Thanksgiving.

For the sunshine and the rain, For the dew and for the shower, For the yellow, ripened grain, And the golden harvest hour We bless Thee, oh, our God!

"For the heat and the shade, For the gladness and the grief, For the tender, sprouting blade, And for the nodding sheaf, We bless Thee, oh, our God!

"For the hope and for the fear, For the storm and for the peace, For the trembling and the cheer, And for the glad increase, We bless Thee, oh, our God!

"Our hands have tilled the sod, And the torpid seed have sown; But the quickening was of God, And the praise be His alone. We bless Thee, oh, our God!"

WITH THE HUNTERS.

Reports from the mountains indicate that this will be one of the best deer seasons in years. From the various camps in this and adjoining counties come flattering news of success. The following will show what some of the hunters have been doing, in the past week:

A six-pronged buck was killed by W. H. Barr, of Gatesburg, while hunting on Tussey mountain, about six miles from his home. His brother also shot a fine big buck several days Orrie Muthersbaugh, of near Bald Eagle, killed 10 rabbits this season. Orrie claims the championship of that neck of the woods in killing the cotton tails.

Dave Chambers and his club, which is encamped on the Alleghenies, have captured three bucks. The Chambers club is composed of Snow Shoe and Bellefonte hunters. The Pine Run Hunting club, of Tyrone, shot a deer near Snow Shoe, A big buck had been crippled and run to earth by the hunters near Snow Shoe and the prize is now swinging aloft from the camp. This is the first deer to fall prey to a Tyrone club.

C. A. Bitner, one of the members of the hunting party spending the season in the Big Run district, was in Lock Haven on Monday, and reported that the party had already killed three deer and two bear. The party is composed of W. I. Harder and sons, of Eagle-two Heverly brothers.

Harry Bauman and Samuel Heverly, of Scootac, killed an eight-prong buck, weighing 180 pounds, in the Scootac regions, on Saturday.

The David Kress party arrived in Lock Haven on Saturday night with two black bear in their wagon, which vere killed in the Lick run district. Harry Hawkins, Sherman Mader, Jr., and Williams Salmon were hunting near Lamar in Nittany valley on Saturday and returned with 10 rab-

A THANKSGIVING SERMON.

(By Rev. Steppen Paulson.)

mies into their hand.

There failed not aught of any good thing which the Lord had spoken unto the house of Israel; all came to pass.—Joshua 21:43, 45. Here is part of an ancient Thanks:

giving sermon. Joshua is recounting the great facts of God's dealing with his people and urging upon them deep thankfulness and true faithfulness to God for all His mercies. And as we read the words we find them wonderfully applicable to the history of ouown land and people. God has given us a good land to possess and dwell therein. He has given us victory over the enemies which from time to time have threatened our liberties. God's goodness has never failed us; and the abundance of the earth has been ours. in an overflowing measure.

Thanksgiving is a national festival. Generation after generation has taken up this pious institution of our fathers and found in it the fit expression of their own experiences and desires. But there is danger of it becoming merely an institution. Of old it was a day of prayer and praise and fervent W. I. Harder and sons, of Eagle-the three Bitner brothers and of becoming a day of feasting and fashion and amusement.

Yet how wonderfully conditions have changed since the early Thanksfrom a material standpoint at least, our thankfulness should be. Read the God of the Pilgrims, on whose might God of the Pilgrims, on whose might

Our forebears leaned by shore and sea,
Facing the unknown and the night.
Leaving their plows the foe to fight,
Not knowing if the morning light
Brought war or husbandry;
Thep, hand on sword, their harvest stored.
A meet Thanksgiving made. O Lord,
For life and liberty,
Lowe, their heirs by blood and right,
Y t up our thanks to Thee

Ten thousand freighters bear our grain
Across the surge of seven seas;
The smoke of many a winding train
Drives down our valleys to the main,
Where from the docks it drifts again By road and rail. o'er track and trail.
Goes forth our wealth, by steam and sali
From groaning granaries.
Our father's thanks went up in pain.
We thank Thee at our case.

Moses of old feared that when the people were at their ease and there was peace in the land and plenty in the home, they would forget to thank God for His mercies. We may well take the warning to heart, "Beware, lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses and dwelt therein, and when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy god is multiplied and all that thou hast is multiplied; then thipe heart be lifted up and thou forthine heart,"My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth." Thanksgiving day should bring to mind our own unworthiness and dependence. Before our God there is no place for arrogance or pride. Is there

And the Lord gave unto Israel all the land which he swore to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it and dweit therein.

And the Lord gave unto their fathers; and the Lord gave them rest round about according to all that he swore unto their fathers; and there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the Lord delivered all their enemies into their hand.

any good thing which we as a nation possess, which we do not posses by the grace of God? Are we not the creatures of His love and faithfulness? If He has given his wealth and power He has given them to us to use missing the control of and humbly. The warning which was addressed to an older nation we may well take to heart:

If drunk with sight of power, we loose
Wild tongues that have not Thee in awe;
Such boastings as the Gentiles use
Or lesser breeds without the lawLord God of Hosts be with us yet
Lest we forget-Lest we forget.

While Thanksgiving is a national festival, yet if we are to be truly thankful we must recognize the mercies which we are receiving as in-dividuals. This day comes home to our business and bosoms. Its praise should rise up to the Father heart of God and magnify His love and faithfulness to His unworthy children.

If we paused occasionally in our mad rush and considered God's goodness to us we might be a more thankful people. He has provided us with the daily necessaries of life. He has given us work to do and health and strength to do it. He has given us homes, and mothers and fathers and children and friends whom we love.

But many special blessings have come into your life and you have over-looked them or taken them as your right. He has given you mental at-tainments for which you never thought of being grateful. Your life giving days, and how much greater, has fallen in pleasant places and you laid it to your own merits. You have been preserved from many ills and breed or variety where there are two following lines from a poem by Fran- dangers which are common to life, and you praised your own wisdom and foresight.

> The thankful heart must be optimistic; that is, you must have an abiding faith in God's good-will to men. It is the fashion with some to depreciate the age in which we live. Our time is a time of restlessness, be-cause this seems to be a transition age from the things that are past to the age that is to come. Therefore to many it is a time of trial. They see only the tumults and contentions and evils of the present, without seeing their evolution from conditions of the past, nor their prophecy of a brighter to-morrow. Surely it is no weak optimism to believe that a better age will come. The story of the world is not yet told. "We are ancients of the earth and in the morning of the

So let us give thanks unto God upon Thanksgiving day, as the children of hope, for His faithfulness is everlasting and endureth to all generations. Nature is kind, men are growing kinder and God is over us and in us. What will we more, except to be more faithful, less complaining, and more of rheumatism about you. After that worthy of the tasks and privileges if you will just remember that you he has given us. We want to trust teeth were made to chew your food Him with a fuller trust and "in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let our requests be known unto God."

Praise God for His grace and favor To our fathers in distress:
Praise Him. still the same as ever
Slow to chide and swift to bless,
Praise Him. Praise Him.
Glorious in His faithfulness.

EGG SHOW AT STATE COLLEGE. Farmers Week, December 19th, Will Prove a Rare Treat.

Poultry will be given a prominent place on the program for Farmer's veek at Pennsylvania State College, December 19th-24th. The services of December 19th-24th. Dr. C. B. Morse of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Washington, D. C. have been secured. Dr. Morse is one of our best authorities on poultry diseases. His lectures will be illustrated. Pennsylvania's well known poultry judge and lecturer, W. Theo Wittman will lecture and place the awards in the poultry and egg show. The complete program will be issued soon.

In connection with Farmer's Week exercises, the Division of Poultry announces a diseased poultry and mar-ket egg show. Fowls fatted at the station by different methods and on different feeds. will be displayed, dressed and ready for market. Demonstrations will be given in killing, dry-picking and packing for market. The display of market eggs is ex-pected to be an interesting and instructive feature and all poultry keepers who contemplate attending these exercises, are requested to bring one or more dozens of their test eggs for the display. There will entry fees and no prizes, but ribbons will be awarded. Eggs will be the property of the exhibitor and will be retained if requested, but right is reserved to open one or more in each dozen in judging

It is hoped that the breeders will take advantage of the opportunity of-fered in Section IV to make display of eggs laid aside by different breeds and varieties and ribbons will be awarded for the best dozen eggs and or more entries

Suggestions to Exhibitors. In awarding ribbons, the judge will consider the size, shape and purity and uniformity of color, cleanliness and texture of shell, freshness, condition and color of yoke and albumen etc. Double yolked and mis-shapen disqualified except in Section III. ### A Close Call.

The Lock Haven Democrat of Friday last contained the following: "Robert McAlister, aged 18 years, son Martz, both of Tusseyville, were married at the Lutheran parsonage, by Rev. B. F. Beiber, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 5. The groom is teaching school in Harris township. The bride is a daughter of Married and Naomi E. Robert McAlister, aged is years, son of Thomas McAlister, residing near Woolrich, went out in the woods yes terday to examine a number of mink and fox traps he had set, when he was unexpectedly confronted by a big black bear. Fortunately he carried a gun but the weapon contained only two cartridges. He blazed away at bruin and emptied the two balls into the animal's body, but the big fellow didn't seem to be affected by the cold lead. He came through the brush for young McAlister at a rapid pace and the young man was getting ready to defend himself by hammering the butt end of the gun over bruin's head when the big fellow lurched forward and dropped over dead. It is said the bear will weigh 300 pounds."
