Bright, Newsw Letters From the Various Sections of the County.

AARONSBURG.

Dr. Charles Gutelius, from Millinburg, was calling on his many friends and old acquaintances in our little town; Friday was the guest of Dr. C. S. Musser.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Burd, from Coburn, were spending the Sabbath very pleasantly with the lady's mother, Mrs. K. E. Swabb and sister Ruth. Mrs. Thomas Brungard, from Rebersburg, was the welcome guest of Mrs. Annie Guelswite one day last week.

Noah Corman from Rebersburg, and wife, Mrs. James Zeigler, and the other ladies' names were not given, all had come for winter hats. Mabel says, come again and bring your friends along.

Fay Foster went to Coburn to stay a few months with Mrs. Frank Barbes. Mrs. Jane Burd Bell, from Altoona, is the welcome guest of Mrs. Wilmer Stover.

Luther Bower, from the Alexandria farm, his father and his wife and four children came to hear Rev. Sheeder's last sermon at this place. After that Luther just knew where to go for a dandy good dinner, to brother Al.

Mrs. Susan Stover, nee Hosterman from Wolfs Chapel, was staying with her son-in-law, Ralph Stover, a few days and her grandson Loyd took her home on Saturday.

W. Hatfield, who is employed at Renova, is home under the parental roof for a few days. Katie don't know, for sure, how long he will be here.

George McCormick and his wife, nee Nellie Mingle, from Colyer, are spending a few days with the lady's parents E. G. Mingle.

Sparry Wert, one of our up-to-date boys, and his mother were to Linden Hall and Tusseyville among her children part of the week.

Helen Bower and Laura Burd were visiting a few days down at Feldler and Wolfs Chapel.

Estella Stamm, from Wolfs Chapel, spent the Sabbath with her friend Verna Stover.

Mrs. Sadie Wolfe, from Greenburr, Sugar valley, is paying her brother-in-law, Wm. Haines, a visit.

Bertha Throssell, from Millheim, spent Saturday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cal. Weaver, on the farm, where Bertha knew where the good dinner was laid for her to enjoy it.

Thos. Hull and Beatrice McCall from State College, came to stop awhile with people.

John Emerich, from Lock Haven, is staying a few days with his lady friend, Miss Alice Bright.

Charles Wolfe, Sr., went to Akron, Ohio, for an indefinite time.

STATE COLLEGE.

Everything has quieted down since the election.

The snow on Friday reminded us winter was coming our way, and caught lots of corn in the fields not husked.

The cadet drill on Friday, Pennsylvania Day, was viewed by a large crowd of visitors.

The freshmen and sophomore's annual foot ball game resulted in a 6 to 5 victory for the freshmen team. This is the first time the freshmen won from the sophomores in their annual scheduled games this year.

Scott Baily is remodeling his carriage shop, and when completed will be used for a moving picture show, by Dunn and Wood, of the McAllister Hall.

A son of C. E. Shuey was bitten by a dog while playing on the street in front of his house, on Wednesday. The town is running full of these worthless canines and will be looked after at once, as Mr. Taylor sent for a dog catcher and it has arrived. Every dog will be treated alike, if left loose on the streets.

Philip D. Foster was laid up several days with the quinsy. The State College High school foot ball team defeated Bellefonte High school team, on the Old Beaver field on Saturday, by the score of 8-0. The team now stands the champions of any high school in the county.

Our Varsity team also put the cleaner on Bucknell on Saturday at 2:30, by a score of 45 to 3. Bucknell brought about 175 rooters with them, but they were no match for us. The College Orchestra gave a musical for the benefit of the visitors who remained in State over Sunday. The entertainment was well attended and a fine program was rendered.

Mrs. John Wagner, of Howard, visited friends in State College over Sunday.

The hunting party of this place departed for the woods where they will watch for deer and bear for the next two weeks.

Special services were held at the Lutheran church on Sunday evening by the children. A large body of people gathered to hear them and they certainly are to be complimented on their work.

SKUNK HOLLOW.

Oscar Jamison, who was visiting his niece, Mrs. C. H. Hosterman, in Buffalo, N. Y., returned to his home, much pleased with his trip.

Miss Sadie Vonada entertained her friend Ella Auman on Sunday.

Calvin Confer left for Oiltown, Md., where he has secured employment.

One of our young gentlemen bought a fine laprobe; now girls look out for a buggy ride.

O. A. Jamison and family, and Wilbur Bower and family, spent Sunday at Farmers Mills, at the home of John Zerby's.

Mrs. George Gates, of Nittany, is visiting her daughter's Mrs. Frank Wingard.

James Auman and wife were called to Woodward to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Luther Haines, who is seriously ill.

Deer season opened on Tuesday with many of our people camping in the mountains; hope they may have success.

Frank Confer is busy getting ready for his sale next Tuesday, Nov. 22.

Harry Gentzel is driving team for Finkle & Co. Harry knows how to handle the reins.

WADDLE.

Miss Myrtle Sellers, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Philadelphia, has returned home.

Bond Hartsock, who has been spending a few weeks with his parents, has returned to his work at Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Sellers are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Gray Reed, in Altoona.

Mrs. G. F. Stevenson left last week for Greenburr where she will visit her sister, Mrs. J. H. Gauh, and also her daughter Sara, who is spending the winter with her uncle, Rev. Fleck, at Newry.

Hewitt & McNitts are starting to put up another new house in town.

NITTANY.

Don't forget the chicken and noodle supper, at Miss Mittie Winkelman's home, on Thanksgiving evening, Nov. 24. The ladies will also serve waffles and other delicacies of the season—a good square meal for twenty-five cents; everybody is invited.

Mrs. H. P. Zerby and Miss Mittie Winkelman attended the funeral of Mrs. Custard at Clintondale, last week. We are having some cold, rough weather.

Mr. Wilson Ammerman spent one day at Curtin's helping Henry Shultz to butcher.

Walter Harpster, of Bellefonte, spent one day with his grand-parents here last week and while here was hunting rabbits.

H. P. Zerby and daughter Mayme went to Lock Haven one day last week.

Anyone wanting a full blooded bull pup can get them at Ebery Krape's, at Lamar, at a reasonable price.

Our farmers are about all done husking corn.

Rev. Wiles, who was pastor here some 20 years ago, was through here last week canvassing for a book called "War on the White Slave Trade."

On account of Rev. Blingman having protracted meeting at Clintondale he will preach here at 10:30 a. m., next Sabbath instead of in the evening. Please don't forget this.

Perry Webner came home for election and also to see that his family were made comfortable for the winter.

Mrs. Dan Showers and daughter May visited friends at Lamar on Sunday.

One of our Nittany sports, who calls on a certain young lady in Lamar, is so well waited on that the gate is opened, and wagonshed door opened, and wagon run out, so he need not get off the buggy or get wet. Everything is made as handy as the pocket in a shirt; of course it is all right to Jake.

We are glad to know that Miss Mary Nolan, who has been very ill the past week, is some better.

Some of our men attended the sale at Zion one day last week.

Some one was so low as to break into John Dorman's cave and steal their canned fruit and also a lot of corn; as Mr. Dorman is a poor man with a large family the loss will be very keenly felt right in the start of winter.

Clair Keasinger, who is employed near Zion, spent over Sunday at home.

A hunting party left on Sunday night for the Alleghenies where they will hunt for a few weeks.

SPRING MILLS.

The Democratic and Republican party got a taste of the Keystone party this time. In 1912 they will get all they can eat.

Most of the farmers are done husking corn, and those that are not done wished they were. The crop was a big one and of good quality.

The deer hunting season opened on Tuesday the 15th. The Schoolkill Haven hunters have had their ammunition lying at the station since the 10th, such as a half barrel of beer, 4 quarter barrels of beer, six and one-half gallons of "Red Eye." Their supplies are enough for a small army.

Is there any wonder that so many hunters get shot when that amount of booze is taken into the mountain where so many hunters are? It is not safe for a hunter to be in that section. The guns that the hunters now carry shoot from one mountain to the other, and you can't pick up a newspaper but what you will find hunting accidents, and is carefully looked into nine times out of ten there is too much red eye behind it.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ream, of Harrisburg, paid a short visit to Mrs. David Barre.

The trappers are all busy with very little success. John Snyder went to Huntingdon to trap. Ed Brown and Earl Bartley went up the river. O. T. Corman and Ion Charles are trapping at what was once the old "stone mill" dam.

Mrs. U. A. Moyer has been to Altoona for the past three weeks, taking care of her sick sister.

John M. Ream, of Penn. Cave, was quite a successful hunter this season having hunted three days and succeeded in killing two wild turkeys weighing 14 lbs each, and three pheasants. John is a good hunter and when they fly away they are sure to drop for he is a sure shot. The event was celebrated on Saturday the 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ream in giving a turkey dinner at their home at which Mr. Ream's aged grandfather, John B. Ream, his aunt, Mrs. Lacey and Emanuel White, of Axemann, were present.

TYLERSVILLE.

A union Sunday School rally will be held in the Reformed church, on Friday evening, the 8th. There will be speakers from the county. All are invited to come.

Roy Weaver, who is teaching school at Glen Union, returned home on a visit over Sunday.

Quite a number of our people left for Lock Haven last Monday as witnesses on the case of Hoyd Miller, who was shot Oct. 15, while out hunting.

Augustus Day, who is working at the blacksmith trade at Rebersburg, was at home over Sunday, on a visit.

Philip Shaack, who had sale sometime ago of his personal property and home, left for Reading last week where he intends to make his home.

A. H. Carls left for Nippenose valley last Monday morning where he intends to work.

P. P. Greninger, who is teaching school at the east end of the valley, is unable to teach on account of his son, who is suffering from scarlet fever but is improving.

SMULLTON.

Miss Gertrude Yearick and friend, Mr. Mauck visited at Lock Haven during last week.

Mrs. P. D. Winters visited at Millheim during last week.

Harry Stover and family, of Woodward, transacted business in Brush valley during last week.

Mrs. Ruth Slagle, of State College, is visiting at P. D. Winters.

Lots of snow and stormy weather, as corn to husk throughout this valley.

FILLMORE.

Things have been booming over the election.

The farmers are finishing up their fall work, while some are getting ready for their sales.

We have had some bad weather. Terna McLarney, wife and little daughter, of Altoona, visited at their uncle and aunt's Mr. and Mrs. James Huey.

The hunters report rabbits plentiful this year.

GREENBURR.

A few reasons why I hunted my one-cent reporting pencil, my fifteen-cent pocket knife, and a few remaining scraps of paper, and gone to scribbling again for the Centre Democrat; because the battle at the polls is over; because, although I hear some deep rumbling noises and smell a little brimstone, I think I can now write loud enough to be heard by a few at least, and last, but not least; because, a few of my dear friends urged me to try one more, so here goes.

Miss Vernie Garret, of Union county, is a welcome guest of J. V. Kahl's. Pearl Johnson returned to her uncle, Newton Walkers, after working for a year, of Rebersburg, during the summer.

Oscar Lee Eck, of Flemington, was a welcome guest of his uncle, J. V. Kahl, over Sunday. Mr. Eck works in the brickworks at Mill Hall, and makes good weather.

We are sorry to say that Mrs. Amos Zeigler, while visiting at Avys, took sick, and as far as we know, is still bedfast.

Newton Waltzer, our village butcher, is the champion rabbit hunter. He has seventeen to his credit.

Our new water line is still incomplete, but it will soon be put in good working order.

A Sunday school rally will be held in the United Evangelical church on afternoon and evening of Nov. 25th; all are invited, but the teachers are particularly requested to be present.

If you are in need of pain paint the best family medicine in the world, call on J. M. Kahl.

W. S. Kahl is improving his home very much by putting weather boards in his house and a large porch; next will be painting his house.

The Reformed Sunday school is getting a supply of new singing books.

We are sorry to hear our old and respected friend, Reuben Stover, of Altoona, is in a serious condition. May he recover his usual good health, is our wish.

REBERSBURG.

Farmers are nearly done husking corn. An excellent crop is the report of all. Some report poor crops, but as the old saying is, "Es singa una bada bot six me—do mus mischt druf."

The Lutherans of this charge are lighting a parlor coal stove in the parsonage church.

Mrs. C. H. Gramly, we are glad to say, is slowly recovering.

Mrs. John Rupp, formerly of this place, now of Oklahoma, is in the hospital, hope it will be with typhoid fever.

Republican silence is the latest of this place. They follow "Old Teddy."

Two brothers, Messrs. Strouse, of Berks county, were the guests of Mr. H. Smull, on Thursday evening.

Mr. Smull took them to their sister, Mrs. Allen Gilbert, of East Brushvalley.

Any one in need of some fine corn call on J. Moyer.

Rev. Whitman announced as his topic for Wednesday evening prayer meeting "Peace after election." We believe in peace, in righteousness, but waging eternal war against sin and unrighteousness.

Mr. Batdorf, of near this place, is very ill with erysipelas.

The Reformed pastor, Rev. Stauffer, has arrived.

Quite a number of our citizens attended Allen Gilbert's sale.

Rabbit hunting is all the talk of many of our young sports. Deer hunting season began on Tuesday. Quite a number of our boss hunters went to Brushvalley narrows, where deer are plenty.

BOALSBURG.

Mrs. J. M. Garbrick and little daughter Winona, left for their home in Bedford last week, after visiting with friends.

The teachers in the Reformed Sunday school, and the members of Mrs. J. N. Dinze's class, met at her home last Friday evening.

William Markle was brought here for burial on Saturday morning; services were held in the Reformed church, conducted by Rev. J. J. Stonecipher, pastor of the Lutheran church.

Grant Charles and family moved into their new home last week.

John Hook and R. B. Harrison and family entertained the soldiers and their wives, also other relatives of the family, last Thursday. The refreshments consisted of a grand turkey dinner; all present spent an enjoyable day.

Mrs. Hannah Birchfield, after spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Jacobs, returned to her home in Altoona last week.

The election passed off here very quietly. Mrs. A. M. Fisher entertained a few of her friends to a flinch party at her home on election night.

Prof. Rothrock ad family gave a party in honor of their daughter Bachel's birthday on Saturday evening; quite a number of young folks were present.

YARNELL.

Messrs Clayton Ramsey, of Johnstown, and brother Walter, and Michael Humm, of Altoona, called in to see their aged uncle, A. G. Walker, on Saturday.

Misses Anna Shank and Samantha Powell, accompanied by the former's brother John, attended the teachers' meeting at the Shopes school house, on last Friday evening.

Miss Amber Confer, of Milesburg, spent Sunday with her parents here.

Edmeda Powell, of Bellefonte, spent last week at her home here.

Thomas Croft, wife and son Hughie, of Orviston, spent last week at the home of the former's parents, John Croft, at this place.

Martin says, he likes to come to Yarnell to church—how about it, no? Arthur Confer spent Sunday at his home here.

Butchering has begun in this community. J. Ed confer being the first to kill four large porkers.

Mrs. Harris Poorman is on the sick list; we hope for her a speedy recovery.

Wesley Heaton was an out-of-town visitor over Sunday.

A number of our people went deer hunting on Monday.

J. W. Beck lost a valuable coil last week.

Rev. E. E. Haney preached an able sermon in Bethesda church on Sunday evening.

Some of our sports were to Green Grove several nights last week. What is the attraction boys?

The party in Nebraska Gap was well attended on Friday evening.

Rev. E. E. Haney will start protracted meeting on Sunday evening, Nov. 27th in Bethesda's church.

HUBLERSBURG.

Since hunting season arrived, "Teddy" Roosevelt, the great hunter, has lost his laurels. The modern Daniel Boone of this valley, and who has smashed "Teddy's" list of killings to a frazzle, is John Mayes, the right-hand man of Mr. John D. Miller, one of Hublersburg's most popular and prosperous farmers. Killing wild game for John is just as easy to the follower of Daniel Boone and Isaac Walton as eating one of Mrs. Miller's well cooked and appetizing meals.

With the exception of Saturday night, Mr. Mayes' hunting and fishing record is as follows: 21 rabbits, 15 grey squirrels, 15 red squirrels, 3 raccoons, 11 ground hogs, 14 skunks. Besides the above excellent list, John also has caught about 25 pounds of fish, the largest sucker measuring about 18 inches. Who can beat this record?

The fish story is all right, for the writer has seen them.

Mrs. Martha Carrer, children and sister, Mrs. Josephine Allison, of Roaring Branch, spent the week end with relatives in Salona.

Mrs. Wm. Markle, Mrs. David Deltrich and Miss L. Mae Deltrich took in Pennsylvania Day at State College, on Friday.

Miss Regina Hubler, spent several days of the past week with friends in Lock Haven.

Lloyd Markle spent the week end, at home was accompanied to State College by his brother Lewis, who enjoyed the State foot ball game.

G. F. Hoy, while transacting business up the valley, made a trip to his son Calvin's home at Yeagertown last week.

In the excitement which followed the landing of an 18-inch sucker, while fishing in the creek near Snyderdortown on last Saturday, two followers of Isaac Walton came very near having the sad misfortune of "fishing out" of the chilling creek waters, the fisherman who accompanied them. The female fisher's duties were to bag the fish and, being of the scary kind, almost caused the men to "turn turtle" into about 5 feet of water.

Clarence McCormick, of Lock Haven, made a flying trip to Dr. S. S. McCormick's home, last Monday.

RUNVILLE.

Snow has made its appearance recently, and the bleak November winds are howling down the chimneys, and around the fireplaces, telling us that X Mas will soon be here.

Clara Diddings returned to her home at Wingate Thursday evening.

Those that comprise the sick list are: Mrs. Beulah Kunes, Philip Brower, the aged residents of our village.

Tacy Lucas, who has been in Snow Shoe for three weeks, came home on Wednesday evening for a short time.

The Messrs. Mosey, Shannon, Hund and Baker accompanied a hunting party from Altoona and were entertained at Forden Walkers, during last week.

Frank Warner, who is employed in Altoona, spent Sunday evening in our town. Frank says the city is O. K. especially the "girls."

There are rumors of a sidetrack being put in at the iron bridge at the school house.

One night recently a Tyrone fireman came to our town to see his best girl. The night being rather dark, this young man equipped himself with a lantern. When nearing the young lady's home, she became aware of the bright light in the distance! thinking it was an auto, she began turning on the lights, and making preparations for an "auto speed," with her friend. When the light at last arrived, she saw to her surprise that it was nothing but a lantern. How about it Dick? Next time do not disappoint our town.

Rev. Dean is at present hold protracted meeting at Yarnell. May he have much success in his work.

Word came from the hunting party of Snow Shoe that Clarence Haren and Claude Lucas captured two bears, on Summers' Improvement. We are told that Buckle got somewhat frightened at first and threw his gun at him, while Buckle climbed a tree and made "Goo Goo" eyes. But the boys soon forgot their excitement and showed the bears around the town while the rest of the party followed, singing "We are on our journey home."

A hunting party from Sunbury is stopping at the home of Cyrus Lucas.

Roy Rodgers, of Clearfield, spent Sunday at Charles Lucas.

CURTIN.

Mrs. Derstine and son Roy, spent a few days in Bellefonte last week.

Miss Nettie Shope, of Bellefonte, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Henry Shultz.

This week quite a number of our boys and men have started for their old hunting grounds. We wish them as much success as last year.

Miss Kate Bathurst spent last Thursday at home.

Mrs. and Mrs. Ira Bathurst spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. John Barger.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bryan are rejoicing over the arrival of a young daughter.

Mrs. Fred Heaton and daughter, of Hayes Run, are visiting her parents.

Some of the girls are looking sad since the hunters have gone.

Mrs. C. C. Barger has been quite ill for the past few days.

Mrs. Stables, of Milesburg, spent last Thursday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bathurst.

Mrs. Robert Sallor, of Milesburg visited her many friends here last week.

Mrs. Henry Shultz spent Monday in Mt. Eagle.

Mrs. John Shultz, of Milesburg, visited at Dukeman's last week.

Mrs. Emma Shultz was a Bellefonte shopper on Monday.

Miss Bertha Prince spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Roy Hazzard, at Beech Creek.

Died in the Philippines.

Friends of Rev. David L. Fleming, who twenty-five years ago resided at Phillipsburg, was ordained to the priesthood of the Protestant Episcopal church while there, will sympathize with him in the death of his wife, which occurred September 1st, at Camp Overton, Philippine Islands, where Mr. Fleming is chaplain of the Third Squadron, 2nd Army Corps, U. S. Troops. He is now on his way home with the remains of his wife, who will be buried at Middletown, this state.
