BELLEFONTE AND VICINITY

THE LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

The amount of rainfall this month, from 1st to Tuesday last, is 3 1/4 inches. J. C. Boyce, of Clearfield, Deputy Factory Inspector, was among the pleasant calls on Tuesday. Dr. Kilpatrick's new Hudson car is one of the neatest autos seen on our streets and it has quality as well. Mrs. S. A. Donahy, of Bellefonte, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Bolton, at Wheeling, W. Va. Mrs. William Keller, of Centre Hall, after visiting Mrs. Joseph Albee, at Tyrone returned to her home on Thursday. Mrs. Cameron Burnside left Bellefonte, where she will spend a month from Monday afternoon for Canton, with friends. Dr. James B. Stine, formerly pastor of the Bellefonte Methodist church, but now of Tyrone, spent Tuesday night among his friends here. Finklestine, the proprietor of the new racket store, has an attractive advertisement in this issue. He certainly announces some bargains. Miss Barbara Levy, a clerk in Katz's store, left on Friday afternoon for Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., where she is spending a two weeks vacation with friends. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran church will hold a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Musser, on Lamb street, on Thursday evening. All are cordially invited. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hoffman, of Lockport, N. Y., arrived in town for a brief visit of several days. We are pleased to note that Mrs. Hoffman is enjoying much better health than for some time. On Saturday evening someone forced an entrance to the rear of Sourbeck's store, on High street. They were only in the rear office, evidently fearing to enter the front store room. Nothing was taken from the store. Passengers on the Penna. station were pleased the past week due largely to students on their way to Penna. State College. The number of students now registered for the freshman class is the largest in the history of the institution. Mrs. Miller, wife of Dr. H. M. Miller and children, who had been spending part of the summer here at the residence of Mrs. Margaret Wilson, left on Tuesday afternoon for Williamsport. They will remain there with friends until Friday and then go to her home in Chester. "Bobby" Hood, a moulder out at Lingle's foundry, left on Monday afternoon for Cherry Tree, Cambria county, where he has secured an excellent position. He is a good, all-around fellow and his friends were very sorry to see him go. We may have another baseball club next summer and then he will have to show up again. Every Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 4 o'clock, Misses Sallie Pitzer and Julia Curn and Helen Balr will conduct a dancing class in the parlor of the Logan house, on Howard street. It is only intended for children who will be taught the magic step. These three girls are all young ladies under their instruction will receive the proper care. John Lambert, of Bellefonte, is stealing Milt Johnson's trade, and the next thing he will be putting up tombstones instead of houses. The other day, in the absence of the marble workers at the Court House, he put up a tablet that in after years will tell who repaired the Court House. He did it in a very substantial way and nobody would know but what it was done by a man who knew his business. On Tuesday Harry Zimmerman, John Dunlap and E. J. Williams with Clement Dale, Esq., solicitor for the county left for Wellsville, Tioga county, where they are attending the State County Commissioners' Convention. Jacob Woodring had intended to make the trip but changed his mind. He and Homer Decker, the assistant in the commissioners' office, are transacting such business that comes before them. On Saturday Eber Rothrock, formerly of Bellefonte, but who for the last ten years has been an employe in the railroad shops at DuBois, was operated upon for appendicitis in the hospital at that place. His case was a very serious one, and for a short time there were some doubts of his recovery. A turn has come for the better, and there is little doubt but what he will recover. He is married to Miss Cora Ott, daughter of Mrs. James Ott, of this place. The Watsontown paving brick will be used in paving Allegheny street, Bellefonte. It is the kind used in paving the streets of Lockport, Engineer Rosler, of the State Road Department, has made the decree and it will be put into execution. It is hardly probable that any of the brick will be laid before the robins come again, and if contractor Taylor can't see his way through to finish it, until that time it would be the height of folly to tear up the street and then have to abandon it until spring. On last Friday evening the baseball association of Bellefonte wanted to give $10 in gold to somebody, but up to this time the somebody failed to turn up. The money is now at George Krinsky's pool room, waiting for the individual with the proper number to come and claim it. It will be held at the pool room until Saturday evening and then if it isn't taken up it will revert to the association. This is a fair and square deal, so do not miss the opportunity to find the right ticket. It is a Dickens of a note that you can't even give $10 away in Bellefonte. The association needs the money. On Monday morning "Billy" Bathurst and evi Symonds, the latter the janitor at the Court House, were cleaning the windows in the court room. Symonds was outside on a ladder and "Billy" was cleaning them from the inside. The top sash was down about half way to which our man Friday Symonds was holding on to it being the only way by which he could keep his place on the ladder. Finally "Billy" forgot his friend on the outside and hoisted the lower sash which caught Levi's fingers, causing him to almost drop from the ladder to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet. Levi was a special vocabulary expert and he was entirely exhausted in about three minutes and then he began to inject new phraseology which almost made a fellow's hair stand on end. It is good that "Billy" left alone.

David Kelley has recovered from his recent illness. Edward Richard left on Monday afternoon for Philadelphia. Eddie Hill has moved his family from Sunbury to Bellefonte. He is now located on Lamb street. Carroll Hall, of Philadelphia, was a visitor in Bellefonte Monday as the guest of his cousin, William P. Humes. Mrs. Charles K. Rath, of Elizabeth N. J., is visiting in Bellefonte at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crider. Mrs. J. A. Aikens left Bellefonte on Monday afternoon for Philadelphia and New York to lay in her winter stock of goods. He's a winner. We mean John Q. Miles, Jr., of Martha, who is now the proud father of girl twins. He's the champion of that end of Bald Eagle valley. Shedd Beezer, of Bellefonte, is now a clerk in M. Fauble & Son's clothing establishment. He is a good boy and is the making of an excellent salesman. Mrs. William Larimer left on Monday afternoon for Jersey Shore where she spent several days with her son, Lee Larimer, while there she had a very pleasant time. Miss Julia Curtin, Mrs. Nora Sheldon, Allen Sheldon and his son, Gregg, arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday in a large automobile. They came here from Philadelphia. General James A. Beaver, who has been abroad during the summer, is expected to arrive home on Saturday, September 17. He sailed from Naples, on the steamer, "Cretic", on September 3. The voyage takes about two weeks. Jared Harper, one of Bellefonte's oldest and best citizens, has been quite ill this week at his residence on Thomas street. He has been confined to his bed most of the time. It is hoped that a turn for the better may soon come. Mrs. W. H. Boone and her three children, Robert, Ruth and James, who have been visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Washington Irvin, in Bellefonte, for the last three months, left for their home in Lambert, Miss., on Wednesday morning. Shem, Spigelmeyer, Sr., arrived in Bellefonte on Monday afternoon to spend several days here as a guest of his son, Ralph Spigelmeyer. He is probably the oldest agent now on the road in Pennsylvania and is always a welcome visitor. Misses Lulu and Jennie Harper, who had been spending a couple of months with their uncles, Charles and Harry Schreyer, in Chicago, have returned and are now occupying their home on Linn street. Archibald Saxe, of Scranton, has also been a visitor at this home. The Boecking & Meredith drug store at Bellwood has been purchased by Norman Grauer, son of the late William Grauer, of Altoona, but who for several years was a resident of Bellefonte. He expects to make some important changes and improvements in the business. Miss Mildred Wetzel, daughter of Harvey Wetzel, of Virginia, is a member of the graduating class in the Bellefonte High School. While here she is a guest of her uncle, Hon. Henry Wetzel, on East Curtin street. She is a bright young lady and is getting along nicely. The Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company's board of directors held their quarterly meeting on Monday in the Petriken hall. The amount of applications passed was of the usual large number, showing the confidence of the public in this fire insurance company, now over half a century in existence. John P. Ishler, brother of ex-Sheriff W. A. Ishler, has moved from Bellefonte to State College where he will reside permanently, having purchased a home there. The main reason for leaving Bellefonte is that his children want to educate at the College. He is a most desirable citizen and his friends regret his removal from our community. The talk of Bellefonte just now is the big success of the scenic. People would go there even if it rained bullets, because they know that if they make the sacrifice to go, they will enjoy themselves. It is without doubt the most comfortable picture palace in the country, and thus the people are well treated in every respect. There is a marked growth of attendance within the last six months, which indicates that the pictures are high class and giving the best of service. If you don't know the place, follow the crowd. Gherett & Lambert have been awarded the contract of overhauling the Johnston residence on Linn street, recently purchased by John Blanchard, Esq. Among the repairs will be a new kitchen, hardwood floor all through the first and second stories, both rooms on second and third floors, double porch on the rear of the house and a few other incidental changes in the interior. The front porch will be taken away and pillars will be put up to give the entrance a colonial effect. When finished it will not only be attractive but cozy and comfortable. Don't forget the rummage sale for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital commencing September 24, and continuing several days, in the Bush Arcade, next to Finklestine's store. If you desire to clean out your attic now is the time to do it, as most anything goes in a rummage sale. The ladies during next week will be glad to receive anything in the line of clothing, shoes, hats, neckties, furniture and pictures. Everything available can be used; money is what the ladies need and a helping hand in this line will be appreciated. All persons should patronize this sale as they are certain to pick up bargains. On Sunday night lightning struck a board on the barn of Elmer Straub, just north of Bellefonte. It split the board through the centre and ran down into the corn crib where it made a hole in the roof. "Waxie" isn't wearing a bright countenance and owner of the barn is familiarly known, shaking hands with himself that the barn was not burned to the ground. It isn't always the good that are cared for in this world, but "Waxie" isn't such a bad fellow after all, and we are glad that he was saved the trouble of drawing the insurance and building another barn. He can now congratulate himself that he got off so lucky, and that lightning never strikes the same place twice.

Special—1 quart glass jars a dozen, 60c. Glass tops, 20c. per dozen. J. Finklestine's Racket Store. On Wednesday night of last week Mrs. C. M. Parish gave a card party in honor of her sister, Mrs. Howard Gearhart. Mrs. T. A. Shoemaker and children arrived home on Sunday evening from their trip to Europe, much benefited by the sea voyage. After spending the summer at the residence of Mrs. Nora Sheldon, on Linn street, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fenlon are again at the Bush House. Frank Rowe left Bellefonte on Sunday morning to accept a position at Akron, Ohio, secured for him by his uncle, who resides in that city. If you desire a good broom see James Darr, Jr., who manufactures them here in Bellefonte. These are excellent brooms besides you will be helping a worthy young man along. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Heckman entertained thirty-five guests at cards at their home on Saturday evening, in honor of Misses Della Heckman and Minnie Cole. It proved a delightful evening. Mrs. W. G. Morrison now owns the Franklin runabout which Dr. J. J. Kilpatrick operated several years. It is a good little car and gave him excellent service on his hunting and fishing expeditions. Nelson E. Robb arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday and on Monday accompanied his family to their new home in Jackson, Miss., where he is president of the Jackson Home Telephone company. S. A. McQuistion and daughter, Miss Mary, left on Monday for Butler, Pa., where they will spend about three weeks. This is Mr. McQuistion's old home and of course, the time will be well occupied. Lieut. James J. Taylor, who had been in the service in Manila and returned to San Francisco recently owing to illness, is expected to arrive home in Bellefonte in the course of the coming week. T. Irvin Humes, Jr., of Latrobe, a nephew of Mrs. Archibald Allison and Mrs. C. E. Gilchrist, of Bellefonte, was on a visit to his family on the way to State College where he will become a student of that institution. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Fleming, of Harrisburg, who had been spending the summer here at the residence of the former's parents, are again at the Capital City where they are employed as a teacher in the schools. Harry E. Cook, brother of E. C. Cook, of Bellefonte, who spent several years in the mining districts of Mexico returned to the United States and is now located at New Bethlehem. He has learned that it isn't all gold that glitters. Prof. J. C. Morris, an instructor in the Huntingdon Reformatory, passed through Bellefonte on Saturday on a brief visit to his home at Wolf's Store. Prof. Morris has been connected with the Reformatory for a number of years and is doing good work there. Friday evening Miss Eva Crissman will open her dancing class in the Bush Arcade dancing hall. As usual, Christy Smith's orchestra will furnish the music. These are pleasant occasions and always give satisfaction to the dancers. Go and take a girl. This week posters were put up throughout the county announcing the coming Centre County Fair, the first week of October. Excellent purses will insure some fast races. The County Fair is the closing of the summer's attractions and is always largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shuey and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Johnson have returned from their fishing expedition on the Canadian lakes. Part of the pleasure of the trip for the Johnsons was marred by the being called home by the sudden death of Mrs. Johnson's father in Clearfield county. Mrs. James Schofield and Mrs. W. T. Speer left Bellefonte on Wednesday morning. The former was on her way to Indiana where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Charles Larimer, and Mrs. McGinnis. The latter was on her way to the States where she will visit Mrs. Harris Mann. Robert Speer, the famous evangelistic worker, was present at the annual Bible and evangelistic conference of Huntingdon Presbytery, held at Birmingham on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Dr. J. H. Platts and other members of the Bellefonte Presbytery church were also present. Col. Fred Dunham, publisher of the Haverhill Herald, was in town on Saturday and informed us that he contemplated republishing the Bellefonte Daily some time next week. He now has his junior working and in a short time will be grinding out news at a modern pace. Fred has the enterprise. Owing to the swarms of small flies at this season of the year, the Court House has stopped for the present, in some instances they have been so thick as to completely spoil the appearance of newly-painted surfaces, which if finished would have been exceedingly rough. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wetzel and three sons arrived in Bellefonte on Saturday morning from England to visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wetzel, his brothers and father-in-law, C. T. Gerberich. They had resided in Birmingham, England, for the past year, where Mr. Wetzel represented the Toledo Computing Scales company. The reason for their visit is the installation of a number of their scales. The engagement of Miss Eleanor Harris, only daughter of Mrs. James Harris, of Bellefonte, to Robert De Goldier, of Evanston, Ill., has been announced by her mother. Miss Harris has been making her home for the past two years with her brother Dr. William Harris, president of the North Western University at Evanston, Ill. Both Miss Harris and Mr. De Goldier have been visitors in Bellefonte, during the past two months. The four thousand bushels of peaches that were dropped from the trees in the great orchard of Col. Reynolds, caused by the heavy rains of last week, might have been used to start a peach brandy distillery. Verily, there are slips and mishaps in what ever business one may give himself to. The Colonel's orchard for three years past was a heavy producer of good fruit, which was successfully marketed, except the ill luck above named. There is nothing mean about G. G. Fink, treasurer of Centre county. He has one of the finest offices in the county, both inside and outside, and he is comfortable in a leather top couch and when tired of his daily routine of business, he throws himself down and takes a rest. He purchased the sofa himself and when his time expires he will take it home. He had better look out or the commissioners may claim it as a permanent fixture.

Special Sales—5 colored post cards views, 5c. J. Finklestine's Racket Store. This evening the ladies of the Bellefonte United Brethren church will give a chicken and waffle supper to be held between the church and the parsonage. It will cost 25 cents and will be served from 5 until 8 o'clock. Everybody is invited to come and aid a good cause. Miss Nardie Kimpfort, who had been keeping house for her brother, prothonotary Arthur Kimpfort, left on Thursday for Fort Madison, Iowa, called there by the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Ida Ramsey. It is to be hoped that good and encouraging news may be heard from her. Remember that the dedicatory exercises connected with the completion of the new public school building takes place to-morrow, afternoon and evening. These exercises will be public, and everybody is urged to be in attendance as there will be some prominent men present to speak on educational topics. We had a pleasant call from ex-Commissioner Calvin Weaver, of Coopersburg, Wednesday, who came into town from the western section of the state. For about six months past he has been connected with a civil engineer corps along the Allegheny river, a short distance above Pittsburg, where a new railroad is being built. Mr. Weaver is on a visit to his family at Coburn, and it is quite likely that he will have them move to that section where he has accepted a position to manage a store. For sometime past he has been located at Freeport, Pa. WEDDINGS. Spangler-DeHaas. William Spangler and Miss Christie DeHaas, both of Blanchard, went to Wilmington, Del., recently where they were united in marriage by Rev. Geo. Wolf. Both young people are quite well known in that locality and have the best wishes of their many friends for their future happiness. Rider-Strayer. Isaac Rider and Miss Retta Strayer, both of Coopersburg, were united in marriage on Tuesday, Sept. 6, and were quietly married by Rev. J. S. Shultz. When they returned home they were given a wedding supper by Mr. and Mrs. Deamont and the following day were given a big reception at the Matthews Rider home. Keichline-Naatz. On Wednesday at noon, Charles Keichline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Keichline, of Bellefonte, became the husband of Miss Emma Naatz, of Kirksville, N. J. The bride is a sister of Mrs. F. O. Brewer, of Bellefonte, and is an exceptionally bright and interesting young lady who will make the groom a most excellent wife. The groom is one of Bellefonte's most progressive young business men who was bound and determined to either get a wife or an automobile, and wisely selected the former. He showed his good judgment, although he will have to walk more circumspectly with a wife than with an automobile, for if he doesn't behave the hair on his head can be quickly counted. Among those who witnessed the ceremony was E. O. Keichline. We are glad to say that Mr. and Mrs. Keichline will make their home in Bellefonte. Wion-Hoy. A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hoy, of Harrisburg, Pa., at noon Sept. 12th, when their daughter, Pearl Oneida, was united in marriage to George Harry Wion, son of Frank H. Wion, of Bellefonte, Pa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. I. Crow in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends. Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was enjoyed by all. The bride is a popular young lady, a faithful worker in the Reformed church, in which she has been organist for several years. The groom has been in the employ of the P. R. R. in its signal department since his graduation from State College in 1908. The happy couple left on the 2:51 p. m. train for a wedding trip. After Oct. 12th, they will be at home to their friends at 1008 Wallace Ave., Wilkesburg, Pa., where a furnished house is awaiting the occupants. They begin their wedded life with the best wishes of a host of friends. Stuart-Mothersbaugh. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonidas Mothersbaugh, at Boalsburg, was on Wednesday morning, of last week at 11 o'clock the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Miss Margaret S. Mothersbaugh, was united in holy wedlock to Reuben R. Stuart, of Bellevue, near Pittsburg. The bride was beautifully decorated in yellow and white, the color scheme of the wedding, which was performed in front of a thick bank of goldenrod. The ceremony was witnessed by about 125 guests and was performed by Rev. A. A. Black of Derry, but until recently pastor of the Reformed church at Boalsburg. The impressive ring ceremony was used, and the bride, who was gowned in white lace and carried a shower bouquet of white bridal roses, was given away by her father, Mr. Mary Mothersbaugh, in the presence of the bride's maid-of-honor and George Stuart, a brother of the groom, was best man. Two little pieces of the bride, Mary and Rachael Mothersbaugh, of Williamsport, were flower girls. Following the marriage an excellent wedding dinner was served and the happy young couple left on the afternoon train for a wedding tour to Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, D. C. They will make their future home in Bellevue, where the groom, who is a bustling, ambitious young man, holds a fine clerical position in one of the big business offices of the city. The bride is an attractive and accomplished young lady, and is held in high esteem socially throughout Centre county, she being for several years past one of the efficient school teachers of Harris township. A Good Report. Rev. C. W. Winey, pastor of the United Brethren church in Bellefonte, will attend the annual conference of his church at Braddock, Pa., this coming week. That he has accomplished a good work in the past year is indicated by the following brief report he will submit which indicates great progress: Baptized 40, married 10, funerals 20, accessions to church 40, installed electric light in parsonage, bath room outfit, cement steps, new furnace, walks about parsonage, liquidated parsonage debt Sunday evening by burning mortgage of $730, paid during year entire indebtedness of $1912.94. Rev. J. S. Fulton, of Johnstown, conference superintendent, was present and preached Sunday morning and evening.

RECENT DEATHS. BLAIR.—As a result of a stroke of apoplexy sustained about two months ago, Mrs. J. Blair, widow of the late Hezekiah Blair, formerly of Phillipsburg, died Friday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. J. W. Manning, in Altoona. She was born in New Brunswick, Me., October 2, 1831, and her maiden name was Mary Jane Hutchison. She is survived by the following children: W. A. Blair, Princeton, W. Va.; Mrs. S. M. Homer, Altoona; Mrs. B. E. Dickson and Mrs. C. Port, both of Tyrone. The body was taken to Phillipsburg. WALKER.—Mrs. Amanda Walker, of Harris township, died Sunday night at 10 o'clock at the home of her brother, Jacob Meyer, of near Centre Hall. She had been ill for a year or more with stomach trouble. She was about sixty years of age, and a lady who was well and favorably known in the community of Boalsburg where she spent most of her life. She belonged to the Reformed church and during her life she was a fine singer. Prof. Meyer, of Centre Hall, is a brother. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon; interment at Boalsburg. MAGWIRE.—Mrs. Rowanna Magwire one of Centre county's oldest residents passed away Monday, Sept. 5, at her home in Half Moon Valley, the result of a couple of strokes of paralysis suffered during the past year or two, together with other infirmities incident to old age, having rounded out 91 years. The deceased has for many years resided in the home where she died, and during her long life has noted many great changes in the direction of progress throughout this country. She is survived by the following sons and daughters, viz: Michael, Phillipsburg; Paul, of Morrisdale; Jack, of Chester Hill; Mark; Mrs. Anna Hoover and Miss Rachel, at home. JUDGE.—Mrs. Dominick Judge died on Saturday morning at her home on Thomas street, after an illness of several months with cancer of the stomach. Everything possible was done for her relief but the hand of a specialist even failed in producing a cure. A number of years ago she came to Bellefonte from Tyrone when her husband became train master for the Central Railroad Co. Her coming here made hosts of warm friends who were sorry to hear of her sad ending. Ever since childhood she had been a consistent member of the Catholic church, and was punctual at all its services. Her life was that of a true Christian. She was 48 years old on the 6th of August, thus she was comparatively young. She is survived by a husband and one daughter, Mrs. Oscar Gray, of Bellefonte; also by a sister and brother, Mrs. Edward Harrington, of Haseltin, and Charles Smith, of Phillipsburg. Her aged mother survives her, who is ill at the home of her son in Phillipsburg. The funeral took place from the St. John's Catholic church, on Tuesday morning at 7:30. From there the remains were taken to Tyrone for interment. BOAL.—A very sudden and unexpected death occurred in Centre Hall on Sunday morning, about 4 o'clock, when Mrs. George M. Boal passed to her reward. For about eighteen months she had not been feeling well although she was able to be around and perform her daily duties. On Saturday afternoon she, with her husband and daughters, was out on the Grange picnic ground, where she enjoyed herself talking to her friends. In the evening she went to her home in Centre Hall feeling as good as usual, retired about 9 o'clock and just a half-hour before she died she had a hemorrhage of the lungs. A physician was quickly summoned but he could do nothing to save the patient. The deceased's maiden name was Miss Ella Love. She was a native of Potter township, being born February 22, 1846, a daughter of Judge W. W. and Ann Lee. Her husband is an old soldier who was in the Civil war, and while home on a furlough in February 1863 he was married. He returned to his post of duty and returned in 1865. Mrs. Boal was generous, genial and kind, and was beloved by all who knew her. During her life she took deep interest in the grange and was a close observer of things in general. Being a member of the Presbyterian church she loved to do good, and always exemplified a true Christian character. Surviving her is a husband and the following daughters: Mrs. George A. Booser, of Centre Hall; Mrs. C. A. Meyer, of Reedsville; Mrs. Charles Slack, of Spring Mills; Mrs. W. E. Park, New Milford; Mrs. Gross Mingle, of Centre Hall; also by the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Agnes Spangler, of Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Anna Lee, of Pittsburg; Mrs. Elmer Campbell, of Linden Hall; Mrs. Z. T. Krise, of Pittsburg, and Hudson W. Love, of Wilkesburg, are her surviving half-sisters and brother. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning, interment at Centre Hall. A Veteran From Ohio. D. H. Harter, of Smithville, Ohio, arrived in this place on Saturday, bound for his native home in Aaronburg, "Dan," as he is familiarly called, was a member of company D, 148 regiment, made up mainly of patriotic sons of Penna and Brush valleys, and after a few months' camp at Cockeyville, were hurried off in time to engage in the battle of Chancellorsville, which was severe in its demands upon the brave boys, and many fell in the hottest of the fight. Other battles were participated in by the regiment, and Daniel Harter was one of the severely wounded. The veteran, Harter will go to Gettysburg and from thence to Chancellorsville to the unveiling ceremony. The 148 regiment came out of the war, as is well known, severely decimated. About Fountains. The following comment was handed the Centre Democrat for publication. It is too good to suppress: The ex-councilman, who purchased the fountains that the editor of the Gazette is so ashamed of on the diamond, says that if the editor will stand on the street for four years without any repairs, with the public twisting at the mechanism of his water supply, he will be in worse shape than the fountain, and have the appearance of a morning glory at 4 p. m. rather than a chocolate drop. MARKET QUOTATIONS. Bellefonte—Produce. Eggs ..... 22 Butter ..... 24 Bellefonte—Grain. The following prices are paid by C. Y. Wagner, for grain: Wheat red ..... 85 Yellow ..... 80 Rye ..... 70 Corn ..... 65 Oats ..... 55

FAITH MAKES HER WELL. A strange story of alleged faith cure is told near Everett, Huntingdon county on the line of the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad. Five months ago Mrs. Daniel Shafer was operated upon for cancer at the Roaring Spring Hospital, and although the operation was seemingly a success, the patient again became ill and was taken to a Philadelphia hospital, where the physicians decided her condition would not permit another operation, and, at any rate, it would not avail. She was taken home and gradually grew worse. She had been confined to bed for weeks, unable to take any nourishment, and the day before the alleged cure it was thought she could not live through the night. The family were waiting by the bedside about 3 o'clock in the morning when they saw that she was started by a loud scream and were surprised to see Mrs. Shafer rise from her bed and start down stairs. Her husband declares he tried to induce her to return to bed, but she refused, saying, "No; Christ has commanded me to go to the spring, drink and bathe myself and be cured, and I must go." Finding her determined, he asked her to put her shoes on, but she refused and said, "No; I must go as I am." She went to the spring, members of the family say, drank freely and scooping the water up with her hands, dashed it over her head, face and shoulders and returned to the house, apparently cured of her affliction. The next morning, it is declared, Mrs. Shafer arose, dressed, took her place at the breakfast table and ate a hearty meal, the first food she had taken for several weeks. She is now apparently sound and well. It would take a lot more than nine tailors to make a man of some fellows. EXECUTRIX'S NOTICE. Estate of Robert E. Cambridge late of Unionville, Pa.
