

FRANCIS SPEER'S

Breezy "That" Column

That a girl of Bellefonte is a fool who can make a living for herself and who marries a young man who can't.

That if you are observing you will notice how the girls of Bellefonte can bring young men to the question point.

That there is a married couple in Bellefonte who could study harmony and yet not have to take music lessons.

That certain girls in Bellefonte twist some of the Academy students around their fingers until they often go broke.

That a young lady in Bellefonte says that the man she marries must be tall and handsome. She is making her word good.

That when the people of Bellefonte know a story that won't bear repeating they shelve it and thus put it away for safe keeping.

That the young man in Bellefonte who doesn't save his money is merely gambling with fate, that he will die before he gets too old to work.

That there is nothing that some men in Bellefonte like so much as to talk about themselves, and nothing that others like so little to listen to.

That a secret is a very unpleasant thing for some women in Bellefonte to handle. If they keep it they can't enjoy it. If they tell it they get into trouble.

That the nurses at the Bellefonte hospital will tell you that the two worst diseases in the world are inflammatory rheumatism and inflammatory tempers.

That some people in Bellefonte are wondering why a certain woman in Bellefonte doesn't make her home as happy and enjoyable for her husband as she does for her relatives.

That talking about those excellent races down at the Centre County Fair last week, Hard Harris, of Bellefonte, says the fellow was a good bit better who knew when it was better not to bet.

That some women in Bellefonte never pay much attention to their husband's talk unless he is talking in his sleep, and then they have their ears wide open, and they are afraid they won't catch every word.

That the other day "Billy" Hurley, of Bellefonte, introduced Levi Simmonds to a young lady in a way that was highly complimentary, but the question among Levi's friends is, whether Hurley told the truth.

That it is said a certain class of girls in Bellefonte certainly miss those automobile rides since the car has been sold. While it lasted these fair damsels had things about their own way. The chauffeur was a hummer.

That a certain very nice young lady in Bellefonte who every now and then, is an agent for very pretty flowers and plants says that there is nothing in the language of flowers so eloquent as a pair of pressed tulips.

That the church member in Bellefonte who entertains with cards has a good bit of unadulterated gaul to go around the town and talk about his "mistakes" because he indulges in a little innocent recreation.

There are people in the church who are too holy and need to be watched.

That when the time comes for some women in Bellefonte to die it will be with great dread of the future. They have been having a good time here, but to be cast into eternity to be companions of the dogs of humanity will be entirely different. Fine clothes and social position will cut no ice there.

That Bellefonte is ahead of a majority of the towns and cities in Pennsylvania in the fact that it has the "devil" running through its streets in a Franklin automobile, and, strange to say, there are a number of pretty girls here who would just like to go to the "devil" if he would only give 'em a ride.

That it is pretty cold these nights for a young man of Bellefonte to court a widow on the steps of the chapel at the Episcopal church. It seems as if it would be a frigid squeeze. Better go to the steam heat works where there are more comfortable quarters. It is a little black there, but love is blind, you know.

That two prominent young men in Bellefonte drove out to Nittany Furnace the other night and met two girls who walked that far to avoid suspicion. As they were getting in the conveyance the heavens were lighted up by the glare from the furnace, and the whole concocted scheme was given away. If names were mentioned there would be an exodus from Bellefonte.

That it is said that a married man in Bellefonte made a single girl in Bellefonte a present of a solid gold watch. You don't find anything of that kind on his wife's hand. Further, it is said that he has promised her a gold bracelet for Christmas. It is said that this scallywag is spending most of his money on this girl while his wife has to go without the proper kind of clothing in order to make things meet. This fellow is a scoundrel and should be ostracised from society.

That it is said there is a woman in Bellefonte who got into her head that her husband was paying too much attention to another married woman, so she set spies to work on the case. The result was that the other night the wife of the gentleman in question closed in on him and caught the two in a certain place of business. It is said the husband simply wilted. She isn't going to sue for divorce, but she told him and his lady friend for the night where to get off. Hereafter if he isn't home at the proper hour in the evening there will be trouble in the camp, and don't you forget it.

That it is said the other Tuesday evening two married men in Bellefonte were very much excited for some reason or other, but when they were carefully watched it was discovered they had an automobile in waiting at a certain place. Presently there were two single girls appeared on the scene, and after they had gotten into the conveyance away they went into the darkness as if shot out of a cannon. These gentlemen, if such you could call them, have very nice families in Bellefonte and their wives were at home while their "dear" husbands were out with these girls. It is good for these fellows that the Almighty doesn't administer justice in this world to such reprobates who care nothing for the sanctity or purity of their homes. The girls in question ought to be taken to some place where they would learn the merits of a pure and chaste life.

OVER THE COUNTY.

Mrs. Margaret Riley, of Boalsburg, purchased a property at Mifflinburg, where she will make her future home.

Miss Minnie Collins, of Pine Grove Mills, but who is a professional nurse in Philadelphia, is spending some time at her home in Ferguson township.

All the open meetings of the association will be highly interesting and instructive to the public who take advantage of them, as well as to the profession.

Charley Weaver, a Linden Hall farmer, has just finished sowing eighty-five acres of wheat, which is undoubtedly the largest wheat acreage of any one in Centre county.

Besides the general sessions of the association there will be, during the three days, department and round table meetings for which the programs have not yet been completed.

Joseph M. Knapper, of Phillipsburg, in digging the foundation for his bungalow on his Cold Stream farm, struck a little southeast of that town struck a four foot vein of bituminous coal.

John A. Weaver, a walker township, Centre county, farmer, recently threshed the oats raised on 10 1/4 acres of ground, and when he got through measuring up found he had just 629 bushels.

George E. Meyers, of Boalsburg, returned from Valparaiso, Indiana, where he attended a school of piano tuning, and is now ready for work in that line; he will continue selling pianos and organs.

President and Mrs. Sparks, of State College gave a reception in honor of the senior class and the new members of the faculty, at their residences on the east campus, on Friday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Four well known young men of State College were arrested on Sunday on the charge of gambling and drinking. They were taken before Justice Womer who, after giving them a sound lecturing, imposed a fine of $5 upon each.

Talk about turnips, you should see the monsters that were grown on the farm of William E. Stover east of State College. There are about 60 bushels in the lot and many of the specimens weigh from 5 1/2 to 7 1/2 pounds each.

Dr. Benjamin Gill, State's chaplain, who underwent a serious operation at the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, some weeks ago, is improving, but very slowly. The doctor's friends in State College and Bellefonte hope for his speedy recovery and eagerly await his home coming.

After a pleasant visit with Blanchard relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Lingle, the former a son of James Lingle, of Blanchard, have returned to Panama, where Mr. Lingle is employed by the government on the famous canal. They were accompanied by Thomas Bathurst, of Blanchard, who will procure employment on the canal work, also by the mother of Mrs. George Lingle.

The ladies of the M. E. church at Stormstown have planned a unique affair for the benefit of their church, in the shape of a measuring party, which will be held on Monday evening, October 31st. The invitation is in the shape of a neat little "sack," enclosing a card on which is a stanza of poetry extending an invitation to pay three cents for every foot he or she is tall and one cent for every inch over the number of feet. The affair ought to be well patronized.

The Third Quarterly Communion service of Bellefonte circuit, United Evangelical church, will be observed Sunday, October 16th. Rev. W. C. Hoch, of Mifflinburg, will be present and preach on Saturday evening at Wingate; on Sunday morning at Marston, and at 2:30 p. m. at Curtin. Rev. Hoch will administer communion at all of these services. Quarterly business meeting Saturday at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Henry Shultz, at Curtin. The public is invited to all of these services.

While driving his cow home from the picnic grounds at Centre Hall, where she is pasturing, another cow "rushed" Alfred Durst and knocked him over. He was unable to arise on his feet, but the incident having been witnessed by Mrs. Durst, she went to his assistance. No bones were broken but Mr. Durst was badly bruised and was laid up for several days. The cow rushed from the rear, and the first Mr. Durst knew the animal was on a rampage, was when she struck him on the back and knocked him about ten feet. The beast paid no further attention to him.

Emanuel P. Shook, of Spring Mills, was badly hurt by a fall from a ladder, and it at present in a very serious condition at the home of his brother, George Shook, along Brush street, north of Spring Mills. His suffering has been lessened, but he is yet unable to move, only his left leg and arms. His spine, right leg and breast received the greatest injuries. Mr. Shook was picking apples from a ladder which turned, his fall being over twenty-five feet. He was alone in the orchard, and lay there for about a half hour before he was found. A.C.T. was referred to in a previous issue.

After experimenting for several years with gas engines for the production of power for their light plant, the Nittany Light, Heat and Power company at State College has set their big engines aside and installed an up-to-date steam plant. The new equipment consists of a Keeler 210 h. p. tubular boiler, a 150 h. p. Ridgeway engine and dynamo. The change was made necessary, owing to the heavy demand made upon the plant for power. With the installation of the new machinery the company will be in a position to furnish day current and steam heat for stores, buildings and residences.

Allison R. Moon, the proprietor of the confectionery, tobacco and shoe store in Blanchard, located on a prominent corner, has almost completed the second story to the main portion of the building which formerly was but one story high. Mr. Moon will live in the building, having a well appointed kitchen with hot and cold water on the first floor. The second story he will use for living and sleeping rooms. The front of this second story is almost entirely glass and the "boys" have already styled it the "glass house." George W. Eaton has charge of the work which makes considerable improvement to Mr. Moon's property.

Last week six carloads of potatoes were shipped out of Centre Hall, which were purchased at 40 cents per bushel.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Peters, of Heck Park, are visiting the former's brother, Jacob Peters, at West Kookuk, Iowa.

The members of Black Oak U. B. church will hold a "swap social" at the home of G. W. Gates, on Saturday evening, Oct. 15th. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. Ice cream and cake will also be served.

If subscribers who order a change of address, were mindful of our oft repeated request, to name the two postoffices, the old address and the new address, it would save us much annoyance and secure accuracy in the change to be made. Now stick to a plan there.

Penrose and his gang are directing all their efforts against Berry. And why? Because he fearlessly exposed the infamous capitol steals and got some of the sinners into state prisons, with others yet to be tried—so if Tener should be elected there is hope for a pardon.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose M. Sloteman, of Lock Haven, had his leg badly scalded a few days ago by stepping into a hole caused by escaping steam heat, near the pavement. The escaping steam scalded his leg quite badly before he could extricate himself from the cauldron.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hosterman, of Boalsburg, have closed their home for an indefinite time. Mr. Hosterman will attend a business college, at Philadelphia, and Mrs. Hosterman and their aunt, Mrs. Polly Condo, will spend the time with Mrs. Hosterman's parents, and Mrs. Jacob Springer, near Milton.

The public school building in State College was struck by lightning recently and set on fire. The fire department responded to the alarm and quickly subdued the flames, but the damage to the interior of the building from the water used in quenching the fire was more than the damage caused by the lightning and flames.

C. W. Hartman, of Millheim, has a new plan to fatten his hogs. He feeds them spectacles. While feeding his hogs his spectacle case containing his glasses fell out of his pocket and into the feeding trough, and by him, and after search he found a small part of the case. The rest had been chewed up by the hogs.

The woods of this county are well placarded with trespass notices greatly circumscribing the hunting grounds. Hunters have been careless and wondrously caused damage to fences and fires upon valuable timber tracts, during camping and hunting expeditions, which has resulted in owners putting a quarantine upon the hunting. And they are not to blame for it.

People living along the proposed Mifflinburg-Bellefonte trolley line, who intended their fancy driving fancy horses this fall because they expected to be able to visit the county seat by trolley, are making arrangements to winter the stock once more. The project which looked so favorable on paper in the early spring has been abandoned, more on the "wait till next year" plan.

Reopening services of the Bethesda (Yearick) Evangelical Association church of the Pennsylvania charge on October 15th and 16th. Preaching on Saturday evening, Oct. 15th, at 7:30, by Rev. D. C. Carls, on Sunday, Oct. 16th, at 10 a. m., by Rev. C. N. Wolf, on Sunday evening, Oct. 16th, at 7 p. m., by the pastor. All are cordially invited to come and take part in the services. E. E. Haney, pastor.

William Guipe, of Owosso, Mich., was a pleasant visitor at the home of Wm. Grenoble, postmaster of Pleasant Gap. Mr. Guipe and Mr. Grenoble attended the dedication of the Pennsylvania monument at Gettysburg. Both of these gentlemen are veterans of the Civil War, being ten mates during three years of service, where they took part in twenty-two engagements. Mr. Guipe was formerly of Centre county, and he gave three of the best years of his life to Uncle Sam.

When John Reareck, of Sparks, Nev., came home to Centre Hall to visit his mother, whom he had not seen for eleven years, he was barred from the house on account of the fact that a younger sister was stricken with diphtheria. As the mother was nursing the victim and a strict quarantine enforced by the board of health refused him entry to his home, he was unable to see the loved ones whom he came across the continent to visit. As his time is limited, he is afraid he will be forced to return before the quarantine is lifted and his trip thus failed of its object.

David K. Keller, of near Centre Hall, last week drove seven hogs from his pen on the scales, where they weighed an even 2500 pounds, for which George W. Bradford, who in turn shipped them to the Philadelphia, markets paid him a round $200. When pork on the hoof brings 10 cents per pound on the farm, it makes farming an alluring occupation. Dr. J. M. Brokerhoof, of Bellefonte, who has a little farm near Bellefonte which he operates as a sort of side line, is the possessor of a herd of thirteen Match pigs which, though but a little over six months old, will weigh very close to 200 apiece, and can't be beaten in the whole of Centre county.

Peters O. Strickler, near Mifflinburg will not be punished for having caused the death of George Riesel, last June, by striking him in the face with his fist when in the Commercial Hotel in Mifflinburg. Owing in part to the charge against Strickler having been made for murder and involuntary manslaughter, Riesel, at the time he was struck, was drunk. The jury deliberated but one hour and then reported not guilty, having been unable to lower the degree of the crime to that of involuntary manslaughter.

Death Quickly Followed. Jennie Trenator, 24 years old, of Millroy, an employe of the Standard Steel works, was caught between the traveling crane and a shifting car in the yards a few nights ago, and so badly crushed that his death occurred in a few minutes.

Wash That Itch Away. It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make an effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town! A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief. Green's Pharmacy Co. Bellefonte, Pa.

TINY BABY HAD DREADFUL ECZEMA

On Hands, Face, Nose and Mouth. Hard Crust Formed and Cracked Open. Blood Ran. Itched Frightfully. Mitts on Hands. No Rest.

Got Cuticura. In 3 Days Relief. In a Week Cured Without a Mark.

"I have a little baby almost a year old. When it was two months old it got eczema on top of both her hands, on her face and inside her nose and mouth. She refused to drink and one of her eyes almost closed up. A hard crust formed and would crack open and the blood ran out. It itched so frightfully that the poor little girl could not rest. We had to keep miter her hands to keep her from scratching at her face and her mother was forced to sit in a rocking chair with the baby day and night. We had a very good doctor and he did all that he possibly could to relieve the baby's torture, but the results were not what we had looked for.

"We had read of the Cuticura remedies so we went to the drug store and got some Cuticura ointment and Cuticura cream. We used them just as directed and in three days the crust began to come off. In a week there was no more scab and now the baby is cured without a mark, sleeps soundly in her cradle and her parents in their bed, with no more sleepless nights because of the baby's suffering. Cuticura seems a wonderful remedy for this disease and any one having eczema should not delay in getting it. Henry M. Fogel, R. F. D. Bath, Pa., Dec. 9, 1909.

Cuticura Remedies sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. Beware of cheap imitations. Contains 16-page Cuticura book, containing 1000 testimonials on the Treatment of Skin Troubles.
