, boys, and help me to the top.

Miss Lillie Kauffman left for Sink-valley for a two-weeks' visit.

The measles patients at R. S. Rossman's are getting along finely.

Service in the U. B. church next Sabbath at 10:30.

Roy Buck and wife had a delightful trip last week to Williams Grove picnic.

Miss Emeline Harpster, of Pennsylvania Furnace, spent a week at her uncle George Harpster's.

Edgar Chronister and wife, of Tyrone, spent a few days at his father's, Jacob Chronister.

The corn is pretty good and apples are plenty in this community.

Will Elder, of Ohio, is visiting his old acquaintances here; also Mrs. John Gates.

Miss Katharine Emshizer, of Altoona, has returned home for school after spending some time at Mrs. Stine's.

Don't forget the picnic at Huntingdon Furnace next Saturday, September 10th.

CENTRE MILLS.

George Kline, who operates a flour mill in Lycoming county visited his parents over Sunday.

Two of our farmers have threshed some grain—they are Mr. Cummings and Mr. Miller.

Mr. Corman is on the sick list.

Fred Meiss, Paul Neese and John Frazier visited Millheim on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Joseph Meyer is making preparations for her sale, and packing up her household effects prior to her going to Baltimore, where she expects to spend the winter with her daughter.

Harry Carnel evidently became tired of farming and quit the farm.

Every body here is praising God for the refreshing showers we had on Saturday.

Bruce Meyer made a business trip to Tamauga last week.

LEMONT.

Geo. Henninger and wife sold most of their belongings and then departed for Lock Haven on Monday evening, where they intend making their future home.

John R. Williams, wife and daughter, returned home from New York on Monday, where they spent ten days with their sons.

The light frosts did no damage but the rains that have been falling this week did much good.

The farmers are now about ready to sow wheat, and especially since the ground is in such good order.

The College township school will open Monday, September 12, 1910.

Mrs. Viola Baney and daughters came down from Hannah on Saturday for a week with the former's parents, as she has been in very poor health of late.

SPRING CREEK.

INBUILT

That is one secret of the success of this Typewriter.

Necessary devices which, with other typewriters are attached (at an extra price) or else built as parts of "special" machines with only one use (at a more exorbitant price), are inbuilt in every NEW MODEL

L. C. SMITH & BROS. TYPEWRITER

All these kinds of work—and others—done by one simple typewriter, our regular correspondence machine, without any extra cost in attachments.

BALL BEARINGS—throughout—typebar, carriage, segment—all important frictional points made anti-frictional.

The inbuilt devices save you the price of attachments (costly things, these attachments); the ball bearings save work and wear.

And this complete machine costs no more than others which must have expensive attachments to make them complete.

To buy a typewriter without investigating the L. C. SMITH & BROS. would be like buying silver without looking for the "Sterling" mark.
