EDITORIAL.

THE DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE. Can't you hear it as it rumbles? 'Cross the old Green Mountain State?

They have felt it in New Hampshire. It is coming sure as fate. And when once it gets a-going its momentum none can stay—The Democratic landslide.

It always gives a warning—Just before it starts to slide. And the path it leaves behind it is about as long and wide as the whole United States is.

If you measured it today—The Democratic landslide. Which is getting under way.

The insurgents tried to stop it. But they started in too late. For the ground is getting shaky. Out in every western state.

And no matter how they fight it. And no matter what they say, The Democratic landslide is already on the way.

Oh, good-by to Mr. Aldrich. And good-by to "Uncle Joe". Good-by to trusts and bosses.

For they too have got to go. And the G. O. P. will R. I. P. When on election day The Democratic landslide Swept across the U. S. A.

The old slogan: "Did you hear the news from Maine?" Let all bosses, big and little, put their ears to the ground and listen. "Remember the Maine."

The Templeton Tyrone fiasco, political and financial, is only a new chapter added to present day crookedness running riot over the country under modern teachings, practices and corruption breeding iniquities in business and high stations.

The election in Maine on Monday, and in other republican states recently, may make Taft shift his shifter again for the third time and come out with promises for democratic policies and measures for the people instead of the trusts and jobbers.

Maine gave the shifter a deep dig under the fifth rib on Monday.

"The tariff on forest products cuts down our own forests, a tariff on coal depletes our mines, a tariff on any raw material forbids the conservation of similar natural resources here."

James J. Hill at St. Paul. Besides depleting the pocket of the ultimate consumer, which is no small part of our national resources.—World.

THEN AND NOW.

It was fourteen years ago when Mr. Bryan went up and down the land preaching exactly what Roosevelt is preaching today.

Mr. Bryan was a sort of fore-runner of John the Baptist. The big fellows set up the cry of panic, destruction of property rights, socialism and populism, and the masses believed it.

Those who did not believe it voted for Bryan, except the floating class, which was influenced by the mighty outpouring of slush and yellow dog from the beneficiaries of the system.

It was a mighty triumph for Mark Hanna and smart politics but the world has moved since then and what was then socialism and populism is now law and gospel for conservative people of the middle classes.

FOR SENATORS.

Dr. S. C. Stewart, the Democratic nominee for Senator in the 34th Senatorial District, is a native of Bradford twp., Clearfield county.

He was born fifty four years ago and comes from old Scotch-Irish Presbyterian stock, he was brought up on a farm and received his early education in the schools of Bradford township and of Curwensville borough, where Dr. Gregory was one of his teachers.

Later he was graduated from the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, at that time being twenty-four years of age. Since that time he has been practicing his profession, and is recognized as one of the most able and successful medical men in the county.

Previous to his graduation in medicine he taught four terms in the public schools of this state, two terms in Clearfield county and two in Lancaster county.

Dr. Stewart is not only prominent in his profession, being County Medical Inspector, and one of the promoters of the Clearfield Hospital, but he has always been recognized as a progressive and public spirited citizen, having served three terms as Burgess, and is now serving as school Director of Clearfield borough.

He is interested in forestry, preservation of the purity of the streams, agriculture, in fact, he has always been interested in anything that tends to promote the welfare of the public. He is eminently fitted to fill the office to which he aspires.

If elected the people may rest assured that their interests will be well cared for. Dr. Stewart has always been a Democrat and is well known in both Clearfield and Centre counties.

A SURPRISE SPRUNG.

Congressional nominations in nine districts. State Senatorial nominations in six districts and nominations for General Assembly in thirteen districts were made Friday afternoon at a four-hour meeting of the Keystone party campaign committee at the Commonwealth Hotel at Harrisburg.

Steps were also taken to institute in the local courts a legal test of the right of anyone to use the name of the Keystone party without the consent of the party organization.

A surprise was sprung upon the members of the committee by Secretary Mapes when he read a letter from Major Isaac B. Brown, of Corry, Republican Secretary of Internal Affairs in 1895 and again from 1903 to 1907.

The letter follows: Mr. Brown's Letter. "Chicago, Ill., August 19, 1910.

"Hon. W. H. Berry, "Chester, Pa.

"My Dear Mr. Berry—I have always been a profound believer in and advocate of the party of Abraham Lincoln. I am no less a believer and advocate now when there is integrity in leadership under such men as Roosevelt and Hughes, but there is not a semblance of Republicanism in the leadership in Pennsylvania or in the nominees for whom the people are asked to vote.

"Personally, I can see no way to be a Republican in Pennsylvania this year, and I shall give you my vote and support if I live and am able to vote.

"It occurs to me that the times are to be prolific with good results and some showers may fall upon Pennsylvania. I am on my way to the Pacific Coast and will not be able to take part in the campaign until the first of October, but after that time I am yours to command.

"Please say so to Hicks and Mapes. My town of Corry looks well for you.

"Yours respectfully, "ISAAC B. BROWN, "Ex-Secy. of Internal Affairs."

A POLITICAL REVOLUTION.

Maine's Democratic victory is a political revolution. A Democratic Governor is elected for the first time in thirty years—a son of the last Democratic Governor.

For the first time since the beginning of the civil war Maine's Republican representation in Congress is utterly broken and shattered. Three Democrats are elected to the House, with the possibility of an entire Democratic delegation. The Legislature is safe and a Democrat will succeed Eugene Hale in the United States Senate.

This is the most tremendous political upheaval that has taken place in any distinctly New England State since Abraham Lincoln was nominated for President. It foreshadows overwhelming Republican disaster throughout the country on Nov. 8.

If the Republicans cannot hold Maine, what can they do in Ohio? What can they do in Indiana? What can they do in New York? What can they do in New Jersey and Connecticut? What can they do in any State where there is a strong aggressive Democratic party?

Republican managers have been careful to explain that the campaign in Maine was made on State issues. In a sense this is true. But one of the principal issues was Republican extravagance, an issue which is national-wide. The Republican party is turned out of power in Maine largely because it wasted the public revenue, because it has misspent the money of the people. What can the Republican party in the country at large say on that issue, with this year's appropriations by Congress aggregating $1,098,847,184? With the National Government costing $3,567,685.66 for every working-day in the year?

It is well that the Maine election turned on the issue of extravagance, for it shows that the public is at last aroused to the vital importance of that question. It shows that in meeting it voters can no longer be led astray by the old shop-worn appeals to blind, deaf and dumb partisanship.

But the Maine election shows far more than this. It is a new measure of growing discontent with Republican administration. There is a new order of things. Republican extravagance, Republican corruption, Republican partnership with corporations, Republican jingoism, Rooseveltism and all the evils that have come out of long-established Republican domination are finally bearing their ripe fruit. Maine read the Osawatimie speech with its declaration of the New Nationalism—and voted the Democratic ticket.

For this year at least, "As Maine goes, so goes the Union," and even with Monday's revolution as an index the country will be astounded on the morning of Nov. 8, when it learns the proportions of the Democratic victory and the extent of the Republican defeat.

Sibley is indicted.

The Warren county grand jury, which had been investigating the charges of conspiracy and attempt to defraud the electorate made against Joseph C. Sibley, Frank H. Taylor, George E. Munn, Charles D. Crandall and D. M. Howard, presented a true bill holding the defendants for trial on all ten counts of the indictment.

Sibley spent $42,500 at the Republican primary election to gain the nomination for congress. Popular indignation over this forced the Standard Oil handy man off the ticket.

Still Another For Heine.

Last week's issue of the Centre Democrat says that Hon. W. C. Heine, of Bellefonte, Pa., the popular Democrat nominee for Congress in this district, arrived in Smethport Wednesday evening, and met many of his McKean county constituents on Friday. Mr. Heine is making a most favorable impression among the voters in this county. In the event of his election he would make one of the most useful Congressmen this district ever sent to Washington.

ROOSEVELT ASTOUNDS.

The Middle West is seething now over the most remarkable day's doings that have marked the Western tour of Theodore Roosevelt. It all happened on Thursday of last week. For the first time he announced that he is again ready to run for office—it may be the presidency in 1912, and it may be the governorship of N. Y.; he didn't particularize, except that the office he had in mind was plainly indicated to be executive in character.

He also issued a formal statement that may result in a Roosevelt-Hearst union in New York state. Most important of all to the West, Col. Roosevelt flatly refused to sit down to dinner with Senator Lorimer, of Illinois. In refusing to attend the pre-arranged dinner at the Hamilton club if Senator Lorimer were a guest, Col. Roosevelt also included other figures in the Lorimer senatorial scandal—Speaker Shurtliff, of the Illinois house, and Lee O'Neil Browne, the Democratic leader in the legislature, as among the undesirables at the dinner. The result was that the men named by the ex-President were asked to stay away.

LAMAR.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dornblaser left last Friday for Pittsburg, where they visited a few days, and then left for Elk City, Oklahoma, where they expect to make an extended visit with their daughter, Mrs. Guyer Rumberger.

Miss Lillie Bucher, of Altoona, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Harry McCauley.

Miss Pauline Raup, teacher of the grammar school at Clintondale, was on the sick list last week, but was able to re-open her school on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Loveland visited their daughter, Mrs. Harry Williamson, of Antes Fort, over Sunday.

G. M. Raup, who has been sick for the last week, is somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Yearick are visiting relatives and friends at Madisonburg.

Miss Blanche Harris, who is cashier in a department store at Crabtree, has returned after spending a two weeks' vacation with her parents, and friends.

Miss Katharine Smith has returned home after spending a vacation of four weeks in Bellevue, Ohio.

The corn roast which was held last Monday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lesley Swartz, was largely attended by people both far and near and all report having had a jolly good time.

Mrs. Hannah Krape, who is visiting her son C. L. Krape, is on the sick list.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.—Mrs. Harry McCauley, Wednesday evening, Sept. 7, most successfully executed a surprise party in honor of her husband, Mr. Harry McCauley, who was upon that day celebrating his birthday anniversary. Having no thoughts of the occasion he was almost literally taken off his feet when early in the evening a company of his friends numbering about eighty-five, gathered at his home to extend hearty congratulations. However, it did not take him long to recover from his astonishment, and it is needless to say that he was one of the most delighted persons present. The evening was spent most pleasantly and after the refreshments were served, the guests departed at a reasonable hour, wishing Mr. McCauley many similarly happy birthday anniversaries.

ROMOLA.

The golden wedding of D. W. McCloskey and wife that was celebrated on Sunday was a very enjoyable event.

Miss Edythe Wentzel returned last Monday to Lock Haven Normal to resume her studies. We wish her worlds of success in the work.

Chas. Batschelt, who spent a very pleasant vacation among his many friends, returned to the Temple University on Monday to complete the course he is taking there.

Miss Maude Daley visited last week at Tyrone and Altoona with her brother Clarence and friends.

Messrs. Jacob Robb and William Batschelt with their wives spent Sunday very pleasantly with Mrs. Wm. Robb.

Miss Nancy Robinson, of Mt. Eagle, who spent the two months in her vicinity, returned home Saturday.

Mrs. Edward Welsh, who has been very ill the past week, we are glad to say is improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Yeager were week end visitors with the former's sister, Mrs. Harry Council.

COBURN.

One day last week L. P. Korman and son, Warren, and F. P. Vonada went to Sunbury and brought home a new auto, a Buick model, purchased by Mr. Korman. That makes three autos for our little town.

William N. Hosterman, wife and son, of Fort Wayne, Ind., are visiting Mr. Hosterman's sister, Mrs. J. E. Harter, and father, Daniel; also his brother, John, at Centre Hill.

A. S. Black, who spent several weeks here with his wife, returned to Philadelphia on Tuesday where he is employed.

W. L. Hosterman this week put down a concrete walk from the bridge to his home. With a few exceptions there are concrete pavements on both sides of Main street.

Are you hungry for home-grown watermelons and canteloupes? They are ripe and were raised by Harry Eyswitt and W. H. Long.

Last week the stork made a flying trip to the home of Joseph Haxinger south of the tunnel and left a little girl there.

STORMSTOWN.

Farmers are busy seeding. Fred Hunter has been employed by the P. R. R. to work in the office at Altoona.

Dr. Coons and Charley Lytle captured seven nice coons on Saturday night.

The midnight prowlers, consisting of Victor Way, Bill Way, Dord Way, Garfield Hicks, Robert Burket, John Hicks and Nelson Frank had a private chicken supper on Monday evening.

Herman Griffin is putting a new roof on his house.

Messrs. Ward, the blacksmith, who was sick, is around again.

Kid Pelkinton, of Detroit, was in town visiting old friends. Kid is a good fellow the champion feather-weight boxer of seven states.

John Hicks has employed Rev. Frank, the pastor of the M. E. church, to break his fine three-year-old colt. Mr. Frank is a good horse man and understands driving fast stock.

Festival.

The organized Bible classes of the Runville U. C. church will hold a festival at the parsonage at Runville on Saturday evening, Sept. 17th. A chicken supper, ice cream and other refreshments will be served.
