—Miss Marjorie McGinley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linn McGinley, one of the school teachers in Bush Addition, has been ill with tonsillitis.

—Jared Harper, who had been critically ill for a month at his residence on Thomas street, is able to be around again. He looks much better than his friends expected to see him.

—Livoryman William Larimer, of Bellefonte, is taking in the fair at Hughesville this week. It is said they have seventy-five horses there, and the racing is the best ever witnessed in Lycoming county.

—On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, the Linn Historical Society of Centre County will hold a meeting in the new grand jury room at the court house. It is desired that all members be present. It will be an open meeting and everybody interested will be welcomed.

—Harry Taylor, agent for the Adams Express Co., here, with his wife, returned on Monday evening from Washington and Baltimore, where they had been spending a little vacation. Mr. Taylor is rested up a little and is now ready for the holiday season which means considerable hard work.

—Samuel Bryant, of Bellefonte, is expecting to be called to Tyrone any day to work in the railroad shops and play in a band which the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. is organizing. He gets the position he is after, it will be a good one. Sam, besides being an excellent musician, is a sober, energetic young man, who deserves success.

—Henry Dickinson has finished his trade as jeweler at Frank P. Blair & Co's jewelry store, and on Tuesday afternoon he left for Kane where he has accepted the position of jeweler for F. G. Copeland. Henry is a good boy, and as he is now going out into the world on his own hook, his friends hope that he will meet with the proper success and encouragement.

—Walter Greevey, of Altoona, a son of Thomas A. Greevey, who is the candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket, was a caller at this office on Wednesday morning. He organized the Moose Club here almost a year ago and on Tuesday evening he was a caller at this office.

—Many of the residents of Bellefonte are making inquiry about when contractor R. B. Taylor is going to commence laying the brick on Allegheny street. Mr. Taylor is now the Road Inspector, informed a representative of the Centre Democrat that they commenced putting the brick on as soon as they arrive here, in sufficient quantities, they will be put down. The work will be completed by rapidly when once commenced.

—On Sunday morning the Lutherans of Bellefonte held a short service from the fact that Rev. Fred Barry, the pastor, was suffering from an attack of tonsillitis. In the evening the church was closed. On Monday afternoon Rev. Barry was receding, and was granted him by the church council. He is now visiting his old home at Hartleton, Union county, where he will remain until Saturday, the 29th of this month. He will then be back to occupy his pulpit on the first Sunday in November.

—On Wednesday last week Dr. R. L. Weston, secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., received a telegram stating that his brother, Capt. John Weston, of Rexson, New Brunswick, was dead. He left on the evening train for Rexson, but up to going to press no particulars have been received. The deceased owned a large trading vessel plying between New Brunswick and the West Indies, and it is thought something happened to him while on a voyage. He was 40 years old, thus comparatively a young man. Mrs. Weston was visiting friends in Rochester, N. Y., but on account of this death was compelled to return home.

—Constable John Snyder and the Women's Civic Club, at State College, gained their point last Sunday in keeping the lid on, thus everybody was compelled to conform to the blue laws idea. Everything was closed so tight that it was impossible to purchase a common pin. It is the way it should be, and the Bellefonte authorities should follow suit. The proper observance of the Sabbath means the continued prosperity of the nation. When it forgets God, then like Rome and Greece the time will come when the great republic will also totter and fall. What every town needs are officials who will conscientiously perform their duties according to the law as it appears on the statute books.

—On Monday morning John Raymond, an employe at Beezer's meat market, started to deliver meat to a home in Howard street. He was using the delivery mule, and as he was turning the corner from Allegheny onto Howard street the wheel of the sulky struck a pipe which was uncovered during the grading of the street. The sulky was overturned, which threw the delivery mule, and as he was being hauled back, catching his leg in the spokes of the wheel and bruising that member quite badly. At the same time the horse fell, which probably saved Mr. Raymond from being dragged and sustaining serious injury. The horse was stunned and lay on the ground for half an hour as though dead. Finally he was able to get up and was driven slowly to the stable where he remained for a couple of days so stiffened up he could not be used. An obstruction of that kind on the street should be looked after to prevent accidents.

—On Sunday evening, October 30th, Rev. C. W. Winey, pastor of the Bellefonte United Brethren church, will commence his revival services.

—Miss Sarah Waite, of Wilmerding, spent several days last week in Bellefonte as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Anna Waite, on Thomas street.

—John M. Sourbeck, who had been making his home in Philadelphia for the last year, has decided to move back to Bellefonte and clerk for his father, John A. Sourbeck. He is now looking for a house. John is a hustler and his father's interest will receive the proper attention.

—On Friday afternoon a boy by the name of Emel, living in the vicinity of Dr. R. G. H. Hayes' residence, climbed up on one of the large oak trees in the fair ground, and breaking his arm. It happened that Dr. Dale was on the ground, who set that broken member.

—Miss Mary Woods, daughter of mail-carrier Edward Woods, is the successful applicant to teach the new primary school which the Bellefonte school board was forced to establish on account of the crowded condition of the lower grades. Miss Woods is an experienced teacher and her selection was a wise one.

—Monday evening Mrs. D. H. Hastings entertained the Bellefonte Chapter of the American Revolution. Among the guests from a distance were Mrs. Allen P. Perley, of Williamsport, Regent of Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Alexander Patton, of Clearfield, who is one of the vice presidents of the National organization.

—Samuel B. Miller, of Bellefonte, lost a very valuable pig on Thursday. Mr. Miller had sold the pig but before delivering it to the owner, had decided to exhibit it at the Centre county fair, and while taking it out of the pen the hog dropped dead and Mr. Miller is the loser to the amount of $40. Last year Mr. Miller had the misfortune of losing a hog about the same way.

—On Tuesday morning John D. Sourbeck and his son, John M. Sourbeck, left Bellefonte for the Hughesville fair. They took with them 1500 packages of Coney Island popcorn crisp. This probably is something new in that vicinity and thus Mr. Sourbeck did not anticipate any trouble in disposing of all the popcorn he took with them.

—It don't matter whether it rains or shines you can always have something to laugh at and interest you at the scenic. Everything is new each night, and with the cordial welcome given you by manager Brown and his staff, you cannot help but feel at home. Those who have not been in the habit of attending these moving pictures should go and see what they have there. It only costs a nickel-five cents for almost an hour's entertainment.

—Emil Joseph, of the firm of Joseph Bros. & Co., merchants in Bellefonte, is critically ill at his home on the corner of Howard and Spring streets. He had an attack of indigestion which has left his heart weak. The only consolation the family has is in the old saying that where there is life there is hope. It is said that for the last month or six weeks he has been having fainting spells, but he said nothing to his family and friends.

—A very loud report on Thursday night about 9 o'clock, caused considerable excitement in Bellefonte. John Morrison, who is employed by the Bellefonte Gas Steam Co., while in the act of filling an oil tank car with gas, held a lighted torch over the gas which had accumulated within. It became ignited and an explosion followed. Mr. Morrison was buried a few feet in the air but received no serious injuries. He will hardly be present at the act soon again.

—J. C. Gilbody, who operated the merry-go-round at the Centre County fair, purchased from County Commissioner H. E. Zimmerman five large plates of apples which he had on exhibition, and for which he drew first prize. About the 19th or 20th of this month Mr. and Mrs. Gilbody will go to England and take the apples with them. They are a fine variety and will give the people, across the water, some idea of the excellent fruit raised in Centre county.

—At the fair last week there was a fine display of fruits and vegetables of home cultivation, but not all the choice articles in that line were there, for we had a specimen of a fine new kind of apples left in our sanctum that are a beauty in all respects, and long keepers, named the Sileom apple, raised by Wm. B. Shaffer, of Zions. Also a specimen of endive, that was barely matched at the fair, raised by Mrs. Sarah Mensch, of Aaronburg, raised a crisp endive which would draw the prize if on exhibit at the fair.

—J. C. Furst, Esq., the Roosevelt of this community, is now hunting for bear, tiger, elephants and wild cats in the woods and forests of Maine. Jim is a Republican, Ohio, does not want to get talking politics up there this year, or he might bring back something worse than game.

—William Garman has accepted a position in Mingle's shoe store as a salesman, and began work there this week. During the past summer he was located at State College in Grantville, Pennsylvania, where he had many years experience in the mercantile business and knows how to cater to the public.

—Thursday we had a very pleasant call from Hon. Joseph Alexander, of Madera, Republican candidate for State Senator. He is now in a three corner fight with Schofield, of DuBois, and Dr. Stuart, of Clearfield, and it is very difficult to tell where he will land. The best way, however, out of the dilemma would be to vote for Stewart, who will represent this district in a way that would be very acceptable to the people in general.

—For a year or more the Pennsylvania Match Co., of Bellefonte, has been contemplating the enlarging of their plant and doubling their output. Arrangements have been so far completed that in a few weeks a two-story building, built of brick, steel and concrete will be commenced. The new building has already been staked off and will be 56 feet long and 61 feet wide. The plans were drawn and designed by J. Harry Eberhart, who has been the boss carpenter there for a number of years. He will have charge of the job and the work will be done right. The most modern machinery will be installed in the building which will enable the company to place on the market a much better match and get them out by a much quicker process. It is also the purpose of the company to manufacture a match without the aid of phosphorus, which will enable them to get rid of the trouble which has been causing so much phosphorus poison among the employes.

Mr. Resides lost his arm at the battle of Fredericksburg, Va. his arm was shattered so badly by a Minnie ball which necessitated it being amputated close to the shoulder joint. "Billie," as he is known, not only fought the "Rebs," but he possibly saved the life of the writer, who at one time was lost in the Allegheny mountains, after camping at "Bender's" Hut. He found us after dark, all cuddled up under a large oak tree, along Little Moshannon, waiting for the Indians to come and take our scalp, or the wild beasts to tear us into shreds. We were glad to see him, all right.

Cassidy, of DuBois, and Frank Nelson, of Bellefonte. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Nelson home on Howard street. Interment in the Union cemetery.

—HOCKENBURY.—Roy Hockenbury, son of Harry Hockenbury, died on Sunday at his home at Nigh Bank, about two miles east of Bellefonte. He was a young man about 25 years of age, and for sometime had been working in the woods near Wheeling, W. Va. About four weeks ago he came home after having a siege of typhoid fever. On arriving here it was found he was unable to eat, thus he practically started to death. He was a hard worker and a dutiful son. He is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon.

—HOUSER.—Reuben A. Houser, a well known resident of Pleasant Gap, died at his home in that place early Thursday morning, after an illness of about six weeks from a complication of diseases, aged about sixty years. —PAGE.—Tobias Page, Boalsburg's oldest man, died at the home of his nephew, S. M. Bell, on Sunday night, Oct. 2nd, at 11:50 o'clock, from heart trouble and dropsy. He was born at Evidale, Juniata county, July 25, 1825, and spent all of his life there until ten years ago when his wife died and he made his home with the Bells. He was of German descent and a splendid type of citizen. Early in life he united with the Methodist church and remained steadfast to its teachings to the last. Maeggie Redding, Mrs. Winifred Sweetwood, and William, of near Ellettsville, Illinois. —RHOADS.—On Thursday afternoon at 1:49 o'clock, Mrs. Maria Dick Rhoads, widow of the late Judge Daniel Rhoads, died at her residence on west Linn street. For a year or more the deceased had been in feeble health, but about a week prior to her demise her condition became worse and so continued until the end came. A rather strange coincidence occurred with reference to this death in the fact that one hour and three-quarters after Mrs. Rhoads had passed away a telegram bearing the sad intelligence that Mrs. Rhoads' sister, Mrs. Sarah Fasig, of Chambersburg, had died, thus two sisters had passed from time into eternity about the same time. Mrs. Fasig was 73 years of age. Mrs. Rhoads came of a historic family, of revolutionary stock. She was born at Mt. Carmel, Ill., in 1839. She was given a good education and in 1861 was united in marriage to Daniel Rhoads, and ever since the family have lived in Bellefonte. Mrs. Rhoads was always a modest, retiring woman but one who lived a good and consistent life. She was the mother of five children, two of whom are dead and those surviving as follows: Edward Keasbey, of Bellefonte; Joseph James, of Altoona, and Rebecca Naomi, at home. Funeral services were held on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home on Linn street. Interment was made in the Friends' burial grounds on Quaker Hill.

Roan, who survives and who is a sister of Hon. Leonard Rhoads, of Centre Hall. To this union a daughter was born, now Mrs. Charles Smith, of Medina, Ohio. Two sisters also survive: Mrs. H. Y. Stillinger, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. W. H. Grief, of Carlisle. During his early life Mr. Hess lived at McElevy's Fort and vicinity, but for the last fifty years he resided at Pine Grove Mills. Funeral services were held on Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, burial being made in the new cemetery at Pine Grove Mills, Rev. J. S. Shultz officiating.

—JACKSON.—Holy writ declares that an hour when ye know not the day of Man may come. This was practically illustrated on Friday evening in the sudden death of Mrs. Emma Jackson, colored, who for years had been a servant in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Andrews, on the corner of Allegheny and Howard streets. Mrs. Jackson, in her usual good health, went over to west High street, near the colored church, to see a friend who was ill. She remained there until after the Bald Eagle train came in, and then started home. When at the Valentin residence, on the corner of High and Spring streets, she felt a strange sensation coming over her, and by the time she reached Dr. Feidt's residence she tried to get up the steps and failed. Dr. Feidt finally came to the door when Mrs. Jackson stated she had a hemorrhage and asked for a drink of water which was secured but she drank very little of it. She finally was taken in the house, but as soon as the doctor saw her he made up his mind that very little could be done. Rev. Paul A. M. E. minister, after passing at the time and he was called in. Dr. Feidt tried to relieve the sufferings of the woman but the messenger of death had about done its work. She died about fifteen minutes after she was taken into the office. Mrs. Andrews, who was in Atlantic City, was notified by telegram that the remains should be taken to the Andrews home, and that she would be here as soon as possible. The deceased was one of the best known colored residents of Bellefonte. She was about 42 years of age. Her maiden name was Emma Hamer, but some years ago was united in marriage to John Jackson, who preceded her to the grave several years ago. She is survived by one son, Benjamin, who is living in Philadelphia. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
